Two-Day Exposition Shows Worth of Social Agency Activity to Community

Comprehensive And Unique Displays Of Fourteen Local Social Agencies Attracting Much Interest At Armory

With the entire space of the West Newton Armory lined with graphic displays and a continuous performance through the afternoon and evening demonstrating the work of 14 Newton private social agencies, the Community Chest Exposition being held Friday and Saturday, November 6 and 7, at West Newton Armory, Washington street, West Newton, is the first show of its kind to be staged in a New England community chest campaign.

Modern in treatment and comprehensive in their conception, the displays are unique in the manner in which they demonstrate the community worth of social agency activity. Large backdrops, 12 by 18 feet in size give symbolic interpretation of the place such organizations hold in modern life and illustrate their functions. Each of the displays is different, treating the problems peculiar to each type of work.

Mr. Fay Roope, who conceived the entire Exposition and who is responsible for its direction, has achieved remarkable unity in presenting so many varied types of work. So significant is the Exposition that reservations are being received from representatives of the 52 other chests in New England. Many of these reservations frankly state that the visitors plan to adopt the Newton idea to their own local needs.

A continuous performance during the afternoon and evening featuring a series of symbolic tableaux should prove another high spot in entertainment. Music by the Highland Glee Club, D. Ralph McLean conducting, will also feature the program. The preliminary plans were formulated by a committee headed by Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther. Technical director of the production is C. Hassler Capron who has achieved unusual effects in lighting and staging.

There will be no admission charge or collection of any kind and the public is invited to attend the Newton Community Chest Exposition. It offers stirring entertainment, coupled with educational information.

Asks More Room For Trade School

Supt. of Schools Warren has recommended that the automobile shop of the Newton Trade School be given additional space at the garage building in Newtonville owned by Horace Orr. There are 49 students at the automobile school and two instructors. Of the students 19 are non-residents of Newton. The city received $220 each for their tuition. The communities where these boys reside pay this tuition. According to State rules there must be an instructor for each 16 students, so another instructor will have to be appointed. According to Mr. Warren's figures if the city does not enlarge the shop and get another instructor, it will have to cease instructing the 19 non-resident pupils, and the actual cost to Newton will be about $240 more for the coming year, than if the added space and instructor are provided. The net cost to the city of the automobile shop if only the 30 Newton students are instructed will be $681.92. The cost, if the added space and another instructor are provided, will be $342. The State pays half the cost of conducting the school.

Cong. Fish To Speak at Forum

The Newton Community Forum will open this season's program on next Sunday, Nov. 8th, at Newton High School Auditorium. The meeting will start at 3:30. The speaker at the first meeting will be Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York. His topic will be "The Meaning of the Election." The doors will be open for admission of ticket holders at 3 o'clock, and at 3:15 persons not holding tickets will be admitted. There will be plenty of seats for all who may wish to attend.

Congressman Fish, a former famous Harvard athlete, has gained a national reputation as one of the leaders in Congress for many years. He has served continually since 1919 and represents the 26th New York district. He will discuss the probability of promises which were made during the recent campaign being fulfilled. He will also talk on the outlook of this nation for the coming four years.

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION

The Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross starts on Armistice Day and will continue through Thanksgiving.

This is the twentieth year that our people have had the opportunity to show their appreciation of this great war and peace time agency whose service to humanity in time of distress, disaster and danger is both prompt and efficient.

It feeds the hungry, clothes the naked, shelters the homeless and visits the sick as soon as it senses the need.

Let us by our ready response approve this organization and the spirit behind it. Our local chapter belongs to us. Let's join.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

Will Save Money On Reservoir Job

Water Commissioner Joseph Murray has announced that the job of cleaning sections of the covered reservoir on Waban Hill will cost much less than was estimated. The Aldermen recently appropriated $7500 for this work. The contract was let to T. Stuart Sons and they will do the cleaning for $4000.

$2500 Fire In Newton Ctr. Home

A fire in the home of Paul A. Shaw, 600 Beacon st., Newton Centre on Thursday morning at 9:40 caused damage to the house and furnishings estimated at $2500. The blaze was supposedly caused by a roofer's torch. It worked through the roof into the attic of the house and spread into a room used as a study by Shaw. Shaw and his wife saved a number of valuable pictures.

Newton Gives Usual Big Majorities to Republican Candidates--94% Vote Cast

Votes "Yes" on Two of The Three Referenda On Liquor License—Saltonstall Leads Ticket—Curley Lags Behind

Newton maintained its reputation as a bulwark of the Republican party on Tuesday when it gave most of the G. O. P. candidates more than double the votes received by their Democratic opponents. Despite the fact that fewer automobiles were in evidence as being used by party workers, the voters came out in huge numbers. Out of a total registration of 36,912, the numbers of votes cast in the city was 34,634; a little less than 94%. In 1928 the percentage was 96, and in 1932 it was 94. Governor Landon polled more than twice the number of votes received by President Roosevelt, but he ran behind the vote given to several of the candidates on the State ticket. He received 21,936 and Roosevelt 10,634. Leverett Saltonstall received the highest vote, 24,155 for Lieutenant Governor; Kelly was given $27, Haigis' vote was 22,603 and Hurley 10,166 for Governor. Forte received 21,990 for Attorney General, and Paul Dever, who ran ahead of the State ticket, was given 11,038.

Robert Luce, in his successful attempt to score a comeback, polled 20,839 votes to Russell's 11,335, the largest vote for any Democratic candidate. Frank Brooks, for the Governor's Council, polled 22,874, and his opponent, Carroll, 9169, helping to give Brooks an eventual plurality of more than 20,000. Hollis, for State Senator, was given 23,173 votes and Flynn 9510, in Newton as the former swamped his rival in the district. In the Representative contests Baker and Brimblecom won by large majorities in the 4th District over Akins and Guzzi despite vigorous contests waged by the two Aldermen who believed they could succeed where other Democrats had failed. Akins and Guzzi received almost an identical number of votes;

Akins polled 128 more votes than Guzzi in his home precinct, 2 of Ward 1, and Guzzi got 235 more votes than Akins in his bailiwick, precincts 1 and 3 of Ward 3, to even the honors between these colleagues. Baker was high man with 9548, Brimblecom received 9085, Akins 5681, Guzzi 5692. In the 5th Representative District, Luitwieler and Francis outstripped Abrey and Kneeland, their Democratic opponents. Francis received 10,804; Luitwieler, 10,593; Abrey, 3234; Kneeland, 3450. A surprising number of blanks were found on the ballots. Either the voters got tired, or didn't know they had to vote two.

The Republican candidates for county offices all received big majorities in Newton in their successful efforts for reelection. Energetic work for Rose and FitzPatrick did not result in obtaining as many votes for them as were cast for other Democrats on the ballot. For County Commissioners, Bowditch received 20,105 votes and Wardwell 19,959. FitzPatrick received 8622 and Rose 8102. For County Treasurer, Hatfield polled 23,066, and Mackey 9288. For Clerk of Courts the Republican nominee, McKinnon, totaled 22,523 and Ford 9752.

The referenda on liquor licenses resulted in one victory for the "drys" and two for the "wets." The "dry" victory was a minor one—on the question of granting licenses for the dispensing of all alcoholic liquors on the premises. Only one such license is in force in Newton, that to Alice Obershaw at 321 Washington st., Newton, except that four club licenses will in 1937 be limited to malt and wine liquors, those of the Newton Lodge of Elks, Brae Burn Club, Woodland Golf Club and the Charles River Golf Club. "GIVE UNTIL YOU ARE PROUD"

Next week Thursday the Newton Community Chest begins its annual campaign for funds in support of the fourteen member agencies in this city. Many citizens are acquainted with the aims and purposes of the Community Chest and also with the social work of the various organizations which are banded together in a common cause. The accomplishments of these agencies are either along the lines of welfare aid and relief or toward the upbuilding of the character of the youth of this city. We can do without neither if we are to continue to build Newton as a community. The future of Newton depends greatly upon the response to the appeal for the support of these agencies of welfare and youth. "Give until you are proud" is the slogan of the 1936 drive. It is more than a slogan, however. If you are proud of Newton you will be proud to give. If you will give until you are proud the goal will readily be reached.

THE PEOPLE'S VERDICT

There is no mistaking the voice of the people under such a verdict as was rendered last Tuesday at the polls. The great majority of citizens of America have shown their faith in the administration of President Roosevelt. Along with more than fifteen millions of other citizens we have opposed many of the policies of the administration of the past four years. We may have been wrong and we hope that we were, as our opposition has largely been on the basis that American democracy was being threatened by too great a concentration of powers in the hands of one individual. Time alone will bring an answer for history to relate. Meanwhile we, like other American citizens, will accept the verdict and play our small part in helping to make a better community, state and nation.

STILL A REPUBLICAN STRONGHOLD

The election on Tuesday showed that Newton was still a Republican stronghold. With every Republican candidate polling a large majority of votes Newton is particularly proud of its own Leverett Saltonstall and the next United States Senator, Henry Cabot Lodge. As was expected Speaker Saltonstall led the Republican ticket in this city and his apparent defeat in the state-wide balloting is one of the most disappointing aspects of the election. The victory of Representative Lodge over Governor James M. Curley is one of the accomplishments of which the voters may well be proud. Mr. Lodge has a future ahead which may well lead to greater heights. He has the ability, training, and foresight to use his talents in valuable service to the citizens of Massachusetts.

ANOTHER ARMISTICE DAY

Eighteen years ago next Wednesday the greatest war in the history of our modern civilization was officially ended by the signing of the Armistice. Are we headed toward war, is Europe headed toward war, or can we by a better understanding of the needs and desires of a bewildered world bring about the ultimate goal of a World Peace, are questions which no one can accurately answer. It would seem that we are farther from peace today than we were at any time since the World War ended. As another Armistice Day comes and we pause to honor those who made the brave sacrifices of their youth let us also remember that there can be no peace without understanding.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

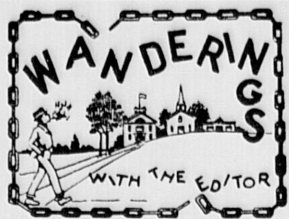

The Red Cross is one of the few agencies of welfare and relief which is not a member of a Community Chest. By virtue of its national characteristics its local activities must be carried on independently of the Chest plan. The annual Roll-Call of the Newton Chapter begins Armistice Day and ends Thanksgiving Day. The good accomplished by the Red Cross, in peace as well as in war, in disaster and in countless other activities frequently mentioned, needs no elaboration. Your participation in the welfare of your community and nation is not complete without membership in a Red Cross Chapter. Send your dollar to the Newton Chapter.

AN APPRECIATION

We take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the voters of Newton in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 for the confidence they have shown in the writer, Warren K. Brimblecom, in re-electing him to a third term as Representative in the General Court from the 4th Middlesex district. As in the past four years we shall continue to view legislative matters with an open mind and to interpret them as we believe to be for the best interests of the state and city.

ANOTHER FORUM SEASON OPENS

The second season of the Newton Community Forum will open on Sunday with Congressman Hamilton Fish as the speaker. Speaking on the meaning of the election earlier this week his subject should be of interest to many Newton citizens. The greater the understanding and the wider the stimulation of thought on the problems of the day the further we will travel on the way to a better America.

Little Marianne Cappadona, 12-year-old prima donna of Newton Centre, was notified by the authorities of radio station WCOP that she won the "Opportunity Contest" last Sunday afternoon, in competition with over 20 other young performers from Greater Boston. This entitles Miss Marianne to a handsome engraved silver cup, which is on exhibition in the window of the Harper Method Beauty Parlor, Centre st., Newton, the merchant who sponsored her appearance in the radio contest. The little singer also wins an all-expense-paid trip to New York City to compete for a chance in a Major Bowes audition. Miss Marianne, who is a voice pupil of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, has taken the leading role in all the performances of "Pinafore" and "Mikado" of the Children's Singing Guild, in Boston, Newton, Wellesley and Arlington, for the past four years, winning many laurels for her clever acting and fine singing. Congratulations, Miss Marianne!

A pure white cat which belongs to Rev. William E. Blake of Lincoln Park, West Newton, strayed away from Augusta, Me., where the family was staying on July 15. Mr. Blake, who was leaving there, notified the party who cares for stray animals in Augusta and when the cat returned he was given to the care of a farmer in that vicinity. Before returning to West Newton on Sept. 12 Mr. Blake called at this farmhouse and was told the cat had remained there only two days and disappeared. Two weeks ago this Saturday the cat returned to Mr. Blake's home in West Newton. The cat appeared rather thin and not so white, and how it reached West Newton is remarkable, as the distance between there and Augusta is 180 miles.

The annual bazaar of the Swedish Charitable Society will be held on Nov. 5, 6 and 7 at Horticultural Hall, Boston. About a hundred various lodges, societies and churches are participating. Mr. Christian J. Berglund is chairman. The entire proceeds will go to the Swedish Home for Aged in West Newton, owned and managed by the Swedish Charitable Society. The home was founded 30 years ago. Each room has been donated and furnished by various societies or by individuals. Mrs. Daisy Stockwell is the matron of the home. Entertainment at the bazaar will be provided by the Swedish Glee Club of Boston, the Scandia Orchestra, Accordionists, and exhibitions by the ever popular Swedish Folk Dance Club. The Royal Swedish Vice-Consul, Emil O. Danielson, will assist in opening the bazaar on Thursday afternoon; he will be introduced by Mr. Olof Nelson, president of the Charitable Society, who will also give a short address of welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. James William Blaisdell of 457 Centre st., Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Harriman of 825 Centre st., Newton, Mrs. Addison C. Burnham of 15 Bracebridge rd. and Mr. E. Ray Spears of 61 Montvale rd., Newton Centre, were listed among the sponsors for the concert given under the auspices of the Boston University Women Graduates' Club in Jordan Hall, Thursday evening, Nov. 5, when the Metropolitan Singers, a chorus of 100 men's voices, presented an evening's program. Soloists with the group were Marie Murray, contralto, Walter Kidder, baritone, and George Brown, cellist. Proceeds from the concert were given to Boston University for the Lucy Jenkins Franklin Scholarship Fund, which was established by the club last year to aid worthy and needy women students at the University.

Two well-known Newton residents and officials in the administration of health work will be prominent in the meeting of the Boston Altruism Club on Monday, Nov. 9, at the Women's Republican Club, Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of the Public Health Department of Newton, will speak on the subject of "Encephalitis." He is a graduate of the Stanford University Medical School, 1929, and was an instructor of Preventive Methods and Public Health there until 1932. He graduated from the Harvard School of Public Health in 1933 and then enjoyed a three-month travel fellowship. In August, 1933, he was appointed epidemiologist for the St. Louis Board of Health and in 1934 associate director of the California State Health Department, coming to Newton in 1935. In his talk Dr. Chope will review some of the newer diseases, with special emphasis on infantile paralysis.

Miss Bertha Allen, past president of the club, and Miss Rosamond Abrams will be co-chairmen of the meeting. Miss Allen has been general superintendent of the Newton Hospital since 1922.

Man Falls Asleep, Car Crashes Pole

A car driven by Carl Chandler of 271 Mill st., Newtonville, hit an electric light pole at Ward st. and Eastbourne rd., Newton Centre, about 5:20 Saturday morning. The crash broke the pole in two about 6 feet above the ground, and the falling pole brought down the wires. Chandler received a severe gash on the right side of his face. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by Patrolmen Greeley and J. B. Kelly. He stated that the accident occurred when he fell asleep at the wheel. A crew of Edison employees removed the pole and replaced the wires. Chandler's car was badly damaged.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, November 7, 1874

The people of Massachusetts have broken from party harness and voted independently. A merited rebuke to bad nominations. Rings and politicians should carry out the wishes of the people rather than serve their own selfish interests.

Mr. Barker's new brick bakery on Brook st., Newton, is a handsome building. It will not only accommodate his business, but will also afford room for two tenements.

Nonantum Hall, Newton, makes a fine ward room. Plenty of room there at the election on Tuesday. There was no crowd at any time although 353 out of the 550 voters in the Ward exercised their freeman's privilege.

The trees along the streets are being trimmed under orders of the city government.

Three enthusiastic men, who voted for Gaston for Governor, were arrested on Wednesday night and put in the lockup. They were very free in their expressions of approval of their favorite. Poor rum the cause.

The Boston & Albany railroad is putting in a turnout and laying a track to Whipple's mill on Church st., Newton.

The new flag was flung to the breeze from the top of City Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday morning. The carpenters are through with their work and the city government will hold their next meeting at the hall.

The horse of Policeman Hinds ran away on Saturday, smashing the carriage and injuring itself quite severely. The horse was a valuable one and the loss to our popular policeman will be severe.

The call for water continues and many are improving the opportunity of dry season efforts to increase the capacity of their wells and cisterns. The effect of the progress of the great bore of the Boston Water Works has been to drain ponds and wells in Newton Centre. The damage to property is also considerable and one party has presented a bill for $9000 to the City of Boston for damage to buildings by concussion from blasting, and the necessity of vacating the buildings for months.

Newton Graphic, November 6, 1886

Rhodes and Ives, the professional bicyclists, are training for an effort to do 20 miles within the hour, over the course of the Nonantum Bicycle Club.

There is talk of forming a camera club among those interested in amateur photography. Those who wish to join can leave their names at Mr. Glines' studio.

The Newton Boat Club fair and evening entertainments will be held at Armory Hall on December 9, 10 and 11, afternoons and evenings. The attractions will be different from the usual run of fairs, unique and entertaining. Henry Churchill of Auburn and Sydney Harwood of Newton are the managers.

Those who desire winter board for horses should read the advertisement of the Baker Farm at South Lincoln. The horses will be given the best of care and returned in good driving condition.

The reception given on Tuesday evening by Representative Elect Arthur Walworth at his residence corner of Mill and Centre streets, was a very pleasant affair and prominent Republicans from all over the city were present. Several hundred were present during the evening to tender their congratulations. A tempting spread was served by Mr. Paxton, the caterer.

An English physician who has had great experience in hospital work in England, in visiting the Newton Cottage Hospital recently, said it was the best small hospital he had ever seen.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a permit was granted to the Newton Electric Light and Power Company to put a 120 horse-power engine and boiler into their new engine house on Craft st.

Mr. C. P. Harkins estate on Washington st., which was noted for its rare collection of trees and shrubs, was photographed by A. A. Glines, before the house there was moved.

Changes seem to be the order of the day at Newtonville stores. Miss Mary Baldwin may now be found with Mr. Amidon at his new store, and Miss Fannie Page will soon appear at Mr. Sullivan's store.

The First Church at Newton Centre was well filled on Sunday evening at the village temperance meeting. Dwight Chester presided and Col. I. F. Kingsbury led the singing. Mr. Chester said that Newton's first anti-liquor measure was in 1648 when the apostle John Elliot petitioned the General Court for prohibition for the sake of the Nonantum Indians.

Powers' Paragraphs

The results of the election on Tuesday were amazing to a large majority of the citizens of Newton, one of the outstanding Republican strongholds of the country. A large proportion of Newton Republicans sincerely believed Governor Landon would win. Few had any idea that President Roosevelt's victory would be so overwhelming. Persons who can reason and will reason must now realize that most of the people of the United States favor the political and economic changes inaugurated under President Roosevelt and popularly referred to as the "New Deal." The appeals for a return to so-called "rugged individualism" failed. But, we believe that President Roosevelt possesses sufficient common sense to know that the prodigal spending which the Federal Government has indulged in for over three years, cannot be continued indefinitely without plunging this country into ruin. We believe that Mr. Roosevelt will take action to stop many of the abuses which have characterized some of the administration activities, that he will cause the cessation of lucrative salaries (or wages) to favored persons of the PWA, NYP and other activities, in recently established bureaus; in bonus payments under the AAA for non-production of agricultural crops, and other such expenditures which have lavished benefits on many at the expense of others. By doing this, millions who need relief can be given more aid from the government, and millions who have been struggling to remain independent will be kept off the relief rolls by the lessening of the tax burdens to which they have been and are subjected.

The Republican party has been too much under the control of certain powerful elements who would not admit that times and conditions have changed, who tried to delude themselves and others that the old order could be continued. If the rank and file of Republicans desire to regain the prestige and influence the party formerly possessed, they will have to liberalize. This country will need a conservative party, but such a party will have to adjust its doctrines to modern requirements.

Even though some may be loathe to admit it, the fact is now quite evident that Massachusetts is no longer a Republican State. Long one of the banner Republican States of the nation, it elected Republican governors by big majorities since that party was established until the past few years. A few Democrats gained office in the 19th century, but the Republican grip became so strong that usually the question was as to the size of the majority to be received by the Republican candidates for Governor and other State offices, and not about the assurance of their elections. The split in the Republican party caused by the Bull Moose movement resulted in the elections of Eugene Foss and David I. Walsh, Democrats, in the period between 1910 and 1915. Incidentally, Walsh was the first of his race to be elected as Governor with the exception of James Sullivan, who was elected in 1897, and the first of his religion. From 1916 to 1931 the Republican sway in Massachusetts was uninterrupted.

In the 1930 election Joseph B. Ely, a Yankee Democrat, was elected Governor, and in 1932 he was reelected. For the past six years the Democrats have been capturing other State offices. On Tuesday they elected four of the six State officers, and one of the two Republicans elected is of the same racial stock as the four Democrats. The Republican party in Massachusetts is in eclipse largely because it delayed for at least a generation to realize that the newer races in this Commonwealth should receive recognition. The interracial ticket it innovated this year came more than 25 years too late to offset the heretofore superior complex. This complex isn't all on the side of the descendants of the earlier settlers. It is possessed by many of those who have been criticizing it; otherwise Joseph Santonasso would have been elected Secretary of State.

The vote on liquor licenses in Newton would seem to prove that package stores are a fixture in this city. Despite a vigorous campaign waged by the "drys," a majority of nearly 8000 was given by citizens who favor the continuance of the privilege to purchase alcoholic beverages in such stores in this city. The only one of the three referenda on liquor to be defeated was that on the sale of all alcoholic beverages, to be consumed on the premises. And the margin of victory for the "drys" on this issue was slight. Less than 600 in a total of about 31,000 votes. One of the factors in this result is the resentment held by many Newton citizens because of the fact that the only such license granted in this city (apart from a few club licenses) has been given to a restaurant which has been managed and operated by non-residents of Newton, and that applications for similar licenses by respectable, lifelong residents of this city have been consistently turned down by the License Commission.

The referendum on the granting of licenses for the sale of malt and vinous liquor to be drunk on the premises went "Yes" by a comparatively small majority. Many citizens who drink in moderation voted "No" on (Continued on Page 11)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Hopping and Hoping

Now that we have room in our thoughts for something other than politics I plan to resume my efforts to establish a record at ping pong. It is not going to be an easy matter, I foresee that. Heretofore ping pong to me has been spasmodic, especially display of skill on my part. When convenient I have gladly accepted challenges and occasionally have landed the ball in the proper area. Not infrequently has it been necessary for me to pause and retrieve the frisky rubber globe. Indeed, more than once I have found myself on my knees, crawling under the table or among surrounding chairs to locate the ball. Still, I believe in proficiency and shall strive to acquire it or something resembling it before I give up. Whether I should find it helpful to enter a match appropriately costumed is puzzling me. Considering my numerous floor hunts of the past the most serviceable garb for a player like me would be overalls. And yet I am prepared to say that ping pong is a great game, though my playing might convey an entirely different impression.

The Other Fellow's View

If there is any daily task common to American life that arouses my sympathy it is that of the farmer. I have watched him milking cows, cultivating, plowing, moving hay, rapping and harvesting the crops and doing the thousand and one chores required. When I reflected that this man gets up daily the year round at 5 a. m. or earlier I have wondered how he stands it. The thought of turning-out long before daybreak in cold weather, particularly in a scantily-heated house, makes me shudder. Such a life, optimists tell us, is desirable. The man who preaches ruggedness of existence interests me. I listened to one the other night. He was expatiating on the value of hardships as a factor in character-building. I was impressed by his eloquence and felt he was speaking from experience. Lingered doubt, however, caused me to quiz him. I found he had never lived on a farm, didn't know what the routine labor there consisted of and had personally never endured discomforts if he could possibly avoid them. He clinched it by demonstrating how well his house was heated from top to bottom and showed me that in his own bedroom, in addition to two radiators, he had an electric heater ready for extremely cold days. Just the type of man to tell others what is best for them.

The "Gim'me" Brigade

"Please let me take your pencil" comes the request. It may be polite or it may be peremptory. It may come from one you know and like or from a comparative stranger. Even though "please" may not have been included you hasten to hand over the best you have. There are some individuals who, without words or ceremony, reach over and take the pencil from your hand or vest pocket. Possibly you have a feeling you'd like to swat him or her. Nevertheless, you comply. Whichever method is employed and your pencil disappears, it is a 10 to 1 bet that you will wait until it is returned and maybe wait in vain. I have been unable to learn, after due study, why it is some people are always without pencils and why they are so sure that you must be well equipped. A genius of my acquaintance, after years of lending, has fortified himself for such requests. He always carries a stock of pencil stubs. When the demand comes he is ready, saying, "Just a minute; here's one you may keep." Not a bad solution if you have time for it.

Would Unveil Newton Mystery

A mystery in real life, without grizzly features, has presented itself and I am going to let such readers of this column as wish join me in speculating. There will be no labor required of cooperators. I pledge myself to perform all necessary detective work and promise, as the police always say, a complete and thorough investigation.

The case involves a Newton household, which, in order to give me a clear field for sleuthing, must remain unidentified. It appears that the young man of the home in question has a habit of reading late at night. If he becomes absorbed in a volume it means nothing to him to burn the Edison current until 2 a. m. or later. It was about 1 a. m. the other morning, when the house, the neighborhood and most of the city were dark and still, that this young man was heard laughing. Not a chuckle, or even a light burst of mirth, but a series of loud and long guffaws. The rest of the family were awakened, and, as the laughter continued, rushed to see if it were an attack of nightmare or something equally uncanny. The found him surprised at their alarm. He explained that he had come across something very funny in the book before him.

Now what was the book and who was its author? I am determined to ascertain. Thus far I only have one good clue and that reveals that the young man does not fritter his time away on trashy writings. He goes in strong for the classics. All the more intriguing. What classic would cause such a paroxysm? I repeat, again, borrowing from the police book of pet phrases, I shall leave no stone unturned. Watch this column.

• BUY YOUR DRUGS IN A DRUG STORE •

You don't buy your shoes in a hardware store
Or your gems at the Five-and-Ten,
It isn't the cobbler that fixes your teeth
Or pulls out a snag now and then.

You don't call a doctor to make you a suit
Or the ice man to bake you a pie,
A can of tomatoes won't do you much good
When you have a speck in your eye.

You get your stamps from the drug store man
Break a bill for the telephone,
He delivers your message, takes your calls
If you haven't a phone at home.

These are a few of the things that he does
Other favors he grants galore
So why in the world when you're buying drugs
Don't you trade in a real drug store?

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Clubwomen To Hear President Of Wellesley

"Education for Peace" will be the general topic of the Boston Conference of the International Relations department of the State Federation, to be held at the Hotel Brunswick, on Friday, November 13th, at 11 o'clock. The principal after-luncheon speaker will be Miss Mildred H. McAfee, president of Wellesley College, who will speak on the Conference topic, Mrs. Mildred E. Chapman, winner of the $1,000,000 scholarship offered by the Women's Clubs Overseas, will give a short talk on "Are There Any Women in the Crowd?"

Speakers will be introduced by Mrs. W. O. B. Little, chairman of the department, and those at the morning session, which will be an International Relations Institute, will be Miss Louise Walworth, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Max Ullin, Mrs. John R. Dallinger, Mrs. Peter O. Larson, and Mrs. Augustine Doyle. At 12 o'clock a Marathon Round-Table Discussion will be held on "The Evolving Foreign Policy of the United States," led by Miss Alice W. Hunt, of Providence, R. I. Those taking part will be Dr. Kathryn N. Adams, Mrs. Donald D. Durrell, Miss Mary Pulsifer, Mrs. M. R. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Robert M. Hill, and Mrs. W. O. B. Little. The Conference is open to everyone, and luncheon tickets at $1.00 may be obtained from Mrs. Malcolm Green, 38 Woodward street, Newton Highlands. Tel. Cen. New. 2648. The Registration fee to attend the Conference is 25 cents. The price stated above for luncheon tickets includes the Registration fee.

Newton Lecturer Will Speak On Current Books

Alice Dixon Bond, well-known Author and Lecturer, will speak on Current Books at the Newton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, November 12th, at 2 p. m., at the Underwood School.

Mrs. Bond was educated in England and France. She returned to this country to graduate from Mt. Holyoke College where she specialized in modern literature. Her interest in this field led her, after graduation, into book-reviewing, and the unusually high calibre of her work soon attracted wide attention. She has pursued her studies with graduate work at Boston and Harvard Universities and brings a rich literary background to her Lectures and Courses on Current Literature.

Tournament Arouses Interest

In response to many requests the American Home committee is offering a Mixed Duplicate Tournament for Newtonville Woman's Club members and friends, to begin Monday evening, November 9th, at 8 o'clock, in the Club House. The price is $2.00 a couple for the series. Applications should be made to Mrs. George H. Tracy.

The Class in Contract will meet with Mrs. Charles H. Geisler at the Club House on Tuesday, November 10th, at 2:15 p. m. "Let's Look At The World" is the slogan of the International Relations committee, and, to illustrate it, Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give six Thursday morning lectures on Current Events, beginning Thursday, November 12th, at 10:30 a. m. Through wide reading, travel, and personal contacts, Mrs. Taylor is well qualified to give her audience a view of world situations and to stimulate them to further study. She is also a vivid speaker and lends dramatic interest to current history.

Timely Show Of Christmas Decorations

The Newton Centre Garden Club will open the season of 1936-37 with a Show of Christmas Decorations at the Newton Centre Library on Monday, November 9th, from 2 to 5 o'clock. The entries will be made by members of the Club, and there will be six classes, including Wreaths and garlands suitable for outdoor decoration; Wreaths and garlands suitable for indoor decoration; and winter bouquets and centerpieces suitable for the Christmas table.

Two entries for the Autumn Flower Show to be held at Horticultural Hall, Boston, from November 12th to the 14th, will be chosen by popular vote, at this meeting. Also a lily bulb will be given to each member of the Club. The Show is open to the public. No admission will be charged. The officers of the Garden Club for the new year are: President, Mrs. George Hannauer; vice-president, Mrs. George B. Lewis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward D. Leonard; recording secretary, Mrs. George I. Engle; treasurer, Mrs. Henry J. Ide; and members of the Executive Board, Mrs. Austin C. Benton, Mrs. Walter H. Dietz, Mrs. Clifford P. Smith, Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, Mrs. William H. Lothrop, Mrs. Thomas B. Booth, Mrs. F. Steffert Smith, Mrs. F. D. Knight, and Mrs. Hartley Rowe.

Women's Problems In All Countries By Mrs. Poole

On Tuesday, November 10th, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Program chairman, and her committee will present to the members and guests of the Auburndale Woman's Club, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, vice-chairman of the National department of International Relations and her president, Mrs. Poole, as a former president of the State Federation, and as a Current Events lecturer, is well-known to clubwomen, especially to those living in this section of the country. Recent travels took Mrs. Poole to New Zealand and Australia, and her lecture appropriately entitled "Our Horizons," will be based on this trip. A discussion of problems that confront women of all countries will be embodied in her address.

Miss Elise Biron, known to music lovers throughout the Dominion of Canada and the United States of America, will contribute several violin solos to the program. Miss Biron was formerly concert mistress of Ethel Leginska's Women's Orchestra, of From 2:30 to 3 o'clock a business meeting will be conducted, and directly following this Mrs. Poole will be introduced.

Anarchy Topic For International Dinner Nov. 9

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will have its annual International Dinner at the Club House on Monday evening, November 9th, at 6:45 p. m. Professor Seelye Bixler, of Harvard, will preside, and Carl J. Friedrich, associate Professor of Government at Harvard, will speak on "International Anarchy."

Those who are sponsoring this event include Miss M. Louise Walworth, Mrs. Amos Wilder, Mrs. Lucius E. Thayer, Mrs. Esmond Rowley, Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton, Mrs. Charles N. Arbuttle, Mrs. Mahlon G. Bady, Mrs. Edgar S. Brightman, Mrs. Harry F. Friedman, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, Mrs. Murry P. Horwood, Mrs. Kenneth D. Lippincott, Mrs. James H. Orr, Mrs. William L. Snow, Mrs. David W. Tibbott, Mrs. S. S. von Loesbecke, and Mrs. E. Hoyt Weston.

Juniors To Have Fashion Show

A Fashion Show, sponsored by the Junior Women's Club of Newton Highlands, will be held on Tuesday, November 10th, at 8 p. m., at the Congregational Church of Newton Highlands, through the courtesy of Wm. Filene's Sons Company, of Boston, under the direction of Miss Margaret Bowry. Guests and members of other Junior Clubs are cordially invited.

Books Worth Reading Topic of Education Day

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its next regular meeting on Friday, November 13th, at 2:30 p. m. at the Unitarian Church, West Newton. A dessert-coffee will be served before the meeting from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Roland Gage Hopkins, will present as her subject "The New Books Especially Well-Worth Reading." Mrs. Hopkins, analyst of books, discusses in a graphic and lively manner the author, the contents, and the technique which contribute to the composition of a good book.

Mrs. Herbert Blair, chairman of the department of Education of the State Federation, will be the guest of honor. The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. B. Howard Lester, 203 Mt. Vernon street, on Monday, November 9th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Ethel Leach will be the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, will read her paper on "Touraine, Its History; Chateaux, LeMans, Its Towns and Cathedrals," and Mrs. Chaucery E. Stinets will present as her subject, "The Division of the Country of Brittany, Its History and Customs." A social hour and refreshments will precede the meeting. The Scholarship committee of the Educational Club held a Bridge Party at the home of the president, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, 45 Islington rd., Auburndale, on Friday, October 30th.

The chairman of the Day, Mrs. Percival Waters, and her committee, including Mrs. Charles E. Gibson, Mrs. Henry F. Keating, Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, and Mrs. Joseph H. McDonald, provided a most enjoyable afternoon. A light luncheon was served before playing. All sorts of mysterious packages were hidden in Jack O'Lantern boxes where upon being opened, proved to contain sandwiches, cake, cookies, grapes, and a walnut.

The decorations throughout the house were in Hobgoblin fashion, in keeping with the Halloween spirit. Individual prizes of dainty china jars holding genuine Chinese Jasmin Tea, were presented to the one at each table showing the highest score.

The announcement of the Community Service Club of West Newton that they are presenting Ruth Posselt, internationally famous Violinist, with Mary Humphrey Tower, Accompanist, and the Pro Arte Symphonic Ensemble of the Boston Symphony Orchestra in an exceptional musical program, is attracting much interest. On Monday evening, November 9th, at 8:30 p. m., this concert will be given in the Newton High School Auditorium, Newtonville.

The Club is most fortunate in having secured Miss Posselt before she leaves for a concert tour in Europe, where she has already appeared in recital and with the major orchestras of England, France, Holland, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Belgium and Russia.

The Pro Arte Symphonic Ensemble is composed of Norbert Lauga, Violin; Hubert Sauvet, Violin; Boaz Piller, Cello; Charles Van Wyngaert, Viola; Gaston Dufresne, Bass; Louis Speyer, Oboe, and Reginald Boardman, Piano.

The proceeds of the evening are to be applied to the Club's Philanthropic Fund, and the financial success of the occasion will depend upon the co-operation of the entire community. Reserved seats are $1.50; all other seats will be only $1.00. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, 80 Berkeley street, West Newton, Tel.: W. N. 1095, and from Mrs. William D. Ireland, 70 Temple street, West Newton. Tel.: W. N. 0409.

Penny Sale Will Be Interesting

The Auburndale Woman's Club and the Auburndale Club acting jointly will hold a Penny Sale on Saturday evening, November 7th, at 8 o'clock, at the Auburndale Club House.

The proceeds are to be used for redecorating the Club House.

An entertaining evening is promised. Admission is free.

Books And Plays To Be Discussed

The State Federation division of Literature and Drama will hold a Luncheon-Conference at the Hotel Brunswick, on Thursday, November 19th, at 1 o'clock. Speakers will be Dale Warren, Editor and Author, who will have for his subject "How Books Are Written," and Barrett H. Clark, Author, Critic, and director of the Dramatists' Play Service, Inc., of New York, who will speak on "The Modern American Theatre." Mr. Clark was for nearly twenty years editor-in-chief for Samuel French. A round-table discussion of plays and of play production will be conducted by Mr. Clark, who will answer any questions of interest to the amateur producer. Luncheon reservations should be made at once with Mrs. C. W. Tudbury, 39 Bowdoin street, Newton Highlands. (Continued on Page 10)

LAST MINUTE 50-YD RUN GIVES NEWTON 6-0 EDGE

Forte's Dash Topples Rindge After Kicking Duel

Newton High pulled a decisive suburban league football game out of the fire in the last minute of play last Saturday at Newtonville when Paul Forte caught a pass from Bill Johnston and raced fifty yards to the goal. It was a grand Frank Merriwell finish, breaking up the most stubbornly fought game of the home season.

The Newton passing attack, virtually a brother act shared by Guido Castoldi and Bill Johnston, produced a surprise finish to the game that seemed a certain scoreless tie.

After Castoldi had thrown two unsuccessful passes from the Newton 35-yard line, with only a minute left to play, Bill Johnston dropped back to kick. Faking a punt, Johnston flipped a pass down the center to Paul Forte, who skipped away from three Rindge backs and sprinted for the far corner of the field. Cutting back ten yards from the goal to elude the

Kicking Duel Features

It was a battle of two well-matched lines throughout the game, and the kicking of Ed Duest for Rindge and Bill Johnston for Newton was exceptional. The tall Rindge end punted thirteen times during the game for an average distance of 41 yards beyond the line of scrimmage, including a couple of short outside kicks. Bill Johnston, punting five times, and only in the first half, made an average of a little better than 42 yards.

The Newton passing attack, although it produced five successful completions of an average gain of thirty-five yards, and the one touchdown of the game, looked far from smooth. Two Newton passes were intercepted at the Rindge three and ten-yard lines, and seven others were incomplete, usually because the receiver failed to close his hands on the ball. Another pass was intercepted by Rindge at their 30-yard line. Two Rindge passes were completed in nine attempts for gains of 38 yards and 15 yards.

Newton Threatens Early

The first period resolved itself into a kicking duel, and the ball went to within five yards of either end of the field during the period. Bill Johnston kicked from the Newton 44-yd. line, then ran back Duest's return punt from the Newton 35 to mid-field for a gain of six yards on the exchange. Another kick put Rindge back on their own three-yard line, but a surprise pass brought the ball to the Rindge 40-yard line before Duest was tackled by Joyce. This was as far as they got, however, and after four kicks, Rindge had the ball at mid-field, only to lose ground when a bad pass from center rolled back to the Tech 35-yd line. This play was the last of the opening quarter. Newton threatened to score late in the second period. Kicks were exchanged three times, Newton taking the ball on their own twenty after the sixth kick, when Duest put the ball outside at the Newton 20. Forte circled right end with fine interference for a gain of 29 yards. Johnston carried between the ends three times for a first down at the Tech 45. A penalty and another carry by Johnston reached the 22-yd. line. Forte took the ball on a lateral from Al Thompson and ran the left end, going outside at the eight-yard line. Rindge incurred a penalty of half the distance to the goal, which gave the ball to Newton on the four-yard line, with four downs to make the goal.

An offside penalty set Newton back. Forte was stopped on an attempted end run, then thrown for a loss on a poorly-executed lateral pass play. On fourth down, Johnston tried for a field goal from the 20-yard line, but it was blocked, and the half ended on that play.

The third quarter was largely punting and passing. On the sixth play after the kickoff, Bill Johnston faded back and unleashed a fifty-yard pass down the sideline to Ernie Colantonio, who was brought down almost as soon as he caught the ball on the Rindge 30-yd. line. A short pass was blocked, two line plays were stopped, and Johnston let fly a pass that Baniewicz intercepted a scant two yards from the Rindge goal, putting kicker Duest in a bad spot. The visitors punter got away his best kick of the day, well over sixty yards long, to put Newton back beyond mid-field once more.

Kicks were exchanged twice more, and Newton started another march. A Johnston-Castoldi pass went from one 33-yard line to the other as the combination finally clicked. An adaptation of the Statue of Liberty play gained the Rindge 22-yd. line, when Johnston handed Forte the ball for a sweep of the Tech right end. But the next play, the first of the final quarter, was an interception by a Rindge back at the ten-yard line. Duest kicked to the Newton 35, but two passes, Johnston to Castoldi and vice versa, once advanced the ball to the Rindge 35 and 18-yd. lines on successive plays. Castoldi and Thompson carried the tackles for a first down at the Rindge six-yard line. Johnston advanced three yards, but Thompson was thrown back, and Caruso was smothered on the last play, a reverse with two flanking backs free for lateral passes. After Duest kicked out, another Newton pass was intercepted at the Rindge 30. Another Duest punt was run back 25 yards by Paul Forte to Newton's 35, and the ball was in place for Newton's touchdown play. Castoldi threw two incomplete passes, then Johnston produced the fake kick pass to Forte. It was a complete surprise, but Forte's escape from a cordon of Rindge players was thrilling indeed. He stepped backward to elude two Rindge players, then headed for the far side of the field. The touchdown was his fourth of the season. After the ensuing kickoff, Rindge got a break as interference was called against Forte, making good a long pass to the Rindge 45-yd. line. A fifty-yard pass was intercepted by Bill Johnston on the Newton 25 as the game ended.

Kiwanis Plans Annual Benefit Kiddie Show

On next Saturday morning, Nov. 7, at 10 o'clock, the Newton Kiwanis Club will present their annual benefit Kiddie Show given for the benefit of the underprivileged children. The Kiwanis Club has exercised great care in selecting an appropriate program for the children which will feature Frank Buck's "Fang and Claw," an Our Gang comedy "Pinch Singer" and also a brand new Popeye and Betty Boop cartoon.

Frank Buck in "Fang and Claw" reveals secrets of animal collecting and the sudden surprises in his strange profession. Barehanded, his little party captures rare and savage specimens for the world's circuses, carnivals and zoos. In "Fang and Claw" are the perils and thrills of "Bring 'em Back Alive" and "Wild Cargo," but without the bloody battles between its wild beasts for jungle supremacy. The uncertainty of the trap, snare and pit, and the danger of fang and claw and venom, all in the day's work, as Frank Buck puts it, are highlighted by Buck's skill with rope and rifle and his hand-to-hand tussels with beast and reptile. Frank Buck can always be relied upon to put on a good entertainment, and "Fang and Claw" gives the children, and adults as well, the suspense of drama, the color of adventure, the beauty of un-harnessed nature and the thrill of contest between the brain of man and the cunning of nature's savagery.

Aside from the entertainment the children will enjoy, their admissions to the theatre for this Kiddie Show will further the wonderful work being done by the Kiwanis Club in aiding the underprivileged children.

Newton Post Church Services

Newton Post, American Legion will meet at Newtonville Square on Sunday, November 8 at 8:30 a. m. and proceed to Our Lady's Church, Newton for the annual religious service in connection with Armistice Day. The 9 o'clock mass which the Post will attend, will be celebrated by Rev. James Fahey, chaplain of Newton Post. On Sunday evening members of the Post will meet in front of police headquarters, West Newton and leave for its annual pilgrimage to the Baptist Church at Providence where Rev. Herbert McCombie, former chaplain of the Post will conduct a service.

J. Joseph Ward, Americanization officer of the Post has completed arrangements to have 32 members of the Post speak at Newton schools in connection with the armistice exercises.

Annual Charity Party for Working Boys Home

Mrs. Anna Forristall headed the committee in charge and was assisted by Mrs. Mary Leehan, Mrs. Katherine Powers, and Miss Irene Foley at the Annual Whist and Bridge Party for the benefit of the Christmas Dinner fund for the Working Boys Home, Newton.

The affair is sponsored by Division 40, Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and held at Neera Centre, home of the New England Canoe Racing Association, Inc., in the former Newton Boat Clubhouse, Riverside Depot, Auburndale, last evening.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The Dartmouth Women's Club is sponsoring a bridge party to be held at the Hotel Somerset on Monday, November 9th, at 2 o'clock.

An unusual feature of the afternoon will be an old fashioned Fashion Show, with club members modeling.

AMERICA'S FINEST LOW-PRICED CAR

The Crowning Achievement of Pontiac's Policy of Giving More for Less

REMEMBER—no matter what other important business you have on hand—be sure to see the 1937 Pontiacs. You'll be well repaid, for Pontiac has built a new six and eight that have no counterparts in the history of motoring. The highlights of the 1937 Pontiacs are shown at the right. But even this imposing list can give you only the faintest notion of how completely Pontiac has overturned previous ideas of what a low-priced car should be. The new Silver Streak is bigger—full five inches bigger—and what a difference that makes in roominess, riding ease, smartness! It's an even better value—enriched with more basic advancements than any new car at its price. And it is even more economical than last year's Pontiac, official economy champion of its price-class! Come in—see the latest, greatest models of the most beautiful thing on wheels—let your own eyes prove that everything points to Pontiac for 1937. It is America's finest low-priced car.

BIGGER CAR! BETTER VALUE! GREATER ECONOMY!

- MORE BEAUTIFUL SILVER STREAK STYLING
- SAFETY TRIPLE-SEALED HYDRAULIC BRAKES
- LONGER WHEELBASE—117 INCH ON "6" AND 122 INCH ON "8"
- LARGER LUGGAGE AND SPARE TIRE COMPARTMENT
- PERFECTED SAFETY CENTER-PITC STERING
- LARGER UNSTEEL BODIES BY FISHER
- INCREASED POWER AND ACCELERATION WITH GREATER ECONOMY
- BIGGER DOORS—LOWER UNOBSTRUCTED FLOORS
- ADJUSTABLE TILTING 3-PASSENGER FRONT SEAT
- IMPROVED KNEE-ACTION RIDE

FRED ASTAIRE AND GINGER ROGERS STAR IN ANOTHER DANCING AND MUSICAL ROMANCE

Newton H. S.

Mr. Paul E. Ellicker came home to Newton for a few days last week for a brief respite from his traveling. He reports that the work he is doing in a national survey of secondary schools, called the "Co-operative Study of Secondary School Standards" and under the direction of the American Council on Education, is unusually interesting. All types of secondary schools, even an Indian school and several Negro ones in the South, are included in the survey.

Associated with Mr. Ellicker are many prominent educators from throughout the country. They represent junior and senior high schools as well as such colleges as Harvard, Leland Stanford University, and the University of Oregon.

Thus far Mr. Ellicker's committee has visited selected schools in Virginia, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Judge P. Sarsfield Cunniff, of the Waltham District Court, addressed one of Mr. Forrest Paige's classes in the problem of democracy one day last week. Judge Cunniff talked of the district and juvenile courts, and explained legal terms and defined the various types of crimes. He told something of a few interesting cases which were brought before the juvenile court.

Miss Helen I. Sandstrom from the Stearns School, Recreational Centre spoke also on "Prevention of Crime" before one of the classes. Her talk was based on four important points: better home conditions, better playgrounds, removal of slum districts, and wholesome motion pictures. Many questions were asked by the pupils, who were greatly interested in the first-hand information which Miss Sandstrom brought to them.

Special Evening Planned

Mr. Raymond Green, acting principal, has announced that Wednesday evening, December 2, has been set aside as a special visiting evening for parents. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:15 to 9:00 to meet the parents, especially fathers, who cannot visit the school on the regular Parent's Day, which is the second Tuesday afternoon of each month.

A special program has been arranged for that evening to dedicate the Memorial Mural in the High School Library to Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown.

Mr. C. H. Mergendahl, head of the department of mathematics in Newton High School and president of Tufts College Teachers Association will preside at the association's twentieth annual meeting on Saturday, November 7. The general topic will be "Twenty Years in Education," and the program includes addresses by the Honorable Edwin O. Childs, Mayor of Newton, and Dr. Payson Smith of Harvard University. MAJOR ACTIVITY OF RED CROSS

TEACHING LIFE SAVING AT CRYSTAL LAKE

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, through its committee on Life Saving maintains an instructor at the Crystal Lake Municipal Beach as one of its major activities.

With the assistance of another Red Cross examiner, supplied by the City, free class instruction is given to non-swimmers, beginners, and swimmers. Classes are also held for those qualifying to pass Junior or Senior Life Saving. Three evenings a week are given over to classes for adult non-swimmers.

During the summer practically all the non-swimmers passed the beginner's test, entitling them to join the swimming and diving classes, and most of the members of the swimming instruction class passed the swimmer's test.

The adult evening class averaged about sixteen; most passed the beginner's test, and two passed the swimmer's test. All adults qualified by passing the beginner's test, were taught to dive.

Prizes were presented by the Red Cross to the winners of the Life Saving carries by Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson at the Swimming Meet held by the Newton Playground Department.

The youngest children, some of whom are backward in joining the classes, were sought for in the time between the scheduled classes, in this way reaching a group that would otherwise have been content to just play on the edges of the lake.

During the 1936 season there were passed: 419 Beginners, 125 Swimmers, 16 Senior Life Savers, 17 Junior Life Savers.

The schedule for classes is published in the Newton papers just before the season opens.

Car Hits Aged Man
At Newtonville

Murdock McLeod, 77, of 107 Edinboro st., Newtonville, was hit about 7:40 Saturday night at Watertown st., near Page rd., Newtonville, by a car driven by Leonard Barbo of 22 Parkway rd., Newtonville. Mr. McLeod received cuts and abrasions and was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Patrolman Lovely reported that just before the car hit the old man, it went by the corner of Watertown and Edinboro sts. without the headlights being turned on. He said he shouted to the driver to put on the lights, but this order was not obeyed.

In the Newton court on Thursday Barbo was fined $35 for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public.

The Newton Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett L. Pierce, 194 Church st., Newton, on Wednesday, November 11th, at 8 p. m. Regular business of the Association will be discussed and refreshments served. Charles Ward Post No. 62,
G.A.R. Still Carries On

In a recent article under "60 Years Ago" mention was made of a meeting of the Charles Ward Post No. 62 of the G. A. R. of a meeting held to arrange the Post's winter entertainment.

This Post is still in existence, meeting the first Saturday of every month. The last meeting was held at the G. A. R. rooms at Memorial Hall, Newton Centre, a week ago. Mr. Leonard Boyd of Newton Centre was honored by a celebration of his 93rd birthday at this meeting. Attending were Commander W. H. Ayles, 97 years old, of Newton Lower Falls, and Commander Otis Gray, 87 years, of Newton Upper Falls. Commander Joseph Rosier, 91 years, of East Boston, was unable to attend.

Club. The drive of the "dry" to close the beer places and beverage stores in this city failed. The majority in favor of the malt and wine dispensaries was about 2500. That for the beverage stores was almost 8000.

Unlike former years, automobiles were stopped from driving into the yard at Stearns School, Nonantum, where Precinct 1 of Ward 1 votes. Many complaints were heard about the lack of any light at the very dark approach to this voting place. Several persons stumbled and fell between 5 and 8 o'clock and one woman was injured.

Because of the unusual number of candidates for the many offices on the ballot, returns were very late in coming in. Only one precinct, a small one, Precinct 2, of Ward 4 at Lower Falls, was in before midnight. It was nearly 7 o'clock Wednesday morning before the last returns had been received and tabulated at City Hall.

Rotary Club

Mr. Joseph H. Martin, Vice-President and General Manager of Reed & Barton Corporation, was the speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Brae Burn Country Club Monday, Nov. 2, 1936.

He gave a very interesting and historical talk on the manufacture of pewter, silver plated and sterling silver ware, bringing out many interesting facts. He said the best designs originated with the old European masters, dating back to the 12th, 13th and 14th centuries and America has much to learn from the ancient craftsmen.

Boys' Department News

The Halloween Party held under the auspices of the Boys' Department turned out to be a big success from all angles. Ninety-three boys took part in the affair, and from seven until nine o'clock all the group were kept interested.

The "Ghost Walk" was the sensation of the evening. The boys who were in charge had arranged a whole series of thrills, and the yells and shrieks from the members as they passed through could be heard throughout the auditorium.

In the Costume Parade, which followed, Richard Higgins, dressed as W. C. Fields, easily took first prize, while Preston Clere was second with his representation of "Minnie Mouse." The contest for third place was very close and it finally ended in a tie between Paul von Loesecke as a "Black Cat," and Wesley Forbush as "Kelly Tires."

After a period of games, refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the party was as follows: Morton Harrington, Chairman; Paul Dunne, James Whelan, Paul von Loesecke, Edward Parker, and Algert Shapalis. They were assisted by Whitney Davis and Martin Boormeester of the High School Class.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter welcomed an unusually large number of members and guests at the first meeting of the season held at the Workshop, Newton Highlands, October 27th. The room was decorated with paisley shawls and old fashioned furnishings appropriate to the program.

The State Officers, Miss Hersey, Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Webster were the special guests of the day and received with the Regent, Mrs. Sanford Thompson and Miss Head, founder of the chapter. The Vice-Regent, Mrs. Rice welcomed the guests as they entered.

The program of the afternoon was written and presented under the direction of Mrs. James F. Cooper. "Famous Women of the American Revolution" were represented by club members in costume and a sketch of each one was read by Mrs. Charles Wetherbee as they appeared.

Mrs. Nina MacFord, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Reidy, sang two groups of songs which were enthusiastically received.

Refreshments were served to about eighty guests by the Social Committee and a Social Hour enjoyed.

ZONTA CLUB

The seventeenth anniversary of the founding of Zonta International will be observed on Monday, November 9th, throughout the nation, when individual clubs, singly or in groups of clubs will review the history of its founding, its accomplishments and its future plans. Newton Zonta will be one of nine clubs in this vicinity to join with Cambridge in celebration of this birthday with Cambridge as the hostess club. Dr. Adeline Dunham of that city will entertain; all members who can be there at 5 p. m. to listen to the Zonta Day Broadcast when the International President, Dora Neun, Agnes McPhail and Hon. Mary Livermore Barrows are to speak. Following the broadcast, members and guests will assemble at Hotel Commander for dinner at 6:30 p. m. Dinner speakers will be Mrs. R. G. Hopkins of Chestnut Hill who will review four of the new plays, and Mrs. Carl Schrader of Belmont. Music by an instrumental trio will be an added attraction. Many Newton Zontians are planning to attend.

Kiwanis Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, presided over by J. Ernest Gibson, the Chairman of the Program Committee, William P. White, preparatory to his introduction of the guest speaker, made this significant statement: "That it is the lot of the average American to vote but twelve times in his lifetime for the office of President of the United States." Dwelling upon this for a moment, all were urged to perform their duties, not permitting one of the twelve or less opportunities to pass unappreciated. In keeping with this trend of thought, the meeting was adjourned quite early, this after an interesting display on the screen of a program arranged by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Prior to the showing of the picture, several enthusiastic reports were made pertaining to the Kiddies Show to be held at the Paramount Theater, Saturday morning, Nov. 7, 1936, at 10 o'clock. Particular attention was called to the quality of pictures to be shown, they having been selected with much care. There is every evidence there will be a good box office sale supplementing work of distribution by the members.

Parish Players Open Local Amateur Season

The Parish Players of Newton Highlands played to capacity audiences on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of last week when they opened the current amateur play season in Newton. The play presented "Brief Candle" of fered a pleasant vehicle for the talents of the local players.

Particular mention should be made of William Newby who contributed an outstanding performance as a comic sailor in a play that was otherwise rather sentimental. Two very effective sets, designed for the play by Robert Allingham Emery Leonard, Graydon Smith and Sunner Smith were fully appreciated by the audience. The next play by this group will be presented sometime in January.

Recent Weddings

McFARLAND-BURKE

Miss Ellen Harriet Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Burke of 822 Boylston street, Newton Highlands and John Francis McFarland of 393 Parker street, Newton Centre, were married at the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, on Sunday, October 25, at 7:30 p. m. by Rev. Thomas J. Burke, a cousin of the bride. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white cut velvet with a tulle veil trimmed with lace and orange blossoms with a coronet cap and carried a large bouquet of calla lilies. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alice E. Burke of Newton Highlands, who wore a gown of green cut velvet with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of tea roses. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Lieut. Thos. F. Burke. The ushers were Stephen F. Smith of Watertown and John A. Jansse of Oak Hill. Miss Blanche Phillips rendered solos at the church and later sang two solos, "Oh Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly" at the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

The wedding party were assisted in receiving over three hundred guests by the parents of the bride. Following a motor trip to New York, New Jersey, Washington, D. C., and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will reside at 822 Boylston street, Newton Highlands.

VORBEAU-TAPPER

The wedding of Miss Ruby Jean Tapper of Newton Highlands and Melvin G. Vorbeau of Stoneham took place Thursday evening, Oct. 29th, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the rector, Rev. Charles O. Farrar.

The bride was gown in white satin covered with lace, a lace cap trimmed with orange blossoms and long tulle veil. Her bouquet was of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Gertrude Tapper, sister of the bride, who was the maid of honor, wore turquoise blue satin with hat to match, and carried Talisman roses.

Mr. Vorbeau's best man was his brother, William Vorbeau, of Stoneham. The ushers were William Kover and Louis McMurty, both of Cambridge.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. John W. Tapper, 14 Aberdeen st. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Tapper and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Vorbeau, parents of the groom.

The church and the home of the bride's brother were simply decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

After a wedding trip to Washington and Virginia, they will make their home in Everett.

BRUCE-PALMATEER

Miss Mary Ramsay Palmateer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmateer of 26 Maple ter, Auburndale, was married to Dr. Norman Hull Bruce son of Mrs. N. C. Bruce of Brighton at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 31st, at the Auburndale Congregational Church. Rev. Ralph Hebard Rogers, D.D., performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Frederick Moynahan of Boston and Mrs. K. Malcolm Beal of Newton. Frederick Moynahan was the best man and the ushers were K. Malcolm Beal of Newton, Clinton McCarty of Waban, Dr. William O'Connor of Cambridge and Dr. Richard C. Durant of Boston.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony, after which Dr. and Mrs. Bruce left on a wedding trip to Virginia. The bride attended the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts and graduated from the Massachusetts School of Art with the class of 1936. Dr. Bruce was graduated from Harvard in 1930 and from the Harvard Medical School in 1934. He is a member of the Boylston Medical Society, the Lancet Club and the Aesculapian Club. He is at present house surgeon at the Boston City Hospital.

The bride wore a wine colored suit with gray turt and gray accessories. On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Walker will reside at Holden Green, Cambridge, Mass.

The bride attended Mrs. Bement's School, also Mt. Ida and Damon Hall Schools.

BASSETT-LACROSSE

Mr. and Mrs. F. Clifton Bassett of Prescott st., Newtonville, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Bassett, to E. Robert LaCrosse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmart LaCrosse of 1840 Beacon st., Waban. Miss Bassett was graduated from Colby Junior College in 1935. Mr. LaCrosse is a graduate of the Clark School in Hanover, New Hampshire, and attended Brown University.

Mr. and Mrs. LaCrosse will make their home in Providence, Rhode Island.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF WABAN COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King of Waban celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday, the 28th of October in their home at 1317 Beacon st. where Mrs. King, formerly Hannah Connell, has resided for nearly 75 years. Their home, one of the first in that section of the city, later to be called Waban, was built by Mrs. King's father, the late Jeffrey Connell.

Both Mr. King and his wife were born in Newton Centre and they were married in Upper Falls in 1856. A mass was celebrated Wednesday morning by Rev. Eugene Twomey, pastor of St. Philip Neri Church in Waban, which was attended by the family and also by Bartholomew Quinlan of Roslindale and Mrs. S. J. Reeves, the former Elizabeth Desmond, of Waban, who were the attendants at the wedding fifty years ago.

At a reception in the evening Miss Margaret King, Mrs. William McGrath and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald of Waban and Joseph King of Waverley assisted their parents in receiving about 150 guests. Also were present nine grandchildren.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts and their home was decorated with flowers presented by their friends and neighbors.

Mr. King has been an employee of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company of Newton Upper Falls for the last forty-nine years.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell of 274 Auburndale ave., Auburndale, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eugenia Campbell, to Norris Elliot Ruckman, son of Judge and Mrs. Webster B. Ruckman of Chevy Chase, Maryland. Mr. Ruckman attended the University of Maryland and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which he received his Master's degree in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Edwin Marshall entertained at their home in Newton on Sunday afternoon, and announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Lois Marshall, to Paul Holman Richardson. Miss Marshall attended Emerson College, class of 1937.

Mr. Richardson is the son of Mrs. Frank Richardson and the late Dr. Frank Linden Richardson of Newtonville. He was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in June, 1936, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The engagement of Miss Rita Butler of West Roxbury and formerly of Waban, has been announced to Mr. Paul Graves of Waban, son of Mrs. Charles Penhallow, Jr.

Newton High School Teachers' Club Meets

The annual fall meeting of the Newton High School Women Teachers' Club was held on Wednesday, October 28, at Setler's, 1775 House in Lexington. The business meeting took place at 5:30. Following the dinner, the club members were privileged to hear Dr. Charles Swain Thomas, professor of English in the School of Education at Harvard University. He spoke on current problems which face the teaching profession.

Dr. Thomas stressed the essentials of dependability, emphasizing the fact that students should be encouraged to greater individual effort. He showed just how a lesson in poetry, for example, could be motivated. In a discussion of the types of teachers, he mentioned that the teacher should know how to command a group as well as give individual attention.

Radio Programs

Announced

Mrs. Edgar B. Richardson, State Federation chairman of the Radio division, announces the first broadcast over WBZ, on Saturday, November 7th. Mrs. John H. Kimball, State president, will speak on her Peace Program, and Mrs. Burr J. Merriam, recording secretary, will speak on "Lighting the Lamps."

On November 14th, Anne Pepper Varney, who spent much of last spring in Spain, will be interviewed by Mrs. Homer P. Little of Worcester.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, vice-chairman of the Radio committee, will present Dr. Clarence Skinner, head of the Theology Department of Tufts College, on Monday, November 2nd, a series of broadcasts was inaugurated at WCOP, conducted by Mrs. Dwight R. Clement and Mrs. Roberta Green.

Twelfth District Conference

The Twelfth District will hold a conference at Natick, on Thursday, November 12th, from 10:30 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon, with the Natick Woman's Club as hostess. Luncheon will be at 12:30, and tickets at 60 cents must be ordered from Mrs. Fred L. Taft, 69 Pond street, Natick, telephone, Nat. 203-M, before November 9th. State chairmen of American Citizenship, Child Welfare, Club Institutes, Conservation, International Relations, Literature, Press and Publicity, and Public Health will be present.

Juniors To Have Chinese Supper

The Junior Woman's Club will have a Chinese Supper at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Tuesday, November 10th, at 6 o'clock. The after-dinner talk will be on "International Relations." The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of Ann Hitchcock, Pamela Stowell, and Jean Fletcher.

Various Programs

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, November 13th, preceding the monthly program of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Everett B. Collins and Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher will be hostesses for the coffee and social hour, at 1:30 p. m.

The program of the afternoon will be given by Dorothy Spare, well-known author and opera singer, whose play "Prima Donna" was adapted to the moving pictures "One Night of Love," with Grace Moore starring. This was among those that brought to popular favor the introduction of opera arias in motion pictures.

From her experiences at Hollywood, Dorothy Spare will tell of "Women in Motion Pictures" not only as actors, but also as artists and writers. Under the leadership of Hazel Sands Welch, the Reducing, Conditioning and Dancing Class for women held their first meeting on Monday, November 2nd. This class, sponsored by the Public Health committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, is open to all women of Newton. Those interested should telephone Cen. New. 991.

For the two gala evenings enjoyed in the production of "You and I," an amusing three-act comedy by Philip Barry, Thursday and this evening, November 5th and 6th, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, the ushers on Thursday were Mr. George Brewer, Mr. Thomas W. Cumner, Mr. Robert Andrews, and Mr. Nelson Hartstone.

And this evening, November 6th, Lt. Com. Harold R. Keller, Mr. Donald Walch, Mr. Robert F. Elder, and Dr. Harold F. Brown are ushering.

The candy girls on Thursday, November 5th, were Lisbeth Schaffer, Ruth Fletcher, Ruth Oehler, Jane Dwyer, Olive Cunningham, Marjorie Dow, Julia Mather, and Jane Hutchison. And this evening, November 6th, Ann Hitchcock, Dorothy Robbins, Ruth McFee, Dianna Cumner, Dorothy Barstow, Barbara Bancroft and Barbara Mitchell are selling candy.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will enjoy a Trip to the Christian Science Publishing House on the afternoon of November 19th.

Miss Nellie Osborne, of 147 High street, Newton Upper Falls, was the hostess for a Whist Party at her home, November 2nd, at which the members and guests of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club occupied eight tables. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Musical Gypsies, four charming young ladies dressed in colorful gypsy costumes, entertained the members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, November 2nd, in the Club Room.

A fascinating, descriptive travel talk upon the customs of the gypsies of the following countries: Spain, two musical selections, Spanish Waltz, and a Tango; Russia, Russian Melody; Bohemia, description of a Bohemian Gypsy Wedding with wedding melody, and "The Old Mother"; and Hungary, Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brown, also "Hicidai," were rendered by the musicians.

This delightful musical program was brought to a close with the beautiful "Gypsy Love Song," by Victor Herbert, sung by one of the artists, accompanied by flute, piano, and violin. The program was greatly enjoyed by every member and guest.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

To a breathless audience, who will never forget her brilliant, her vibrant personality, and her ability to make them laugh or cry with her bits of humor and pathos, Mrs. Suzanne Silvercrans gave her lecture-demonstration on "Life, Art, and Sculpture" to members and guests of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at the Congregational Parish house on Tuesday, November 3rd, at 2:30 p. m. With a little more than small tools, and Italian plaster, Mrs. Silvercrans produced a statuette before her audience, living her subject as she created it, and making her listeners live it with her. Her inspiring words, infectious enthusiasm, and advice that every one work to a goal, made one go forth with new hope to do something really worthwhile.

Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director, was the guest speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Miller was so magnetic in her explanation of the relationship of the Twelfth District to the State Federation, and in her outlining of the program at the Twelfth District Conference to be held November 12th, in Natick, that many reservations were made during the delightful tea that ended an afternoon not soon to be forgotten.

The dates of Classes on Current Events, with Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, have been changed to November 10th, December 11th, and March 12th.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Raymond Tucker was warmly applauded at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, when she gave her report of the bazaar which netted $1022 and advanced the Club budget. "Do we believe in bazaars?" asked the president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, showing that she felt that the sociability and the assurance of a balanced budget were results which proved their value. This was the first gathering in the newly-decorated auditorium, and the indirect lighting met with much approval.

The members stood in memory of two who had passed away recently: Mrs. Walter V. Jenkins and Mrs. Frederick C. Thrall.

Miss Harriet Parsons spoke in behalf of the Welfare Bureau, stressing the value of discovering and encouraging the resources of individuals, and of aiding them in their efforts to become self-supporting. She gave instances where unrecognized talents were discovered, which led to self help. The rebuilding of family life and relief of a constructive character. Miss Parsons considered of first importance in the work of the Welfare Bureau.

The lecturer, C. William Duncan, in his opening words paid tribute to Mrs. Tucker, who, he said, should be sent to Washington to balance the National Budget. His talk, "Close-ups of Famous People," was full of humor, and gave his impressions of many types, such as the silent Einstein; the reticent Garner; and those who seek publicity then when they have risen to the top of the ladder have no time. He stated that Roosevelt, before his nomination, had remarked that if he became president it would be the end of the rule of the few, and the start of the rule of the many. He closed with a tribute to William Lyon Phelps, one of the most inspirational of those whom he had interviewed, who had said to him, "Youth is not the greatest time of life. Going up the mountain we get a better view."

Bellwether for '37

WITH automobiles as with everything else, there has to be a leader of the flock.

All right then, step this way and feast your grateful eyes now on the authentic motor car bellwether for 1937!

Look at the size of it, the keen clean line of it, the streaming sweep of it, its neat fleet beauty.

It so perfectly captures in its beautifully contoured metal the dash and spirit of its buoyant action that it looks fast even when it's standing still!

Sure it's a Buick — the most stunning sizeable satisfying Buick that ever gladdened your startled gaze — but its good looks are literally the least of it.

Behind that massive radiator grille and under that gorgeous bonnet is an even bigger, smoother, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick engine, fed by an all-position aerobac carburetor that does thrifty things with gasoline.

And control of this magnificent performer — from thrilling take off all through the range of speeds and including safe-stop hydraulic braking — is soft and easy as a fork in pie.

You can't describe it, so why handicap language this way — come in, now, see for yourself.

*Safety glass standard — accessories slightly extra. Prices subject to change without notice. General Motors terms to suit you.

"It's Buick again!"

New Pastor Is Installed at Waban

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Rev. William E. Blake was installed as pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton. The invocation was given by Rev. Joseph Perry of Brookline. Rev. Earl C. Hochwald of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton Centre, read the Scripture. Dr. E. C. Herrick of the Andover-Newton Theological School, spoke on "The Real Bread of Life." The welcome of the church was given by Mr. Frederick E. Waring, the welcome to the ministry by Rev. Herbert Hitchen of the West Newton Unitarian Church and the welcome to the city by Hon. Edwin O. Childs. The charge to the church was by Rev. George E. Harris of Needham and the charge to the pastor by Rev. Joseph Perry.

The musical portion of the program consisted of a concert by Raymond Sikes, organist, a violin solo by Wm. K. Bowers and an anthem by the choir.

The benediction was given by the pastor.

Scheinfain Gets 5 Years In Jail

Alfred Scheinfain, 35, formerly of Washington st., Newton, was sentenced to serve 5 years in the Federal penitentiary by Judge Sweeney in the Federal Court at Boston yesterday. A similar sentence was given to Harry Spinner of New York. Both were found guilty of white slavery. Everett (Scheinfain) Shepard, brother of Alfred, and his wife, Mildred, each received suspended sentences; the former three years and the latter two. Betty Spinner, wife of Harry, was given a suspended 5 years sentence. Margaret Toth of Passaic, New Jersey was the witness against the five defendants. The girl, 16 years of age, testified she was lured by Spinner a year ago while on her way home from school. She was brought to Boston and later allegedly sold to Scheinfain for $100.

The Freshman English classes combined last Friday, October 30, to enjoy a delightful program prepared by members of the Newman English Club (girls) and Joyce Kilmer English Club (boys). The one-act play, "The One-Act Play," was presented with enthusiastic applause and proved that there is dramatic talent in the class of 1940. Those taking part in the program were:

Sophomore Election

Last Friday the Sophomore Class elected their class officers during the Parliamentary Procedure Period in the school auditorium. The following were elected: President, Francis Welch; Vice President, Mary Fitzpatrick; Secretary, Maureen McQuire; Treasurer, James Kennedy. Andrew Corrigan acted as temporary chairman.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The IIC social studies group presented a colorful program at the assembly on Friday, Oct. 30. Special emphasis was placed on the history, home life and customs, and the education of Spain, Russia, Germany and France. The speakers comprised Philip Reiman, Annette Yanco, Bessie Bacon, Robert Gallant, Jane Merrill, Patricia Collins, John Eusden, Ruth Hunter, Martha MacDowell, Morton Harrington, Laura Lord and Mary Lewis. The program was supplemented by a Russian dance by Katherine Hogan, piano selections by Ivan Jacobs and Ina Burnes, and the singing of Frere Jacques by a group of boys from the Grade 8 French class.

The girls' soccer tournament is being completed. Groups IAB and ICD will play the final game for the championship on Nov. 4. A bowling tournament is planned for Nov. 3 by the Girls' Sports Club. Members of the club will be accompanied by their leader, Miss Breivogel, and the principal, Mr. Pearson. The club will be divided into four teams, the captains of which are Constance Colby, Jane Hern, Patricia Turchon and Lillian Nardone.

Women's Association of M. E. Church Meets at Newtonville

The Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church met Wednesday morning to sew for the Cooper Community Centre in Boston with Mrs. Daniel G. avis in charge. The executive board was in session at the same time when Mrs. Laurence W. C. Emig conducted the devotions. Mrs. Howard W. Selby, the president, read two poems, one on the value of friendships and the other showing that it is the hidden beauty in one's self which makes for worthwhile living and not outside appearances. Reports showed that each organization is carrying out a well defined program.

The Woman's Missionary Society will study the Negro in the United States in its home society and Africa in the foreign society. The Woman's Bible class reported an average attendance of 44 during October with two new members and eleven visitors. Group IV will meet with Mrs. H. E. Magnuson Nov. 9; Group V with Mrs. A. A. Alexander, Nov. 10; Group II with Mrs. W. F. Stevenson Nov. 13 and Group III with Mrs. John F. Driscoll Nov. 20. There will be a bridge party at the home of Mrs. E. W. Poole, 403 Highland st., West Newton, Nov. 17 to raise money for the royalty on the play "A Stranger Passes," by Joseph Carlton, which the Drama Group will present at the next meeting Dec. 2. A two-day bazaar, "The Festival of the Months" to be held Dec. 8-9, is causing much enthusiastic activity among the groups. Mrs. F. E. Morris is the general chairman. An interesting innovation at the luncheon was a table for the small children of the members of the Young Mothers' Group with Miss Grace Taylor, in charge.

Mass Dinner Opens Community Chest Campaign

Minimum Goal of $188,457 For Fourteen Agencies

Receiving expressions of support and enthusiastic endorsement from community groups and civic leaders in every village of Newton, approximately 2,000 Newton residents who are volunteering their time and work as well as contributions are completing preparations for the success of the Newton Community Fund Campaign of 1936. Final impetus of the campaign will be given at a mass dinner to be held at Newton High School at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, November 12, the campaign opening day. The drive will continue until November 23.

Dr. Amos O. Squire, resident physician at Sing Sing Prison will be the speaker. A national figure, Doctor Squire is a dynamic speaker with a background of twenty-five years professional service at the New York institution. He is widely known for his social work and his activities with young peoples organizations.

Entertainment features will be closely linked with Newton local activities and the work of the member agencies of the Community Chest. It is expected that the gymnasium capacity of 2,000 will be taxed by campaign workers attending.

William V. M. Fawcett is chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner. Assisting him are Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Dunker, Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Louis V. Hoffmann, L. D. G. Bentley, C. Hassler Capron and G. William V. M. Fawcett.

The 1936 minimum goal for the support of 14 indispensable Newton private social agencies during the coming year has been set by the budget committee of the Community Chest at $188,457.

In approving agency grants that make up the campaign total, members of the budget committee unanimously declared: "We are convinced that these amounts are necessary to provide adequately for the 1937 needs of the community." Grants to the 14 Member Agencies were determined only after comprehensive study of agency needs and service. The study has been under way during the past year.

Never in the history of Newton has the entire community been enlisted in a city-wide effort as it is this year. With every person in Newton being given the opportunity to contribute and volunteer solicitors visiting every home and business establishment, there is widespread confidence that Newton will respond to insure success.

Speaking to campaign workers, Maynard Hutchinson, Campaign Director, declared: "You and I are taking up personally to our neighbors. When we seek their chest pledge, we make no begging request. The great majority of those you call on will welcome the chance to join in this campaign to preserve all that is good in one community life—to eliminate neglect, disease, delinquency and deprivation from Newton."

"You and I have the opportunity to prove again that Newton is the best of all places in which to live because our private social agencies minister to our young people, our sick and aged, our less fortunate, and to you and all of us who profit directly by living in a community which is keenly alive to its responsibilities in protecting all its citizens from the ravages of neglect."

"Success is assured this year. Ours is a worthwhile task. Give of yourself and your enthusiasm. Give 'til you're proud!"

Grants to member agencies as approved by the Budget Committee are as follows: Newton Hospital, Inc., $55,000; Newton District Nursing Association, $12,000; Newton Aid Association, $1,500; Stone Institute, and Newton Home $2,000; Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, $16,500; Newton Circle, Inc., $2,500; Newton Welfare Bureau, Inc., $26,500; All Newton Music School, $4,700; Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts, $8,213; Newton Council, Girl Scouts, $6,254; Newton Y. M. C. A., $13,500; Mayor's Relief Committee, Inc., $8,020; Stearns School Centre, $3,265; West Newton Community Centre, $3,300. Cost of administering the Social Service Index for the coming year is placed at $1,385 and the budget of the council of Social Agencies is $3,315. Campaign cost and the operating expense of the Newton Community Chest for the entire year is budgeted at $12,500. An estimated $8,000 to take care of unpaid pledges and called a "Shrinkage" fund completes the campaign goal of $188,457.

DAMON HALL NOTES

Dr. Frank H. Damon was the guest speaker at a gathering of over 200 guests and members of the New England Fisheries Association at their annual banquet in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Boston recently.

The trustees of Damon Hall have appointed Miss Eleanor Stubbe of Sargent School as instructor of physical education at the school.

Miss Barbara Murray King, formerly of Newton, now residing in Philadelphia, was a recent visitor in Newton. Miss King was re-elected president of the Alumni Association of Damon Hall.

Mrs. Joan Damon Richards has been cast in the next play to be given by the Village Players.

The old family silver was put away and the autumnal shrubbery was brought into the glow of orange lights that burned on All Hallows Eve, in Damon Hall. A primitive feast consisting of a cocktail of Baboons' Blood served with delicious appetizers of gal stones and dragons' teeth, a main course of Filet of Snake garnished with Poison Entrails and Jungle Goulash, with Energetic Bone Marrow for dessert, was the first thrill of the affair. The Rats' Spume was served in primitive after-dinner cups. The entire meal was eaten with fingers, and the finger bowl was a water bucket at the end of the wooded room.

After the repast, the witches scene from "Macbeth" was portrayed by three of the students, with the cauldron boiling to "Double, double, toil and trouble." Following this, Lochinvar was presented in pantomime and farce, with Ruth Willard, Kitti Whalen and Pauline Kaplan as the leads, with a large supporting cast. The kinsmen mounted their broomsticks in search of the gallant young Lochinvar, but were rather unsuccessful in their attempt to bring back the fair maiden to the arms of the forgotten bridegroom.

The Hallowe'en party was in collaboration with the formal initiation of the junior class into the school after completing three days of informal feasts and costumes.

Big WPA Grants Revealed at Meeting of Aldermen On Monday Night—Zoning Change on Comm. Ave Refused

That the majority of the Board of Aldermen are opposed to letting down the bars on zoning in Newton was again proved on Monday night when the petition of Alice Rogers to change property at 550 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre from private residence to business zone was refused. Alderman Rawson, reporting for the Claims and Rules Committee, said that this committee disapproved of the petition because strong objections against the change had been made by every property owner within 200 feet, and that large delegations of citizens had attended the hearing on the petition to protest against it.

The first matters to come before the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night were hearings on petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Jewett and California sts., and Commonwealth ave. No opposition was presented against these petitions.

Clarence MacAusland appeared to favor a petition which gives him the right to alter a building at 32 Dunstan st., West Newton to be used as a public garage of 30 car capacity. An accompanying petition from William H. White asked for a permit to construct a garage at this locus and to sell gasoline in connection therewith. The MacAusland petition was granted later in the meeting and the White petition held for consideration by the Licenses Committee.

Neighborhood strife was revealed in the petition of Alice deMontigny for a permit to erect a one-car garage at 96 Eastside Parkway, Newton in addition to a 2 car garage already located at that address. William J. Robinson, Jr. of 98 Eastside Parkway objected to the petition. He said he appeared in behalf of his mother. He said that the proposed garage would be on the property line, in back of a piazza, and he doubted that even a small car could be driven in or out of it without much shuffling. Robinson told the Aldermen that a year ago deMontigny built a foundation and a wall of the proposed garage and then hung a canvas cover over the structure 6 or 7 feet high, making it unsightly. He said that deMontigny had practically gone ahead and built the garage and is now asking for a permit. deMontigny said that he had built the wall to keep water from entering the cellar of his house and now he wants to put a roof on top to drop the wall.

Resolutions in commendation of the late Mark V. Croker, for many years superintendent at the pumping station in Newton Upper Falls, were read and accepted by the Board.

Several claims for damages against the city were given leave to withdraw. Alderman Rawson as chairman of the Claims Committee gave the reasons for refusing these claims. That of Mrs. Rose Faga for injuries received when she fell after stepping into a hole on California st. was turned down because the city had received no notice of the existence of the hole, and the City Solicitor ruled that the city, therefore, is not liable. The claim of Ann Gill for injuries received when she fell in an alleged hole on Washington st., Newton, was refused because the committee was not satisfied that there was a defect in the street as claimed. The claim of Minnie E. Hicks for damage to her property at 187 Austin st. caused by sewage backing into the cellar, was refused because there was no negligence on the part of the city in maintaining the sewer service.

The Board unanimously refused the application of John Donnelly & Sons to erect billboards at 393 Boylston st. and 942 Boylston st. The petition of Annie Whitcomb for a permit to change a single dwelling at 151 Mt. Vernon st. to a two-family dwelling was granted. Alderman Colby said the outside appearance of the house will not be materially altered, and the improvement will be advantageous to the neighborhood.

A permit was given to Boston College to use a stone building at 186 Hammond st. as an anthropological museum and library. The building is the former residence of Harry F. Stimpson.

Ballots Impounded At Police Hdqts.

The ballots cast in Newton at the recent election were taken from City Hall on Monday and transferred to police headquarters at West Newton where they have been placed in the vault. They will be kept there until the recount on the vote cast for Lieutenant Governor will have been held. The Republican State Committee had requested that the ballots be guarded. This would have necessitated a police guard 24 hours each day at City Hall. As such a method would have required the services of three Newton policemen each day, it was decided that it would be more practical to remove the ballots to police headquarters.

Child Hit By Auto Severely Injured

Ann Everett, 6, of 4 Crown st., Auburndale, was severely injured on Sunday noon when she was hit while crossing Lexington st., near Wolcott st., Auburndale, by a car driven by Walter Connor of Warwick rd., West Newton. The child was returning from Sunday school when hit. Mr. Connor rushed her in his car to the Newton Hospital. It was found that she had received fractures of both legs. Connor reported that the child ran in front of his car. The brakes on the car were tested by Serg. Cullen and found to be in proper condition. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Everett.

Woman Fined $25 For Bad Driving

Mrs. Winifred Webster, 27, of 365 Winter st., Weston, was fined $25 in the Newton court on Monday. Judge Murray of Milford for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public. She was the driver of a car which on October 18 hit a car driven by Francis Giordano of 29 Auburndale ave., and tipped it over. Giordano and two Nonantum girls who were riding with him, received injuries. The Webster woman was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. Lieutenant Moan who was in charge of the police station on the night of the accident, testified that he had told the defendant when she came to headquarters that night that she had been drinking.

Thousands Visit Chest Exposition

Babies in arms, boys and girls, young men and women, middle aged men and women, old ladies and gentlemen—twenty thousand of Newton's citizens visited the Newton Community Chest Exposition at the State Armory in West Newton on November 6 and 7. On the 6th, hundreds of children from all of Newton's schools trooped in and went away full of enthusiasm which made Saturday "family day" at the Exposition, for they insisted that mother and father go with them the second day.

Vivid displays of agency-work, beautiful lighting and tableaux, interested and capable agency representatives added in words to the graphic portrayal of their work and accomplishments.

The Highland Glee Club, fully represented, added tremendously to the program on Friday and Saturday evenings, ably accompanied by the WPA orchestra and the Everett Organette played by Mr. Charles Killmer.

Mrs. Lorenz Muther, Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Fay Roope, Director of the Exposition and Mr. C. Hassler Capron, and the agencies of the Chest were showered with highest praise for their production, which gave Newton a picture of the Community Chest and its member-agencies impossible to have achieved in any other way.

Course In Choral Singing

The Division of University Extension is to give a course in "Choral Singing" at Newton, beginning Monday, Nov. 16, at the Underwood School. This course will be conducted by Charles Peirce, choral and orchestra conductor and member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music, according to announcement made by Commissioner of Education James G. Reardon.

This course is intended to train men and women for community singing, and will embrace the practical experience and instruction in the reading of music which is gained by the singing of part songs. Familiarity with choral masterpieces of the great composers will be gained as well as a thorough preparation for church music and other choral positions. Enrollment is open to all regardless of voice quality or previous training.

Commissioner Reardon has been assured by one of the radio broadcasting stations in Boston that, as the occasion demands, evening time will be given for broadcasting concerts by this and similar choruses when they are prepared to give a good performance. Through the co-operation of Keith C. Brown, there will be facilities at the New England Conservatory of Music for rehearsing the broadcasts. There will also be an opportunity to secure professional talent at the Artists Bureau at the Conservatory for instrumental music to be included in the broadcast.

Enrollment for the course may be made at the first meeting of the class.

"No" Vote Bothers Newton Clubs

At the election on November 3rd the voters of Newton by a small majority voted "No" on one of the three referenda on sale of alcoholic liquors to be consumed on the premises. Only one license of this description has been granted in Newton to any place serving the public. But, an unexpected complication resulted. Four clubs, three of which include a large percentage of Newton's leading citizens among their members, were deprived of the right to sell high balls as well as golf balls at their club houses. The organizations affected are the Brae Burn Country Club, Woodland Golf Club, Charles River Country Club and Commonwealth Golf Club.

Last Friday night a delegation of six representatives from the four clubs, conferred with the Newton License Commission. The club representatives expressed the belief that the voters of Newton had not understood that the negative vote on the referendum would prohibit the sale of high content liquors at the clubs to members thereof and it was suggested that this question might be placed on the ballot at the city election in December. They were informed that the law specifies that referendum on liquor licenses must be voted on at the State elections, so the matter cannot be voted on at the city election.

The members of the License Commission declined to offer any suggestions as to how the clubs can overcome the 19th hole obstacle. During prohibition members of many golf clubs kept individual supplies of liquor in their lockers. Under that system the drinking was less abstemious than it has been since repeal went into effect and bars were installed at the clubs. The commission was informed that some of the clubs had a considerable supply of liquors on hand and the problem of legally disposing of these stocks before January 1st was discussed. It is understood that the liquor laws have a provision for such a contingency.

Two Appointed Police Reserves

John J. Bagley, 23, of 22 Orchard st., Newton and Guy Litchfield, Jr., 23, of 21 Melbourne ave., Newtonville were appointed on Monday by Chief of Police Hughes as members of the reserve force of the Newton police department. They were appointed to fill vacancies on the reserves caused by two recent appointments of reserve officers to the regular force.

Hamilton Fish, Jr., Says Republicans Are Still Strong

Denounces Facism and Communism at Forum

The Newton Community Forum Lectures for the season 1936-1937 began very auspiciously last Sunday afternoon when Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., of the 26th district of New York, spoke before a well-filled house at the Newton High School on "The Meaning of the Election in Relation to Americanism."

Congressman Fish began by stating that the United States of America is one of the few free countries in existence today and that before anything else it is essential that we, her citizens, persevere in maintaining this freedom. He had no hesitancy in declaring that the recent election was a personal triumph for President Roosevelt but on the other hand, regardless of how the reelection came about, it is up to us to put aside our hatred and resentment of the New Deal and above all to have faith in our President and in ourselves. President Roosevelt is not a radical. But having faith does not mean that we are to be passively content. The only sure road to a successful state of prosperity under honest and unselfish leadership is through the republican form of government. We must get back to the solid principles and high ideals of Abraham Lincoln. The country's future lies in the enthusiasm and ability of the young people to think clearly and see through the fraud and misrepresentation of "politicians."

Why this tremendous landslide to the Democratic side? For three and a half years the administration has been "buying" votes in the south, middle west and south west through various programs which the laboring classes—particularly the farmers and industrial workers—have interpreted as they were intended to interpret them. At this election seventy-five thousand of our people have voted against the Roosevelt administration.

Candidates For Aldermen Start Campaigning

Activities of the various candidates for Aldermen at the coming city election in December are now well under way. In Ward 2 Ward Alderman Carl F. Schipper, Jr. of 47 Trowbridge ave. will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large for the office now held by Albert M. Lyon. Mr. Lyon, who is serving his second year in the Board will be a candidate for Ward Alderman, as he does not, at this time, desire to run for the two year term.

In Ward 3 organized effort is being made in behalf of the candidacy of Max Gaddis for Ward Alderman. Mr. Gaddis is a resident of Eliot ave. in Precinct 1 and nine men from that precinct have formed a central committee to help in the fight to elect him. This committee is composed of Walter Helm, 25 Furbush ave.; Charles Hosley, 59 Eliot ave.; Kenneth Eldredge, 136 Randlett Park; Dwight Woodberry, 55 Parsons st.; Robert Monros, 104 Warwick rd.; J. Ward Kelly, 21 Taft ave.; Clarence Eldridge, 64 Rangeley rd.; M. J. Hamant, 81 Eliot ave.; D. M. Leonard, 553 Aldemarle rd.; Sidney French, 118 Randlett Park; Ralph Taber, 277 Waltham st. These men believe that Mr. Gaddis' activities in village affairs of West Newton have brought him into contact with many men and women who feel that the city can well use his abilities in the Board of Aldermen. They also contend that it has been many years since Precinct 3 has been represented in the Board.

Alfred R. Guzzi who is serving his second year as Ward Alderman from Ward 3, and who was a candidate for Representative to the State Legislature at the recent election, has announced that he will again be a candidate for Ward Alderman. Mr. Guzzi states that during the past two years he has not missed one Board meeting or committee meeting.

In Ward 4 Charles B. Floyd of Wolcott st. who has been a member of the Board of Aldermen since 1929, and who has served as President of

THE GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENTS

Two years ago Governor Joseph B. Ely drew the bitter criticism of his successor in office, the then Governor-elect Curley, for making numerous appointments to positions in the state service. If we recall correctly the incoming Governor intimated that it would be highly desirable for the outgoing Chief Executive to leave such positions for his successor to fill. At the present time Governor Curley apparently prefers to overlook his attitude of two years ago and is striving diligently to reward those who sought his favor in the past. It is a natural custom followed for many years in politics. The weakness of the practice comes in the removal from office of capable trained officials and their replacement by individuals, in some instances, by those whose selection is based upon patronage alone, without due consideration for the needs of the state. One of the many reasons for the defeat of Governor Curley in the recent election was the public reaction and resentment against some of his appointments, as well as in the manner in which he brought them about.

THE CITY ELECTION IS NEXT

How quickly the excitement and interest of the election has passed over. Locally, however, interest in the city election is just beginning to arise. Being the year when there is no mayoralty campaign this interest may not be as widespread as it might well be, but many Newton citizens who are interested in their local government desire to elect aldermen and school committeemen who will serve the city most beneficially. They can do so by taking an active interest in the election and obtaining all possible information regarding the many candidates who are preparing to file nomination papers.

Recent Weddings

FOX—ELWELL

Miss Helen Barbara Elwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hudson Elwell of Newton Highlands, was married to Charles Edward Cox of Chestnut Hill on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 7. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, 33 Brewster rd., at four o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Charles O. Farrar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white velvet gown with long sleeves and a train. Her tulle veil was held in place with an heirloom cap, and orange blossoms. Miss Elizabeth Norton of Newton Highlands, who was the maid of honor and only attendant, wore purple velvet with shoes to match and carried pale yellow roses.

Clifford W. Davis of Boston was the best man. The ushers were Richard D. Elwell, brother of the bride; Herbert F. Haake, of Auburndale, and T. Justin Patterson of Westwood.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Elwell and Miss Mary Lamkin, aunt of the groom, of New York. Miss Marjorie Merrill and Miss Alice Andersen, both of Boston, were the pourers.

On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Fox will reside in Cambridge.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fox, formerly of Boston. He attended Northeastern University. The bride attended Howard Seminary in West Bridgewater and is a graduate of Simmons College.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fish of Nashville, Tennessee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Augusta Fish, to Melvin S. Hanauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hanauer of 100 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Henry O. Marcy of 140 Sargent st., Newton, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Eleanor Beatrice Marcy, to Alvin Randolph Sweeney, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Randolph Sweeney of Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Marcy is a graduate of the Brimmer School and of Smith College, 1936, and is now studying at Radcliffe. Mr. Sweeney graduated from Harvard in 1935 and is now in his second year at the Harvard Medical School.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday at 12:15.

The speaker, introduced by E. Prentiss Jones, was Mr. Alfred N. Miner, vice-president in charge of fire prevention. Massachusetts Safety Council, and chairman on Fire Prevention Board of Chamber of Commerce. He mentioned that the day happened to be the anniversary of the big Boston fire which occurred on Nov. 9, 1872. He called attention to the fact that few realize the extent of the waste in the nation due to fires, which loss amounted last year to a figure of $248,750,000. In 1934 and 1935 there was a reduction in fire loss, but in the first nine months of 1936 it has again increased. In Massachusetts alone in the past six years the loss of around $85,000,000 was due to careless smoking. Electrical causes accounted for between 50 per cent. and 70 per cent. of fires in dwellings. Fire waste amounts to $1.95 per capita in the nation. He stressed the need for all persons to keep their homes and places of business free from all causes that make fires possible and expressed the hope that more along this line can be taught in schools.

He praised the Fire Department of Newton and the work they are doing to prevent fires and said that Newton has a Class A rating with the Insurance Exchange.

President Walter Gregg presided and singing was led by Jim Melcher, with Louis Haffner at the piano.

Guests were present from Quincy, Watertown and Boston.

To Present Pinafore At Next Meeting of Clafin Club

The Clafin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Church have arranged for the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore" on Friday, Nov. 20th, at 8 P. M., in the Newtonville Methodist Church. The program will be presented by the Brighton-Alston Community Chorus and Orchestra under the direction of Richard A. Haggerty.

The cast will include James Walsh, Robert Leonard, Paul Dasey, Donald Taylor, Harry Travis, James Fraggos, Richard Young, Ruth Burns, Gladys Geiger and Ethel Cowan.

During the past week there has been an interesting exhibit of war relics in the window of the Campbell Hardware Co., at Newton Corner, in connection with Armistice Day. The relics in the exhibit were loaned by members of the Newton Post of the American Legion. Included in the display was a German machine gun captured in an engagement in which Newton veterans participated, an American gas mask, German trench phone, French hand wire fencing, and also a Spanish war rifle and many other pieces of military equipment. Prior to Armistice Day, Past Commander Charles Walker of Newton Post and other members gave talks in the Newton public schools in which the exhibit was mentioned and which resulted in a number of groups of pupils showing much interest in the display. In addition to the commemorative day of the day, the exhibit also helped in advertising the Armistice Day ball of the local Post at the Armory on Wednesday evening.

A regular Saturday morning feature of interest to children will be the moving picture show at the Paramount Theatre under the combined direction of the Boston University Women's Council and the Newton Motion Picture Council. The first performance will be given this Saturday morning at ten o'clock. The program will feature "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and a "Micky Mouse" film. Freddie Bartholomew plays the part of Little Lord Fauntleroy and C. Aubrey Smith is the grandfather. Several women from the council will chaperon each performance. On Saturday, the Saturday Morning Junior Matinees, and Newton mothers are invited to co-operate in making them a success. It is planned to continue these shows every Saturday through the winter and spring.

Jackson H. Skillings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Skillings of 75 Ripley st., Newton Centre, Mass., has been elected first marshal of the senior class at Brown University, the Cammarian Club, Brown's student government body, announced today following a class poll. First marshal corresponds to president.

In addition to managing the affairs of the Class of 1937, Skillings will march at the head of the Commencement procession next June over a route which all Brown classes have followed since 1775. With him will be Warren A. Ostergard of Canton, Ohio, second marshal.

Prominent on the campus at Brown, Skillings is an honor student, having won the Louttit Scholarship and a place on the dean's list. He is captain of the tennis team, secretary of the Cammarian Club, a hockey letterman, and was captain of the freshman hockey team. Last year he was chairman of the junior prom committee and secretary of the Brown Key Society, junior honorary organization. Skillings entered Brown from Wilbraham Academy.

Inaugurating their second season in the field of drama, the Hovey Players of Waltham are making good their promise to produce only worthwhile stories, and on Wednesday evening, Nov. 18th, at 8:15 o'clock in the Hovey Memorial Institute on Main st., they will offer their presentation of Dickens' immortal masterpiece, "David Copperfield." A cast of twenty, selected to portray the somewhat difficult roles of the story, is fast reaching the finished stage under the expert coaching of Mr. Ernest Johnson, of Newton.

The first annual Mothers' week-end at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, last Saturday and Sunday brought nearly one hundred mothers of pupils there. Among those from the Newtons were Mrs. Gifford N. Hartwell of Charlestown st., Newton Highlands, visiting her daughter, Lois, a junior; Mrs. Carrie E. Clay of Washington terrace, Newtonville, whose daughter, Frances, is a freshman, and Mrs. Laurence W. C. Emig of Newtonville ave., Newtonville, whose daughter, Katherine, is a member of the senior class.

Edward F. Hennessey and Raymond B. Hurley, both of Newton, and Warren E. MacMath, of Auburndale, are among the group of 43 freshmen from Northeastern University who gained a place on the scholastic honor roll for the first marking period. It was announced this week by Harold W. Melvin, Dean of Students. Hennessey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hennessey of 275 Tremont st., and Hurley is the son of Mr. Herbert D. Hurley of 934 Watertown st., West Newton. MacMath, the son of Mr. Hugh A. MacMath, resides at 21 Orris st., Auburndale. All three are graduates of Newton High School where Hennessey was business manager of the Year Book, a member of the Board of Publications, and a member of the National Honor Society. Hurley was a member of the Aviation Club and the school band. MacMath also played in the school band.

Working over the chafing dishes at the "Fudge table" of the Florence Crittenton League Bazaar being held at the Copley Plaza on Thursday and Friday this week will be several of the younger members of the Newton Circle, Inc., formerly known as the Newton Junior Circle. Among those planning to give their time are Mrs. Charles F. Bartholomew, Miss Ruth Chapin, Mrs. Richard B. Cole, Mrs. Leon B. Farley, Mrs. William I. Fearling, Mrs. Joseph D. Hayes and Mrs. Francis F. Holloway, Mrs. William F. King, Mrs. Stanley H. Lyon, Mrs. Donald G. Morse, Mrs. Francis F.

Munroe, Mrs. Richard deZ. Pierce, Mrs. Davis N. Ripley, Mrs. D. Allen Smith and Mrs. Charles F. Weeden, Jr.

The younger members of the Circle who will give their services behind the "baby table" are Mrs. Roger C. Allen, Mrs. Lawrence Black, Mrs. D. Kenneth Dunmore, Mrs. Richard C. Eley, Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Mrs. George P. Hall and Mrs. Donald Holbrook, Mrs. J. Fern Hollis, Mrs. H. W. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. F. Everett Jones, Jr., Mrs. Henry G. MacClure, Mrs. Francis F. Munroe, Mrs. F. Ward Paine, Mrs. Charles Pettit, Mrs. William B. Plumer, Mrs. Roger Preston, Mrs. Howard Rich, Mrs. Gordon B. Russell, Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer, Miss Dorothy Simpson and Mrs. Raymond W. Stanley. Mrs. Ralph H. Lindsay will be seen wheeling a doll carriage completely outfitted upon which she is to sell chances.

Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parsons

At their home on Keldred rd. on Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 7th, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parsons held open house to some two hundred of their friends—the occasion being their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers—yellow chrysanthemums prevailing. Miss Louise Came, graduate of the Paris Conservatory, and now harpist of the Somerville orchestra, played during the afternoon and evening. Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Dryer, alumnae of the New England Conservatory of Music, and who sang at the wedding, and Mrs. Parsons silver wedding, rendered songs. Miss Edna Dryer was the pianist.

Among some of the out of town guests were President Ross of Emerson College, Professor Vida D. Scudder of Wellesley, Miss Florence Converse, writer and poet, Rev. Father Powell, S. J., E. Rev. Father Dale, S. J., E. Rev. Eason Cross and family, rector of St. Luke's Church in Allston, Rev. Father Richard T. Loring and Mrs. Loring, Rev. Father Parce from St. John the Evangelist, Boston, Mr. Thomas A. Mullem and family from Brookline, the ladies of St. Luke's Guild Church in Allston. Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Parsons of Cambridge and Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Parsons of "Forest Acres", Petersham, Massachusetts, also their grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parsons and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lidback and babies, also other relatives of the Parsons clan and many other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, flowers and telegrams from all over the country. They were married in England and for the past twenty-five years have made their home in Waban. Mr. Parsons is a talented artist. His art, known as Opus Pictum, literally color work, combines the work of the painter in a degree never previously attempted.

Musical To Benefit Newton Peace Campaign

As the initial step in an all-Newton campaign for peace, a benefit concert is being held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church in West Newton on Sunday afternoon, November 15, at 4 o'clock. The proceeds from this musical, which is being sponsored by the Open Hearth, a group of young men and women in Newton, will be devoted to peace work in Newton.

The artists who will donate their talent for this benefit include Miss Jeanne Bachrach of West Newton, soprano; Miss Norma Olson of Waltham, cellist; and the following members of the Bates String Quartet: Miss Persis Bates, first violinist and director; Miss Mary Ballard, second violin; Miss Louise Frye, viola; and Miss Dorothy Baker, cello. The accompanist will be Miss Lilley Owen Smith.

Mrs. Herbert Hitchen, wife of the minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church, and Mrs. Arthur Lane, president of the Woman's Alliance, will pour at the tea following the concert.

Mrs. Ethel Coty is in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Herbert Andrews is in charge of the decorations. The ushers will include the Misses Kathleen Andrews, Barbara Caton, Ruth Chase, Virginia Dove, Elizabeth Dove, Jeanne Fisher, Barbara Livermore and Margaret Wilcox.

Newton Republican, Nov. 14, 1874

The heavy trusses in the roof of Eliot Block, Newton, each weigh 1300 pounds. There are 7 of them and all were hoisted into place without an accident or the breaking of so much as a thread. This was owing to the care and skill of Captain Holmes who has charge of the work on the building.

The reservoir (cistern, Ed.) on Washington st., Newton, at the corner of School (now Thornton) st., as being made deeper. Only one foot of water was found in it and it is to be deepened so as to be made serviceable.

The committee of Channing Unitarian Society have purchased the fine lot of land at the corner of Park and Vernon sts., on which it is proposed to erect their new church. It is an excellent site and we learn that the price paid was $20,000.

The net result of the recent Catholic fair for the new church at Washington and Adams sts., will reach not far from $10,000. This is a very gratifying exhibit and every one interested can but feel glad that the fair was so successful.

With the exception of a short break the concrete sidewalk on the west side of Centre st. between Wards 1 and 6 is complete. It would be convenient to have this space also covered.

The passenger traffic on the railroad through the Newton Centre section of the city has increased nearly 200 per cent within the past two years.

Two or three wealthy citizens of Upper Falls have been the recipients, within a week, of letters threatening them with assassination if they did not enclose certain sums of money in envelopes, to be placed at points designated and within a short distance from their homes. One of the citizens so far complied as to place in the spot designated, under a stone an empty envelope, which was closely watched by three stalwart policemen. In spite of the trusty guard, the letter was taken from its place of concealment without the knowledge of the vigilant guard lying in ambush. Other threatened parties talk of rigging up a nitro-glycerine trap for the blackmailers.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, November 13, 1886

The Newton Bicycle Club will have a run to Dorchester on Thanksgiving Day to see the tandem races of the Dorchester Club.

The morning trains to Boston on the B. & A. resemble political caucuses nowadays. The merits and demerits of possible and impossible candidates for office at the coming city election are warmly discussed.

The part of Watertown on this side of the river is growing rapidly. One of the recent additions is a very long block of tenement houses on Galen st., near the silk factory.

Miss Williston intends giving up her home at Auburndale as the lease is about to expire, and move to some other part of Newton. She has now 20 orphans under her care. At the recent party at Grace Church two barrels and a large box were filled and sent to Miss Williston.

50 YEARS AGO

The night school is meeting with remarkable success. Over 150 pupils have applied for instruction, all the desks are taken, and a number have been turned away for lack of room. There are 11 teachers. If the increase is maintained another year, a larger school building will have to be used. One of the reasons for the large number is said to be that the mills are all running and the young folks employed in them cannot attend day schools.

Harry Whitmore left on Wednesday for Texas where he will spend the winter on Leverett Saltonstall's ranch.

A young lady was assaulted on Brooks ave., Newtonville, on Thursday evening and given a terrible fright as the assailant was a rough looking fellow. Officer Clay was notified and arrested a young man on suspicion. If our streets are not safe early in the evening it is about time something was done about it.

On Friday evening, the hunter's moon being at its full, members of the Newton Centre Gun Club with their ladies journeyed to Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale, and enjoyed a gamesome supper.

The responsibility imposed upon women by law in the election of the committee to have charge of the schools has hitherto been very much neglected by women of Newton. To create a more active interest in the Public Education it is proposed that we should meet together to confer upon this subject. Women of Newton are therefore invited to be present at a meeting to be held next Wednesday, Nov. 17, in Eliot Hall at 3 o'clock, when interesting speakers will tell what has been done in other cities and place before us reasons why we should exercise the duty imposed on us by law.

Powers' Paragraphs

Governor James M. Curley and his benchman, Mr. Kane were quite caustic in their criticism of Father Coughlin because Mr. Curley was defeated for Senator. The famous radio orator from Royal Oak was alleged to have been responsible for the defeat of the orator from Jamaica Plain because he sponsored the candidacy of Thomas C. O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien's total vote was some thousands less than Mr. Lodge's plurality over Gov. Curley. So, even had all who voted for O'Brien cast their ballots for Curley had O'Brien not been a candidate, Lodge would still have had a plurality. And all the O'Brien votes would not have gone to Curley.

It is interesting to hear Father Coughlin designated as a traitor by some of Governor Curley's supporters. During at least one mayoralty campaign in Boston in recent years, Mr. Curley was accused of having been in cahoots with politicians who were sponsoring a Republican candidate. And if memory serves us right, Mr. Curley did not support Governor Ely in the latter's contest with Governor Allen. It makes a man of whose box is gored, some folks can "give it," but they can't "take it."

Now that the national election is over we can devote some space to local matters. We have been asked by a number of Newton residents to voice their disgust and indignation at traffic conditions which have prevailed at West Newton since the group of traffic signals were installed a few months ago in the business section there. Prior to the installation of these signals there was little traffic congestion at West Newton. During the peak periods of traffic in the morning and afternoon, Patrolman Dennis, Murphy very efficiently directed it and motorists not kept waiting over 20 seconds, on the average, and rarely had to wait as long as 30 seconds.

As a result of persistent effort on the part of Alderman Guzzi, the Board of Aldermen decided to provide a traffic signal at West Newton square. A "study" of the situation by local officials and engineers of a signal manufacturing company followed. The result was—that instead of a simple signal system being installed, as at Newton Corner (where traffic is much heavier and more complicated), or at Newtonville square, the most complicated aggregation of traffic signals in this part of the country was erected at West Newton. Five signal units were installed—one at the southeast corner of Chestnut and Washington sts.; one on Washington st. opposite Chestnut st.; another on a safety island which was built at the junction of Washington and Watertown sts., a fourth at the corner of Watertown and Waltham sts., and the fifth on Washington st. opposite Waltham st. This galaxy of traffic signals is operated by pads set in the streets, automobiles passing over them and making electrical connections; and by push-buttons operated by pedestrians.

As a result of the multiplicity of signals automobiles, trucks and busses instead of traveling uninterrupted through the West Newton business section as they did most of the day and night hours before the signals were installed, or being held up for 20 or 30 seconds, for the past few months have had to wait for periods of from one to more than three minutes, unless they happen along when the green light is with them, which lumpy condition is much more the exception than the rule. All day long, and well into the night hours one sees automobiles and trucks unnecessarily delayed at West Newton by the constellation of traffic signals there. During the heavy traffic periods long lines of motor vehicles are tied up there. The condition can be corrected to some degree by a cessation of the signal operations at the lights at Washington and Chestnut sts. Certainly, something should be done to end the ridiculous traffic situation which the too many signals have been causing.

It is human to err. We have yet to meet a person who doesn't err. There are few saints. Society through the ages has made laws for mutual protection. Some offences against society do not seriously affect others than those directly involved. Other offences involve many, threatening the safety of the public in general. Among the latter is the offence of driving a motor vehicle on a public highway while under the influence of liquor. Any man or woman who drinks to excess and then attempts to drive an automobile on a public street is almost as dangerous to the lives and safety of the public as a maniac who goes berserk. The drunken operator drives along a highway a projectile weighing 3000 pounds or more and is apt to hit you or me. We realize that many excellent men and women have had the misfortune to have been arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor and we are sorry for their plight. But, years ago the publisher of the GRAPHIC established the rule that the name of anyone arrested in Newton for driving under the influence of liquor would be published. This rule has been adhered to since. In fairness to all, no exceptions have been made. And with more and more persons being killed and maimed because of drunken driving, the policy of the GRAPHIC, in this respect, cannot be fairly considered "hard boiled."

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Good Word for New York

It is all right by me that the next World's Fair is to be held in New York. I am not especially partial to that stupendous city; neither am I one of those provincial people who turns up his nose and says, "O, I like to visit New York but I wouldn't live there if they gave me the place." In the present instance I am merely stating that it is easy to get there and almost as easy to get back.

Furthermore many of our larger cities have held such expositions with varying degrees of financial profit. Of course I would like to see New York make money and civilization glorified, which, I understand, is the dual objective. Moreover, a World's Fair in New York means that I shall see something of it which is more than I can say of others I have visited. The trip to Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, San Francisco has always proved so engrossing—as travel always is to me—that upon arrival the great show has proved less engrossing. In the excitement of getting there and back, mingling with the crowds, riding out to the show grounds, calling on friends, etc., so much time is consumed that one fails to view all the wonders so thoughtfully arranged by the management.

Now with the World's Fair in New York I can make the trip there two or three times without seeing much of the fair, sort of rehearsing my sight-seeing, and getting used to things. After that I can make several trips for the sole purpose of taking in the exhibition itself. This is one reason, and the only one I think of now, why I am glad Newton is near New York.

Key to the Situation

The embarrassment of absent-mindedness is keener if the offence is in any way spectacular. If, however, it draws little attention so much the better. This column, not so long ago, discussed, in a deeply sympathetic vein, people who are guilty of lapses of memory or forgetfulness. Since then a striking example has been called to my attention and my heart goes out to the men or women who unlock a door or whatever it may be with one of a bunch of keys and forget to remove it afterwards. Leaving the key in the lock is not a criminal act, though it may invite thievery or a similar misdeed, but it can create much sharp discussion in an otherwise orderly household. Yet it is done every day. Of course it is comforting if one discovers one's own mistake, and highly disconcerting if another happens along and makes a lot of talk about it. They tell me that losing keys in this manner is a fault of both young and old, high and low and rich and poor. Furthermore, there seems to be no way of stopping it. Replacing keys is a nuisance but it isn't costly. So why should we make that one of our immediate problems? Key-makers need work and surely no one would want to put them out of business with Winter coming on.

Welcome Change

A group of Newton men had under informal discussion the possible advent of Fascism in the United States. One was especially interested because his view of the future has of late been especially bleak. He has been without work for months and unsuccessful to date trying to land something. An ardent anti-Fascist said, "The Government will tell you the way you've got to live and how will you like that?" The other replied, "Great. I've been nearly crazy trying to figure it out for myself."

The Delight of Recovery

Now we are in for overcoat weather. Not that there is anything extraordinary in the necessity of creating greater clothing protection against chilling blasts and whatever they may bring. But still, your hand into the pockets of a garment which you put aside last March or April sometimes produces a thrill. Many a person has found a pair of gloves. Not always new, but serviceable and useful for some time to come. Occasionally one draws forth a handkerchief which the laundry will speedily make as good as new. It may be that the only thing revealed will be a pair of theatre ticket stubs. These at least remind one of a good time. Extraordinary cases are on record where a letter that should have been mailed is brought to light. The less said of such a matter the better. Nevertheless, the experience should be a pleasant one. Here's hoping, if you have it already dug out your Winter garments, that you'll find something that will please you.

Report of Progress

This is to state that I am still investigating the case of the young man who aroused the entire household with uncanny shouts of mirth over the contents of a book he was reading in bed. My object is to learn the name of the volume and other important details. At present I have accumulated enough evidence to place before him and give him a confession. I want to give him a chance to make a statement before I resort to anything like the "third degree". He is out-of-town on business but when he returns I shall proceed to make him tell the whole story and clear the matter up.

Wood In Cellar Causes House Fire

A blaze, which started in the cellar of the two-tenement house at 21 Brook st., Newton, last Friday about 11 a. m. when wood near a furnace caught afire, caused damage estimated at $800. Mrs. Mark Maloney, who resides on the second floor of the house, had started a fire in the furnace shortly before the wood ignited. The first floor tenement is occupied by Wallace Maloney and family. The fire worked up from the cellar to the first floor of the building, which is owned by Mrs. E. A. Robblee of Baldwin st. Engine 1 and Ladder 3 responded to a still alarm and worked at the house for about three-quarters of an hour before extinguishing the blaze.

SEE THE NEW CARS AT THE BOSTON AUTO SHOW NOVEMBER 14th-to 21st

Pontiac

Pontiac, worker of wonders in the low-price field, has done it again—built a car that takes the prize for beauty in any competition—given it size and luxury that compare with the most expensive cars—packed it with more of the latest, greatest advancements than you'll find in any other new car of its price—stepped up power and acceleration—increased economy even above that of last year's economy champion—and capped this great feat with prices that make the new Silver Streak Six and Eight even better values than the record-breaking Pontiacs of the past. Along with more room and more comfort for passengers, the 1937 Pontiac provides 50 per cent more trunk space in all touring models. You need leave nothing necessary behind when you travel in a Pontiac. There's even room for the comfort-giving extras that you have always had to do without. The Pontiac engine holds the secret of Pontiac's remarkable thrift. Power is greater than ever in the 1937 cars. Acceleration is even faster than before. But along with these performance improvements, the new Scotch Mist manifold, exclusive with Pontiac, permits this mighty motor to operate with even greater economy. The finest of cooling systems, engine air-conditioning, and proper lubrication preserve this lively, economical performance at its peak for mile on endless mile. Price reductions amounting to as much as $25 on some new 1937 Pontiac models were announced coincident with the first national public showing of the new cars.

Plymouth

Never before in all its history has Plymouth provided so much value for the buyer of a low-priced car.

You'll find not only ample seat-room for six big people, but extra leg-room and head-room as well. And in the spacious rear compartment, the center passenger rides as comfortably as those at either side. For in a Plymouth there is no shaft tunnel rising above the floor. Plymouth's Hypoid rear axle lowers the drive shaft, makes a shaft tunnel unnecessary!

The sparkling beauty of this big new Plymouth is an abiding source of pride. The harmonious total of its striking design causes the eye to linger. . . to search out the details that make this great car so modernly beautiful, so distinctive. You note the handsome radiator grille topped by its graceful ornament. You follow the flowing curves of the gleaming body, up over the long hood, across the unbroken lines of the solid steel top, down the sweeping curve at the rear.

Plymouth was a pioneer in the use of all-steel bodies in the low price field. Much of Plymouth's sensational success is due to the public demand for this protection. In all cars, the parts of the body you see—the outside—are of steel. But in a Plymouth, all the structural parts that cannot be seen are also of steel. And it is the use of steel in these unseen parts of the body that is essential to safest construction.

And to safety Plymouth adds silence. Wherever body noise could occur or road noise be transmitted, Plymouth's Safety Steel body is made quiet by the exact insulating material best suited to absorb the noise. In all, five kinds of special sound-deadening material, in addition to rubber, are used to eliminate noises. That is why Plymouth has the most silent ride of any low-priced car.

Eighteen to 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline is the astonishing mileage reported by 1936 Plymouth owners all over the country—with amazingly little oil used!

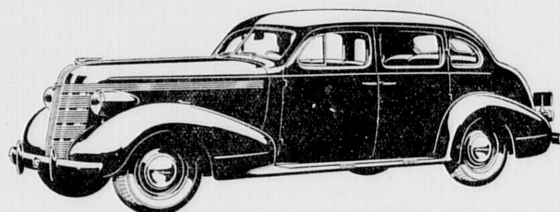

A boulevard ride no matter where you go! No other low-priced car has so many engineering advancements to make the ride level and shockless under all conditions.

And with the Plymouth's patented Floating Power engine mountings, the balanced weight of the engine overcomes the power of shocks that occur in every motor car engine so that they cannot be transmitted to the frame and body of the car. Thus you are freed from the tiring effects of engine vibration. In a Plymouth, you reach your destination untired, refreshed—even after driving all day.

These remarkable new Plymouths may be seen at the showrooms of Washington Motors, 409 Washington st., Newton Corner.

Packard

That the Packard 120 is the luxury car of the lower-price field, is no empty statement. Not only is it distinguished by greater size and power, but also by a host of design refinements exclusive to this fine big car. There is nothing new about this policy in regard to the Packard 120, for when Packard introduced it nearly two years ago its luxury in a car of its price bracket literally startled the automotive world. But there is much that is new about the luxury of the Packard 120 for 1937—more "big car" in feature and fineness. The smartness of its exterior lines may be enhanced by the distinctive appearance of side mounted spare tires set gracefully lower. If the purchaser elects to specify this popular special equipment. Not one broadcloth but a choice among three upholstery materials is offered in the interior, differing in color and weaves and selected to best harmonize with the hue and tone of the many artistic schemes. And the extra size and length of the car is capitalized in luxury notes not found elsewhere. The result is a motor car whose artistry is gracefully outstanding.

The Newton Packard dealer is the Newton Auto Sales, Inc., 320 Washington st., Newton Corner, and they invite you to call for a demonstration any time.

Bad Check Passers In Newton Court

George McCauley of Robbins st., Waltham, was in the Newton court on Friday charged with larceny of $40.83 from Joseph Pink, a Newton upholsterer. It was alleged that McCauley had given Pink a worthless check. On condition that he make restitution, he was placed on probation until January 8, 1937.

Dominic Leone of 96 Hawthorn st., Nonantum, was given a suspended prison sentence of 3 months in the Newton court last Friday for larceny of $50 from Antonio Tramontozzi of Hefron st., Brighton. It was alleged that the plaintiff gave Leone the money to pay a lawyer's fee. When Tramontozzi demanded the money from Leone, it was alleged that the latter gave the plaintiff a worthless check. Leone was given a suspended sentence on condition that he make restitution.

Upper Falls Man In Plenty of Trouble

Anthony Medaglia, 39, of 18 Indiana terrace, Newton Upper Falls, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Serg. Meehan and Patrolman Kilman on a charge of having made threats against a man with whom he had been involved in a quarrel at a pool room in Upper Falls. It is alleged that he made threats against Peter Kerchinsky of Needham. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until November 18.

Cars Collide At Nonantum

Sunday evening about 7 a car driven by John Marino of Central ave., Needham, collided at California and Bridge sts., Nonantum, with a car driven by Lewis Higgins of Ash st., Waltham. Higgins' wife, a passenger in his car, claimed she received injuries. Margaret Bryson of 59 Bridge st., Nonantum, who was walking near, told the police that she had been Marino's car when it swerved into the collision.

which damages were paid were—Mrs. Ida E. McCarthy, $50 for injuries received on May 26 when she fell in a hole on a sidewalk; and Mary A. Holmes, $150 for damage to property at 118 Austin st. because of blasting during the excavation of a sewer.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included—pension for Timothy Cronin, retired policeman, $263.21; WPA administrative expense to December 31, $4000; Captain Richard Goode of the Newton police, reimbursement for salary lost because of incapacity received in performance of duty, $141; Library Department, office expense and auto maintenance, $450; Street Department, new sidewalks, $600; sewer on Broadway terrace, $873; Cousens Circle sewer, $1080; street construction, Mayflower rd., $2160; water mains, $3220; for painting Crafts st. garage of the Street Department, a WPA project, $1000; Welfare Department, relief of poor, $15,000. Alderman Bowen explained that the $4000 for WPA local administration is for office expenses, light, heat and rent of quarters. The cost to the city for such expense during this year will be $17,000, and is much less in proportion in Newton than in other cities. He said the Federal government has already allotted $415,000 this year to Newton on WPA projects.

An order was passed authorizing the demolition of the Barnard School at West Newton as a WPA project. The wood to be given to the poor. The offer of the Federal government to give $32,000 for street improvements on Commonwealth ave. and Centre st. was accepted.

Petitions received included—Wilford Dowell, waiver of setback line at 27 Hollis st. for erection of 2-car garage; R. F. Grammer claim for injury received by his son at Day Junior high school; Mrs. John Keith for pedestrian's push button on traffic signal at Centre st. and Commonwealth ave.; Leon Snow and others for prohibition of trucks over two tons on Dedham st. between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m.

party took the same percentage. This outcome is due to the fact that there are more Negroes on relief than any other faction. For the first time in history organized labor came out solidly on the Democratic ticket.

It is true that the Republicans took the worst beating they have ever taken, but that does not mean that they are done for. Governor Landon took 17,000,000 votes—2,000,000 more than Hoover took in 1932. Republicanism is looking upward and during the next four years it is up to us to keep it that way.

Autos Collide, Three Women Hurt

Cars driven by Kathleen Sullivan of Alton st., Arlington, and Adela LaLiberte of Riverside st., Needham, collided at 11:40 a. m. Wednesday at the intersection of Beacon and Walnut sts., Newton Highlands. This intersection affords a wide-open view from all approaches, but many collisions unnecessarily occur there. Margaret Narducci, a passenger in the Arlington car, was taken to the Newton Hospital to be treated for nervous shock. The LaLiberte woman and a young woman, who was riding with her, also claimed to have received injuries.

Fire In Hopper At Oak Hill Gravel Pit

Charged With Drunken Driving

Clifford Marchand of 45 Rustic st., Nonantum, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued to Nov. 12. He was arrested the preceding afternoon by Serg. Sullivan and Patrolmen Munroe and Taffe.

Smaller Home Electric Aids Are Featured

During the week beginning Nov. 16, a special demonstration of small home-electric appliances will be given at the Newton Centre Edison Shop, 95 Union st. A portable display unit for the display and demonstration of several new items of home-electric equipment is now touring the various Edison Shops in the Metropolitan area and arrives at Newton Centre after an introductory week at the new Edison store at Newton Corner.

Attended by a member of the company's home service division, the presentation features the modern electrical "kitchen kit," waffle iron, roaster and percolator set. The display demonstration booth has attracted wide public interest during the current week at Newton Corner.

Mr. Roosevelt has broken the long-maintained precedent of recognition of the minority party. Are the Republicans going to sit back and take that? Congressman Fish isn't. He told the audience in determination that no bill will come out of the Committee on Foreign Affairs until he sees the people justly represented. Republicans—don't be misled by the argument: "But see how much better off we are now than we were in 1933." As a matter of fact—business didn't begin to pick up until the NRA was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

David Nagle of 260 Franklin st., Newton, was arrested on Ward st. shortly after midnight on Friday morning by Patrolmen Lupien and J. P. Murphy. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Friday charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until Nov. 19.

Joseph McLaughlin of 76 Peterboro st., Boston, was arrested about six o'clock Friday evening at Newtonville square by Patrolmen Goodale and Sartwell charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and his case continued until Nov. 19.

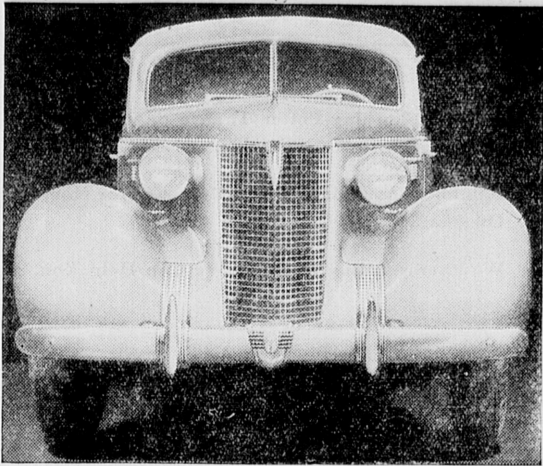

C.—We must by no means give the president the right to determine the aggressor in any foreign dispute.

D.—Last, but not least, no one can get us into war if we refuse to become involved. We must hold our own and be thankful that North America is not chopped up like a jig-saw puzzle into pieces that do not fit.

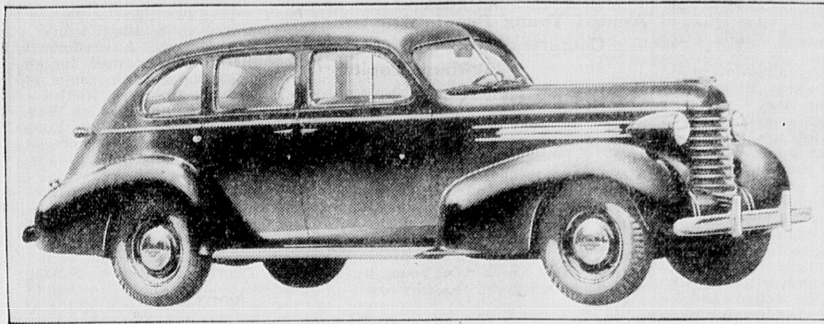

Congressman Fish does not advocate entrance into the League of Nations. He did favor it after the World War but now he says that it will be sheer folly to consider such an action due to the state of affairs in Europe.

He stressed the fact that we must demand fair representation in Congress. He cited an example of what may well become a habit if we do not wake up. Recently Mr. Roosevelt sent a delegation of eight men to the Argentine on a good-will tour. Every single one of those men is a Democrat. When 125,000,000 people are represented in Congress it seems only just that they be fairly represented.

Oldsmobile

Two entirely new Oldsmobiles for 1937, a six and an eight, each distinctively different in body styling, and offering many advancements in mechanical design, are being given their first public showing by Oldsmobile dealers this week-end.

The cars are longer, lower, roomier and more comfortable than in 1936. The motors provide greater reserves of power at lower engine speeds, with corresponding improvements in both performance and operating economy. The six now develops 95 brake horsepower, against 90 horsepower in the 1936 model; the eight develops 110 brake horsepower, an increase of 10 horsepower over the previous eight. Wheelbases of the six and eight have been increased respectively to 117 inches and 124 inches.

Equally definite individuality has been designed into the radiator and grille of the eight. On this series, the engineers have employed a die-cast grille of square mesh design, plated in chrome and outlined by a chrome trim moulding which blends into the hood at the top of the grille. Extending down from the radiator shell at top center of the grille is a narrow medallion.

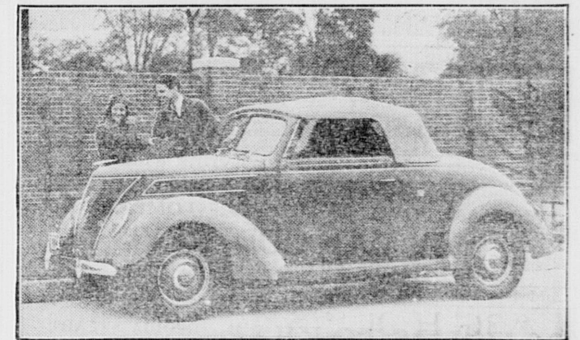

Frost Motors, Inc., of 399 Washington st., are showing these new Oldsmobile models, and invite your closest inspection.

1937 FORD V-8

Two sizes of V-type 8-cylinder engines are offered:

85 horsepower for maximum performance; 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

It is still one car, one standard of size and comfort. With the smaller engine optional in standard body types, new low prices are brought to the Ford line.

Studebaker

Helen Dryden, famous stylist, has again cooperated with Studebaker's distinguished body engineers to create a glorious new motor car body design, refreshingly vigorous and smart. From the silvery "Winged Victory" radiator grilles and louvers to their impressively air-curved rear decks, these new Presidents and Dictators achieve distinction by adhering to fundamental good taste.

Front fenders of heavy steel are wider and lower than others you'll see. The torpedo shaped head lamps are a unit with the hood. The wheels are domed discs. Lower positioning of the propeller shaft and new frame design give the 1937 Studebakers exceptional interior roominess.

The finish and appointments of the interiors place them in a class apart from the proudest previous cars. Luxurious upholstery, deftly tailored, the smartest looking instrument panels yet designed combine to give the spacious interiors of these new Studebakers the charm and friendliness of tastefully appointed living rooms.

In the showrooms of this well established Newton concern at 435 Washington st., may be seen the complete new line. Why not drop in and see them?

Chevrolet

Chevrolet makes the proud statement that its 1937 models are the best cars it has ever produced. Best in appearance, comfort and safety; best in economy, performance and durability. The Master and Master De Luxe models for 1937 are the same in body and chassis, in power and dependability. The difference in price is only because of the difference in front spring suspension and minor variations in trim and equipment.

See these 1937 models at the showrooms of the Silver Lake Chevrolet Co., 444-448 Watertown st., Newton. These popular Chevrolet dealers have been doing business at the same location since 1917 and have one of the best equipped plants in Greater Boston. Last year they sold 350 new Chevrolets and handled about 500 used cars. The coming year they expect to better this record. They will be pleased to give you a demonstration in a 1937 Chevrolet.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

In the Newton court on Monday, Frederick Rys of Gallatin Hall, Harvard University, was fined $50 for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Saturday night on the turnpike by Patrolman John Mullen when the latter observed the peculiar manner in which Rys was operating his car.

In the Newton court on Monday, William Romaine of 67 Dedham st., Newton Centre, was fined $50 by Judge Allen for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Romaine was arrested at Newton Corner on Saturday afternoon by Serg. Baunon and Patrolmen Connolly and Dugan.

Newton H. S.

There was no school on Wednesday, Armistice Day. Tuesday, the first period was used as an assembly hour for the sophomore class, while many junior and senior home rooms had brief commemorative services.

Barclay Feather, President of the Associates, served as chairman. After the salute to the colors and singing of the National Anthem, Mr. Green introduced the speaker, General Daniel Needham.

Our Lady H. S.

The entire school, both grammar and high, assembled in the auditorium, on Friday, Nov. 6th, to honor the memory of the soldiers who died in the wars of this country. The meeting commenced at 1:45, with the singing of the hymn "America the Beautiful," followed by an address for the chairman, Edward Callahan. Katherine Morrison read the proclamation of His Excellency, James M. Curley, Governor of the Commonwealth. The next number on the program was Georgia Whalen's rendering of an appropriate poem by Joyce Kilmer. Father Sheridan then introduced the guest speaker Mr. Edmund Dougan, who related a few incidents of the war, which were thoroughly enjoyable. He pointed out that while the war had its humorous side, this phase was heavily outweighed by the tragedy of the catastrophe. Following the address the entire group sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

At an assembly of the pupils of the Sacred Heart School on Wednesday, Armistice Day was observed. Each grade had a part in the program which opened with a song "Soldiers of the King" by a chorus. The program included Armistice Gifts by Grade 1; a toast by Grade 2; "Soldiers All", Grade 3; "In Memory", Grade 4; "The Flag Goes By", Grade 5; "My Dream of the U. S. A.", Grade 6; a tribute, Grade 7; and the "Tree of Memory" by Grade 8. Appropriate addresses were made by Mr. Harold Hailey, Service officer of the American Legion and Junior Vice Commander of the Disabled Veterans, and by Bishop Francis J. Spellman.

La Salle

The LaSalle is built on a 125-horsepower motor, has four inches more wheelbase—124 inches—and an overall length of 201 inches. Five types are supplied in the LaSalle line; two and four door sedans, both with trunks; a five-passenger convertible sedan; a two-passenger sport coupe and a two-passenger convertible coupe.

Passenger seat widths have been increased three to four inches. Leg and headroom has been increased through hypoid axles and lower floors. Spring rates have been changed and knee action improved.

Larger hydraulic brakes, stabilizers, front and rear, easier steering and better visibility are said to increase LaSalle safety.

In appearance, the line is refined throughout. The hood, tapering forward to the narrow radiator, is set off by high, skirted front fenders.

Tufted upholstery is all wool with worsted faced Bedford cord or broadcloth optional. Improved cushion springs and the additional leg room add to comfort. Front and rear compartments are carpeted. In the front seat adjustment the back tilts forward as the seat is moved forward. Arm rests, assist cord and three ash receivers are among other features.

These cars are on display and ready to be demonstrated to you at your convenience by Frost Motors, Inc., 399 Washington st., Newton.

Railroad Worker Killed At Newton

Anthony Jonaitis, 41, of 206 Athens st., South Boston, was killed Saturday morning at 11:15 when he was struck by the locomotive of the "North Shore Limited," a Boston & Albany express train bound from Boston to Albany. Jonaitis, a Lithuanian, had only been in the employ of the railroad for a short time as a section hand. As the express train came along, it is supposed that Jonaitis, who had been working on Track 2, the inbound track, stood too close to Track 1 on which the outbound train approached. He was hit by some projecting part of the locomotive and his body hurled for 75 feet. His head was severed and carried a considerable distance further. The train proceeded to a point opposite Adams st. before it could be stopped. The body was taken to the morgue at Newton Hospital by Newton police. James O'Brien, foreman of the section crew, stated that Jonaitis was the first man killed, who had worked under him during his 27 years' service.

Ford

The striking 1937 models of the Ford V-8 are on display at the showrooms of the Newton Motor Sales Company, 771 Washington st., Newtonville. This year Ford offers two lines of cars; one with an improved 85 horsepower engine for maximum performance; the other with a 60 horsepower engine for maximum economy. Both are alike in size and appearance. The 1937 Ford is a beautiful car, inside and out, modern in appearance, with many improvements for greater comfort and safety. With the smaller engine Ford announces new, low prices which will attract multitudes of buyers. The 1937 models will be on display at the Newton Motor Sales Company salesroom on November 14th. Frederic A. Cahill, John J. Cahill and the sales force of Newton's oldest Ford dealers in this city will be pleased to show the public what is more than ever the quality car in the low-price field.

Jail and Fines For Drunken Drivers

In the Newton court yesterday Joseph Maher of 27 Waverley avenue, Newton, was sentenced by Judge Weston to serve 15 days in prison for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $50 for driving after his license had been suspended, and $15 for drunkenness. He appealed. Maher was arrested last week after the car he was driving had collided with another car on Cabot st. He denied he was the driver of the car.

In the Newton court yesterday William B. Plunkett of Sheffield rd., Winchester and Clifford Marchant of 45 Rustic st., Nonantum, each was fined $50 for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Two other motorists were arraigned in court for driving while under the influence of liquor. The case of Frank Lammerding of Purington rd., Framingham was continued until November 18. He was arrested by Patrolman Mayo. The case of Leonard Laird of Old Farm rd., Woburn, was continued to November 19. He was arrested by Patrolmen Keating and Stevens. Lillian McKenzie of 37 Westbourne rd., Newton Centre, was charged with speeding. Her case was placed on file. For a similar offence John Buttrick of Avalon rd., Waban, Helen Stone of Natick and Willard Marks of Brookline, each was fined $5. John Day of Framingham was fined $5 for driving past a signal light showing red, Charlotte Bradley of Reservoir ave., Chestnut Hill, for not stopping before driving a car onto a through street, had her case placed on file.

Newton District Nursing Ass'n.

Mrs. Louis W. Arnold presided at the annual meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association, held on Nov. 9.

In her annual report Mrs. Arnold stressed the educational and preventive work that has been done by the staff nurses in the prenatal care of mothers, in the well baby clinics, and in the immunization work of diphtheria and smallpox. She also spoke of the Institute, which has received commendation from many other cities, as an interesting feature of this year's work.

Mrs. Arnold called attention to the splendid display which Miss Nelson had arranged for the Community Chest at the Armory, and especially to the delicate miniature model of a nurse and student nurse caring for a mother and new baby in their home.

Miss Nelson, the executive director, showed by graphic charts the program of the year's work. These showed that 2350 home visits had been made with 52 per cent. to the sick. The other visits were in preventive work and health instruction, with stress on the help given to the mothers and babies. She gave the challenge for greater need in dental care and in the eradication of syphilis.

The present officers of the association were re-elected. The following new directors were added to the board: Mrs. Maurice Biscoe, Mrs. Henry Cummings, Mrs. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Guy Hunter, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Harry Guterman, Mrs. J. Barker, Mrs. H. L. Sutton, Mrs. Philip L. Warren and Mrs. J. Herbert Young.

Miss Dorothy Carter of the Community Health Association of Boston spoke on "Well-Rounded Family Health Service in Nursing." She cited cases to show that often in caring for a sick child the nurse is called upon to educate the family in a better mental attitude toward the patient, as well as a better understanding of the nutrition for the entire family.

For these special services nurses need to be alert to mental as well as to physical problems, and they are being trained to help patients and families to better adjustments and to better morale.

At the social hour following the business meeting Mrs. Hunter furnished coffee. Mrs. Marvin and Mrs. C. J. A. Wilson were the pourers.

FAMILY PARTY NIGHT AT ST. JOHN'S MEN'S CLUB

The next regular meeting of the Men's Club of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, on Nov. 19, will be featured by a Family Party Night, which will be attended by the families of members of the club. A dinner will be served by the ladies of the parish, whose cooking is unrivaled this side of the Rocky Mountains according to the club's opinion. The speaker, Mr. Eugene J. Campbell, will speak on "The Magic of Communications," demonstrated by exhibits and movies.

At the Thursday, Oct. 15, meeting, the speaker was Mr. Ray M. Hudson, industrial executive of the New England Council, who gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Industrial New England." The interest created in his subject was so great that, at its conclusion, Mr. Hudson spent an hour answering questions of club members. The speaker declared that New England has now reached the stage of "industrial maturity," in which its industry comprises between 12 and 15 per cent. of the nation's total, which is a distinct upward trend, the lowest point having been 5 per cent. of the total in 1929.

Club members and guests are urged to come early and enjoy the "get-together period" preceding each meeting.

Annual Young People's Conference To Discuss Many Topics

A meeting of the Young People's Council of Religious Education was held recently at the Newton Highlands Methodist Church. Miss Viola Cifaldo was the hostess. President Franklin Rich conducted the meeting which discussed plans for the 16th annual conference to be held at the St. John's Methodist Church, Watertown, Nov. 20 and 21. The program indicates that hundreds of young people will be privileged to enjoy one of the finest conferences ever sponsored in the Norumbega District. Rev. Edwin P. Booth, professor at Boston University, and pastor of the Community Church at Islington, will present the theme of the conference, "Youth Answers Today's Challenge." On Friday evening, Nov. 20th, Dr. Booth will address the conference on "Building on Tradition" and on Saturday afternoon will speak on "The Challenge of Today." Franklin Rich will preside at the Friday evening session and the song service will be led by Mr. Joseph Ludwison. Young people of the Payson Park Church, Belmont, will conduct the worship service. Miss Madeline Dunn will preside on Saturday afternoon at which time Mr. Ludwison will also lead a song service and the young people of the Watertown Baptist Church will conduct the worship service.

Twelve discussion groups will discuss various subjects under leaders who have been selected because of their ability to assume the roles assigned to them as follows:

The Challenge of Politics to Youth—Leaders: Mr. Richard H. Lee, Mr. Roger A. Lutz.

The Challenge of the Church to Youth—Leaders: Mr. Joseph R. Ludwison, Rev. Earle C. Hochwald.

The Challenge of Personal Religion to Youth—Leaders: Mr. Frank H. Grebe, Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd.

The Challenge of Other Races to Youth—Leaders: Mr. John A. Grove, Mr. Gilbert H. Roehrig.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Club President Opens Home for Fabric Talks

Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, will hold "Open House" at her home, 62 Windemere road, for the first fall meeting of the American Home committee of the Club on Tuesday, November 17th, at 2:30 p. m. The speaker will be Mrs. Alfred Munson Butler, who will discuss "Fortuny Fabrics." Mrs. Butler's lecture will be illustrated by means of the fascinating Fortuny fabrics, themselves. Mr. Fortuny, who lives in Venice, has revived the formulae of the ancient dyers of the Renaissance and "700," and recalls the nobility of the past in his colors and designs.

American Home Day Offers Art And Home Talks

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, headmaster of the Newton Country Day School, will speak on the topic "The Old Order Changeth," at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on Tuesday, November 17th, at 2:30 p. m. in the Congregational Parish House.

Mr. Julius E. Warren, superintendent of Schools of Newton, and the teachers of the Hyde School will be special guests of the afternoon. Mr. Warren will speak briefly on "The Community Chest Drive."

Mrs. Julius E. Warren and Mrs. Charlton Miller will preside. November 20th is Art and American Home Day at the Workshop. The Art committee, Mrs. Ralph G. Boyd, chairman, is sponsoring a lecture on "American and English Period Rooms," by Mrs. Mary Sayward of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, at 10:20 a. m.

Coffee will be served at 12 o'clock, and guests are asked to bring a box luncheon.

The American Home committee, Mrs. Elwood I. Clapp, chairman, will sponsor a lecture and demonstration at 2 o'clock, by Emma Maurice Tighe of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

All Club members are invited to enjoy this day without charge.

Dickens and His Queer Folk To Be Impersonated

Members of the Newtonville Woman's Club will welcome the opportunity offered by the Hospital committee, Mrs. Raymond Tucker, chairman, to share some of their jellies and marmalades with the Newton Hospital. These contributions will be received at the next Club meeting, Tuesday, November 17th. A very generous response is hoped for. The committee also reminds the members to bring all the old cottons and linens which they can spare, for use at the Hospital. These should be in a clean condition.

For this Club afternoon the Program committee, Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, chairman, offers a very attractive lecture. Frank Guy Armitage will give character impersonations of "Dickens and His Queer Folk." Not only is Mr. Armitage an Englishman by birth and a scholar of distinction, but has made an intensive study of Dickens, and has lived and worked in surroundings made famous by the great novelist. Richard Whitney, xylophonist, will entertain with musical selections.

The American Home committee announces a meeting at the home of Mrs. Victor Ratzburg, 83 Warwick road, West Newton, on Monday, November 16th, at which Marie E. Wells will speak on the "Possibilities vs. Probabilities of the Family." Tea will be served.

The Cook-out at Prospect Hill, Waltham, will take place on Wednesday, November 18th, and Mrs. Frank A. Wightman will give further details to those interested.

The Course in Period Furniture, under Mrs. Margaret Cummings Mason, announced earlier will not be given. At the time it was planned it was not known by the committee that the Newton Evening School would give a similar course. This Class is open to everyone, and meets Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Mrs. Hinman urges Club members to take advantage of this opportunity. Some of the subjects to be discussed will be Period Furniture, treatment of floors, balance of color, repairing and refinishing of furniture, and other matters of interest to the homemaker.

Social Science Club

A Tea will be held for members of the Social Science Club at the home of Mrs. F. Sayford Bacon, 42 Hyde avenue, on Wednesday, November 18th, from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. William G. Leroux, will receive with Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Fred T. Field and Mrs. Edwin W. Smith.

Christian Era Study Club

The meeting of the Christian Era Study Club will be held on Monday, November 16th, at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. H. D. Perkins, 27 Aspen avenue, Auburndale. A paper by Mrs. Arthur W. Depee on "The Albany Charter" will be a timely feature of the program, this being the year of celebration of this charter.

Colonial Talk In Stage Setting

At the meeting on Wednesday, November 18th, the Community Service Club of West Newton will go back to old times, for Dr. Laurence Barber will speak on "Colonial New England and the Quest for the Antique." In a stage setting of antiques which are either in his possession or contributed by Club members, and the Glee Club Chorus will sing songs of that period.

Dr. Barber, who is the minister of the Orthodox Congregational Church in Arlington, is well-known as a speaker on various phases of early American life, and as one who has a deep appreciation for old-time things.

Members who have possessions appropriate for the setting for Dr. Barber's talk are asked to communicate with Miss Dorothy Gray, Telephone, West Newton 1295.

The Club will meet at the Parish House of the Second Church at 2 o'clock, and Mrs. William Blanchard and her committee will have charge of the Tea.

On Friday, November 20th, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will give the second of her series of talks on Current Events, at the Second Church.

Rummage Sale And Garden Talk

The Newton Community Club has several interesting events which will take place in the next few weeks.

The first among these will be the Rummage Sale. The Sale will be held today, November 13th, and tomorrow, the 14th, at 253 Washington street, Newton.

The first of a series of four lectures arranged by the Conservation and Garden committee of the Club in conjunction with the same committee of the Social Science Club is to be given Monday morning, November 30th, at 10:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Ralph N. Hall. Mrs. H. H. Buxton is to talk on "Window Gardening and House Plants." Tickets for the Course will be $1.00 each and may be obtained from the chairman, Mrs. Louis M. Spear, and her committee.

The Food Sale which was held at the last Club meeting, and which was very successful, was under the supervision of Mrs. Alvah C. Cummings. Her assistants were Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. Harold Daniels, Mrs. Henry P. Curtis, Mrs. Charles Dearbon, Mrs. Bertram P. Moore, and Mrs. Thomas A. Sunborg.

Mrs. Poole's Talk And Art Treasures Feature Program

Several notices of interest and importance were presented to the members and guests of the Auburndale Woman's Club at their business meeting on Tuesday, November 10th. Promptly at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president, called the meeting to order. As a direct result of the vibrant message given by Madame Silvercruys at the last meeting, Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, Art chairman, made the suggestion that various classes in art, such as sculpturing, metal work, and painting, be formed. She added that her committee was considering having an Art Tea, during which craftsmen in the different branches of Art would do their actual work. Mrs. Butz informed the Club of the Art Corner which had been established, in which works of art of various countries would be displayed at Club meetings.

Mrs. John H. Harding, Drama chairman, told the Club that the Current Events Group, comprised of the Literature, International Relations, Drama, and Legislative committees, would hold an all-day meeting on Friday, November 13th, beginning at 10 o'clock, at the Auburndale Club House. The session would include a talk by Mr. John Gordon, a former Newton alderman, on the subject "The Twenty-Five Dollar Tax Limit," several book reviews, among them one by Mrs. Edward B. Gray on the "The Last Puritan," and a Play-Reading by the Drama committee.

Announcement was made of the Interior Decoration Classes being held at the Newton High School, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo, vice-chairman of the American Home committee, asked the members to donate clothes for children, from two to four years of age, who attend the kindergartens sponsored by the Federal Works Administration and members were advised to call Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson, chairman of the Community Service committee, if they had any to give.

At 3 o'clock, Mrs. Edward Dana Kendall, chairman of the Music committee, introduced Miss Elise Biron, who delighted her audience with fifteen minutes of violin music. Directly following, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Program chairman, presented Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, well-known to Auburndale clubwomen. Mrs. Poole, in her inspirational message, entitled "Far Horizons," compared the home of the pioneer to that of today, and urged her audience not to forget that homes should build character, solve problems, and develop trust and reverence in the young people. She warned women to stop living on the installment plan mentally, and to save time each day wherein to recreate herself for the tomorrow—the "Far Horizon." The meaning of real citizenship and loyalty to one's community was also stressed.

The stage was tastefully decorated with evergreens and autumn leaves by the Garden Club. The Art Corner displayed many lovely pieces of art from Italy, among which were Fra Angelico angels, priest's vestments, Fortuny prints, a Florentine miniature done on porcelain, Florentine jewelry, jewelry boxes, and bronze figures. These lovely pieces were lent by the following members: Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mrs. W. Kirke Corey, Mrs. Howard P. Converse, Mrs. Edward D. Wallace, Mrs. Frank E. Soule, Mrs. William M. Flye, Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, Mrs. Charles S. Glover, Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins, Mrs. Herman Krueger, Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, Mrs. John A. Behnke, and Mrs. Cannon.

Various Programs of Interest

Waban Woman's Club

At 2:30 p. m. in the Neighborhood Club House on Monday, November 16th, the Waban Woman's Club will have as speaker, Mr. Johnson O'Connor, director at Stevens Institute of Technology, on the topic "Mental Attitudes."

It will be served by Mrs. Henry Arnold and her committee, and Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald and Mrs. Richard T. Loring will pour.

On Tuesday, November 17th, the members of the Waban Woman's Club will have the opportunity to enjoy once again a trip to the Gardner Museum. Mrs. Wyman Fleke, Art chairman, has arranged with Mr. Rosegrant, assistant director of the Museum, also a resident of Waban, to act as a guide for this group.

All members interested have been asked to meet in front of the Library at 1:30 p. m. The Education committee of the Club is sponsoring a series of three talks, the second of which will be held on Friday morning, November 20th, at 10 a. m., in the Angier School Auditorium. Dr. Laura Hooper, director of elementary education in the Newton Schools, will speak on "How the School of Today Educates Your Child." This should be of interest to mothers of children of pre-school age as well as of those attending school.

Lend-A-Hand Masque

The Lend-A-Hand Masque, a philanthropic and dramatic Club composed of young women of the Newtons and of Greater Boston, will hold its second meeting of the season at the home of Miss Eleanor Hartel, 274 Otis street, West Newton, on Monday evening, November 16th, at 8 p. m. Guests (Continued on page 8)

To Theresa Scandale, Thomas Scan-dale, Henry B. Day, and Anna Dubois, of Newton, Prescott Keyes, of Concord, in the County of Middlesex and said
Commonwealth; The Atlantic Refining Company, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by James H.
Cronin, of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

The above described land is shown on a plan filed in case No. 8437, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the seventh day of December next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by you or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Michael A. Sullivan, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of November in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

Attest with Seal of said Court,
CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

Henry W. Davies, Esq., 10 State St.,

KEEN? It looks fast standing still!

1937 Models
ON DISPLAY
at all Buick Showrooms

YOU'LL wish you had a thousand miles to cover, when you first sample this dazzling beauty on the road.

It gets away like a skylark—it cuts distance like a transport—whatever you ask for it's got plenty.

You sit in a seat that fits you. You look over a bonnet that's just the right eye-height. You operate controls that seem half to anticipate your next move, so nicely do they respond.

You can tell from the eyes on the sidewalk that you're traveling spry and handsome—you feel it, in the firm, smooth, poised mobility of the car as it streams steadily along.

Why shouldn't it thrill you—this brilliant and buoyant 1937 Buick?

It's plain truth you've never ridden in a car like it before.

More power, more room, more performance—more size, more style, more finish—these are only the bleak outlines of the glorious difference between it and the cars you've known.

You want to be out in front in the car you buy next time—see this gorgeous new Buick and you see how to do it. Whether you buy the spirited SPECIAL, the cyclonic CENTURY or the big ROADMASTER or LIMITED, you get the grandest money's worth you ever enjoyed from an automobile.

"It's Buick again!"

Woman-Planned—Woman-Supervised—Brodrick-Built

This trio of Brodrick-Built homes varied in inspiration, alike in their ultra-modern appointments, have the woman-designed features that give Brodrick homes such distinction. Each is a masterpiece of design and a real Treasure House of ideas picked in far countries and adapted skilfully to the American design for living.

The Tudor Manor features an English "Pub" in the basement; The Manoir, a French Cafe and a Sky Studio; and the Chateau has captured the spirit of Hollywood with Fredric March fireplace and typical Hollywoodian play-room done in the Venetian manner. The Jordan Marsh Co. has marshaled the forces of their extensive decorating service to furnish the oak-paneled library of the Manoir.

These three homes are open daily, and Sunday, also open evenings by appointment.

The Women's Division, which started its work as planned, one week before the opening on November 12th, reports over the white line with about 60 per cent over its goal of $2,000.00. This group has shown great ability to interest its prospects in the Chest and has more than justified this new Division.

Citizens Asso. Asks Questions Of Candidates

The Newton Citizens Association sent a questionnaire to all the candidates for Aldermen and School Committee at the coming city election in Newton. The questions asked include—what schools or colleges attended, degrees received if any, length of residence in Newton, real estate taxes paid—if any, occupation, business or professional experience, what clubs or associations (except fraternal) the candidate belongs to, what public office held, military or naval service, and community activities.

About 15,000 leaflets will be sent out to Newton voters by the Citizens' Association to give them the information received from the candidates. If any candidate desires his picture to appear in the leaflets he may have this advantage (or disadvantage) by paying $2.50 for a half-tone cut. The Citizens Association is headed by C. Raymond Cabot of Newtonville and Richard H. Lee of 206 Church st., Newton, is secretary.

Continues Fight For Buswell Park

Arthur W. Blakemore, as counsel for Daniel F. Cetrone, is continuing the fight to have a public way laid out and accepted from land owned by Daniel F. Cetrone at the rear of Centre and Franklin sts., Newton, to Centre st. Mr. Blakemore alleges that the repeated refusals of the Newton Board of Aldermen to take favorable action on Cetrone's petitions for the approval of the laying out of the street deprive Cetrone from making use of his land. Mr. Blakemore has petitioned the Commissioners of Middlesex County for a hearing on this matter and it will be held at Cambridge on Dec. 8. The details of this matter are given in a lengthy petition printed among the legal notices of this issue.

Newtonville Man Missing

George F. O'Brien, 49, of 10 Bowers st., Newtonville has been missing since November 6th when he left his home to go to Waltham to buy a hat. He recently received a head injury in an automobile accident and it is believed he may be a victim of amnesia. He has been a resident of this city for 20 years and was formerly engaged in the wool scouring business. He is the father of three children. The Newton police are endeavoring to locate him at the request of his family.

Want Zoning Change To Permit Apartment Building On Washington Street

Belmont Man Would Erect Three Buildings With 48 Apartments on Soule Estate

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen held a hearing on Monday night on the petition of the Equitable Mortgage Trust, Albert E. Scott of Belmont, trustee, that the land comprising the former Soule estate at Washington and Jewett streets, and Walnut park be changed from private to general residence zone. James M. Oates of Watertown appeared as attorney for the petitioner submitted a sketch showing the type of building which would be erected on the Soule lot if the zone change were granted. He asked Charles E. Whittemore of West st., Boston, an architect, to explain the plan of the proposed building. Mr. Whittemore said the apartment house would have sixteen apartments, eight on each of two floors. It would have a sloping roof and on the third floor would be storage space or community rooms. The apartments would be of one or two rooms with bath and kitchenette. The first floor would be above the street level and the basement would be used for common purposes.

In reply to questions from members of the Aldermanic committee, Whittemore said that the proposed building would set 120 feet back from Washington st., would face Walnut Park, and that no plan had been made for a garage, but that it is a possibility that garage facilities might be considered. He said it will not be reasonable to make a comprehensive study of the development of the property unless reasonable assurance is given that the zoning change will be granted.

Mr. Scott, the petitioner, said that he plans first to erect an apartment building facing Walnut Park, then, if the first building is successfully rented, a second building would be erected facing Washington st., and a third structure facing Jewett st. Each would contain sixteen small apartments. He said each building would cover about 5200 square feet.

Brooks Potter of Montvale rd., Newton Center, as part owner of abutting property, and representing his aunt, Kate Potter of 74 Walnut Park, objected to the petition. He said the change of zone would be unfair to old-time residents of the neighborhood and would destroy the attractive character of the Walnut Park section. Mr. Potter stated that speculators come into Newton and acquire properties, and then ask for zoning changes, although they know of restrictions. He referred to the fact that the city will soon convert the former Speare property, across the street from the Soule estate, into a small park, and he stated that the zoning change would adversely affect the beautiful property of the Walnut Park School for Boys, conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph. He argued that two-room apartments attract itinerant tenants and such apartment buildings rapidly run down.

Horace W. Cole of 6 Jamieson rd., representing the Boston City Club, which has an interest in nearby property, objected to the petition. He agreed with Mr. Potter that small apartments attract less desirable tenants than do larger apartments. Lt. Franklin Lowry of 62 Walnut Park and Dr. Harry Hartwell of 36 Walnut Park both opposed the petition. The latter said he has enjoyed quiet and comfort at his home for 20 years and would loathe to see a large group of apartment buildings erected nearby. Miss Mary A. Sheridan of 145 Jewett st. said her family has resided next to the Soule estate since 1917, that all the houses on the west side of Jewett st. are occupied by owners, and all object to the proposed change of zone. She said that Newton has not yet come to the point where it is necessary to allow the erection of (Continued on Page 6)

INFORMING THE VOTERS

The questionnaire issued this week by the Newton Citizens Association to candidates for office at the coming city election is the first step in a plan to provide the voters of the city with information regarding the candidates for office. The Association plans to distribute the information received in response to the questionnaire to voters throughout the city. We believe it is the first time in the city of Newton that such a plan will be carried through although similar plans have been previously suggested but never formulated. Formed for the purpose of maintaining good government in the city of Newton it naturally becomes the duty of the Association to acquaint the citizens with knowledge of all candidates for office. It also provides the candidate with a means of publicity of his candidacy, hitherto only possible at considerable expense to him. We are certain that the publication of this information will be of great value to Newton citizens who in past elections have failed to interest themselves in the election of candidates to city positions because of the excuse so frequently given that they "did not know who was running."

THE APARTMENT HOUSE QUESTION AGAIN

The attempt to change the zone of land on Washington street to permit apartment houses to be erected met with the speedy rejection it deserved. Newton citizens have no desire to see the introduction of a building development which will lead to conditions that now exist on Commonwealth avenue, Brookline, and other avenues that could be mentioned. There are places in Newton where the proper type of apartment house construction may be desirable but no stretch of the imagination can conceive of the desirability of permitting three apartment houses with forty-eight apartments on the site in question.

Newton Man 2nd On Met. Police List

On Monday the State Civil Service Commission made public the list of Metropolitan policemen eligible for promotion to the ranks of lieutenant and sergeant as a result of recent examinations. Arthur C. Cadevan of South Boston heads the list for lieutenant and John D. MacKinnon of Margaret road, Newton Highlands, is second. William J. Cronin of Newton Upper Falls is 20th on the list of 49 eligible for promotion to sergeant.

Persons Injured When Autos Crash

Cars driven by Ralph King of Brookline and Newton Centre, and Elizabeth O'Connor of Roslindale collided on Saturday afternoon at the Worcester turnpike and Parker st. Mrs. Lucy King, 76, received a cut on her forehead and a back injury. She was taken to the Newton Hospital.

A car driven by Albert Sweetser of 160 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, on Saturday night hit the rear of a car driven by Edward Connelly of Brighton. The accident occurred on the turnpike near High st. Upper Falls. Connelly and five passengers in his car all claimed to have received injuries.

Cars driven by David Gillespie of Durland st., Brighton, and Murray Cote of Dorchester collided on Saturday night at Chestnut and Prince sts., West Newton. Gillespie reported he received an injury.

On Saturday evening a car driven by Percy Lewis of 120 Jewett street, Newton, collided at Washington st. and Lowell avenue, Newtonville with a truck driven by Edward Allard of Everett. The truck then collided with a car driven by Leo Kildea of Brighton. Joseph Fantasia of 89 Faxon st., Nonantum, who was riding with Lewis, received cuts on his head and face. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

A large sedan driven by Stephen Holmes of Boylston st., Cambridge, collided on Saturday night at 8:15 at Austin and Mount Vernon streets, Newtonville, with a car driven by Edward Wetmore of 230 Mount Vernon st., West Newton. Holmes and Eugene Altheimer of Elliot House, Cambridge, who was riding with him were thrown from the car and stunned. A third occupant of Holmes' car, Timothy Lamphier of Washington Park, Newtonville, was also hurled out, but regained his feet and pursued the big sedan which had overturned, righted itself and then rolled down the grade along Austin st. Holmes and Altheimer were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Lamphier was taken there in a police car to have a wound on his face treated.

Is there any truth in superstition about numbers? One Newton man of many years' residence has reason to believe that the number 40 holds particular significance. It all started a year ago when his son was awarded a football letter at Newton High just 40 years after his father had earned one at the same school. In addition the son wore number 40 on his jersey. Recently the father received word that his son was awarded class numerals of 40 for freshman football at one of the prominent Maine colleges. This award also came 40 years after the father had won freshman numerals at M. I. T. And just by way of coincidence it happens that it cost the son exactly 40 cents to have his new numerals sewed on to his jersey. And as the father puts it—"Forty love of Mike."

Announcement was made last Saturday of the award of scholarships to Harvard students. Among the awards were several to Newton students. Wooster P. Giddings, son of Dr. Harold G. Giddings, of Berwick rd., Newton Centre, and Arnold M. Seligman of 66 Linden st., Newton Upper Falls, received scholarships for high standing and professional promise at the Harvard Medical School. Howell E. Du Puy of 12 Pine Crest rd., Albert Walker of 75 Commonwealth Park, and Robert A. Williams of Royce rd., all of Newton Centre; Richard E. Myrick of Otis st., Newtonville; Charles R. Harrington of 971 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, and Robert H. Sprout, 3rd, of 8 St. James st., Newton, received scholarships for the current academic year for achievements in high scholastic standing.

Eight Newton women are enrolled in the Radcliffe Graduate School this year. From Newton Centre are Mrs. H. B. Ullian of Dolphin rd., Miss Cornelia M. Anderson of Ledges rd., Mrs. Anna Evans of Elgin st., and Mrs. Anne M. Kendall of Park st. From Newton Highlands are Miss Hilda M. Allen and Miss Frances E. Brooks of Plymouth rd. Others are Miss Eleanor B. Marcy of Sargent st., Newton, and Miss Theodora R. Boyd of Hicks st., West Newton.

Mrs. Ullian, who received her A.B. degree from Radcliffe, her Ed.M. at Harvard, and A.M. at Radcliffe, and Miss Anderson, who holds her A.B. from Assar and A.M. from Radcliffe, are concentrating in economics. Miss Brooks, who took her A.B. at Oberlin and her A.M. at Radcliffe, and Miss Kendall, who received her A.B. from Vassar in 1936, are working in the field of English. Miss Boyd is concentrating in Romance languages. She holds her A.B. and A.M. degrees from Radcliffe. Miss Marcy, who took her A.B. degree at Smith in 1936, is working in the field of biology. Mrs. Evans is concentrating in Slavic. She holds an A.B. degree from Radcliffe, and a B.S. from Columbia. Miss Allen, who took her A.B. degree at Brown in 1936, is concentrating in fine arts.

Representative Clarence S. Luitwiler of Newton Highlands is a member of the special recess commission of the legislature, supplemented by other appointees, which has been studying plans for the development of the ports of Massachusetts for the past four months. The commission left Tuesday on a tour of New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk to obtain information on commercial operations at those ports.

Petitions for amendment to the State Constitution to prevent the diversion of highway funds have been circulated throughout the state recently. At the Boston Automobile Show this week two booths were available where those who wished might sign these petitions and at times there were many waiting. Over two thousand signatures were obtained in the first two days and on Wednesday night the total passed the 5,000 mark. It is expected that when the show ends there will be over 10,000 names signed to the petition. An analysis of the signatures yesterday showed that 225 of the 355 cities and towns in the state were represented. The analysis also showed that there were 205 signers from the Newton area but that three other cities showed a greater total. These were Boston with 893, Quincy with 406 and Cambridge with 250 although there were several other cities and towns in the vicinity of 200.

W. Duncan Russell, long a resident of Newton and Executive Director of the Boston Adult Recreation Project of the WPA and general director of Community Service of Boston, Inc., will give the second in a series of radio broadcasts on "Recreation for Development and Diversion" over Station WCOB this afternoon from 1:45 to 2:00 p. m. Mr. Russell has chosen the subject of "Make Believe."

The Amherst Graduates' Quarterly for November contains an interesting article entitled, "The Amherst Illustrious—Amherst Deals in Politics" of which the subject is Rep. William H. Baker of West Newton, a graduate of Amherst in 1901. The article written by Joseph Warner of Goshen, Mass., a classmate of Mr. Baker's, describes the career of Mr. Baker as a public servant beginning with his first participation in things political as president of the Amherst Republican Club in 1909. A particularly interesting paragraph of the article reads as follows: "But above all, Baker has brought into his efforts for the Commonwealth that fine ideal, nourished at Amherst, and fostered in the service of his home city, of public service as a public trust. Conscientiousness of that ideal determines his stand upon every question, colors his every utterance. To him it is unthinkable that any public act of his should be influenced by its effect upon him personally. . . . Not unmindful of those borne upon the depression, he pointed to taxation as one of the crushing burdens of the poor." The article quotes Mr. Baker in regard to the squandering of public funds as follows, "the thing that makes one boil is to find men in power using and voting for such squanderings not because of its actual needs, but because it makes them solid with a part of the people. . . . but if you or I get elected to a position of high public trust and talk about the need for economy and efficient administration and then by bribery and coercion of legislators . . . that seems to me a matter of public concern." And again in its closing paragraph the article reads: "A masterpiece is Baker's statement on reduction of legislative salaries. . . . in which he quoted the closing words of a message of Calvin Coolidge while Governor, 'Men do not serve here for pay. They seek work and places of responsibility and find in that seeking, not in their pay, their honor.'"

Court of Honor At Newtonville Scout Building

One hundred parents and guests were present last evening at the Court of Honor held by the Sixth Norumbega Troop, Boy Scouts of America, at the Scout Building in Newtonville. Ernest P. Rallsback, Chairman of the Committee on Examinations and Awards of the Troop, was the presiding officer and introduced the various officers who made the awards.

After the awards had been made, Mr. Horace Cole, District Commissioner of the Squanto District of Norumbega Council, presented the Troop's Charter for the coming year to General Daniel Needham, Chairman of the Troop Committee.

The proposed organization of a Sea Scout Patrol for the older boys of the Troop was announced by Scoutmaster Wm. Bradford Gove, and moving pictures of some of the cruises of Ship Thirteen, the Norumbega Council motor ship, were shown. Following these was another moving picture, "Alaskan Adventures," telling the story of two champion archers' experience hunting big game in the interior of Alaska with bows and arrows.

Concert To Aid Peace Campaign Held At W. Newton

The sum of $125 was raised at the afternoon musicale, held Sunday, November 15, at 4 o'clock in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church, for the benefit of the Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign. It was decided to give $40 of this amount as a gift to the New England Youth Division of the Emergency Peace Campaign.

Following the musicale, coffee was served in the Alliance Room, with Mrs. Herbert Hitchen, wife of the minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church, and Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, president of the Woman's Alliance, as pourers.

On Monday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock, this newly formed peace group will hold their second meeting in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. This will be a very important meeting at which definite plans for the year will be made and officers chosen. Miss Jeanne Bachrach, president of the Open Hearth, extends a cordial invitation to all young people interested in this vital problem of world peace to come to this meeting and bring all their friends.

Our Lady's Alumni Asso.

On Sunday evening, Nov. 22nd, the Francis Thompson Reading Circle of Our Lady's Alumni Association of Newton will sponsor its initial public program in the form of a lecture by Mr. Maurice Leahy, noted Irish poet and author. The lecture will be held in the High School Auditorium, Washington st., Newton at 8 p. m.

Young Men's Republican Club to Hold Rally

To acquaint the voters of Newton with the various candidates for Ward Aldermen, Aldermen-at-Large and School Committee, the Young Men's Republican Club of Newton, acting as a non-partisan organization, is holding an open meeting at which the various candidates will be presented. The meeting is to be held in the F. A. Day Junior High School, near the corner of Walnut and Watertown sts., Newtonville, on Tuesday, November 24th, at 8:00 p. m.

Invitations are being sent only to persons who have to date filed their intentions at city hall. Because of this fact, many candidates will not receive early notice of the meeting. Therefore a blanket invitation is being extended to any person intending to run for office. They should communicate with the president of the club, Edgar T. White, Jr., at his home in Auburndale.

A petition for a new reservoir (wooden cistern for fire purposes; Ed.) under Nonantum square at Newton Corner was before the City Council this week. This Ward needs all available supplies of water. Every voter who considers the best interests of the whole, will vote for its introduction at the municipal election.

One hundred wells dry in Ward 1; and some men oppose the introduction of a city water system.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday Alderman Edmonds of Ward 6 proposed to utilize the labor of the steam fire engines when out practising by using them to fill some of the private cisterns and reservoirs within reach of the hose of the reservoir from which they are drafting. This to apply only during the present dry season. His motion was rejected on account of establishing a precedent.

Petitions for cheap trains over the Boston & Albany railroad may be found in the postoffices in Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale. Chapter 348, Acts of 1872 requires railroads to run cheap trains morning and evening within 15 miles of Boston, on petition of 200 residents on line of the railroad. Quarterly tickets for the total of $1 a mile, and yearly tickets $3 a mile. These trains are to reach Boston about 7 a. m. and leave about 6 p. m.

The special committee on water supply obtained the services of Mr. Edward Sawyer of the firm of Shedd & Sawyer, engineers, and with his aid first considered the sources of water supply within the boundaries of the town. After an investigation it was decided that Bullough's Pond has not a capacity or supply to meet the future wants of Newton beyond a period of 10 or 12 years. The conclusion was reached that the Charles River furnished the only abundant, sufficient and permanent supply to meet the present and prospective wants of Newton. Only a small fraction of the total flow of the river would be needed for supplying the city and the best place for taking this supply would be at the Upper Falls near Petee's machine shops. Much of the land in this vicinity consists of loose sand and gravel suitable for filtering water.

One reform that is urgently needed in Newton is the numbering of houses. The present plan does well enough for a country village where everyone knows everyone else, but in a city the size of Newton it is a great inconvenience. Strangers come here to visit residents usually have to call at half a dozen different houses before finding the right one. A gentleman was telling of his adventure the other day in one of the most thickly settled Wards of the city. The person for whom he was in search was in the directory as living near the corner of a certain street. After going over the ground twice and ringing half a dozen door bells, he found the house he sought was nearly a mile from the corner mentioned.

Recent accidents to members of Newton High School football team, together with many reports of injuries received in this game by lads in other cities, has caused considerable discussion as to the wisdom of our school authorities permitting this so called sport among our boys. There is also a question as to the legal rights of the school committee to expend public money in employing a coach for athletic sports managed by an outside organization. The Newton High School Athletic Association, even if this matter is covered up by designating the coach as a "teacher,"

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

For years we have referred time after time to the need of more attention by the Newton police (in common with police of most cities and towns) to regulation of automobile traffic so that the lives and safety of the public will be better protected. We have written on this subject so frequently and regularly that some have accused us of harping unnecessarily on it. We again assert that more motorcycle traffic officers should be on duty in Newton. That the force of eight men on this line of duty until the last few years should be re-established, even if more men are appointed to the police department. That it is the duty of the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen to take action to have Newton streets made safer for pedestrians and careful operators of motor vehicles. Fourteen persons have been killed or fatally injured so far this year in Newton by automobiles. Most of the pedestrian victims of automobiles were elderly persons killed or fatally injured while crossing streets at night. How many more old persons must be killed by motor vehicles before Mayor Childs and the Aldermen will act to stop the slaughter? When will it be realized that the most important duty of the police department today is to make our streets more safe? If fourteen persons had been killed in Newton the past 10 months by bandits we would have had a score of men added to the police department. And in addition to the armored cars, machine guns and revolvers purchased a few years ago to make the Newton police department modern, an airplane and whippet tanks might have been acquired in addition.

A Newton city official asserts that we were wrong in our statement made in this column last week relative to being kept waiting 3 minutes at the traffic signals in West Newton square. He states that no automobile has been kept waiting that long when the signals were operated mechanically. He also told us that nine times out of ten we would not have to wait. We replied that we timed our wait by our watch, and that nine times out of ten we have to stop. And we are not the only one who has had such experience.

We hear plenty of criticisms regarding these signals. One—from a man whose occupation deals with traffic conditions and who is qualified to talk with authority on such a subject—remarked that to begin with there should be traffic lights facing east-bound traffic on the signal at Washington st., opposite Waltham st. Because of the absence of such lights there, many motorists proceeding East along Washington st. do not observe the red, or red and yellow lights on the signal at the junction of Watertown and Washington sts., and do not stop. Another criticism—automobiles proceed out of Waltham st. on the green light and when they go to turn into Watertown st. they find a red light against them. They either have to drive past the red light, in direct violation of traffic laws, or stop in the path of other automobiles. A number of cars will be stopped on Washington st. from Waltham st. westerly, and the signal will turn from red to green, permitting the vehicles to proceed easterly. Before all succeed in passing Chestnut st., the signal at the corner of that street and Washington st. will change from green to red, and some of the automobiles will be again halted. If the traffic committee of the Board of Aldermen would spend several hours some day at West Newton, possibly the motoring public might be given some relief from the traffic nuisance now there. Even though the collection of signals did cost $4796, it would be common sense to alter them, or their operation, to end the needless delay of traffic.

Some of the so-called "white collar" WPA workers have organized unions and demand that projects for the employment of artists, writers and other such occupations be made permanent, and that they be given increased wages. Persons whose occupations previous to the depression were of the "white collar" variety must be given relief as well as persons who were overalls and jumpers. But, many of those given employment on WPA projects and classified as actors, artists, musicians and writers, never made a regular livelihood at such professions and never could, if they had to depend on their natural talents or acquired skill. We have a lot of alleged professionals on WPA projects. And when any WPA workers, either "white-collar" or otherwise want to be placed permanently on public relief without endeavoring to obtain employment in private industry, particularly if they are young men or women, they need not expect sympathy or support from their fellow citizens who have enough pride and ambition to try to be independent. We know many men and women who have tried without success to find private employment and who still are on relief projects. But, these men and women are still trying and still hoping to find work at their old occupations or in any line for which they are reasonably qualified. They don't want to be on relief permanently, and are not satisfied at the wages they get through the WPA.

If the persons who petitioned the Newton Board of Aldermen for a change of zone on the Soule property at Washington st. and Walnut park, with the expectation that three apartment buildings could be erected there with a large number of small apartments, had taken the trouble to inquire of Newton's attitude on zoning and apartments since 1922, they would have realized the little chance their petition has of being favorably considered.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Solved at Last

With no reward, save the satisfaction of a difficult task fairly well performed, I am prepared to announce the solution of the "book mystery." It has been referred to in this column for three weeks I have been acting when other duties permitted, as a super-sleuth. I have endeavored to learn what it was that caused a young man to break out in the middle of the night with shouts of mirth and thus arouse his entire family.

My first clue was the fact that he was lying in bed reading a book. That it was one of the classics was clear. There I was halted by the fact that the young man was out of town. When he returned to Newton I requested an interview, which was granted. I had resolved that there should be no beating about the bush, so I confronted him with what evidence there was in my possession and demanded an explanation. "Why the Homeric laughter?" I asked. He smiled, and for a moment I feared another outburst. Then he spoke calmly enough. "The book," he said, "was Charles Kingsley's 'Hypatia' and the passage that made me laugh was the philosophic musings of Raphael Aben Ezra. If you were to read these and compare them with the philosophies set forth by modern authors you would laugh too."

That is all there is to the case. I might add for the benefit of any who might visit the Newton Free Library to check-up that in addition to the regular hours the main building is open Sunday afternoons during the winter months from 2:30 to 5:30.

What Would You Do?

Another puzzle is before me. At a holiday matinee in a motion picture house I encountered one of those experiences for which no one can be justly blamed and yet are extremely irritating. The picture was about the parole system, or rather it had the pardoning of prisoners as the basis of the story. No need to discuss the plot. The climax was a "shocker" for the eminently respectable father shot and fatally wounded his only son when the latter, an out-and-out gangster without hope of reform, was about to murder a detective.

That was the smashing wind-up of the film that was in progress when a woman and her little daughter appeared in the aisle at my side, accompanied by an usher. "Rise please," the polite attendant requested. Of course I did so, not any too pleasantly, I'm afraid, for it was rude interruption and I had to gather up my hat and coat. I can guess the missing sequence but why did the lady and her child choose that most vital moment to squeeze past? What I should like to know from any who have had a similarly "tough break" is whether I should pay to see the picture all over again or ask for my money back?

Some Staunch Friends Left

That there should still be heard, not so very often, thank goodness, discussion of the candidates and issues of the recent Presidential campaign is not surprising. People like to talk and sometimes they run out of topics and are obliged to fall back on stale subjects. But that isn't what most disturbs me about politics. It's the presence of a few remaining buttons that the wearers have for some reason failed to remove from their coat lapels. The victor's button does not appear so inappropriate, but that of the vanquished is nothing short of tragic. To see a solemn man with the name of his mighty idol, now dethroned, or about to be, on a metal plate pinned to his coat—well, I for one cannot understand. It must be that here is a loyal follower who isn't ashamed to proclaim his unshaken faith. This should prove that not all a candidate's rooters are fleckle.

More About Borrowers

A reader who approves of that which this column had to say about people who borrow pencils says I should look into the matter of refilling fountain pens. Said he, "Pencil borrowers have nothing on the man who sponges on you for ink to fill his fountain pen. He's the bigger nuisance because he knows you don't expect him to return it. The other day a man walked into my office and without a word proceeded to use my pen. He was somebody I knew only casually and had not called to see me but a member of the staff. As he reached over my shoulder and picked up the inkwell I was greatly surprised. I looked up. He said nothing but plunged his pen in the ink and filled it to his satisfaction. No, I did not remonstrate. What's the use of trying to sit on guys with a nerve like that. Furthermore, I was grateful he didn't spill any on me."

WEALTHY TOWNERS HIT NEW LOW LEVEL

Have Won But One Game This Season—Six Losses

Brookline High football has hit its lowest level in several years. Of four veterans, Coach Harry Brown has lost two of his best players through injuries. Captain Murray, an end, was forced to the sidelines with a bad sacro-iliac joint, and will be used in the Newton game only as a gesture, if at all, to allow him to see action in the objective game of his last year. Leon Hotstone, another regular, is lost to Brookline with a broken finger. Morton "Bud" Waldstein, acclaimed as one of the finest kickers in greater Boston, and a fine passer and ball-carrier as well, is through for the season, having suffered torn thigh muscles nearly a month ago. He was Brookline's ace quarterback, and with him out of the lineup, the team lost its mainspring. O'Neill and Cleary will do most of the passing and kicking in the Newton game.

The Wealthy Towners have but one victory in seven starts during the 1936 season. A 3 to 2 edge over Quincy High was unique in that Waldstein scored all the points of the game, kicking a field goal for Brookline's points and making a safety to score Quincy's points and avert a threatened defeat. Another safety was scored against Milton High and one touchdown and goal against Fitchburg account for all of Brookline's counters this season. Besides Quincy the other common opponents of both Newton and Brookline are the two Cambridge Suburban League elevens, Rindge Tech and Latin. Coach Harry Brown's team failed to score against either and allowed each to score two touchdowns. Newton permitted the Cantabs but one tally after the game was well in hand held Rindge scoreless and scored 26 points total in the two games.

KROL AGAIN STARS AS WALTHAM WINS

Watch City Eleven Wears
Newton Down

For the second successive year, Johnny Krol, Waltham High brilliant back, proved Newton High's nemesis in the annual gridiron battle between the two elevens at Waltham last Saturday. Krol was the central figure in all three of Waltham's scoring thrusts although he scored but once in the 20 to 0 victory, before some seven thousand spectators, the largest attendance at the Watch City field this year. The Newton defense stood up for a period and a half but as the game progressed the Waltham offense began to click more smoothly while the orange and black found the going harder and harder.

After a scoreless first period in which Newton repulsed two Waltham assaults at the 25 and 15-yard lines, an exchange of kicks midway of the second quarter gave Waltham the ball on their own 25-yard line. Four plays later Waltham had scored with two passes from Krol to Jordan and to Moran covering 53 of the many yards. The pass to Moran for a net 30-yard gain was the scoring play. Zeno place-kicked the point. A second long drive by Waltham was stopped by the whistle, ending the half with the Newton team with its back to the wall on their 5-yard stripe.

Soon after the opening kickoff of the second half the Watch City outfit started again towards the Newton goal with Lando running back a Castoldi punt from midfield to the Newton 35-yard mark. Krol passed to Melody for a 14-yard gain and then Krol carried the ball on three successive plays, shaking himself free on the third attempt to score from the 15-yard line. Again Zeno kicked the point.

The final tally came six plays after the teams changed positions for the final quarter after Waltham had made its first down on their own 40-yard stripe. A Krol sprint for 25 yards to the Newton 17 was the feature of this 60-yard advance. Another first down on the 7-yard line gave Waltham the added assurance it needed and Jordan went over standing up on a reverse play which shook him free on a wide sweep around left end. A Lando pass intended for McManus failed of completion and the point after was not tallied, making the final count 20 to 0.

Summary of the Game

Waltham won the toss and Zeno kicked off to Castoldi who reached his 25-yard line before going down. Melody knifed through to toss Hines on next down. Jordan attempted to pick the ball up while it bounded along, failed to do so, and Brad Thompson covered it to give the ball to Newton again on the Newton 40. Two plays later Castoldi got off a long 50-yard punt to the Waltham 6-yard line in the corner of the field.

Waltham attempted two line plays with Krol carrying and picking up but three yards as he found Cowell blocking his way on his second thrust. Krol then kicked to Castoldi who brought the ball back from the Newton 45 to the Waltham 41. Fitchet's 6-yard gain was offset by an offside penalty before Melody knifed through again to nail Fitchet eight yards behind the scrimmage line. Castoldi kicked outside on the Waltham 22. A nicely executed pass from Krol to Jordan as the latter raced out to the left was good for 26 yards. Later Brad Thompson knocked down a Krol pass, forcing Waltham to punt, the ball going outside on the Newton 31. A few plays later Castoldi punted as Forte failed to gain and Newton again had possession of the ball in midfield. Lando raced around right end for 23 yards but Newton stiffened to take the ball on downs on the Newton 25. Shortly before the period ended, Waltham again took the ball on a punt to midfield. Krol made one of the greatest open field runs of the year as he reversed his field at least three times before Forte finally caught him at the Newton 21 after a gain of 34 yards after he had ran fully a hundred yards back and forth across the field and in and out between would-be Newton tacklers. A 15-yard clipping penalty against Waltham deprived Coach Seary's star of much of the gain but Shaughnessy got this back with a 14-yard plunge to the Newton 27 as the period ended.

Second Period

A Krol to Shaughnessy pass made it first down on the Newton 20 and Krol picked up five yards more on the next play. A Shaughnessy fumble was pounced upon by the alert Brad Thompson to avert the threatened score and an exchange of punts followed. Another Castoldi kick was fumbled by Lando and again Brad Thompson was at hand to make the recovery, his third of the afternoon, giving Newton the ball on their own 43. Making no headway, Castoldi got off another long punt which Lando made a neat overhanded catch, only to be run outside at the Waltham 26-yard line. From this point Waltham scored in four plays, the first a 14-yard outkick thrust by Krol, the second a pass from Krol to Jordan for 23 yards, a seven-yard line thrust by Lando, and the scoring play, a pass from Krol to Moran who caught the ball at the five-yard line and out-traced Castoldi and Forte to the goal in the corner of the field. Zeno's placekick was right in the middle with plenty of height to spare for the seventh point. The half ended 12 plays later. Newton received the kickoff which was followed by a first down with Forte making nine yards and Fitchet four. A Castoldi punt was blocked by Bills and Vanaria and recovered by Castoldi to give the Newton fullback another chance. This one he made good with Waltham taking possession on their own 44-yard line. Krol made 12 yards in two thrusts, Shaughnessy one and Krol was held for no gain before a Krol to Melody pass made it first down on the Newton 20. Krol raced around right end to the Newton five where Forte nailed him for the final play of the first half.

Third Quarter

Forced to kick after receiving Zeno's kickoff Castoldi punted to midfield where Lando gathered the ball and got back to the Newton 40-yard stripe. Another series of four plays covered the distance to the goal line to give Waltham its second score. A Krol to Melody pass ate up 18 yards to the Newton 22 and with Krol carrying on three successive plays, the last a 15-yard jaunt around right end for the touchdown, Newton's hopes of staying in the game and fighting back to even terms went glimmering. Zeno tallied the point after with another perfect placekick. An exchange of punts following the kickoff gave Newton the ball on their own 40. Jordan intercepted a Castoldi pass at midfield and ran it back 10 yards before being downed. Three line plays following open for a 13 yard gain at right guard for Newton's second first down of the afternoon. Castoldi's gain of six yards was offset by a 5-yard offside penalty on the next play and a Castoldi to Klein pass was incomplete forcing Castoldi to kick to Lando at the Waltham 37. Krol picked up 5 yards and Shaughnessy 3 to end the period.

Fourth Period

Three line plays gave Waltham a first down on the 43 as the third touchdown march got under way. On the next play Krol's pass was almost intercepted by Forte but it fell to the ground incomplete. Krol then carried through left tackle, cut to the right, and tried to outrun Forte to the corner of the field with the Newton shriller throwing the Waltham star out of bounds at the Newton 17 after a 25-yard gain. Krol picked up another first down on the Newton 8 and then Jordan raced around left end on a reverse play for the tally. The point after failed as Lando's pass to McManus was incomplete. The touchdown was the final tally of the game although Waltham threatened three times before the game ended. Newton picked up two first downs in a row following the kickoff after the third touchdown with Castoldi getting away for 11 yards and a Castoldi to Kelly pass good for 16 yards. The Newton attack stalled as McMullin fumbled a lateral to give Casey, sub Waltham end, the opportunity to retrieve the ball at the Newton 40. Krol burst through right tackle for twenty yards to the Newton 20. Krol and Shaughnessy ground out 16 yards more for a first down on the Newton 4-yard line but Pendergast fumbled and Kelly recovered to give Newton the ball on their own 9 yard line. Castoldi tossed a long pass into open territory. Krol raced up fast to snatch the ball on the dead run at the Newton 40 and cut down the side line to the Newton 11. Krol's ankle was hurt when he was tackled and he left the game. Three plays carried to the two yard line but Pendergast was unable to make it first down and Newton took the ball. Castoldi just averted a safety on a running play from punt formation and on the next play punted out to the Newton 23 with Arthur Shaughnessy, Krol's substitute, running it back to the Newton 14. Lando picked up six yards in two rushes and a Shaughnessy to Caminiti pass put the oval on the 5-yard line again. Pendergast lost two yards on fourth down, Newton taking the ball on downs as time expired.

Lectures To Aviation Club

At the November meeting of the Aviation Club Mr. John Wheelock from the Boston office of the American Airways discussed new equipment of airlines and the trends for the months ahead. He traced the improvement in comfort, speed, and safety of the airlines starting with the Ford tri-motor and ending with the Douglas Flagships.

Mr. Wheelock's talk was illustrated by a beautiful set of colored plates explaining every detail of this new method of first class travel now available in the United States. Mr. Fairbanks, a pilot, answered questions concerning developments in aviation. James Corcoran, representing the model builders, displayed several of his and fellow members models.

Senior Play

Evelyn Waddell and Gordon French emerged from the final tryouts as the leads in this year's senior play, "Libel." Miss Waddell will play Lady Loddon, wife of Sir Mark Loddon, who will be played by Gordon French. The two other most important parts will be taken by Bernard Ericson as Sir Wilfred Kelling, K.C., counsel for Sir Mark, and Leon Lipson as Thomas Foxley, K.C., counsel for the Daily Gazette.

Malcolm Hardy will be seen as William Bale, while Robert Nolan is to take the role of the judge. Address Drama Club

At the second meeting of the Drama Club, George Jamieson and George Kenngott, both '36, were guest speakers. The program was opened by play and movie reviews given by Stuart Stern. Leon Lipson gave a realistic account of teaching dramatics at a boys' camp. Natalie Salter gave a beautiful presentation of "Jeanne Marie."

George Jamieson portrayed with several different characters what a difference make-up can make for an accurate character presentation. George Kenngott, with the help of Grace VerPlanck, illustrated how important a part facial pantomime plays in the successful characterization of a prisoner in solitary confinement.

Girls archery has been going on for quite some time now under Mrs. Kuntz. More than 130 girls have turned out so far. Not only girls who are good archers but also those who are just beginning are out.

The first meeting of the Tusitala Club was held last Thursday, with Noel Allen as temporary chairman. Betty Urban was elected president in a Republican sweep and Lora Marriott went in as vice-president on the same boom. Robert Nolan, was chosen as secretary-treasurer and his aide-de-camp, Albert Thomas, is chairman of the program committee.

At two assemblies on November 18, Dr. Frank G. Armitage delighted his audience with his skilful impersonations of characters from novels by Dickens. Popular with the pupils were his portrayals of Sidney Carton, Uriah Heap, Mr. Micawber, and Grandfather Smallweed.

Ruth Nesbitt, Esther Chase Palshley, and Julia B. Flagg have been elected on the Honor Roll of their class at Wellesley. That signifies that they maintained an average of B or higher in their Freshman year.

Robert G. McPhee, sophomore at Tufts College, is one of the students whose names were read in Academic Awards Chapel for having maintained, during the past college year, an "A" average.

David S. Chapman of Brookline, Hilmen E. Dye, Emmons B. Brown, Corbin W. Clark and Henry S. Champion, all of Newton, are among the students who are beginning their law study this fall at Northeastern University. All these men graduated from Newton High School; Mr. Clark also graduated from Mt. Hermon Preparatory School; Mr. Brown received his degree at Dartmouth in 1934, and Mr. Dye attended the Northeastern University School of Business Administration last year.

William Rich Jones, Newton High School '32, was on the "Honor Roll" of Wesleyan for the year 1935-1936.

Newton Highlights

Making preparations for a big season in amateur hockey are the Boston Olympics, working out regularly at the Boston Arena. Coach Ed Jeremiah, former Dartmouth and N. Y. Americans player, has four Newton players on the squad. Frank Spain, Herb Gallagher and Walter "Doc" Billings, former Newton High players, and Bob Waldinger, Country Day school and Harvard goalie, are all Newtonians. Spain played with the United States Olympic hockey team last winter in Europe, as did Frank Stubbs.

The news came out this week that Herb Gallagher has been appointed hockey coach at Northeastern University, where he was graduated only two years ago. Last winter he played hockey in England, starring at wing for the Earlscourt Corinthians of the National and International leagues until foreign players were barred by a government ruling. He then went to Central Europe and helped coach the Austrian Olympic team. Gallagher, at 25, is the youngest of five Newtonians coaching in college hockey. The others are George Owen, Jr., of M. I. T., Wayland Vaughan of B. U., Dick Vaughan of Princeton, and Joe Stubbs of Harvard.

Al Carvelli of West Newton, brilliant sophomore center of Boston University's first forward line last winter is not going to B. U. any more, which will give Coach Vaughan a setback. Dick Mather of Newton, recovered from a broken leg, is the sole veteran forward at Tech. Charlie Houghton and Al Kevorkian can both be counted on for hockey at Harvard this winter. Jack Skillings has recovered well from his knee operation, and is ready to go in the Brown goal anytime.

A. A. boxing carnivals last winter, returned to the Boston Arena ring last Monday night and scored a decisive victory in the lightweight division. Having outgrown the 126 lb. class during the off season, Nolan has been handicapped since the University of New Hampshire dropped boxing in favor of other winter sports. With limited facilities for training, the former Newton High boy decided to compete in the Diamond Belt elimination trials at a weight new to him, 135 lbs. Joe fought Bernard Dever of Somerville in a semi-final, winning a technical knockout when Dever retired after the first round, having hit the canvas six times in three minutes. In the final, bracketed with Mike Modica of East Boston, Nolan won the decision. He was at once named to represent his weight on the Boston team for the international bouts next Monday night at the Arena, but was forced to pass up the honor because it would conflict with his classes at Durham.

Richard D. Elwell of 33 Brewster rd., Newton Highlands, was runner-up to Douglas B. Harlow of Hyde Park in the recent Huntington School fall tennis tournament, which was completed last week. Harlow, last year's captain, scored a 1-6, 8-6, 6-4 victory.

Children's Movies To Be Saturday Morning Feature

The motion picture show "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the Newton Paramount Theatre last Saturday was the first of a series of Saturday morning Junior Matinees which the Boston University Woman's Council is sponsoring. Better moving pictures for children, selected under expert supervision, is the plan which a special committee of the University Council women who live in Newton is promoting. Mrs. H. M. LeSourd, 296 Waverley ave., is acting as chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. Leroy Miner, Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Mrs. Harold M. Bowman, Mrs. Leo D. O'Neill, Mrs. William L. Stidger, Mrs. Thomas Fox, Mrs. Richard H. Smith and Mrs. John L. Dearing.

Four hostesses will be present each Saturday morning to extend any courtesies or help the children may need. This week's special feature will be Shirley Temple in "The Little Colonel," a Mickey Mouse cartoon, a Travelogue, and a Popeye cartoon.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING
CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Mrs. James F. Cooper will entertain The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter on November 24th at her home 2 Kingston rd., Newton Highlands, at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. Henry Fisher will speak on Motion Pictures.

Timothy Slattery Honored by Friends

Timothy Slattery of Elliot st., Watertown, for the past six years a popular clerk at the Hudson Drug Store, Newton, was tendered a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Victoria, Boston on Wednesday night by about fifty of his friends. On next Sunday Mr. Slattery will leave Boston on the L.A. CONIA of the Cunard-White Star Line to return to his former home in Fermoy, Cork, Ireland. He contemplates becoming associated with his brother in business at Dublin.

At the testimonial dinner on Wednesday night Mr. Slattery was presented with a valuable gold wrist watch suitably inscribed. The committee in charge of the affair included James McLaughlin, Bernard M. Purke and Edward Waters. Edward H. Powers officiated as toastmaster and the presentation speech was made by former Alderman William A. Sprout. Those present paid tributes to the character of the guest of honor. An entertainment was provided by Walter King who sang Scotch songs, and George Mills and John Cullen who sang Irish songs. George King was accompanist.

Rotary Club

On Monday the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held at Brae Burn Country Club with Vice-President Frank Clark in the chair. Singing was led by C. Hasler Capron and Eugene Campbell with Karl Switzer at the piano. Remarks regarding the automobile industry were made by "Con" Lupo, "Dick" Dwyer, Percy Frost and John Cahill. The speaker of the meeting was a member of the club, George J. Martin who was chosen by the C. I. T. to represent Massachusetts at the Safe Driver Conference which was held in New York a few months ago. There were 49 delegates, one from every State and the District of Columbia, and each delegate had to drive in his own car to the convention and be there on time. The 49 drivers averaged 1200 miles each and arrived without an accident. Among the delegates was Mr. Couzens from Florida who used to live in Newton Highlands. Among some of the things mentioned that should be done to insure safe driving were: Keep car in proper condition. Keep on right side of road. Don't force right of way. Be courteous. Remember that pedestrians have right of way. In closing Mr. Martin urged that all members should try to qualify for the convention that will be held next year, as the eligibility rules have been changed to cover driving safely for but one year only.

Red Cross Roll Call Has Quota of Six Thousand

The Roll Call Committee of the Newton Chapter American Red Cross is working on its annual campaign for membership. To date 2250 members have joined. 6,000 however, are needed to make Newton's quota. The American Red Cross asks Newton for 6,000 members, or one person out of ten. This means less than one half of a membership from each family in the city. Several thousand families have no member.

JOIN TODAY!
The Roll Call Committee is as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. Henry T. Patch; vice chairman, Mr. George Lincoln Parker; Newton, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson; Newtonville, Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce; West Newton, Mrs. Edward W. Pridge; Auburndale, Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock; Waban, Mrs. George W. Souther; Newton Centre, Mrs. Henry T. Patch; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall; Upper Falls, Miss Ethel W. Sablin; Lower Falls, Mrs. P. Clarence Baker; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Winslow Sears.

H.M.D.A. To Conduct Rally At Newtonville

A special meeting of the Horace Mann District Association's Executive Board was held Monday night at the home of the vice president, Charles Gentile, 67 Wildwood ave., West Newton. The constitution and by-laws of the H. M. D. A. were accepted as drawn-up by the constitutional committee with but minor changes. The membership committee reported an 80 per cent increase in memberships during the last month. It was voted that an open rally be held in the Horace Mann school Dec. 2 (Wednesday) at 8:00 p. m. in the interest of stimulating district interest in this district. All candidates for public offices to be voted upon by the electorate of wards 2 and 3 are invited to attend this rally. Arthur J. Gallant, Omedeo Petrillo, Lawrence Quinn and Charles Gentile were chosen as the reception committee for this occasion. Mr. John J. Herlihy was selected as the representative of the H. M. D. A. to address the assembly. Mr. Ernest L. Sullivan, president of the H. M. D. A. was unanimously selected as the chairman to conduct the rally. Sam Petrillo, chairman of the Athletic Committee reported that a "turkey" bowling contest open only to members of the H. M. D. A. would be held Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1936 at 8:00 p. m. Plans were discussed concerning the December card party of the H. M. D. A. but action was deferred until after the report of the "arrangement committee" at the next Executive Board meeting which will be held Monday, Nov. 23, at the home of the president. After the next meeting the H. M. D. A. hopes to secure a suitable meeting place or clubhouse for the purpose of conducting its affairs in a permanent location.

Recent Engagements

At a Tea on Sunday afternoon at the Old Hartshorn House in Wakefield Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Chatter announced the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Chatter, to Mr. Robert F. Hayden, son of Mrs. Gertrude C. Hayden of Newton Centre and Cotuit.

Miss Chatter is a graduate of the Massachusetts Art School and at present is connected with the Open Road Publishing Co. in Boston. Mr. Hayden is a graduate of Moses Brown in Providence and a member of the class of 1934 at Bowdoin College, where he belonged to the Zeta Psi Fraternity. A late December wedding is planned.

Meetings For Community Crusade Are Postponed

Meetings in behalf of the Community Crusade for Human Needs, planned for Waban and West Newton on Wednesday, Nov. 18, have been postponed to Tuesday, Nov. 24. These meetings, under new arrangements, will be at the home of Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, 169 Dartmouth st., West Newton, and at the home of Mrs. Clifford Walker, 711 Chestnut st., Waban. Both meetings will open at 8:30 in the evening and the principal speaker will be Roger Preston of Waban, who will visit both meetings during the course of the evening.

two-room apartments, and that owners of nearby properties would have no assurance that the proposed apartment structures will be kept back 25 feet from street lines, as promised by the petitioner, when he would have the right to build as close as 15 feet to street lines.

Edward H. Powers said that as a member of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen in 1929 and 1930 he was assigned the duty of recommending zoning changes in Ward 1, that the general residence zone was bounded by the east side of Jewett st., and that the west side of that street had been left in private residence zone partly to protect Walnut Park which is probably the most attractive section in Newton. North of the railroad tracks. Powers informed the petitioner and his representatives that the question of apartment buildings in Newton had been thoroughly discussed 10 and more years ago, and that the people of Newton at that time and since had decided that no apartments should be permitted in this city unless they were of high-grade construction, had ample setback from street lines, and that sufficient parking areas were provided on land adjoining, so that automobiles of tenants would not congest nearby streets. He called attention to the narrowness of Jewett st. and Walnut Park where the planned apartment buildings would be located. He said that when a member of the zoning committee he had been more liberal in recommending areas for apartment buildings than had the Aldermen from other sections of the city, and that he would prefer to see an attractive cottage-type apartment on the Soule property than a number of two-family houses. Powers stated that he had supposed that only one apartment building was planned to be built on the Soule estate, but since it was proposed to erect three such structures on the land, such a plan would preclude adequate parking facilities for automobiles, would clutter nearby streets with parked cars, and would utterly change the character of the neighborhood. He therefore objected to the petition.

Albert Scott, the petitioner, said he could not obtain sufficient revenue from the property if he built only one apartment building on the land. Attorney Oates told the Aldermen and the members of the Newton Planning Board who were present, that Newton should change its zoning ordinance from time to time to keep abreast of business requirements. He favored extending the business zone along Washington street westerly from Jewett st., and cited the change of Galen st., Watertown, near where he resides, from residence to business. Mr. Oates said that if the Aldermen would grant the zoning change, then the petitioner would submit plans showing how it is proposed to develop the property involved.

Following the hearing the Claims and Rules Committee held a meeting and unanimously voted to recommend that the petition be given leave to withdraw.

Floyd Honored by Mass. Conservation Council

Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale who has been active for years as one of a group of men interested in the preservation of bird life and who has handed many thousands of young tern along the Massachusetts coast, principally off Chatham, was elected vice-president of the Massachusetts Conservation Council at its meeting in Boston on Wednesday. John C. Phillips of Wrentham was elected president. The council is composed of representatives of various organizations in Massachusetts active in the conservation of our forests and other natural assets, and the wild animals and birds of this State.

AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis of Newton, National Historian, accompanied Mrs. Margaret X. O'Brien of Worcester, State President, and Mrs. Archer W. Ives of Dedham, Past State President, in visiting the New Bedford Chapter, American War Mothers, on Monday evening, November 16th, when the newly elected officers for 1937 were installed at the New Bedford Hotel. A banquet and delightful program of music and entertainment followed. The Boston Chapter will meet on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 24th, at the home of Mrs. Tager, 215 Winchester street, Brookline, when newly elected officers will be installed followed by a whist party. Mrs. Ellen Meharg of Somerville is the oncoming president with a fine corps of officers. Plans are being made for the annual Christmas Welfare Work for Veterans and their families.

Scheinfain Gets Added 15 Years

Alfred Scheinfain, formerly of Washington st., Newton, who later moved to Brookline and again became a resident of Newton for a short period last winter at 22 Park st., was sentenced to serve from 15 to 20 years in State Prison by Judge Dowd in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Tuesday. The sentence is to start after Scheinfain completes a 5 years' sentence in a Federal prison as a result of driving a beam found guilty of white slavery by Judge Sweeney in the Federal Court at Boston two weeks ago.

The offense for which Scheinfain was sentenced by Judge Dowd on Tuesday, immoral relations with Margaret Toth of Passaic, New Jersey, occurred in this city and Newton police were the complainants. Scheinfain pleaded guilty. The girl was 15 years old when lured from Passaic by a man named Spinner who was also sentenced to 5 years in jail by the Federal court judge. Scheinfain is alleged to have paid Spinner $100 for the girl and then brought her to Newton from Brookline. He fled from Newton when local police took the girl from the Park street apartment, and was found months later in a hideout near Newfound Lake, New Hampshire.

Newton Man Fined In Waltham

Joseph Hehr of Gardner st., Newton, was fined $35 in the Waltham court on Monday for driving a truck while under the influence of liquor, and $20 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. A charge of driving so as to endanger was placed on file. It was alleged that a truck driven by Hehr ran across a sidewalk on Morse st. and smashed a fence.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Important Topics
To Be Discussed at Board Meeting

The Newton Community Chest, Christmas Seals, and the Mid-Year Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs to be held on January 8th, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, are the three important subjects to be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Executive Board of the Newton Federation on Monday, November 23rd, at 10 a. m., in Jewett Hall, Newton Library. As this is the last Executive Board meeting this year all members are requested to be present.

Attractive Course
Of Lectures
On Gardens

Mrs. H. H. Buxton, of Peabody, is to give the first in the series of Talks arranged by the Conservation and Garden committees of the Community and the Social Science Clubs, at the home of Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, 226 Park street on Monday, November 30th, at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Buxton's subject will be "House Plants and Window Gardening." Other lectures in the Course are to be on "Cultivation of the Flower Garden," by Mrs. Julia A. Latimer, on January 18th, 1937; "A Garden from a Hayfield," by Mrs. Lucien Taylor, on February 15th; and "Importance of Birds to the Garden," by Mrs. Laurence Fletcher, on March 15th.

Tickets at $1.00 each for the Course may be obtained from the chairman, Mrs. Louis M. Spear, telephone Newton North 6657, for the Community Club, or from Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, telephone Newton North 2288, for the Social Science Club, or from members of their committees.

Entertaining Plays
Offered Guests
On Presidents' Day

Presidents' Day will be observed by the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, November 24th. A dessert social hour at 1:30 o'clock will start the afternoon's program, and the regular business meeting will follow at 2:30.

At 3 o'clock the Drama committee will present two one-act plays for this festive day. The first, a comedy, "They're None of Them Perfect," by Sophie Kerr, will be produced by special arrangement with Samuel French. The second will be Alice Williams Chaplin's drama entitled, "The House is Coming," which won first prize in the Massachusetts State Federation's Play Writing Contest. This play is presented by arrangement with Mrs. Chaplin. Both plays have been ably coached by Mrs. Herman Krueger, vice-chairman of the Drama committee.

The guests of honor will be Mrs. Herbert F. French, third vice-president, Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, director of the Twelfth District; and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation. The presidents of the Twelfth District clubs will be the special guests.

Mrs. John H. Harding, Drama chairman, will act as chairman of the Day.

Demonstration and Talk on Decoration
For Christmas

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will hold its next meeting in the Woman's Club Workshop on Columbus street, on Tuesday evening, November 24th, at 8 p. m. The speaker of the evening will be Prof. A. M. Davis, of the State College at Amherst, whose subject will be on the "Construction of Christmas Wreaths and Decorations," with a demonstration. Refreshments will be served.

Clubwomen
Asked for Xmas
Bags for Veterans

Newton clubwomen who, through their committees of co-operation with War Veterans, always plan some festive boxes for the War Veterans at Christmas time, have the opportunity to add to their yearly remembrance of "our boys," by answering the appeal for the State Federation committee.

Mrs. G. Vicla Dangelmayr, chairman of the State Division of Co-operation with War Veterans, who issued a call recently for 450 bags for Christmas for the Veterans Administration at Rutland Heights, announces that she needs more bags to fill the quota of 450. The bags should be of bright colored material, 14x16 inches in size, with a double drawing-string.

These are to hold small articles that the veterans themselves may use as gifts, and should be in by the first week of December. The contents of each bag should be as nearly alike as possible, and suggestions are writing cases, blocks or tablets and envelopes, postage stamps, pencils and pens, playing cards, ash-trays, neckties, cotton, woolen or silk socks, handkerchiefs, package-candy, sewing-kits and small scissors. All pledges should be sent to Mrs. Dangelmayr, 22 Ellison park, Waltham, by December 1st.

Popular Opera
To Be Mid-Winter Event

On Friday and Saturday evenings, December 11th and 12th, at 8:15 p. m., at the Club House, the Newton Centre Woman's Club will present "Patience." This was the fourth Comedy Opera to be produced by the two great collaborators, Sir William S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur S. Sullivan. In November of 1889, when all London was surfeited with that aesthetic writing of which Oscar Wilde was the great example, Gilbert wrote the lines of "Patience" cleverly satirizing this aesthetic fad, and gave them to Sullivan to translate into music. The joint work was presented at the Opera Comique in London by Mr. R. D'Oyly on April 23rd, 1891, and won instant popularity. The exquisite and familiar melodies, and the witty satire of the lines, make the popular appeal of the opera as great today as when it was first produced.

The presentation of this delightful work will be one of the feature events of the fiftieth anniversary year of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, as well as a tribute to the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Sir William S. Gilbert.

Reserved seats will be on sale beginning Monday mornings, November 23rd and 30th, and every morning of the week December 7th from 10 to 12 o'clock, and also before and after the regular Club meeting of December 4th.

The several hundred Club members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club who filled the Club House Friday afternoon, were most enthusiastic in their greeting and appreciative in their applause of their talented fellow-townswoman, Dorothy Spear, Miss Spear spoke of her experience, from her college days up to the present, and interwoven with these most interesting events and disappointments she gave a philosophy of life one wished many of high school age could have heard.

During the social and coffee hour which preceded the business and program, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock and Mrs. Howard O. Wilelow presided at the attractive table.

Doctor Samuel Macauley Lindsay will give the second of his series of lectures on World Affairs at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Monday, November 30th, at 8 p. m. The subject of this lecture will be "Russia Visited and Revisited." Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton, or at the door.

On Saturday, November 21st, at 1:30 p. m., Tung Pin Soo, the Oriental Deceiver starts the series of Children's Entertainments. Tickets are 25 cents a ticket, or $1.00 for the strip. Prizes will be given to the boy selling the largest number and to the girl selling the largest number of tickets. A strip of tickets could make a lovely gift and help solve the Christmas problem, according to Mrs. Donald E. Welch, whose telephone is Centre Newton 4313, the chairman.

From November 16th to 27th Eliot J. Enneking will exhibit a group of his Paintings in the Art Gallery of the Club House.

Prominent Speakers Present
Timely Topics

A delightful and entertaining program awaited the members of the Newton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, November 12th, with Alice Dixon Bond as the speaker. Following the business meeting, Mr. Bruce spoke very briefly on the Community Chest Campaign. Mrs. Mark T. deSilva, chairman of the Legislative committee of the State Federation, gave a short talk on Old Age Pension as it is now functioning, and as it will function under the Social Security Act.

Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, president of the Club, introduced Mrs. Bond to the audience not as a stranger, but as one whom the members eagerly welcomed the opportunity to hear again. Mrs. Bond in a very brilliant presentation gave reviews of "Fall Books," or of significant books of the season.

The tea hostesses were Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon, Mrs. William Gunter, Mrs. Paul H. Drake, and Mrs. Melvin Ames, with Mrs. Robert Waller in charge of the table decorations. Shawls of great beauty were exhibited by Mrs. Edgar G. Lehmann, Art chairman and her committee.

State President
Calls Attention
To Hospital Needs

Clubwomen are urged to save their cold cream jars! Mrs. John H. Kimball, State president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, says they are needed at the Children's Hospital.

Also from Mrs. Kimball comes the call for colored cellophane and colored yarns for use at the same hospital.

New Ruling On Guest Fees For State Meetings

The attention of clubwomen, and of non-members of women's clubs, who have availed themselves of the opportunity of attending State meetings, is called to the new ruling for such attendance at all future meetings of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Guests who are not members of a Federated Club will be required to pay double the amount of the regular Registration Fee. Members of Federated Clubs must present their Membership Tickets, and will then be admitted for the regular fee.

Clubwomen Urged
To Aid in Securing
Womens' Building

A Resolution adopted at the Mid-Winter meeting of the State Federation held February 28th, 1935, has been reaffirmed: WHEREAS, there are now enrolled at the Massachusetts State College nearly three hundred young women, which number constitutes thirty per cent of the number of four-year students, and WHEREAS, the college was planned and built for men, and was not equipped to accommodate the interests and activities of women students, and WHEREAS, there is no social center for women students, which is a factor of recognized importance in a co-educational college, and WHEREAS, the training of young people to meet the problems of family and community life is among the major interests of clubwomen, therefore, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs endorse the appropriation for a Women's Building at Massachusetts State College at Amherst, Massachusetts.

Members of all Federated Clubs in the State are urged to write to Carl Raymond, director of the Budget, State House, Boston, that they are in favor of the appropriation.

State Contests Offer Attractive Prizes

The attention of Newton clubwomen and Juniors is called to the following opportunities offered by the State Federation departments to win prizes in activities sponsored by this organization.

To young people of high school age a contest in Motion Picture Posters is offered.

Mrs. Bernard S. Sabean, State Chairman, says: "Last May, at Swampscott, your chairman had the great pleasure of presenting cash prizes to three young people of High School age as a reward for their excellent work in expressing, through posters, their idea of 'the best in films.' Those who saw their work will realize that they are thinking seriously.

"Because of the interest shown in the Poster Contest last year, the Motion Picture division will conduct a similar one this year, and we shall hope for even finer results."

The following information and rules are issued by the committee.

Rule I.
The Poster Contest conducted by the Motion Picture division of the State Federation closes April 1, 1937, and is open to High School pupils only. Size of poster 22" x 28". Theme: "The Best in Motion Pictures." (Note: Educational, recreational or inspirational subjects may be chosen, or a combination of all three.)

Rule II.
Each local district shall have a committee of three, consisting of the local Motion Picture chairman and two others whom she shall select.

Rule III.
The State committee suggests that two or three money prizes be awarded, the amount to be left to the discretion of the local committee; these prizes to be awarded at an open assembly of the club or school.

Rule IV.
Posters shall be judged on three counts:

(a) Originality of sentiment expressed or thought conveyed, (50%)
(b) Neatness, (30%)
(c) Artistic ability, (20%)

Rule V.
First prize posters must be in the hands of State chairman of Motion Pictures, Mrs. Bernard S. Sabean, 247 Ash street, Brockton, not later than May 1, 1937.

Rule VI.
The State prizes shall be awarded at Swampscott: a first of $10.00; a second of $5.00; and a third of $3.00.

Rule VII.
The poster must be entirely original. Posters submitted before the (Continued on page 8)

Further information, if desired, will be furnished by the special committee. Mrs. Archibald C. Jordan, 118 Highland avenue, Winchester; Mrs. Fred Stephenson, 37 Magnolia terrace, Springfield; Mrs. Bernard S. Sabam, 247 Ash street, Brockton, State chairman, or by members of the State committee.

Mrs. Frank D. Pierce, chairman of the State Department of Press and Publicity, gives an announcement of a nation-wide Contest for Press chairmen. In each State there will be a first and second ribbon prize with the winners' names lettered in gold, and a grand prize of $50 will be awarded for the best article, at the General Federation Council meeting in April. State prize winners are automatically eligible for the grand prize. Sometime between the first of October and the first of March 1937, chairman should send to the State chairman of Press and Publicity (Mrs. Pierce's address is Leicester, Mass.) one news release such as they would send to the newspaper, of an event in their club life—a meeting, lecture, social event, special campaign, etc.—surely it is original copy, double-spaced, legibly written or typed, on one side of regulation size paper, and not over 500 words. Prizes are being donated through the courtesy and interest of the Bureau for Club Women of the New York Herald Tribune.

Again this year there will be the Scrap Book Contest, with prizes awarded at Swampscott, in May. Points to remember are—Suitability of book, title page, arrangement, neatness of clippings, quality and appropriateness, pictures and decorative features.

"Both contests will stimulate an interest in club publicity, which is a vital necessity if the work of clubwomen is to justify the faith, time and energy invested in it," says Mrs. Pierce.

To aid Press chairmen through the year opportunity will be given to attend regional press meetings, when practice will be given in the writing of club notices for publication, and trips through the leading newspaper plants in the State will be arranged.

And in regard to Publicity, Mrs. Pierce has this to say:

"Publicity is now recognized as an all-important factor in the successful outcome of any program whether it be that of the woman's club, business firm, or the Government. Publicity is the force that galvanizes women's clubs to action. With it they may become real powers in their communities; without it they remain dormant as far as the community is concerned.

"Rightly handled, publicity is the key to quality as well as quantity membership, and the press chairman has the opportunity of making her club so popular that every woman in the community will wish to belong. Too often this fact is not appreciated, and publicity is just a hit-or-miss adjunct to the club program. Too often brief preliminary notices are all the publicity a club receives. Now this isn't really publicity at all.

"A good press chairman is a high-type saleswoman, who proceeds to sell her club to the community, but the club must do something worth recording or the chairman will have a hard time getting into print. Stress should be placed on the civic, cultural or educational value of the club program, and this must be done so that the story will have a popular appeal. Remember that a club does not seek publicity because it wishes to be in the public eye, but to accurately inform the public of its program, and develop good-will."

West Newton Women's Educational Club

By vote of the Executive Board the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club which would take place on the fourth Friday of the month, November 27th, has been omitted this year, since it is the day following Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Charles E. Gibson will open her home, 836 Watertown street, on Monday, the 23rd, for the meeting of the Travel Class at 2 p. m. Mrs. Dayton P. Haigney will assist her as hostess. Papers written by Club members on the year's general theme, "France," will be read. Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr having the subject "Chateaux—Orleans, Chillon (in ruins), Joan of Arc, Chambord, Azay de Rideau Langeais"; and Mrs. Haigney having the subject "Picardy—History of Amiens, Arras, and Lille."

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex, ss.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners for the County of Middlesex, held at the County Office, on the first Tuesday of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, at the adjournment at Cambridge on the eighteenth day of November A.D. 1936.

On the foregoing petition, Ordered, that the Petitioner give notice to all persons or corporations interested therein, that said Commissioners will meet for the purpose of viewing the premises and hearing the parties at the Commission Office, Court House, Cambridge, in said County, on Tuesday the eighth day of December, A.D. 1936, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, with a copy of said petition and of this order, and by publishing the same in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper printed at Newton, in said County, at least seven days before said view, and also by posting the same in two public places in said City of Newton, at least seven days before said view; and that he make return of his doing hereon, to said Commissioners, on the first day of December, 1936, for said view and hearing.

CHARLES T. HUGHES, Asst. Clerk.

Copy of petition and order thereon.

Attest: CHARLES T. HUGHES, Asst. Clerk.

November 20, 1936.

To the County Commissioners:

Respectfully represents Daniel F. Cetrone, First: That he is an inhabitant of the City of Newton.

Second: That he is the owner of a lot of land in the City of Newton consisting of four lots, all of which are in the Newton Highlands, and being No. 971 Walnut Street, bounded and described as follows:

Third: That said lot of land does not abut on any street or highway, but that the Petitioner owns in fee a strip of land twenty feet wide connecting said lot with Centre Street.

Fourth: That said land is in the residential section of Newton and is under the zoning laws of the City of Newton, and can be used only for building of first-class residences.

Fifth: That the lot is named Buxwell Park and is suitable for the development of residences and for no other purpose, and is valuable and suitable for the purposes and admirably suited for that purpose.

Sixth: That your petitioner did on April 10, 1935 file a petition with the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton for the lay-out of a strip of land on the lot of the Petitioner, on which the Board of Aldermen has refused to grant any action.

Seventh: That your petitioner did on February 6, 1936 file a petition before the Planning Board of the City of Newton for the lay-out of a strip of land on the lot of the Petitioner, on which the Board of Aldermen has refused to grant any action.

Eighth: That twenty foot strip was actually opened and used for public travel on the lot of the Petitioner, on the day of the month, November 27th, has been omitted this year, since it is the day following Thanksgiving Day.

Ninth: That your petitioner did on April 17, 1936 file a petition before the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton for the lay-out of a strip of land on the lot of the Petitioner, on which the Board of Aldermen has refused to grant any action.

Tenth: This petitioner has been at all times and now is a resident of the City of Newton, and he would indemnify said City of Newton for all damages and costs which it is obliged to pay by reason of said lay-out in accordance with law.

Eleventh: That the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton, on July 27, 1936 unreasonably and capriciously deny said petition for the lay-out of said roadway as a private way above stated.

Twelfth: That neither said Aldermen nor any official of the City of Newton ever demanded of this petitioner security for the damages and costs as provided by law, and the refusal of said petition was not due to any dispute about that matter.

Thirteenth: The petitioner is now unable to obtain Building Permits on this property and has been properly advised by the Building Department of the City of Newton that "it is not possible to obtain sewer or water service or any public utility on this property at the present time." That the only value of this property is its value for residential purposes, that in fact upon the denial of this petition by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton, and is a complete taking of this property of all rights and property without compensation.

Fourteenth: That the only available remedy for this petitioner has at the present time is this Appeal to this Board.

WHEREFORE, your petitioner says that he is a person entitled to the aid of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton to lay out said roadway and take the necessary land by eminent domain on behalf of the City of Newton.

Your petitioner hereby offers to give security satisfactory to the County Commissioners for the repayment to the City of Newton of all damages and costs or such part thereof as the County Commissioners consider reasonable occasioned by this Appeal.

Signed this 31st day of July, 1936.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by City of Newton, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, to foreclose all rights of redemption from the tax lien proceedings described in said petition in and concerning a certain parcel of land situate in Newton in the County of Middlesex and in said Commonwealth, bounded and described in said petition as follows:

No. 9264. About 9263 sq. ft. of land on Washington St., being more particularly described in Sect. 57, Block 13K, Lot (9-3) of Assessors' Plans. No. 9265. About 11627 sq. ft. of land on Washington St., being more particularly described in Sect. 57, Block 13K, Lot (9-4) of Assessors' Plans.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer, under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the 14th day of December next.

Unless your appearance is filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

And in addition to the usual service of this notice as required by law, it is ordered that the foregoing citation be published forthwith once each week for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in said Newton.

Witness, Michael A. Sullivan, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of November in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

Attest with seal of said Court.

CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

Joseph W. Bartlett, 75 Federal St., Boston, Mass., Atty. for the Petitioner.

Morse Found Not Guilty in Death Of James Orr

Leigh Morse, 37, of 43 Cross st., West Newton, was found not guilty in the Newton court yesterday on charges of manslaughter and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Morse was the driver of the car which on election night, November 3rd, hit James Orr, 69, as the latter was crossing Waltham st., West Newton. Orr received injuries which caused his death at the Newton Hospital the next morning. Judge Robert Frost, an associate justice of the Brighton court ruled that the evidence did not support the charges.

Newtonville

—Mrs. Norman Southworth of Waverly st., assisted Mrs. John E. Eaton, Jr., of Newton Centre on Wednesday at one of four teas sponsored by the Newton Wellesley College Club. The guests were alumnae from all the Newtons.

—The Young Mothers' Group from the Woman's Association of the Methodist Church gave the pastor's wife, Mrs. Laurence W. C. Emig, a party on Tuesday evening as a token of their appreciation of her hospitality in acting as hostess at their meetings. They presented her with an occasion at chair as a further expression of their regard.

More Candidates For Aldermen

Allan G. Whitehead of Otis Park, Newtonville, has announced his candidacy for Ward Alderman from Ward 2. He is a lawyer with an office in Boston and a member of the Newton Young People's Republican Club. He is 23 years of age and has resided in Newton all his life.

John A. Duane of 216 River street, West Newton, filed nomination papers on Tuesday as a candidate for alderman-at-large from Ward 4. He will oppose Alderman Charles B. Floyd, the present incumbent, and W. Edward Wilson. Duane will try to obtain votes on the basis of partisanship; emphasizing that he is a Democrat. Mr. Duane is engaged in the grocery business. He is 31 years of age, a member of the Boston College Club of Newton; the Young Democrats Club and the Ward 4 Democratic Committee. He is a life-long resident of the district he seeks to represent.

Newton Upper Falls

—A whist party was held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arbuckle of Pennsylvania ave. —Mr. Frank Hunting of Champa avenue returned to his home on Sunday from the Newton Hospital, where he had been recovering from an operation.

—John Cotter of Elliot st., who has been recovering at the Newton Hospital from injuries received in an auto accident, returned to his home on Monday.

—Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd of the First M. E. Church will speak Sunday morning on the topic, "Moral Evasiveness" and in the evening from the topic "Born Again."

—A Union Thanksgiving service will be held at the First M. E. Church on Wednesday evening, Rev. James Whitman, pastor of the Baptist Church, will give the Thanksgiving message.

—The Senior Epworth League Society of the First M. E. Church presented a three act play in the Parish Hall on Wednesday at 8 p. m. The following members acted as members of the cast: Calvin Shedd, Grace Nichols, Chester Newey, Olive Payne, Edward Wildman, Donald Newey, Virginia Schofield, Virginia Billings, Elizabeth Saradian and Harold Wenger.

Campaigning For Greene In Ward 3

A large committee, of which Bernard McCarthy of 20 Auburndale ave. is chairman, is conducting an active campaign in Ward 3 in behalf of the candidacy of Edmond L. Greene for Ward Alderman from that Ward. During the past few weeks many house meetings have been held in his behalf, and from now until the city election on Dec. 8th further activity for the success of his candidacy is planned by the large committee which includes residents in all sections of Ward 3.

EDMOND L. GREENE

Mr. Greene, a lifelong resident of West Newton, graduated from Newton High School, attended Boston College for two years and then graduated from the College of Pharmacy. For several years he has been manager of the Charles Pharmacy at West Newton. He is 26 years of age and married. His supporters state he is able and aggressive, has taken a keen interest in West Newton affairs and because of his business location he will be always available to residents of Ward 3 who may desire to contact their Ward Alderman.

Auto Kills Woman At West Newton

Fourteenth Victim So Far This Year

Mrs. Lillian Smith, 66 years of age, was fatally injured about 7 o'clock Monday night as she was crossing Waltham st., West Newton near the postoffice. She was hit by an automobile driven by Robert L. Quigley, 21, of 39 Hillside ave., West Newton. Mrs. Smith was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died at the hospital at 9:20 from a fractured skull and other injuries. She was the fourteenth person to be killed this year in Newton as a result of automobiles, and the second pedestrian to be killed on Waltham st. within two weeks.

Young Quigley, who had no license to drive an automobile, reported that he was operating the car at a speed of 15 miles per hour. He stated that the aged woman ran across the street and into the path of the car. He was arrested Tuesday night on charges of driving an automobile without a license, and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case continued until December 4.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Walter Smith, and a native of Charlotte, Maine. She is survived by a daughter, Genevieve Smith of Wellesley. Her funeral service was held yesterday at the Waterman Funeral Chapel, Boston. Cremation was at Forest Hills and interment will be in Maine.

FOUR ACES FOR THE 1937 SHOWDOWN!

Every Buick in the 1937 line has more horsepower, more room, more luxury and more performance — on top of the finest quality and value that General Motors science and Buick workmanship can provide

THE fates are kind to the automobile buyer of next year—just take a look at Buick's offerings and you'll see why!

Here are four lines of new cars—aces every one—the ablest cars, the handsomest performers, the biggest values we believe the automobile industry has so far seen.

There is the 1937 Buick SPECIAL—stepped up in style, power, room and finish—thrifter than ever, and at the same low price.

There is the cyclonic CENTURY—all compact of obedient explosive energy—quicker, quieter, more sensational even than before.

There is the magnificent

ROADMASTER—just what its name suggests—more powerful, more maneuverable, more luxurious now than its marvelously mobile predecessor.

And there is the lordly LIMITED—the Avenue's proudest saunterer—fleet, sophisticated, capacious—uncommon carrier of the elect.

Every one of these cars brings something fresh and progressive to *Safety glass included—accessories slightly extra. Prices subject to change without notice. General Motors terms to suit your liking.

motoring—every one of them outranks in engineering and appointments even the phenomenal cars that uphold Buick's current sensational success.

See them and you'll say that the $14,500,000 appropriated and now being spent on top of the recent $15,000,000 put into re-tooling and re-equipping Buick factories is money not only wisely but fruitfully employed!

Goal Of Community Chest Nearly Reached At Touchdown Night Affair

Ninety-Seven Per Cent of $188,457 Raised With Belated Reports To Come

A happy and enthusiastic crowd of 1,200 of the nearly 2,000 workers in the 1936 Campaign of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., attended the Touchdown Night at the Newton High School on Monday, November 23. They greeted with cheers the announcement of Campaign Director Maynard Hutchinson that $183,770.00, or 97.5% of the goal of $188,457.00, had been raised, with excellent prospects of the Campaign going across the line when all solicitation is completed.

The Committee submitted the following report:

Village or Division	Per Cent. of Goal Raised
Auburndale	101.0%
Chestnut Hill	106.0%
Newton	100.3%
Newton Centre	102.0%
Newton Highlands	107.0%
Newton Lower Falls (including Hospital employees)	222.0%
Upper Falls	121.0%
Newtonville	93.0%
Nonantum	143.0%
Oak Hill	101.0%
Waban	102.0%
Waban Hill	92.0%
West Newton	100.1%
Women's Division	165.0%
Business Division	101.0%
Municipal Division	75.0%
Doctors' and Dentists' Division	50.0%
Organizations Division	70.0%

All Village and Division Chairmen report a great deal of clearing up of tag ends to be done, with people away, many prospects yet to be called on, so that there is excellent promise of going over the 1936 Goal before all reports are completed.

As a part of the program of Touchdown Night, slides showing caricatures of all Village and Division Chairmen were flashed on the screen, showing the results of the team or workers of each.

Neal O'Hara served as master of ceremonies and introduced the village and division chairmen as the cartoons appeared on the screen. Other features of the program included an accordion specialty by Jack King, baritone solos by Walter Kidder accompanied by Mme. Scaparelli, selections on the electric organ by J. Leslie Cahill, and dances by the Miriam Winslow Studio group, which included Margaret Little, Barbara Benzaquin, Marjorie Jones, Charlotte Orlov, Harriet Bent, Dorothy Brackett and Katherine Wyman, with Evelyn Borofsky at the piano. The Newton Civic Orchestra, directed by Herman Sulzner, played the overture and the finale. The Touchdown Night committee included William V. M. Fawcett, chairman, L. D. G. Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Dunker, Mrs. W. V. M. Fawcett, Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Louis V. Haffermehl and Fay Roope.

Auditors Render Outstanding Service

Mr. Roland F. Gammons, serving his second year as Campaign Auditor, developed the plan of using local or branch banks in the villages as Village Campaign Headquarters. Bank leaders and staffs co-operated splendidly, wishing to second the efforts of the solicitors in making every step as efficient as possible. For every night of the Campaign they worked tirelessly, receiving reports and auditing them as each village organization turned in its results. The Auditing Committee is:

Newton National Bank: William J. Payne, Jr., chief; John Balkus, Ellen D. Carvelli, Edwin W. Davol, Herman A. Foster, Helen G. Osterberg.
Newton Trust Company—Newtonville: Herbert W. Kestle, chief; Ruth E. Goode, David E. Firth, Helena Davis, John White.

Forum Topic Is Consumer Co-operatives

Local Official Cites Growth Of Movement

Last Sunday afternoon the second in the series of Community Forum Lectures took place in the Newton High School auditorium. Mr. E. R. Bowen, General Secretary of the Co-operative League of the United States who was to have spoken was called away suddenly and Wallace G. Campbell, a member of the Co-operative League filled his place very efficiently, speaking on the origin and case for Consumer Co-operatives.

Mr. Campbell said that not until the past few years has the American public been consciously aware of the existence of the co-operative system. It started in northern Europe—Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland and shortly after, spread to Scotland and England. He outlined it as a means of bringing products to the consumer at cost price, barring the exorbitant and unreasonable profit made by private companies under the monopoly system. Mr. Campbell took as an example the co-operative community in Maynard, Mass., which is composed of the most part of Finnish mill workers. Each family desiring to become a member of a co-operative gives what he is able toward the building of a store and the purchasing of supplies. Each one holds ownership in the store according to the amount that he has contributed. All sales are at market price and savings go back to each member on the basis of the amount of purchases he has made. The Co-operative System, Mr. Campbell stated increases competition with privately owned companies.

The speaker then illustrated the results of the system abroad and in this country. Forty per cent of the Swedish people are members of co-operatives and 20 per cent of Danish business is transacted on the co-operative basis.

During his recent visit to the United States, Dr. Kagawa of Japan approved the system to the people in the lecture hall and over the air.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt thoroughly believes it to be the strongest

A Proclamation

Christmas Health Seal Sale

From Thanksgiving until Christmas, the privilege is ours of buying and using Christmas seals. The proceeds of these annual sales are used for constructive and progressive health work, especially among children.

Prevention is better than cure. Seals purchased from the Newton Committee permit local relief work with practically no overhead expense.

Let us buy and use these seals generously, thereby sharing in a most important work which costs us little but counts for much.

Castoldi Stars Leading Newton To 26-6 Victory

Spectacular Plays Feature Game With Brookline

Guido Castoldi, hard-running, versatile and tireless halfback, was the spearhead of the devastating Newton attack which rolled over an undermanned Brookline eleven yesterday at Dickinson Stadium in Newtonville. The score was 26-6, and marked the 22nd victory for Newton in this series of many years' standing. It was the sixth victory for Newton in nine games this year, and ended the Suburban League season with a record of three straight wins, 52 points against 13 for the opposition, with the orange and black 1936 champions.

Castoldi rose to great heights to take over the tasks left by Co-captain Al Thompson, Bill Johnson and Paul Forte, alling Newton backfield regulars. He kicked off five times, punted nine times and made good two placekicks in four attempts. Carrying the ball on a treacherous surface, Guido gained no less than 175 yards in 13 starts from scrimmage for an average of better than 13 yards, including an eighty-yard touchdown jaunt. He threw two passes, one incomplete, the other good for an eighty-yard touchdown.

Apart from a 60-yard runback of a Newton punt by fullback Cleary for the Brookline score in the second period and a few minutes of demoralized play in the third quarter the Newton eleven had a distinct advantage over the Wealthy Towners. The 80-yard touchdown jaunt by Castoldi not only put the game on ice, making the score, 20-6 but it turned a jittery Newton team into a more cohesive unit for the balance of the game.

First Quarter

Newton defended the west goal at the start of the game. Guido Castoldi kicked off, sending a high one to Capt. Murray of Brookline, who returned the ball about five yards to the 15-yard line. On third down, O'Neil kicked to Castoldi at the Newton 45. Myerson replaced one of the Brookline tackles, who was in

Many Contests For Aldermen

Fourteen of the twenty-one offices in the Newton Board of Aldermen will be voted for on election day, December 8. Ten of the offices are being contested.

In Ward 1 for Alderman-at-Large the candidates are John E. Barwise of 457 Washington st., seeking reelection for a second two-year term, and Waldo S. Weldon of 201 California st. For Ward Alderman from Ward 1 there are four candidates—Cesidio Antonellis of 23 Jasset st., John W. Blakeney, Jr., of 5 Washburn st., Edward A. Fahey of 60 Allison st., and James E. Murphy of 6 Middle st. James P. Akins, for the past two years Ward Alderman of Ward 1, is not a candidate for reelection.

In Ward 2, Carl F. Schipper, Jr., of 47 Trowbridge ave. has no opposition for Alderman-at-Large. He has been Ward Alderman for the past year, and this year has transferred with Albert M. Lyon, who is a candidate for Ward Alderman instead of Alderman

Aldermen Take Action In Effort To Lessen Auto Accidents In Newton

Aldermen Hill Moves That Committee Be Appointed To Confer With Mayor on Traffic Conditions

The increasing number of automobile fatalities and accidents on Newton streets caused Alderman Donald Hill of Ward 2 to make a motion at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night that a committee be appointed to confer with Mayor Childs on this matter. Mr. Hill referred to the fact that fourteen deaths had resulted in the city so far this year because of automobile accidents. He said he was not prepared to say whether lack of motorcycle officers or traffic signals is responsible for the increase in the casualties, but something should be done to make our streets safer. He moved that a committee be appointed to confer with Mayor Childs so that plans can be made to provide money for needed traffic safeguards, and proper appropriations made in the 1937 budget. President Floyd appointed a committee of three: Alderman Hill, chairman; Alderman Goddard and Alderman Hutchinson.

The meeting opened at 8:08, President Floyd presiding. All the members were present except Alderman Hutchinson, who was at the meeting of Community Chest workers. The first matters before the meeting were hearings on various petitions. The Edison Company petitioned for a permit to lay underground conduits on Hammond and Beacon sts. and College rd., Chestnut Hill. The permit was given later in the meeting. Other hearings were announced on petitions for sewers in Fennecroft, Graylyn and Lorna rds., Montrose st. and Walnut place. Timothy Galvin spoke in favor of a sewer in Walnut place. He stated that thirteen persons reside in his house, that the drainage is poor on his property, and that a sewer is needed.

At 8:15 the Board took a recess for committee meetings. The recess was shorter than usual, ending at 9:10, when the meeting of the Board was resumed. A report was received from the Claims and Rules Committee recommending no action necessary on Alderman Cronin's motion for revision of the city ordinances which provide for compensation of firemen or policemen disabled while in discharge of duties. Cronin said that he agreed with the recommendation of the committee on the advice of the City Solicitor. He mentioned that the General Laws of the Commonwealth provide for dealing with cases of firemen or policemen who are disabled while on duty, and whose disability lasts for longer than three months, the period now specified by Newton ordinances as the limit for which full pay can be given to firemen and policemen in this city.

Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, recommended that leave to withdraw be given to the petition of the Equitable Mortgage Trust by Albert E. Scott, for changing the real estate known as the Soule property at Walnut pk. and Washington st. from private residence zone to general residence zone. Rawson said that most property owners on Walnut pk. and Jewett st. object to the change, the petition is not in the interest of the public, and it looks like another case of an outside speculative builder coming in to make a development out of harmony with a neighborhood. The Board voted to accept the Committee's recommendation.

The claim of J. H. Burke for damage to his automobile caused by a limb falling on it opposite 31 Waverley ave., Newton, was refused. Inspection of the tree from which the limb fell showed no decay, and the damage was caused by an act of God, according to the Aldermen. A claim from Martha Ingraham for expense involved in registering property lines on Meadowbrook rd., Oak Hill, at the Land Court, was also refused. Leave to withdraw was given to the petition of Daniel Cetrone for the laying out of Buswell pk., Newton, as a public way.

Alderman Brocklesby moved that the city acquire by right of eminent domain a parcel of land on the east side of Grove st., Auburndale, near the Boston & Albany overhead rail-

Is Your Will Up To Date?

Once made, your Will should not be regarded as a permanent document, good for all times.

The shrinkage in the size of many estates, the recent increase in federal estate taxes and oftentimes changes in the family needs suggest only a few reasons for frequent review of its provisions.

Our new booklet "Preserving the Net Worth of Your Estate" explains how you can provide maximum protection for your family. Ask for your copy.

THE LIVES OF OUR CITIZENS

The action of the Aldermen on Monday night in appointing a committee to confer with the Mayor in an attempt to devise methods of reducing the automobile accidents in Newton should meet with hearty approval of all Newton citizens. It is obvious that something must be done to minimize the dangers which have resulted in fourteen fatalities in the eleven months of this year. It is also obvious that more efficient enforcement of existing laws can be accomplished by a greater number of motorcycle officers. An increase in the number of motorcycle patrolmen means an increase in the appropriation of public moneys. We believe that the time has come when the citizens of Newton would willingly pay the cost of additional safety in return for the greater protection afforded.

A SPLENDID RECORD

The achievement of the 1936 Community Chest campaign in raising ninety-three per cent of the goal sought is a most splendid record. It seems highly probable that the few thousands necessary to reach the desired amount will be forthcoming in the clearing up of belated reports, ultimate contact with previously unsolicited citizens, and the receipt of further pledges of financial support. Newton and its social welfare institutions and its character building organizations can again say, "Newton, there she stands."

Our Lady Alumni Plans January Minstrel Show

The dramatic club of the Alumni Association of Our Lady's Church, Newton, contemplates staging a Minstrel Show as its initial public venture. Tentative plans are being made and it is hoped that with the co-operation of the general Alumni body, the show may be staged in late January, 1937.

A Minstrel Show has never been portrayed in the Newton Parish and the dramatic club under the direction of its president, Miss Helen Cahill, feel that it would be a worthy attraction and bring out much latent talent in the Alumni Association.

In connection with the above, a meeting will be held in the High School Auditorium on Thursday evening, December 3rd, to which all members of the Alumni interested in this proposed minstrel show are asked to attend. At that time, ways and means of staging the show will be discussed and arrangements for rehearsals scheduled.

A large and appreciative audience attended the lecture given by the Hon. Maurine Leahy last Sunday evening in the High School Auditorium. In addition to the lecture, a vocal and instrumental program was presented by Mr. Francis and Mr. George Lynch, of West Newton. This presentation was the initial offering sponsored by the Francis Thompson Literary Club of the Alumni Association.

ANNUAL CHURCH BAZAAR

The annual bazaar to be held by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Cline Memorial Methodist Church, will be at the church on Hartford at Newton Highlands, on December 3rd, from two until ten p. m.

There will be all kinds of articles for sale, including candy, ice cream, groceries, cakes, pies, and all sorts of fancy articles, enabling many people to select some of their gifts for Christmas giving. There will be plenty of prizes for the children. A supper is to be served at six-thirty.

MOTHERS' REST ASSOCIATION

At the November Meeting of the Mothers' Rest Association of Newton Plans were discussed for the annual winter activity. The affair this year promises to be of unusual interest and will be held at the Newton Centre Women's Club. You are urged to reserve, Wednesday, January 27, for this event. Watch for further announcements.

Aldermen Act To Lessen Accidents

road bridge. This parcel contains about five acres. Brocklesby said it should be acquired for use as a playground for that section. His motion was seconded by Alderman Cronin. President Floyd referred the matter to the Public Works Committee. Such a recommendation must come from the Mayor.

Alderman Cronin moved that the Waban-Cleveland circle bus line have its terminus changed from in front of the fire station on Beacon st. to the bridge at the Charles River in Newton Lower Falls. Cronin said that many more passengers would be served by such a change, that the buses now have a wait of about 15 minutes at Beacon st., where there are few passengers, and the change would redound to the advantage of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company. He moved that this matter be referred to the Franchise and Licenses Committee and a report be made at the December 14 meeting of the Board.

Alderman Guzzi inquired regarding the study of the two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Department. Alderman Walker, speaking for the committee which has been making the study, said that it had held several conferences with the Mayor, has inspected proposed sites for consolidation of fire companies, and expected to meet with Mayor Childs this week.

Appropriations made at the meeting included—Election expenses, $700; Registrars of Voters, $100; Relief of Poor, $10,000; Soldier's Relief, $3500; Street Department, office expenses, $550; Water Department, new main in Brook st., $1570; main in Alexander rd., $1210; main in Maplewood ave., $1010; main on Beacon st. near Cousens circle, $2655; mains on Burdett rd. and other streets, $4785; sidewalk on Mayflower rd., $2160.

way of combatting monopolies. But Mr. Campbell warned—it is not a political organization. It is purely non-political, non-partisan and undenominational.

In 1935 the CCC built one million dollars worth of buildings in this country for the use of consumer co-operative headquarters.

In 1932 there were 6 co-ops in Chicago. Today there are 41. These were started by Robert Overstreet, son of the psychologist. "Tasting" parties were inaugurated to select quantity and quality. From 8 per cent to 40 per cent has been saved by this method.

In Gary, Indiana, there is a population of 20,000 Negroes, 50 per cent of whom were unemployed during the depression. They got together and started a co-operative in the cellar of a house under the direction of a high school teacher who was himself a Negro. They started with $24.00. Now they have the largest Negro-owned store in the country.

Mr. Campbell explained how what are known as credit unions have been established through the co-operative system enabling co-op members to borrow money for emergencies at a very low interest. Far less than what banks and private loan companies demand.

There are now 4,500 credit unions in this country, and through them $2,000,000 worth of insurance has been brought to members.

Mr. Campbell expressed his hope that soon the co-operative movement would go as far in this country as it has gone in Finland. He said that it is largely due to this system that Finland was able to pay her war debt to the U. S. Today there are only 206 people unemployed in Finland. Sweden's unemployment has dropped from 12 to 1 per cent since the movement began. These countries are now largely free of monopolistic control and they have no anti-trust laws, the speaker said.

In 1860, 40 per cent of the farms in Denmark were under absentee ownership. Today the percentage has fallen to 4 per cent.

England, last year, paid $120,000,000 back to the members of its co-operatives. In short, Mr. Campbell concluded, "We have discovered a system of mass distribution whereby the proceeds go back to the owners instead of to capital."

Annual Sale of Health Seals

Appeals Sent to Twelve Thousand Homes

From Thanksgiving to Christmas is the period set aside each year for the nation-wide sale of Christmas Health Seals, the income from which is for remedial and preventive work in tuberculosis.

In Newton, sheets of seals have been sent to practically twelve thousand homes, with letters asking that if possible the seals be purchased, so that our city may be able to continue and augment the work which means investment in health and encouragement to many who need the aid made possible only through the response to this appeal. The largest amount expended is for the children who are sent to health camps, but last year twelve hundred dollars was expended for milk sent to the homes where it could not otherwise have been supplied and where it was sorely needed to aid in strengthening resistance to disease. These two items of expense, together with allowances for other relief work necessary in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, call for serious consideration and generous cooperation on the part of our residents.

The actual work of conducting the sale in the city is done by a committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury is chairman, and Mrs. H. Reginald Bankart is vice chairman. For the different sections of the city the following are in charge: Auburndale, Mrs. R. W. McKenzie; West Newton, Mrs. Albert C. Blunt; Newton Centre, Miss Grace L. Rogers; Newton, Mrs. Bertha G. Secord; Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Ernest F. Doyle; Newtonville, Mrs. David E. Hill; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; Waban, Mrs. Frank Voorhees; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Horace E. Jacobs; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Harold Buse, and Chairman of Publicity, Mrs. Robert S. Bowen.

Newton is relieved of forming an anti-tuberculosis association and the overhead expense is maintained at a minimum because an organized association, the Newton Welfare Bureau handles this health work, and its Health Committee decides upon the policies to be followed.

In a campaign covering so many names, it is hardly possible that someone may be overlooked. Upon request, the local chairman will be very glad to supply seals or to increase the number inclosed with the letter. If instructions in the letter are followed and an early reply is made, the work of the chairman will be greatly helped.

Village Players To Open Season With Comedy

The fourteenth season of the Village Players opens on Friday and Saturday, December 4th and 5th, at 8.15 o'clock at the Unitarian Parish Playhouse with the romantic comedy "Fresh Fields". This play was presented last year for the first time in London, and later in New York where it was most successfully played with Margaret Anglin in the leading part.

Mrs. Wesley Dynes is directing the play and Mrs. H. Thaxter Spencer has charge of the production. The cast includes Mrs. Willard F. Richards, Misses Doris Gilbert, Barbara Crossley, Mollie Draper, Muriel Pearce, Eleanor Hall, Mr. Henry Irving Dale, George Jamison and Donald Gibbs. The stage will be in charge of Misses Charlotte Peterson and Alison Thorogood, and Mr. George F. Brewer and his staff are busy in the Workshop preparing the scenery. Others working for this production are Misses Virginia Townsend and Harriet Gray, properties; Miss Hannah Bond, costumes; Mrs. James Mitchell, make-up; Mr. Clifford Lightner; Mrs. Mabel M. Webber, auditorium; Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell, programs; Mrs. Frank A. Mason, tickets.

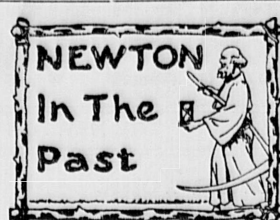

A large addition in membership is expected this year according to Mrs. Ellis Spear Jr. who has charge of subscriptions, and many new patrons have been added to the list, indicating a wider interest in the work of the organization. The veteran members of the Board of Directors have obtained reinforcements and all are working together to keep up the reputation of Newton as a place where the finest traditions of the stage are upheld. The President is William M. Blatt, a lawyer of prominence in Boston, whose interest in the theatre is well known. Others on the Board are Mrs. H. Thaxter Spencer, Vice-President, Mrs. Frank A. Mason, Secretary, Rupert C. Thompson Jr., Treasurer, and Mrs. William H. Brackett, George F. Brewer, Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Wesley Dynes, Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell and Mrs. Ellis Spear Jr. Later in the season, it is planned to have a number of other meetings where members may meet each other, and at which popular professionals will be invited to attend and speak.

H. B. Remick With Basley Lumber Co.

Roy S. Edwards President of the Basley Lumber Co., Newtonville, has announced the appointment of Mr. Homer B. Remick as vice-president and director of sales for his company.

Mr. Remick, a life long resident of Newton, comes to the Basley Company with an extensive and successful career in the retail lumber industry. For many years he was associated with the late Mr. Frank Lucas as mill superintendent. For the past several years Mr. Remick has been connected with the Curtis & Pope Lumber Co. as general manager of their Newton Yard. Mr. Remick and family live at 27 Sharon ave., Auburndale.

The new city hall, completely adapted to the needs of this young city, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Tuesday evening. The whole building was brilliantly illuminated and the public thoroughly inspected it. All seemed pleased with the whole arrangement. At 8 o'clock the Mayor called the assembly in the upper hall to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Patrick of Ward 3. Newton City Band gave some stirring music. Rev. Mr. Tarbox read an original poem. Alderman Rice, chairman of the committee on Public Property gave a report and Mayor Hyde delivered a lengthy address in which he told of the growth of Newton.

Now is the time to purchase snow shovels; before the next storm.

A splendid rain Monday night; second snowstorm of the season Monday forenoon. The springs may yet be filled before the ground freezes.

Business in the police department in Ward 1 begins to be lively as winter comes on. Twenty-two lodgers and five arrests at Station 1 last week. All the arrests were for drunkenness. Why do people get drunk so much more now? Two of them were regularly at work on week days, but could not get over Sunday without making a disturbance. Another makes a regular practice of a "Sunday drunk," but usually keeps quiet and escapes arrest. Judge Slocum imposed a fine of $3 and costs on each case.

The Newton Athenaeum is to be revived, and the meetings for discussion and debate, formerly so acceptable, will commence with new life in City Hall December 8. We have no doubt but a large audience will be in attendance.

Editor Newton Republican:

Various plans for securing water for Newton have been submitted, but the one most prominently before the public is the "Sawyer plan." We question the wisdom of this plan although the water committee has reported in its favor. We think the city can secure water at less expense and at equal advantage by some other plan.

Boston has already taken measures to obtaining a water supply from the Charles River. It is not Boston's first attempt in this direction. Failure has heretofore overtaken her in such efforts because of the opposition of Newton and other towns, they wishing to obtain water for themselves from the river. Waltham is already supplied from the Charles; Newton must be so long. There is no other available source unless the Sudbury river supply be accepted by this city, in which case water might be obtained from the Boston conduit, provided Boston is willing.

A better way is to unite with Boston in the project of taking water from the Charles River above South Natick, paying our proportional share of the expense of the works; said share to be based on the amount of water consumed. In this way the expense to Newton would be much less than by water works of her own, and the amount needed could be almost indefinitely increased with little expense. Crystal Lake could be made a reservoir for the supply of low pressure pipes and could easily be kept full. Let us have the Charles River in connection with Boston, taking the water from South Natick where it is pure, and not lower down the stream (at Upper Falls) where there are objectionable ingredients. (Signed) PRO BONO PUBLICO.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, November 27, 1886

It is hoped that electric lights in Newton will be ready for Christmas.

The High School boys had a "hare-and-hound" run on Thanksgiving morning. Potter of '87 and Smith of '88 were the hares and were given a 4 minutes start. A dozen or more hounds followed and the run took in Newton Highlands, Upper Falls, Waban, Woodland and Auburndale. The hares proved too fleet and came in about 10 minutes ahead. The course covered about 10 miles.

The Boston University eleven played a game of Rugby with the Newton High School eleven last Saturday at the Magnolia grounds, Watertown street, Newtonville. The former won 8 to 0, but as they were bigger than their opponents, the high school boys did well to keep the score down. Several serious accidents happened during the game.

The Nonantum Worsted Company gave all their office help, overcoats, second-hands and married men in their employ fat turkeys for Thanksgiving. This company also gave away this fall many loads of wood to worthy poor.

Now it is suggested to widen Beacon street at Newton Centre and Newton Highlands to make room for the proposed horse railroad track. What next? Cart off all the snow as fast as it falls, and give the citizens sleighing on bare ground.

A few nights since the hen house of Patrick Kenney at Lower Falls was raided and nine hens stolen. Within two days all but one returned and the inference is that they had not been far away.

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

Several weeks ago we suggested that some action be taken by Mayor Childs and the Newton Board of Aldermen to make traffic conditions safer on Newton streets. We repeated this suggestion last week in referring to 14 fatalities caused so far this year in this city by automobiles. Action was taken this week — by the Aldermen. At the regular meeting of the Board on Monday night, Alderman Hill of Ward 2 moved that a committee be appointed to confer with the Mayor so that provisions may be made in next year's budget for the appointment of additional traffic officers, for more traffic signals at dangerous traffic places in this city, if it is deemed that either of these measures is expedient, or to take whatever means may be considered practical to lessen the danger to motorists in Newton. Alderman Hill's motion was passed and a committee of three appointed to confer with Mayor Childs.

Since the GRAPHIC was published last Friday more serious automobile accidents have occurred in Newton and more pedestrians have been critically injured. On Sunday night at 7.14 as Mary Donagan, 56, was crossing Washington st. from Church st. toward Jewett st., she was hit by a car driven by a young Arlington man. She received a probable fracture of the skull, broken ribs and other injuries which have since caused her to be on the danger list at the Newton Hospital. In past years at least three pedestrians have been killed while crossing Washington st. near Jewett st. We have repeatedly urged that a pedestrian traffic signal be placed at this point so that persons may cross the street without being struck down by the speeding automobiles which come along Washington st. in large numbers.

Another aged victim of automobiles, Prof. Harry H. Powers, 76, of 82 Church st., Newton, was critically injured about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning when he was struck by an automobile while walking alongside his property on Centre st., near Church st. Unlike other elderly persons who have been recently hit by automobiles in this city, Prof. Powers cannot be accused of having run in front of the car, as the vehicle hurtled across the sidewalk before it hit him. Newton people feel added resentment because of this casualty, as Mr. Powers was hit while on his way to the attractive garden site on which he has spent many thousands of dollars to provide Newton with a beauty spot.

We still contend there are two effective ways to make Newton streets safer for traffic. First, more motorcycle policemen to patrol the principal speedways of the city day and night, and less fixing of cases for autoists who violate automobile and traffic laws. We realize that policemen cannot errate, motorcycles during winter months when streets are covered with snow and ice. But, traffic officers could be provided with automobiles during these months and patrol such speedways as Washington, Watertown, Boylston and Beacon sts., and Commonwealth ave., as well as other principal streets of the city. We have driven motor vehicles for many years and feel assured that there is no more effective curb on speeders and reckless drivers than the knowledge that traffic officers are patrolling highways. Setting a trap for a day or two after an accident occurs is ridiculous. As soon as the police stop operating the trap, speeding and dangerous driving are renewed. Traffic signals afford protection only in their immediate vicinity. Autoists of the "speeder" type only drive faster after passing a traffic signal to make up for the time lost at the signal, or step on the gas in an effort to pass a signal before the red light shows.

When allegedly law-abiding citizens in Newton and elsewhere will cease using their influence to have cases "fixed," policemen will become more zealous in apprehending those who violate traffic laws, and when a policeman makes a complaint against an offender, that person will be brought into court. And if public opinion demands it, law enforcement officials, other than policemen, will be forced to cooperate in making this country's highways safer. When the people demand it, the laws will be enforced and murders and maiming by automobiles curbed.

The Republicans of Newton made a commendable change this year in connection with the city election. The Republican Ward and City Committees are not endorsing any of the candidates of the various candidates. Some small groups of Democrats, members of various Ward Committees, have gone the opposite direction and have endorsed candidates, thus attempting to nullify the non-partisan character of our city elections. Such endorsements will not have much effect. The contests, especially those for Ward Aldermen, will be settled by the personal strength of the various candidates. It is amusing to observe one young politician placing so much stress on party loyalty. This young man was not so militant in his loyalty to the Democratic party last winter when a bill was before the Legislature which would have wiped out the only Democratic Ward in Newton—Ward 1. Although the chairman of the Democratic City Committee of Newton spoke in opposition to the bill at a Legislative hearing, the alleged, militant young Democrat Alderman we refer to favored the bill.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Day-After Reflections

It is not difficult to find considerable reference matter on the origin of Thanksgiving Day but I have encountered little to guide me in learning who conceived the idea of elaborating the bill of fare for that great festival. Such a thought invariably presents itself the day after Thanksgiving. There used to be a solemn formula called "turkey and waffles" but even that new dish was added until about everything the culinary art could produce had been put before us. And each succeeding year new edibles are planned. Will there ever be a limit reached? When will it stop? Far be it from me to discourage those who try annually to make Thanksgiving Day dinners more and more extensive.

On this, the day after, the thought occurs to me that we eat too much. Within a month, or by next year, I shall not feel so troubled over the problem.

Way Up High

We are told that the moon is to register an apulse on Sunday Dec. 27. Now I have abiding faith in compositors but I should not scold if they happened to slip on that word "apulse" for the word "apulse" is a highly modern way to spell apple-sauce. That may be only further evidence of my general lack of intelligence. They say the ignorant shy at learning so I may be classifying myself in the present instance. The coming apulse, according to scientists, means that the moon will blush. Possibly I should be doing that very thing for the display of stupidity herewith set forth. Nevertheless, the passage of the moon through the penumbra or outer ring of the earth's shadow is something I am looking forward to, or shall I say upward to?

The whole thing has reawakened my interest in astronomy. Now I have always heard there was a man in the moon, also that a moon could be like some cities on the liquor question—first "wet" and then "dry"—and further, as has been averred, that the moon is made of green cheese. They say the apulse is to give a copper color to the moon. Well, that will be fashionable as complexion goes. And they stress the need of fair weather. For my part I hope it will be fine and clear because the moon, if it wants to put on a show, should be given a chance and Earth not permitted to hog the stage.

Worth Thinking Over

The sight of a group of boys racing through an old barn caused me to turn back to my own youth and memories of similar antics. In those days there were "neighborhood gangs" but the phrase had not the sinister implication it now possesses. Boys of a particular section found fun together. Possibly they went too far on occasions but seldom were they guilty of criminal intent or out-and-out crime. Today we shudder when "gangs" are mentioned.

Dilapidated buildings invite dangers, the chief of which is fire. As the youngsters like to play games where the ancient structure becomes a hide-out you cannot expect to keep them away from unoccupied buildings that have passed their prime. Too bad, though, that the modern amusement of juveniles must demand ruthless destruction of property. Possibly it always has, but if that is true why isn't this a good time to put a stop to it?

Another Visit to the Poles

A municipal election is on its way for Newton voters. Here and there rumblings are heard of aldermanic contests. Some are loud, but whether there is more than sound to them remains to be proved. At any rate, no one has suggested a straw ballot on the outcome and that's something for which we should be extremely grateful.

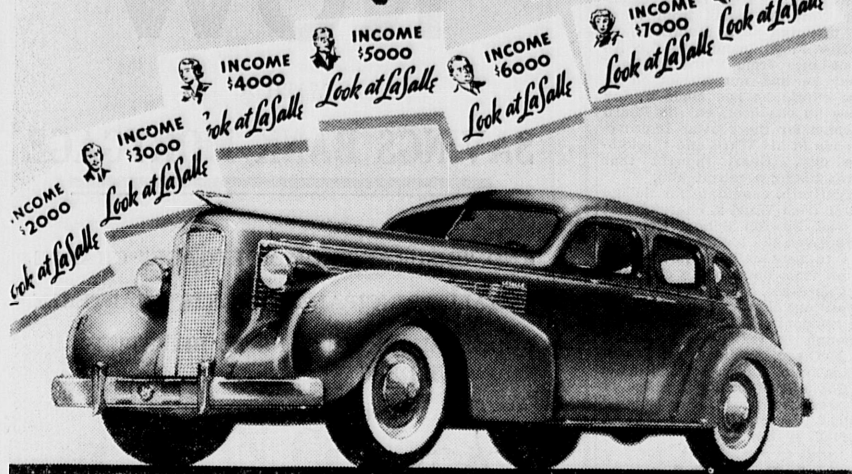

Hints to Santa Claus

A desire to be helpful prompts me to remind my friends of something important, highly so, if you ask me, in connection with Christmas gifts. No, I am not to tell how you may fashion with your own hands an article that will please the recipient all the more because of that fact. Neither would I offer suggestions as to what is most suitable as a gift for one's mother, sister or girl friend or what would please Aunt Nellie or Uncle Jim. My idea is to help those who wish to help themselves.

The plan I submit requires employment of a little skill but the effort should prove worth while. Suppose you were to say, even if it were drawing the long bow a trifle, "I have been invited to take part in Winter sports at the Dissey's camp at Intervale but if I accept I shall have to buy skis, snowshoes, togs and things which I don't feel I can afford." Here is a subtle way of getting your wishes before the rest of the family. Some member will make a mental note of your statement and later whisper to the others, "Did you hear that? Why don't we get together and buy her that outfit."

The scheme is an elastic one, not alone because of truth-stretching involved, and may easily be applied to circumstances other than Winter sports. Of course, it is a matter of expediency and in offering the plan I assume that any who resort to it are naturally quick-witted.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

Castoldi Star Of Newton Win

jured. Castoldi fumbled, giving Brookline the ball at the line of scrimmage. But a short pass was wild and a major penalty set Brookline back. O'Neill punted to the Newton 20-yard line. Castoldi kicked on second down, Murray running back fifteen yards to mid-field. Two end sweeps lost ground, and O'Neill kicked to Castoldi, who was dropped at the Newton 47. Paul Forte gained only two yards on a wide sweep, and hurt his leg on the play. He was replaced by Bud Hines.

On the next exchange of kicks, Newton almost scored. Castoldi kicked from outside the Brookline seven-yard line, and O'Neill at once punted for Brookline. Castoldi got the ball at the 40 yard strip and returned it down the sideline to Brookline's 3-yard line, but a clipping penalty set Newton back at the 38-yard line, where the march for the first touchdown began. Hines was stopped on an end sweep, but Castoldi knifed through tackle for a first down at the 27. A lateral pass, Hines receiving, lost ground. Seth Fitchet hit the right side of the line hard for a gain of fifteen yards to Brookline's eleven-yard line. Bud Hines then made for the right sideline on an end run, cutting back just in time to nick the corner of the end zone for a touchdown. Guido Castoldi kicked a perfect placement between the posts, Fitchet holding the ball, and Newton led 6-0.

Fitchet Scores on Interception

Castoldi kicked off, the ball going into the end zone for a touchback. Brookline started at the twenty-yard line and crossed into Newton territory under their own power for the first time. Hofer and High carried for a first down in two stabs at the right side of the Newton line. A sky-high forward pass grabbed by Capt. Murray on the Newton 45-yard line gave Brookline adherents a lift, but on the next play Brookline's southpaw passer popped a short toss right into the hands of Seth Fitchet, who had a clear field before him, running fifty yards to the goal line. Castoldi's placekick was low, and Newton led 13-0.

Castoldi kicked off for the third time, and the receiver came back fifteen yards to the Brookline 36-yard mark. Bernard Duffy and George Hutchings entered the game in the Newton line. Two line plays made five yards only, and O'Neill kicked to Castoldi, who stepped out side at the Newton 40. Edgar Romilly, Philip Enegess and Lincoln Morton went into the Newton line, Romilly at end and the others at the guard positions. Castoldi hit right tackle for a fifteen-yard jaunt into Brookline territory as the first period ended.

Second Period

There was no further scoring for Newton in the first half. Newton was hard pressed for a time in the second quarter, but staved off the Brookline score once, then weakened momentarily to yield a touchdown on the runback of a punt. They then started a march that threatened the visitors' goal as the half ended. Guido Castoldi made seven yards. Starting at the Brookline 45, Castoldi picked up seven yards, but a loss on a reverse lateral on the next play offset the gain. Guido got off a quick kick to Brookline's 34-yard line. Brad Thompson broke up a running play, and O'Neill kicked long and low to Guido, who ran it back in no uncertain manner to the Brookline 40, a weaving run of 25 yards. A third-down pass, Castoldi to Fitchet, failed, and John Fitzgerald hurried off a high short kick. On third down, O'Neill kicked, and Brookline recovered the ball after it had touched Castoldi at the Newton 23. Brookline was penalized 15 yards. Brad Thompson spoiled a lateral pass play, and Castoldi knocked down a forward, but a combined forward and lateral made fifteen yards. A pass was knocked down in the end zone, and Newton took possession at the twenty.

Castoldi hit the right side for seven yards, then wriggled through for a first down at right end. But McMullin and Fred Fisher entered the Newton backfield. On third down, Castoldi got off a low punt across the field, and O'Neill gathered it in on the run, tearing straight down the sideline for 60 yards and a touchdown without opposition. On the second attempt for the extra point, High was run out, bounds on an end sweep, and Newton led 13-6. Balkus, Caruso and Pescosolido entered the game for Newton. The half was nearly over, but Castoldi got away on another beautiful run. Starting from the 35-yard line after the kickoff, Guido hit the right side of the line, found it blocked, and swung wide around the end, going all the way to the Brookline 40 before the red and blue forces overhauled him. On fourth down, Guido made first down by inches with a line buck. Fitchet carried to the Brookline 22-yard line as the half ended.

Third Period

Newton scored again on the penultimate play of the third period, as Guido Castoldi eased his way through the uncertain Brookline left side and sprinted 80 yards to a touchdown. Brookline had a fine chance to score again when four successive penalties and a bad kick gave them the ball 12 yards from the Newton goal, but they were unable to press the advantage. There were five exchanges of kicks during the period. Newton made a first down and reached their own 45, then kicked to the Brookline 28. A long kick in return was carried 30 yards to mid-field by Guido, but a penalty set Newton back on the 28. Castoldi's next boot hit a Brookline

COACH HARLOW TO SPEAK AT HIGH SCHOOL

Coach Dick Harlow of the Harvard varsity football team will be the speaker at the boys' assembly at the high school on Dec. 2nd. Coach Harlow rarely accepts an invitation to speak and it is only through a friendship with Don Enoch, Newton teacher and track coach, that the Newton boys were assured of this treat. Harlow was the first coach that Enoch had as a football candidate at Penn State some fifteen or twenty years ago.

FRESHMAN WITTENS WINS FROM U. OF P. CAPTAIN

Warren Wittens, former Newton high track star and hurdle champion, is now a freshman at the University of Pennsylvania. In a recent fall track meet, Wittens breezed over the 220-yard low hurdles to defeat Captain Steele of the Penn team in a scratch race. Wittens' former mentor, Coach Enoch, has high hopes that the former schoolboy champ will be an I. C. A. A. A. titleholder before his college education is completed.

blocker and was recovered by Cowell at the Brookline 48. Guido kicked again, Cowell making the tackle at the Brookline 15. The return kick went out at the 48. Newton fumbled and Brookline recovered. A Brookline kick stopped so close to the Newton goal that an official who pried it from under the Brookline boy who covered the ball was giving Newton a real break to call it a touchback. Newton then drew four successive penalties, and Castoldi kicked from under the goalpost, the ball going outside at the 12-yard line. Third and fourth-down passes were spooled in the end zone, and Newton took the ball at the 20. On an exchange of kicks, Brookline's boot carried over the goal, and Newton again was on the 20. At this point came Castoldi's long sprint. He ground through right tackle in second gear, then shifted into high and kicked mud into the faces of his pursuers all the way to the other end of the field, where he planted the ball for the third touchdown. He then place-kicked another point, making the score 20-6. Brookline tried a lateral on the ensuing kickoff, but gave the play away beforehand. The third quarter ended with this play, Brookline holding the ball on their own 32.

Fourth Period

Brookline gained eight on a successful pass, but lost ten on a shovel pass or lateral. High's kick was returned to the Brookline 40 by John Fitzgerald. Fitz then kicked out at the 18-yard line. Don Forte made a characteristic streamlined tackle to stop the next Brookline attempt behind the line, and Cowell also threw one for a loss. O'Neill kicked out to Red Dexter at the Newton 32. Stan Soloski, wearing a leather boot, was in the Newton backfield at this juncture. Castoldi returned to the game. Brookline took the ball on downs at the 25. After two forwards failed, a lateral finally clicked, giving Brookline a first down at the 35, and a penalty on Newton jumped the ball up to mid-field. Three plays netted six yards, and High kicked to Castoldi at the Newton 18. Guido's attempted kick was partially blocked, and Newton was lucky to recover the ball with a gain of two yards. Guido again stood back in kicking position, but coolly picked out a pair of receivers down the field and flipped a pass that Stan Gruber hauled in at the Newton 40. Gruber had one intertortery and the Brookline safety to worry him, but neither got in his way as he lit out for the goal, and he covered the sixty intervening yards in good time. The placekick was bad, and the score became 26-6. Two intercepted passes spelled the end of a bad morning for Brookline. Don Forte pulled one down at the Brookline 40, and five plays later big Bill Loud gathered one in at the Newton 40, just before the end of the game. In between these two plays, a Brookline back made a one-handed circus catch of a long pass for a gain of 25 yards to the Newton 38 yard line. The game lagged until nearly one o'clock with the result that some of the spectators left before the last Newton touchdown was recorded.

West Newton Man Killed At Boston

William J. Neil, 66, of 1073 Washington st., West Newton, a car inspector for the Boston & Albany railroad, was killed by a train while crossing tracks near Dartmouth st., Boston on Wednesday morning. He had been a resident of West Newton for many years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary (Rydzofski) Neil. His funeral service will be held Saturday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

Drove Truck With Poor Brakes, Fined

As a result of a collision between a truck and a car at West Newton square several weeks ago, Fred Talive of Springfield and Robert Tonti of Boston, owner and operator respectively of the truck, were each fined $15 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday. The car which the truck hit was driven by Alderman John Brocklesby of Auburndale. He and his wife reported having received injuries in the collision.

Dramatic Presentation To Be Given at Centenary Church

On Sunday evening at 7:45 p. m. the final message of the Week of Joy will be given in the Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale. Dr. A. Eugene Bartlett, the Joy Maker, will appear clad in the costume of the First Century, and impersonate a man of Christ's time. He will tell of meeting Him as a boy and how through many and varied experiences he came at last to love and serve Him. It is dramatic and beautiful and has been given to large audiences in many large churches of the country.
At the morning service at 10:45 a. m. Dr. Bartlett will speak on the theme, "The Joy of a New Advance." At 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Bartlett will address the combined Young People's Societies on "Dreams That Come True."

BOY SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY

The regular monthly meeting of the Mothers' Auxiliary of the sixth Norumbega Group of Boy Scouts was held last week Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Hartley Stackhouse, 64 Oak Cliff rd., Newtonville. Mrs. Frederick Conkle, state program chairman of the Indiana Parent-Teachers Association, gave a most interesting talk.

The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 16 in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Allen, 94 Berkshire rd., Newtonville. Mayor Childs will be the guest speaker.

Sunday Evening Club To Present Three-Act Comedy

"Meet Uncle Sally," a three-act comedy to be presented by the Sunday Evening Club of Newtonville, December 11th and 12th at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, has been cast and is in rehearsal.

The play is being coached by Mrs. R. W. Colburn, and the cast includes: Harriet Bergonzoni, Nancy Osterberg, Eunice Copeland, Elizabeth Adams, Eleanor Kent, Dorothy Schipper, Robert Frye, John Kennigott, Willard Wentworth, Howard Vosburgh, Phillip Margolin, and Alvin Whitmore.

Dr. J. H. Lathrop of Brooklyn To Speak At West Newton

At the second meeting of the Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign held Monday evening at the West Newton Unitarian Church, the following officers, all of West Newton, were chosen: Jeanne D. Bachrach, Chairman; Barbara Livermore, Secretary, and David Marshall, Treasurer.

Committees, headed by these Chairmen, were appointed:
Publicity—Doris Jones, West Newton.
Drama—Austin Berkley, Newton Centre.
Books—John Crocker Bond, West Newton.
Political—Stephen Muther, Newton Centre.
Debunking—Frederic P. Kimball, Dedham.

The first public lecture which the Newton Youth Section is sponsoring, will be on Tuesday evening, December 8th. Dr. John Howard Lathrop, Minister of the Church of the Saviour, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the speaker. Dr. Lathrop has been identified perhaps in his best work with the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, and he was very influential in the organization known as "Justice for Religious Minorities in Central Europe."

Any person interested in the promoting of Peace is most cordially invited to this meeting which will be held at 8 P.M. in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Singular Sale Proves Possibilities of Newton Corner

Newton Corner merchants were amazed at the facts disclosed by a sale of a well-known cleansing product, conducted by Campbell Hardware Company for five days ending last Tuesday evening. The name and address of every person making a purchase of the Cleaner were taken and placed in a container. At 6 p. m. Tuesday the names of these purchasers were drawn by Mrs. Johnson, manager of a neighboring store. The name drawn was that of George C. Roy, 61 Park drive, Boston, who was presented with a 23-pound live Tom turkey which had been on exhibition in the Campbell window.

During the drawing the store was filled to capacity with hopeful observers, and an overflow crowd outside the store waited anxiously for the result of the drawing.

Campbell's had a triple purpose in conducting the sale and drawing: First, to determine the trading area of the store; second, to advertise "Oso Clean"; third, to induce customers into the store.

The startling results have convinced the management that Newton Corner is or may well be developed into a live trading centre.

The addresses of purchasers in this sale indicated that 20 towns were represented as well as every section of Newton. It is worthy of note that residents of the following towns interested themselves in the sale: Wellesley, Framingham, Revere, Boston, Dorchester, Waltham, Medway, Wellesley Hills, Jamaica Plain, Everett, Natick, Watertown, Brighton, Brookline, Belmont, Lexington, Arlington, Medford and Dover.

This is the third of a series of sales recently conducted by the Campbell Hardware Company for the purpose of attracting business to Newton Corner. According to a statement by the manager of the Campbell Company the success of the sale demonstrated the value of newspaper publicity and advertising as well as the attention a well-planned window display will attract.

They're At It Again!

Martha Raye and Bob "Bazooka" Burns, starred in "The Big Broadcast of 1937", coming to the Newton Paramount theatre Sunday for four days.

New Microphonic Sound Makes Its Debut at Paramount Sunday

Climaxing months of preparation and planning, the first performance of a motion picture exhibiting all the new sound values of Microphonic Sound will be given Sunday at the Newton Paramount theatre, where the main feature, "The Big Broadcast of 1937" starring Jack Benny and a host of stars, was chosen because it gives dramatic scope to Microphonic Sound.

The program for the opening performance runs the gamut of entertainment ideas, containing romance, spectacle, melody and comedy in full measure. Patrons of the theatre will be able to judge clearly of the amazing improvement in sound values enthusiastically claimed for the new Western Electric Microphonic Sound System now installed. Movie goers who have attended test showings of Microphonic in other cities are enthusiastic about the lifelike reproduction of singing and speaking voices, and all varieties of dramatic sound effects.

"Living Sound", as the effects of the new system have been described, is already working a revolution in the production of new films, those close to Hollywood trends assert. The successes established in recent months by films depending for their dramatic value on massive sound effects are to be followed up by others, exploiting even greater ranges in sound, now that a mechanism has been perfected—Microphonic sound equipment—to present these sound effects with the full naturalness and force of the original.

In addition to the new installation of Microphonic sound at the Newton Paramount, it is also being installed at the Egyptian theatre in Brighton, the Alston theatre, Alston, and the Jamaica theatre in Jamaica Plain.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burns Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burns observed the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Thanksgiving Day. In the morning they attended a high mass at nine o'clock in the Church of Our Lady, Newton, the church in which they were married.

They held open house for their many friends and relatives from three until seven o'clock at their home on Hunnewell circle.

Mr. Burns, who is president of the firm of John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., has contributed in no small measure to the development of the city of Newton in the last half century. He is considered the dean of real estate brokers in the Boston suburbs and still takes an active part in his business.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns have five sons, Thomas H., John T. Jr., Robert J., and Fred W., all of Newton, who are associated in business with their father, and Carl G. Burns of Worcester, and five daughters, Mrs. William J. Gibson of Newton, Mrs. Lawrence F. Manning of Miami, Florida, Mrs. Wallace Odell of West Newton, Mrs. Thomas M. Dillon of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. George M. Thurmond of Newton.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

A long anticipated event took place during the homeroom period on Thursday, November 19, when a Grade 7 Amateur Hour was conducted by William Powers. Vocal solos were given by Dorothy Shaughnessy, Rita Bladasaro, Arthur Whitcomb, Thomas Connolly, Dorothy Art, Anita Florin, and Edith O'Dowd. Duets were sung by the following couples: Mary Balducci and Florence Forest, Lorene Ryatt and Clarissa Johnson, Frederick Pearson and Franklin Minton, Alice Pedozian and Barbara Art, Patricia Richards, and Phyllis Carlton, Betsey Atwood and Moira Sullivan. The instrumental features of the program were provided by piano selections by Helen Manter and Mildred Marks, and a trumpet solo by Walter Nickel. Arthur Nash recited a monologue.

A unique assembly was held on Friday, Nov. 20, under the general direction of Mr. Guy S. Baker. Nearly 100 boys participated in a meet in the gymnasium. Kenneth Bryant and Rockwood Smythe were the winners in the first event, the Horse and Rider Rattle. The respective winners of first and second places of a series of dashes were: Grade 7—Lloyd Howard, room 109, and James McCarthy, room 215; Grade 8—Edward Spellman, room 107, and Edward Casavant, room 213; Grade 9—Francis Olivigni, room 205, and Herbert Pinree, 128. The next feature was a boxing bout between Elmer Dicicco and Edward Spellman. The following boys won the honors in the potato race: Bradford Conrad, room 109 for Grade 7; Robert Walker, room 217, for Grade 8; and Paul Holmes, room 122, for Grade 9.

The winning teams in the walking contest included: Grade 7, Hobart Collins and Robert Farman, room 124; Grade 8, William Byrne and Richard Gleason, room 213; Grade 9, Robert Callant and Harry Romey, room 205. Kenneth Bryant and Charles Collins contested in a wrestling match.

Interesting plans are being formulated for an evening's entertainment to be given on Friday evening, Dec. 11. The 8th Grade Dramatic Club, under the leadership of Miss Anna L. Larabee, is preparing a play entitled "Rasberry Red." A group of western songs will be the contribution of the Girls' Glee Club. Special numbers will be prepared by the girls' physical education department in addition to skits, monologues, and selections by the school orchestra. All friends of the Bigelow Junior High School are invited to be present.

This year, to be on the honor roll is an unusual mark of distinction because never before has it been so difficult an achievement. There are two groups on the honor roll—those who have achieved "I" in effort in every subject and those who have achieved "I" in effort in every subject except one.

The Honor Roll follows:
Seventh Grade: Receiving "I" in effort in all but one subject — Tony Panaggio, Ralph Hart.

Eighth Grade: Receiving "I" in effort in all subjects—James Annicelli, Helen Marks, Charles Paige, Alice Birmingham, Frances Leone, Helen Colan, Virginia Kyle, Louis Manteca.

Receiving "I" in effort in all but one subject — Clara Pescosolido, June Chase, Dorothy Mason, William Thompson, Raymond Keegan, Filomena Palmieri, Frank Brimblecom, John Shadrell, Annie Tocci, Thada Thornton.

Ninth Grade: Receiving "I" in effort in all subjects—Angelina Bibbo, Ganitt Mahan, Alice Matthews, Donald Abbott, John Furley, Betty Greenwood, Loretta Antonellis, Eben Blackett, James Russell, Esther Jalonen, Nina Coletti, John Fairfield.

Receiving "I" in effort in all but one subject — Richard Wright, Ida Land, Barbara Breitekan, Ruth Oliver, Janice Dodd, Raymond Holmes, Rocco Marzilli, Eleanor Facitti, John Sampson, Dorothy Vrehtson, Jacqueline Wilcox, June Crowell, Winlow Jackson, Josephine Salvucci, Maxine Gaddis, Alice Thornton.

Candidates Speak At Rally

A widely advertised rally under the auspices of the Young Republicans Club in the hall of the F. A. Day School on Tuesday night brought 80 persons to the place, 16 of whom were candidates who addressed the other 64. Edgar T. White, president of the club, presided. Alfred Guzzi, candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 3, took umbrage at a remark made by Charles Floyd, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4. Floyd said that he had not attempted to publicize efforts he has made during the years he has been on the Board of Aldermen for the routine improvements made in his Ward and throughout the city. Guzzi thought that Floyd was taking a rap at him.

John McGrath, candidate for School Committee from Ward 2, charged that in the past Newton School Committees have given the highly paid teachers jobs to persons who have come to Newton from outside the city, and outside this State, and the lower salaried positions have been given to Newton residents, if they were fortunate enough to get such positions. Francis McOwen, candidate for School Committee from Ward 5 criticised the School Committee for its practice of holding secret meetings. He claimed that school department data could not be obtained by the public.

Annual Ball Of Newton Policemen

The 22nd annual ball given by the Newton Police Benefit Association will be held at the State Armory, West Newton on Friday evening, December 11th. A concert will be given from 8 to 9 and the grand march will start at 9 o'clock.

Festival At Channing Church Early in December

Miss Margaret S. Ball will be general chairman of the Festival which Channing Church of Newton will hold Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 1st and 2nd. Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson is chairman of the Household Table with the following subchairmen: Mrs. A. R. Welton, Mrs. Wm. H. Darling and Mrs. Arthur J. O'Connor, Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Garden Table; Mrs. Edith Mellus, Bridge Table; Miss Marion A. Bryant, Candy Table; Mrs. Philip Nichols, White Elephant Table; Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Handkerchief and Bag Table. Thanksgiving Day Service At Christian Science Church

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, in gratitude to God, and in accordance with the Proclamation issued by the President of the United States, held its annual Thanksgiving Day service in the church edifice on Walnut street at 10:45 in the morning.

The Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President of the United States was read by Mr. William E. McKee, First Reader.

Following the prelude, the hymn "This is the day the Lord hath made. Be glad, give thanks, rejoice," from the Christian Science Hymnal, was sung by the congregation.

The Thanksgiving Day Lesson Sermon from the Christian Science Quarterly followed the congregational singing of one of Mrs. Eddy's Hymns, "Shepherd, show me how to go. . . How to feed thy sheep."

The Golden Text from Psalms was, "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving."

Mrs. Esther S. Davis, Second Reader, read the Scriptural Selections, and the First Reader the correlative passages from Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

Among the passages from the Bible was that from Colossians: "And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord."

The Science and Health readings included: "We must 'pray without ceasing'."—"The Master's injunction is, that we pray in secret and let our lives attest our sincerity. Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world but known to God—Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings" (p. 15).

The solo by Mrs. Lena Gridley was James G. Macdonald's "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse."

The time allotted for testimonies of gratitude from Christian Scientists in the congregation was completely filled.

"We thank thee and bless thee O Father of us all," from the Hymnal, was sung with spontaneous joy by the congregation, after which the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science textbook (p. 468) and the correlative scripture from 1 John 3:1-3 was read by the First Reader.

"Blessing, glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God forever and ever, Amen." (Revelation 7:12) was the benediction that concluded the meeting.

Miss Mary M. Riddle,
Former Hospital Supt.
Here Dies in Penna.

Funeral services for Miss Mary M. Riddle, R.N., for eighteen years superintendent of the Newton Hospital, who died on Thursday, Nov. 19th, in Muncy, Penna., were held there last Saturday from the home of her niece, Miss Riddle was born in Warriors Run, Penna., eighty years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddle. The family moved to Michigan where she was educated. After teaching school for several years she took up nursing, graduating from the Boston City Hospital Training School in 1889. Until 1904 she was in charge of various departments at the Boston City Hospital, when she was appointed Superintendent of the Newton Hospital. She served in that office until she retired from active work in 1922. During the war she received a leave of absence from Newton and served for some time as superintendent of nurses at Camp Devens.

Miss Riddle was active in many organizations for nurses. She was for many years president of her own nurses' alumni association and in 1902 was elected for the first of three terms as president of the American Nurses Ass'n. She, with two others, called the first nurses together in Boston with a view toward forming an association to work for the registration of nurses by the state. The first mass meeting of the organization was held in Faneuil Hall in 1903. After many attempts the association was successful in 1910 in getting enactment of the registration law by the Legislature. Miss Riddle was the chairman of the first Board of Registration, a position which she held until January 1926. She held a lecturing position at Columbia Teachers College for three years, was a director for the American Journal of Nursing, was on the editorial board of the Modern Hospital Magazine, treasurer of the Isabel Hampton Robb Memorial Fund and of the MacIsaac Loan Fund for more than twenty years, and author of an historical sketch of the Boston City Hospital Training School for Nurses, published in 1928.

Miss Riddle made her home for the past several years with her sister, Mrs. Nancy Gundrum, of Muncy, until the latter's death last April, since which time she resided with her niece, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, of Muncy. She is survived by three nieces, the Misses Elizabeth, Annie and Mary Wilson, of Muncy, and a nephew, Charles Gundrum, of Philadelphia. The Rev. W. F. Steck, a former Lutheran pastor in Muncy, officiated at the funeral services and interment was in the Muncy Cemetery.

WILLIAM E. LOMAX

William E. Lomax of 11 Curve street, West Newton died on November 2. He was born at Beaufort, North Carolina 38 years ago and had been a resident of this city. He was formerly employed at Saco-Lowell Machine Shops and in later years he had been a gardener. Mr. Lomax was president of the Mystic Baptist Sunday School Convention. He is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lomax; two brothers—Prof. E. Lomax, Jr. of West Kentucky College at Paducah, and Chester B. Lomax of West Newton; and a sister, Mrs. Theresa Furr of West Newton. His funeral service was held on Sunday; Rev. Lewis Ford officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

B & A Train Kills
Lower Falls Man

Lawrence M. Horton of 2330 Washington st., Newton Lower Falls was killed Saturday afternoon about 1:40 by a Boston & Albany express train near the Park rd. bridge, Weston, adjoining the Metropolitan golf course. It is supposed that Mr. Horton was taking a short cut to his home after having alighted from a train at Riverside. He was 48 years old and had been employed by a publishing firm in Boston. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen (Swain) Horton; and four sons—Lawrence M. Horton, Jr. of Ipswich, William Richard and Robert Horton of Lower Falls.

Auto Hits Woman
On Washington St.

Miss Mary Donovan, 56, of 150 Church st., Newton, was critically injured last Sunday night at 7:14 when she was hit while walking across Washington st., near the Church st. bridge at Newton by an automobile driven by Harold Milton, 24, of Myrtle Lake drive, Winchester. Miss Donovan was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. It was found that she had fractured ribs and a probable fracture of the skull. Several persons have been killed by automobiles in past years at the point where Miss Donovan was hit, or in the immediate vicinity. Many persons cross Washington st. from Church or Jewett sts. For years demands have been made that a pedestrian signal be installed at this point to give pedestrians some protection from the steady line of automobiles, many of which are operated at high speeds along Washington st. No action, however, has been taken by city officials to safeguard this dangerous crossing.

Kiwanis Club

A Thanksgiving Day celebration was held by the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, November 24, 1936, in typically delightful New England surroundings. Representatives of many other suburban clubs joined in the festivities in the dining room of the Charles River Country Club, and the landscape, so pleasantly visible, with its snow covered grounds, hills, valleys, and trees, added much to the spirit of the occasion.

The guest speaker, Kiwanis International Secretary Fred C. W. Parker, who had made an especial trip from Chicago in observance of the day, gave utterance to the statement that if it had been possible to order the weather, execution could not have been more to his liking. Mr. Parker, who took up his work with Kiwanis in 1921, not because he needed a job but because he saw such possibilities of aiding mankind through the agency of Kiwanis, took for his topic the many reasons why we should today give thanks. The large number present, including Governor Everett Ireland of the New England district, and James P. Gallagher, Kiwanis International Trustee, were much impressed and sincerely grateful to Mr. Parker for the message he conveyed.

Prof. H. H. Powers
Seriously Injured
By Automobile

Prof. Harry H. Powers of 82 Church st., Newton, was seriously injured on Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock when he was hit by an automobile driven by Ellis Sjulander of 138 Beech st., Belmont. The car slewed across Centre st., crossed the sidewalk and pinned Prof. Powers between the automobile and the wire fence on Centre st., near the corner of Church st. The injured man was taken to the Newton Hospital by Edward Theriault, who was passing in an automobile. It was found that several vertebrae in his spine were injured, and his name was placed on the danger list.

The car driven by Sjulander was proceeding south along Centre st. and was in collision with a car driven by Charles Mays of Sutherland rd., Brighton, which was crossing Centre st. from Church st. Inspector Thomas Burke of the Newton police is investigating the matter and court action will be taken against whichever of the drivers is deemed to be at fault.

Prof. Powers, who is 76 years of age, retired some months ago as the head of the Bureau of University Travel. To keep himself occupied he converted the former Utley and Seales estates on Centre st., which he had purchased, into an English garden. He erected an attractive garden house on the property and had expended large sums of money to give Newton a beauty spot at the place. He was on his way to the garden house and conservatory when hit.

Driver Injured
As Trucks Crash

Ralph Salvucci, 21, of Shepard st., Brighton, received a bad gash on his forehead last Friday afternoon when the truck he was driving for Quint the Florist, of Newton Highlands, was hit at Waverley ave. and Cotton st., Newton, by a truck driven by Robert McCormick of 572 California st., Newtonville. The latter truck was owned by the Mandestam Tire Co. of Newton Centre. The collision occurred as the truck driven by Salvucci was about to emerge from Cotton st. onto Waverley ave. Newton police allege that McCormick made a sharp left turn from Waverley ave. onto Cotton st., charging McCormick with driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. McCormick was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until November 27, to permit Salvucci to testify. The latter was taken to Newton Hospital following the accident.

Newton Ctr. Man
Critically Hurt

C. Randolph Bennett, 52, of 57 Morton st., Newton Centre was seriously injured early Tuesday morning when the car he was driving crashed onto the subway exit at Beacon and St. Mary sts., Boston. He received a fracture of the skull and was taken to Boston City Hospital. While being taken to the hospital, the ambulance in which Bennett was riding, was in collision with another automobile.

Red Cross Asks For Books,
Puzzles, Cards, for Veterans

A request is made by the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross for reading matter suitable for adult men; also jigsaw puzzles and playing cards. These in line with the usual custom of the Chapter at this season of the year, are to be distributed at the army and navy posts and hospitals.

During the winter season when patients are confined indoors a good story goes far to ease the tedium. Any books left at 12 Austin st., Newtonville will be carefully distributed. If you are unable to bring or send them, call Newton North 2717 and a member of the Motor Corps will collect them.

P. S. and N. B. More members are needed to give this city proper representation. If you have not joined yet, send in your dollar to 12 Austin st., Newtonville; DO IT TODAY.

P. P. S. Send more than a dollar if you wish. It will be put to excellent use.

ZONTA CLUB

The bimonthly meeting of Newton Zonta Club was held at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman of Mt. Vernon st., West Newton, on Monday evening. Plans for several events for the winter were discussed. In connection with the Zonta International work or International Relations, each member was assigned a European country, the affairs of which she was expected to study and report any interesting facts at each alternate meeting. Mrs. Cora Sadler of Newton Centre is chairman of the local International Relations committee. The International headquarters at Chicago is also asking each club to make surveys of the conditions in their locality in order that constructive service work may be done. Newton Zonta is particularly interested in furthering the education of deserving young people and have several cases under consideration. It was also voted to substantially increase the Zonta pledge to the Newton Community Chest.

Miss Hilga Nelson of the District Nursing Association entertained the club at her apartment on Commonwealth ave. on Wednesday evening. Miss Nelson gave her report as delegate to the International Zonta Convention.

A regular meeting of the Executive Board will be held with Miss Annis Sturges on Monday evening, Nov. 30th at 62 Madison ave., Newtonville.

The next regular meeting will be held at the offices of the District Nursing Association, 297 Walnut st., on Monday, Dec. 7th with Miss Nelson as hostess. The members will give assistance in the packing of Christmas baskets for needy Newton people.

NEWTON HOSPITAL AID

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Dessert-Luncheon, Play, In Honor of New Members

New Members' Day will be observed by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands Tuesday, December 1st. The Membership committee, Mrs. Walter G. Archibald, chairman, invites all members of the Club to a dessert-luncheon at 1:30 p. m., in the crypt of the Congregational Church, to meet the new members. At 2:30 o'clock, "The White Iris" will be presented by the Dramatic committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lloyd Yeager. The Art committee, of which Mrs. Ralph G. Boyd is chairman, announces the Annual Christmas Art Sale will be held December 4th and 5th at the Workshop.

Fashion Show, Dessert-Bridge And Lecture

On November 30th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Waban Neighborhood Clubhouse, Mr. C. Ray Hansen, noted lawyer and criminologist, will speak on "Do We Really Want to Stop Crime," before the Waban Woman's Club. A social hour will follow, with Mrs. Henry Arnold as hostess, and Mrs. Walter Hosley and Mrs. Phillip Warren, pourers at the Tea table. Dr. Laura Hooper, director of Elementary Education, will give the last Talk in her series on Friday morning, December 4th, at 10 a. m., in the Angier Auditorium. She will speak on the subject "How the School of Today Educates Your Child." Members of the Waban Woman's Club are looking forward to Monday, December 7th, when a Dessert-Bridge and Fashion Show will be given at the Clubhouse, with Mrs. Harold Cheney as chairman. Dessert will be served at 1:30 o'clock followed by card-playing. This Fashion Show will be of special interest as it is being sponsored by the Corner Gown Shop of Fall River in which Mrs. Harley Talbot is interested. Miss Ormand will present the Show and any gown modelled that day may be purchased at a discount.

Famous Paintings To Be Posed By Club Members

Advent season with its joyous note and with the perennial thoughts of childhood, and of divinity come to earth, is being ushered in by the Newtonville Woman's Club at the meeting on Tuesday, December 1st, when Mrs. Henry Williams Inman will present "Famous Paintings of Madonnas," posed by Club members. "Fra Angelico angels" will draw the solid curtains, and Hortense Crede Ralback will narrate the stories and legends. Mrs. Inman is well-known as author and producer of pageants. The Glee Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, will sing carols and vocal solos by Sylvia Church Pettys, Ernestine Kyle, and Ethel Keach Ferrin will be enjoyed. "Ave Maria," a violin solo, will be rendered by Anna Kovitz, and Mendelssohn's "Consolation" will be played on the piano by William Ellis Weston, director of the Glee Club. Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, chairman of the Children's party, asks that the call for the collection for that occasion meet with generous response, as the Club hopes to provide its juvenile guests with useful gifts, as well as with appropriate toys. Carrying out the thought of the nativity, in the Art Gallery, Mrs. Frederick W. Ried will show candles arranged by Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Mr. Fred M. Blanchard and Judith Andress. James Bonnar, whose work has attracted much attention, will show some of his Paintings. At the dessert-coffee, hostesses will be Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. George L. Horton, and Miss M. Clara Smith. Mrs. Edward K. Titus will be hostess at the Literature Afternoon to be at her home on Monday, November 30th, at 2:30 o'clock. The Bowling team, Mrs. A. Gordon Wein, captain, will play at the public alley on Bacon street, Newton, on the morning of December 1st. This Team meets once in two weeks. This is an activity arranged by the American Home committee. Members of the Club who would like to join in this interesting sport are welcome to do so, and should notify Mrs. Wine. Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give her Current Events lecture, open to all Club members, on Thursday, December 3rd, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. George I. Whitehead, Mrs. Harold Rice, and Mrs. H. Story Grainger were ushers at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, November 17th. Mrs. Raymond Tucker received the Jellies and old Preen brought for use at the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Ralph W. Conant, corresponding secretary, reported that twenty-eight new members had been received. The president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, in referring to the approaching Children's Christmas Party, said: "It is your Party, and we hope you will attend it, and see the pleasure it gives." Through the skill and kindness of the firemen, used toys are reconditioned by them, and the donors of such were asked to take them to Mrs. Henry E. Johnson or to the Fire Station at an early date. Mrs. Robert E. Bowen, Publicity director of the Christmas Seal Drive

Opportunity To Hear Local Artists In Pleasing Opera

The Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse is the scene these evenings of rehearsals of the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera "Patience," the presentation of which is sponsored by the Music committee of the Club, Mrs. John W. Merrill, chairman. Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Club, is the Dramatic Coach. Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop and Mrs. Annie L. Eastman have charge of the costumes. Mrs. Edward A. Andrews and Mrs. William C. Noetzel are in charge of the stage and stage properties. Mr. D. Ralph MacLean is the Musical Director.

The cast of characters for the opera is as follows: Colonel, P. Nelson Lane; Major, Norman Rochester; Duke, Reginald L. Eastman; Bunthorne, Harry E. Moore; Grosvenor, John Tulloch, Jr.; Solicitor, Guy Gregory; Angela, Gertrude Cumner; Saphir, Dorothy Morse; Ella, Martha Wight; Jane, Emily Reed; and Patience, Marion Merrill.

This sprightly Comic Opera will be given on Thursday and Friday evenings, December 11th and 12th, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Clubhouse of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Tickets will be on sale at the Clubhouse Monday morning, November 30th, and every morning in the week of December 7th, from 10 to 12 o'clock; also before and after the regular Club meeting on the afternoon of December 4th. Every seat is a reserved seat. Mrs. George E. Squier is chairman of the tickets.

Doctor Samuel Macauley Lindsay uses as a basis for the second of his series of lectures on World Affairs his observations during his visits to Russia in the summers of 1931 and 1936. He explains the Russian theory of government, the five-year plan, the character of the Russian leaders, the attitude of the Russian government to religion, the attitude of the Russian people to the government, the commercial situation, the home-life of the people, the health of the nation, and the welfare of children. The date of this lecture is November 30th at 8 o'clock.

This lecture is of vital interest because it reveals Russia of today through the eyes of a trained observer. Tickets for the series may be secured from Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton, or the price of a single admission may be paid at the door of the Clubhouse of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Members of the Club will be admitted upon presentation of their membership tickets. The dates of the other lectures are January 4th, March 1st and April 4th.

On Friday, December 4th, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Cornelia Stratton Parker, well-known author and lecturer, will speak before the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Her subject will be "Fitting into the 1930's," and she will develop it from the viewpoint of blend philosophy, humor, and experience. Her first book, "The American Idyll," written after the passing of her brilliant young husband whose work in Economics she continued, brought her many friends. They have watched with interest her magazine articles appearing in Harper's and the women's magazines, telling of her unique experiences as a worker in factories and in laundries, as a mother of three and as an American in Geneva at the meeting of the League of Nations. Now Mrs. Parker lives in western Massachusetts where she has re-established an old farm house, and has become a farmer.

Guest Night And Supper

Mrs. Harold P. Carver will serve as hostess to the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club at their Supper Meeting on November 30th at 7 p. m. This meeting, which will be a Guest Night, will be held at the home of Mrs. Allen Hubbard, 51 Montvale road, Newton Centre. After the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strauss will lecture on "Paints, Powders, and Make-up for the Stage."

Various Programs Of Interest

Auburndale Review Club
The Auburndale Review Club will meet with Mrs. H. V. Hutchinson, of 1838 Washington street, on Tuesday, December 1st, at 10 a. m. The program will consist of original papers by Club members on the topic "Ireland," "The Irish at Home," by Mrs. Nathaniel Grant; "Rambles Through Ireland," by Mrs. Amos R. Wells; and "The Political Situation," by Mrs. Leonard Outerbridge.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday, November 18th, the Community Service Club of West Newton gathered at the Second Church, with the president, Mrs. George S. Fuller, presiding. MORTGAGEE'S SALE
OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Charles G. Schirmer of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company dated October 29, 1924 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4784, Page 132, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at two o'clock P. M. on MONDAY, the twenty-first day of December, A. D. 1936, on that portion of the premises situated on Wachusett Road and containing the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Hobart, Wachusett and Monadnock Roads, in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, and bounded as follows: To the North by Wachusett Road two hundred and seventy-seven and 75/100 (277.75) feet; Southwesterly by a curve forming the corner of said Wachusett, Hobart and Roads, forty-three (43) feet; Westerly by Hobart Road one hundred and 27/100 (100.27) feet; Northerly by land now or formerly of Sarah W. Beekman and land now or formerly of John W. Beekman, Jr. and by two lines ninety-nine and 70/100 (99.70) feet and eighty and 80/100 (80.80) feet respectively; Easterly by the line of said land now or formerly of John W. Beekman, Jr. one hundred thirty-two and 70/100 (132.70) feet; Northerly on Monadnock Road one hundred forty and 60/100 (140.60) feet; Southwesterly on land now or formerly of Underhill one hundred twenty and 30/100 (120.30) feet; and Northerly on land now or formerly of John W. Beekman, Jr. one hundred and 75/100 (100.75) feet. Be it any or all of said measurements more or less, and otherwise said premises may be bounded, measured or described.

Comprising three adjoining parcels of land, one containing 14,000 square feet on Wachusett Road, conveyed to me by the Trustees of the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company by deed dated January 10, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4823, Page 548, the second containing 22,300 square feet on the corner of Hobart and Wachusett Roads, conveyed to me by deed dated October 20, 1919, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 4823, Page 548, and the third containing 15,557 square feet of land situated on Monadnock Road, being the same conveyed to me by deed from Charles G. Schirmer dated December, 1916 and recorded with said Deeds, Book 4106, Page 599, conveying 1,650 square feet and on October 18, 1919, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 4205, Page 504, and containing 14,199 square feet.

The above described premises are conveyed subject to the restrictions mentioned or referred to in said Deeds to me so far as now in force and applicable. Except such portion of the above described premises retained by me from the operation of said mortgage by a taking by and deed to the City of Newton dated January 1, 1924, and May 2, 1930 and respectively recorded with said Deeds, Book 5493, Page 75 and Book 5506, Page 75.

Terms of sale: Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale and the balance within twenty-one days thereafter.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Quintette was composed of Mrs. Paul W. Robey, Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner, Mrs. C. Marion Chandler, Miss Beatrice Eastman, and Miss Martha Wright.

The Club president, in presenting a large basket of yellow chrysanthemums graciously voiced the Club's deep appreciation of Mrs. Blair's six years of devoted service as director of the Chorus, during which time the community has had the privilege of enjoying many of these concerts.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Despite the inclement weather of last Tuesday, members and guests of the Auburndale Woman's Club filled the Club House to overflowing to celebrate Presidents' Day. A dessert-social started the afternoon's festivities, due to the efficiency of Mrs. Silvanus Smith, Hospitality chairman, and her committee everyone was quickly served. Two past presidents officiated at the coffee table, namely, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew and Mrs. Anne Nudd Hibbard.

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president, extended a cordial greeting to the many special guests of the day present, among whom were Mrs. Herbert F. French, third vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation. Many clubs were represented by their presidents and other officers, and these included Mrs. Edwin Troland and Mrs. Mary Lilly, from Malden; Mrs. Herbert Smith, Yabany, from New Bedford; Mrs. Sidney Porter, Newton Centre; Mrs. Raymond Laddo and Mrs. A. H. Handley, Newton; Mrs. William G. Lenox, Social Science Club, Newton; Mrs. Albert Proctor and Mrs. Walter Evans, Spring Upper Falls; Mrs. H. C. Pearson and Mrs. C. F. Merrill, Newtonville; Mrs. H. Hale and Mrs. J. Irving Wright, Newton Highlands; Mrs. M. A. French, Framingham; Mrs. Guy M. Winslow and Mrs. Theobald Palmer, from the Auburndale Review Club; Mrs. Freda W. Wilcox and Mrs. John H. Bates, Woburn; Mrs. Arthur Curran and Mrs. Roger Griffin, Needham; Mrs. Robert W. Ludmore and Mrs. Marie Collins, South Boston; Mrs. Harry Storr and Mrs. Wallace Ford, Waltham.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lawton, prominent playwright and well known to Club members as the author of "Storm Swept," play presented in the Club House a few seasons ago, also was present.

At 3 o'clock Mrs. John H. Harding, chairman of the Drama committee, announced that two plays would be presented. These plays were both directed and coached by Mrs. Herman Kreuger. The first was entitled "They're None of Them Perfect," by Sophie Kerr and was produced with special permission of Walter Baker Company. It was a delightful comedy, excellently acted. Many times the play was halted by the hearty laughter of the audience as they listened to "Amanda's" friends warning her to find out about her fiancé's faults before marrying him. In a very natural and amusing manner they described their husbands' faults, but to no avail, as it did not dishearten Amanda at all. The set was a colorful modern drawing room, and the entire cast were arrayed in lovely dinner gowns.

The characters were as follows: Amanda, Mrs. John F. Wheelock; Lucy, Mrs. James Dunlop; Amy, Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo; Cecile, Mrs. George W. Armstrong; Julia, Mrs. Arthur C. Langan; Eve, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson; and Maid, Mrs. Everett H. Potter.

The second play, "The Hessians Are Coming," by Alice Williams Chaplin, was a drama in one act. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Keppler, Mrs. Herman Kreuger, Alice Vernon, Mrs. Theodore L. Fowler; Cissie, Mrs. George N. Stegers; Victoria, Mrs. Clifford P. Parcher; Vernon, Mrs. John H. Harding; and Grace Revere, Mrs. Ralph W. Phipps.

In contrast to the first set, the curtain went up to reveal a barren attic. Mrs. Herman Kreuger, who executed so perfectly the role of the penurious Mrs. Keppler, is well known in Newton dramatic circles. Alice Vernon, a young girl, pressed by her landlady, Mrs. Keppler, for her back rent who urges her to sell her heirloom portrait of her great-great-grandmother. Alice refuses and finally falls asleep from weariness. While asleep she has a dream, wherein her lovely ancestor steps out of the life-size frame and enacts a scene from the long ago. She is warned by the maid that "The Hessians are coming," and hastily puts on all her jewelry and steps back into the frame. As the Hessians threaten to knock down the door, Alice awakes, only to find it is Mrs. Keppler with a purchaser for the picture. A happy ending is insured when Alice constructs her dream correctly, prices open the back of the frame, and there stands the family jewels. Each player interpreted her part to perfection.

During the intermission Miss Anne Blanchard entertained with several piano solos. Mrs. W. A. Stiles was in charge of the costumes, and Mrs. James J. Feerick and Mrs. Earle D. Wood of the properties. The Auburndale Woman's Club is deeply indebted to Mr. Frederic Stearns, of the Auburndale Club, for the stage setting.

Newton Highlands Junior Club

The first of the dances of The Junior Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will be held on Friday evening, December 4th, at the Fox and Hounds Club, Boston, from 8:30 to 1 o'clock. Many parties have already engaged tables for four and six couples. The music will be furnished by The Fox and Hounds Club Orchestra.
Miss Alice Thompson, chairman.

is being assisted by the Misses Priscilla Sawyer, Betty Bunker, Carolyn White, Esta Woodworth, and Mrs. Helen Dimock.
Tickets are $2.00 a couple and may be purchased from the committee or at the door.

Newton Federation

Mrs. James H. Orr, chairman of Education of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, gave a Morning Coffee at her home, 112 Homer street, Newton Centre, Friday, November 26th. Dr. Galleani, of the Brookline Mothers' Health Office, gave a very instructive talk on the "Aims and National Importance of Birth Control" from a physician's point of view. Mrs. William Z. Ripley outlined recent work at the clinics, and a lively question period followed, some of the questions being answered by Mrs. Leslie Hawking, president of the Birth Control League of Massachusetts.

Besides the members of the Education committee, the Newton Federation was represented by Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. Herbert Blair, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold and Miss Louise Walworth; the Newton Hospital by Miss Elizabeth Wheeler, Dr. Evelyn Ellins, and Miss Grace Russell; and the Public (Continued on Page 10)

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Anthony Medaglia of Indiana ter., Newton Upper Falls, was fined $50 in the Newton court on last Friday by Judge Weston for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He appealed. His car hit a boy, James Davis, of 947 Chestnut st., at Chestnut and Summer sts., Upper Falls. A woman witness testified that Medaglia was driving at a rapid rate of speed.

Emmett Carr of 593 Cambridge st., Allston, was fined $50 in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $5 for driving without a license. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file. Patrolmen Munroe and Taft were the complainants.

Many Contests For Aldermen

at-Large, the office he has filled the past two years. Lyon is being opposed by John Dunleavy, Jr., of 432 Newtonville ave. and Allan Whitehead of 15 Otis pk.

In Ward 3, Maynard Hutchinson, present incumbent, is without opposition as a candidate for Alderman-at-Large. For Ward Alderman from Ward 3 a lively fight is in progress. Alfred R. Guzzi, incumbent of the office for the past two years, is being opposed by Maxwell P. Gaddis of 24 Elliot ave. and Edmund L. Greene of 62 River st. As a well-organized campaign is being made for Gaddis, and Greene has the backing of some of Guzzi's former supporters, the latter will have to use all of his aggressiveness to win.

In Ward 4, Charles B. Floyd, president of the Board of Aldermen, is a candidate for re-election. He has for opponents John A. Duane of 216 River st. and W. Edward Wilson of 37 Williston rd. For Ward Alderman from Ward 4, John F. Brocklesby, the present incumbent, is being opposed by George A. Bacon of 142 Woodland rd. Both of these candidates have the support of active committees. In Ward 5 Donald D. McKay of 46 Woodcliff rd. is a candidate for re-election for Alderman-at-Large. He has an opponent, John Abrey of 69 Charlmont st. McKay should win handily.

For Ward Alderman from Ward 5, the present incumbent, Clifford H. Walker of 711 Chestnut st., has no opposition. In Ward 6 Henderson Inches of 41 Middlesex rd., candidate for re-election as Alderman-at-Large, has no opponent. Joseph Jamieson of 93 Homer st., candidate for re-election as Ward Alderman, has two opponents—Gilbert C. Burns of 28 Daniel st. and Arthur T. Wasserman of 522 Commonwealth ave. The latter is making an active campaign and Jamieson's supporters must go to the polls if they desire his re-election.

In Ward 7, Clarence C. Colby of 31 Farlow rd., present Alderman-at-Large, seeks re-election. He is being opposed by the witty and fluent Paul H. Drake of 58 Pembroke st., who is conducting one of his typical aggressive and spicy campaigns. For Ward Alderman from Ward 7 James B. Melcher of 16 Garden Rd., present Ward Alderman, is again being opposed by Ellis Sutcliffe of 169 Washington st.

For School Committee Harry Bryant of 22 Prescott st., candidate for re-election from Ward 2, is being opposed by John A. McGrath of 279 Cabot st. For School Committee member from Ward 5 Mrs. Margaret H. Woods of 141 Moffat rd. is a candidate for a second term. She is again being opposed by Francis W. McOwen of Elliot st.

Would Name School For U. G. Wheeler

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a communication was received from Mayor Childs suggesting that the new school at Oak Hill be named the Ulysses G. Wheeler School after the former superintendent of schools of Newton who died recently at Paris, Maine.

A suggestion was made sometime ago that the Oak Hill School be named the Hartmann School in memory of the late Mrs. Blanche Hartmann, who, with her husband, Arnold Hartmann, worked for the development of Oak Hill Village.

Boys Rescue Chum At Silver Lake

Robert Magni, 14, of 149 Adams st., Nonantum was rescued from Silver Lake, Nonantum last Sunday morning after he had broken through the thin ice. The water was not very deep, but the mud in the lake prevented Magni from making progress toward shore. Warren Murphy, 13, of Watertown st. and Joseph Civetti, 15, of Nevada st., obtained planks and assisted Magni in reaching dry land.

Show Police Use of Guns and Tear Gas

Several officers of the National Guard came to police headquarters at West Newton last Saturday morning and instructed a number of Newton policemen in dissembling and oiling machine and riot guns. The group then went to the Riverside Sand & Gravel pit where the policemen were instructed in the firing of the machine gun and the use of tear gas bombs.

Letters To The Editor

MORE POLICE NEEDED

Dear Sir:

Now that the city of Newton has risen in wrath to banish unseemly "hilarity" from its midst, is it too much to ask that the lesser annoyances of death and destruction on its highways may receive some attention?

Granting the tremendous moral victory involved in preventing four golf clubs from disposing of the diabolical liquors which they had purchased for their own members at considerable expense (foolishly believing that Newton had really gone modern), a mere pedestrian is tempted to ask of what avail all our smug virtues may be if we are to be killed off in the full gloom of sanctity by reckless and uncontrolled motorists.

The narrowness of the vote by which the restaurants of Newton retained their right to sell beer is attributed, I understand, to the resentment of right-thinking people at the "hilarity" indulged in by beer-drinking patrons. I myself must confess to having visited a restaurant in Newtonville several times with a roistering group of tennisers. We each had about six glasses of Schlitz, and we laughed and joked, no doubt to the extreme disgust of the more decorous patrons who believe that eating is a serious rite, to be conducted with long and solemn faces and much eating of calories and vitamins. Newton is a joyless community, full of that Puritanical spirit which frowns on the harmless diversions of the sinful minority who have come here from New York and other sinks of iniquity. Consider, for example, the dog-in-the-manger attitude of a certain resident of Newton Centre, who, in the days when Sunday morning tennis was prohibited, delayed his weekly trip to the North Shore to watch for violators on the nearby Playground courts. Having done his duty by reporting the wretches, he would motor to his home on the beach and disport himself on the sands for the rest of the day.

It is difficult to understand the mental processes of a community which is so careful of its moral welfare and so reckless of the very lives of its citizens—a community that brags that its low tax rate is due to efficient and economical government—when that economy is in part attained through an utter inadequacy of policing on the city's highways.

I am not familiar with conditions in other parts of Newton, but I can speak with full knowledge of the facts about Waltham. A rather narrow thoroughfare, carrying a heavy stream of motor traffic, it has been the scene of many a tragic accident. Only a few days ago another fatality occurred at the corner of Llewellyn rd. In the evening it becomes a speedway where 30 miles is the minimum and speeds of 50 to 60 miles or more are fairly frequent. Between Crafts and Washington sts., a distance of about a mile, many streets lead off Waltham street, but none cross it. Tempted by this happy absence of cross traffic, drivers dash like juggernauts through its length; and the mutilated bark of the trees along the sharp turn in the middle stretch is witness to the general dislike of slowing down in mid-career. The gentleman, who recently made a three-point landing with his car far over on the lawn of one of Waltham street's representative residents left no tracks to show how he got there. He stated that his accident was caused by an attempt to avoid a dog. His humanity is to be commended, even if we wonder what rate of speed would be sufficient for what seemed like a veritable flight through space. But of dogs, more anon.

After all, why should the meteoric motorists of Waltham curb their speed? I have walked up and down Waltham st. many hundreds of times in the past two years, but I have never seen or heard of a motorcycle policeman within its limits. No doubt Newton has motorcycle police—but so far as their activities are concerned, Waltham st. might just as well be a forgotten stepchild of the city government. And if the city government is unable to provide enough police to patrol the highways and preserve some respect for speed limits, the fault comes back upon the people of this city. Are they calloused to loss of life, does a low tax rate mean more than human safety, or are they simply blind to the facts? Let us accept the last as the most charitable explanation.

As for dogs, Newton may be said to occupy a position midway between Constantinople, where the animal is sacred and thousands of homeless animals clutter up the streets and the more sophisticated American cities where dogs not on leash are promptly picked up by the police. There are undoubtedly too many owners of large dogs in Newton who allow their animals to roam through the streets at all hours of the day and night. Some of these animals are a menace to children, and the day will come when the people of Newton will find it necessary to take corrective measures. I may be accused in turn of being a kill-joy, intolerant of the rights and pleasures of dog owners, but when they fail to prevent their pets from becoming public nuisances they no longer merit tolerance.

Very truly yours,
LEONARD A. MONZERT.

Health Department of Newton by Dr. Harold D. Chope, Director.

Mr. Clarence Westphal, founder of the Literary Explorer Movement, was the speaker at the monthly Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation on Monday, November 23rd, at 10 o'clock, in the Newton Library. Mr. Westphal, who was introduced by Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, first vice-president of the Newton Federation, is a teacher in the English department of the Manchester, N. H., High School.

In his talk he stated that some years ago he decided that boys would get more out of life if they committed to memory selections from the Bible, from Shakespeare, and from various ancient and modern writers, and in working in the Newsboys' Club he organized a literary explorers' project, producing a bronze reproduction of a pilot wheel about seven inches high, with the spokes labelled Shakespeare, Classical, Oriental, Bible, Modern, and Treasure Chest. A boy must memorize twenty-five selections to earn a spoke. The one who tests the explorers is called the "Senior Skipper," usually a business or professional man interested enough in boys to give them one evening a week. Mr. Westphal is endeavoring to interest clubwomen to assist in promoting this project.

Mrs. David Black, chairman of the Co-operation with War Veterans committee, exhibited a very decorative and useful bag like the four hundred and fifty being sent to soldiers at Rutland.

Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, chairman of the Motion Picture committee, announced that the Boston University Women's Council has started a series of the very best possible movies for children at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, on Saturday mornings.

Mrs. Walter Hartstone gave Thursday, December 10th, at 10:15 a. m., as the time for the next Talk on "Know Your City of Newton" at the Newton Center Woman's Club House. Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of the Newton Schools, will speak on the "Administrative Side of Schools."

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation, asked for some small dressed dolls to go in the Newton Welfare Christmas baskets.

Short reports on the Community Chest, Christmas Seals, and plans for the Mid-Year Meeting of the Federation to be held on Friday, January 31, closed the Board Meeting at 11:15 o'clock.

State Federation News

Clubs from the furthestmost parts of Massachusetts will be represented at the Club Institute to be held Thursday, December 3rd, at the Y. V. C. A. Auditorium, Stuart street, Boston. Speakers during the Forum who will discuss "Problems of Small Clubs" will be two club presidents, Mrs. Charles E. Bankwitz, Turners Falls Woman's Club; and Mrs. Norman B. Ellison, Granby Woman's Club; also two past presidents, Mrs. William Dill, Sunderland Woman's Club; and Mrs. George M. Allen, The Nautilus Club of Provincetown. Mrs. William I. Considine, past president of the Brewster Woman's Club and a member of the Institute committee will conduct the thirty minute question and discussion period.

Opening the meeting at 10:30 a. m.,

Mrs. John A. Jennings, chairman of Institutes, will introduce the guest speaker, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of Whitinsville, General Federation director. Other speakers will be Mrs. William J. McDonald, advertising director of "Federation Topics," and Miss Estelle Marsh, of WAAB, "The Peace Fundamental" will be the subject of the Peace Talk presented by Mrs. Malcolm Green, of Newton Highlands, who is vice-chairman of the State committee of International Relations. Mrs. Robert A. Stetson, past president of The Fortnightly of Sharon, will speak on "Guest Day Courtiers," and Mrs. George E. Hutchins will present the regular lesson in Parliamentary Procedure.

Christmas music will be given by the Lyric Ensemble of Shrewsbury, composed of Mrs. Antoinette Green, Shepard, Dorothy Kane Bell, Rosalie Klein, and Marjorie Taylor, and clubwomen will join with Mrs. Mabel Barstow, State Federation official song leader in singing a Christmas Carol.

Included in the Eighth District Conference, which will be held on November 30th, with The Fortnightly of Winchester, will be a one-hour Baby Club Institute. Newton clubwomen may like to attend this meeting in a nearby town. This is the first time in the State that an Institute has been included in a District Conference, although it is a common custom in other States. Speakers will be Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, past president of the State Federation, Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, past director of the Eighth District, Mrs. Eliot R. Scudder, past president of The Philergians of Braintree, and Mrs. Stiles F. Kedy, past president of Melrose Highlands Woman's Club. Parliamentary Procedure will be presented by Mrs. George E. Hutchins and a question period will close the Institute.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $765* LIST AT FLINT MICH.

THE deeper your eye probes, the higher will soar your enthusiasm for this stunningly smart and amazingly able 1937 Buick automobile.

We've stepped up the style—let your flattered eye gaze its fill. We've stepped up the size and the room and the luxury—look it over.

We've stepped up the power, and the performance as well—put an even bigger, abler, quicker, quieter valve-in-head straight-eight engine into every chassis in the 1937 line.

On the road the new Buick travels poised and serene—even in tough going it doesn't pitch, dodge or roll.

It handles with fingertip lightness whether in traffic or at speed. Its big hydraulics slow you down safe and straight under the softest pressure. There's jumbo luggage space in every model.

The Aerobut carburetor is something to write home about—an all-position gas-miser that provides even flow of fuel under every condition. Look this beauty over, you folks who drive lesser cars, and you'll see we've stepped up everything but you—and with our low prices you ought to find that final detail simple.

White To Be In Charge Of Lodge's Office

Thomas W. White, of Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls, will be chief secretary to U. S. Senator-elect Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., the latter announced yesterday. Mr. White, former State representative, former president of the Newton Board of Aldermen, unsuccessful mayoralty candidate in 1933, and former collector of internal revenue under Presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, will open the Senator's offices at Washington after the first of the New Year.

Old Age Board For Newton

In conformity with newly enacted laws an Old Age Assistance Bureau has been established in Newton. Mayor Childs appointed James P. Reynolds and Florence S. Fitzgerald, director and assistant director, respectively of the Newton Welfare Department, as members of this Board. They, in turn, selected Rev. Charles O. Farrah, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, as the third member of the Board. The new bureau will work in conjunction with the Newton Welfare Department. Two additional, permanent investigators will be appointed in the department starting January 1. They will fill positions now held by temporary appointees. The examination for these positions will be held on December 19.

Mothers Not Aiding In Clean Movies For Newton Children

The efforts of the Newton Motion Picture Committee to provide proper moving pictures for young children of this city have met with discouraging lack of co-operation on the part of a large percentage of Newton mothers whose children patronize moving picture theatres. For some time past the committee, with the commendable co-operation of the management of the Paramount Theatre at Newton, has been instrumental in securing special pictures for young children which have been shown at the theatre on Saturday mornings. The feature picture on Saturday morning, December 5 will be "Laddie." In addition there will be a number of comic reels, including two "Pop Eye" and one "Mickey Mouse" cartoon, and a travelogue.

Aldermen Lease Land at W. Newton

Bennett Rockman Will Use It For Theatre Parking Space

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Wednesday night for the purpose of appropriating $10,000 for the removal of snow and ice. Alderman Bowen, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that only $1800 had remained in the budget of the Street Department for this work prior to the unexpectedly early storms of the past couple of weeks. The cost of sanding streets and sidewalks following these storms was about $5000. The appropriation was made to care for the deficit, and with the hope that it may suffice for similar work until the end of this month. If it does, the total cost for the removal of snow and ice in 1936 will have been less than it was in 1935.

Another important matter that came before the meeting was the authorization of a lease of land owned by the city between Cherry and Elm st. to Bennett Rockman of the Kenmore Realty Company for a parking space at a yearly rental of $500. The Kenmore Realty Company has applied for a permit to erect a theatre on the site of the former Players' Hall on Washington st., West Newton. Such a permit was granted to Mr. Rockman by Mayor Weeks several years ago, and it is probable that one will again be granted. The land lease is between property owned by Mr. Rockman and the telephone exchange. It was purchased by Middlesex County some years ago as the site of a new court house. It was alleged at that time that County Treasurer Charles E. Hatfield had influenced the purchase of the land by the county officials in the hope that it might result in the new city hall being erected nearby on the site of the old city hall. Subsequently, the city acquired the ownership of the land when it gave the county the new court house is now located.

In discussing the offer for the lease of the land for one year at $500, Alderman Bowen explained that this sum is as much or more than the normal amount the city would receive for taxes on the property, were it privately owned, and that the lease will be so drawn that it can be terminated if the city at any time wishes to make other disposition of the land.

Newton Man Badly Burned

John J. Matthews of 8 Raymond st., West Newton, and Anthony Thomas of 34 Court st., Newtonville, employees of the Highland Oil Company, were severely burned on Tuesday when a valve gave way while they were transferring a cleansing solvent through a hose line from a tank car at the freight yard in Allston to a tank. The fluid drenched both men and the action of the solvent caused serious burns on their faces and bodies. They were rushed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where their names were placed on the danger list. Yesterday afternoon they were reported as being improved.

High School Boys in Tribute To Dr. Martin

Assembly Dedicated To Late Newton Coach

At a special All-Boys' Assembly at the High School on Wednesday morning, December 2, fitting memorial was paid to the memory of Dr. Oscar Martin. The assembly was called to order by Donald Emig, '38, vice-president of the High School Associates, who dedicated to "our former teacher-coach, this, his pet assembly."

Mr. Raymond A. Green, acting principal of Newton High School, lauded Dr. Martin's services to the school. "He was a great man, not as the world judges greatness, but in his influence on boys."

Mr. George Owen, class of 1919, one of Newton's four-team athletes and football and hockey star at Harvard University, spoke of Dr. Martin's life and praised its simplicity. He recalled for all the boys and friends at the Assembly several pet phrases of the beloved coach. "Two of these never to be forgotten," said Mr. Owen, "are, 'A team proposition' and 'no individual work.'"

Mr. Ewing Wilson introduced the faculty coaches of the various sports and teams, and Mr. Green announced the awards of letters to football players. Following this recognition of the boys' athletic success, he briefly explained Newton's athletic program for new boys in the school, and urged them to come out for the winter and spring season sports.

Mr. Richard Harlow, head football coach at Harvard University, was introduced by Mr. Donald Enoch. Mr. Enoch said, "Since undergraduate days in 1914 I have known 'Dick' Harlow. Then he was a coach at Penn State. After a brilliant record in that school, and equally successful records at Colgate and Western Maryland, he came to Harvard, that school's first non-graduate head coach."

Mr. Harlow delighted his audience with several sports stories. He urged them to "Work Hard, Play Hard" and stressed the need for developing interest and skill not only in athletics for youth days but also in sports for adult years, such as tennis, squash, swimming and golf. In inspiring voice he showed how there is a place in school teams for all boys, both big and small. He closed his address with reminiscences of this year's Harvard-Yale game.

Newton Ctr. Woman Wins $1000 Prize

Mrs. Tye Weiner of 18 Nottingham st., Newton Centre, was one of the fortunate drawers of a ticket in the Quebec Army & Navy Sweepstakes which was conducted in connection with a horse race run at Manchester, England, last Saturday. Mrs. Weiner drew a ticket on "Nightcap." The horse did not run and this prevented those holding tickets on him from winning one of the major prizes. Each, however, won $1000.

Boy and Dog Pal Travel Together

Elmo Young, 11, has been residing with an uncle in Windsor, Ontario. Elmer has a pal, a Scotch collie named Robin Hood, so when the boy left Windsor last Friday to visit his mother, Mrs. Ethel Young at 22 Bellevue st., Newton, he decided to bring his pal along. The first lap of the journey, from Windsor to Niagara Falls, New York, was O. K. But when the latter place was reached, trouble started. The big bus line from Niagara to Boston does not permit dogs. Elmer would not desert his pal, and he had only enough funds for his bus fare from Niagara to Newton. Fortunately, the Traveler's Aid Society was informed of the situation and provided Elmer with a railroad ticket which enabled him to come from Niagara to Boston accompanied by Robin Hood. The collie had to ride in the baggage car, and Elmer kept him company. Word was sent to Elmer's mother of the change in his travel arrangements, and she met him Saturday morning at the Huntington avenue station in Boston.

Roofer Falls Off Judge Bacon's Home

John Kennedy, 53, of Park st., Somerville, was seriously injured on Wednesday afternoon when he fell off the roof of the residence of Judge William F. Bacon at 52 Hyde ave., Newton. Kennedy was repairing the roof when he slipped and fell to the ground. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance, where it was found he had received injuries to his head and internal injuries. His name was placed on the danger list.

License Suspended, Drove, Fined $50

John Samuda, Jr., of 3 Beacon Place, Newton Centre, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car after his license had been suspended. Patrolman Hammell, the complainant, testified that while on traffic duty near the Ward School, he observed Samuda drive by. He blew his whistle as a signal for Samuda to stop, but the warning was not heeded.

In court the same day, Murray Cole of Wolcott st., Dorchester, was arraigned on a charge for driving so as to endanger the lives of the public. The case was continued. The complainant was David Gillespie, of Brighton, who was injured when a car driven by Cole collided with his car at Prince and Chestnut sts., West Newton.

Mail Circulars to Newton Voters

Citizens' Association Seeks Larger Vote

The printing and distribution of 15,000 circulars containing information to the voters regarding the aldermanic and school committee candidates to be voted for at the city election next Tuesday is the first official act of the Newton Citizens' Association, formed last spring to aid in maintaining good government in the city of Newton. The circulars were put in the mails within a few hours and will be in the hands of the voters for their attention over the coming weekend.

The information in the circulars was compiled from replies to questionnaires sent out to the more than thirty candidates seeking office at the election. The Association is gratified at the result although additional effort was made necessary in following up the candidates and urging them to reply so that information was obtained from all except three persons. It is the first time that an effort of this kind has ever been made to acquaint the voters with more complete information than they might not otherwise obtain and its effect will be watched closely.

No partisan stand has been taken by the Association officials and no candidates are to be endorsed by it. The organization has issued the folder as a means of creating greater interest in the election. The Association also appeals to the voters to go to the polls on Tuesday in order that the election results will be more of majority choice than has been the experience in past years.

Karalekas In Court For Selling On Sabbath Day

William Karalekas, who conducts a fruit market at Centre st. and Norwood ave., Newton Centre, and who had been arraigned in the Newton court a number of times the past few years on various charges, was arraigned in the court last Friday on a charge of violating the Lord's Day Law by selling fruit on a Sunday. Patrolman Martin, the complainant, alleged that Karalekas sold fruit on Sunday, Nov. 22. The case was continued until Dec. 4. Karalekas was in the Newton court on a similar complaint some months ago.

Charged With Drunken Driving

John F. Hayes of 14 Hood st., Newton was arrested about 8 o'clock last Friday night by Patrolmen Brosnahan and J. P. Murphy after the car he was driving had collided on Beacon st., near Glen ave., Newton Centre. Hayes was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and his case was continued until December 4.

Francis O'Hara of 210 Weston st., Waltham was arrested about 6 p. m. last Friday by Serg. Moran and Patrolmen Elliot and McHugh on a charge of drunkenness. In court on Saturday, Patrolman Spolsky, whose car was in collision with that of O'Hara, asked for a complaint against O'Hara for driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

New Pastor at Newtonville M. E. Church

Reception Given Dr. Emig Who Becomes District Supt.

The recent appointment of Dr. J. Franklin Knotts of Lynn as pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church became effective on December first. He succeeds Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig, who has been appointed by Bishop Charles W. Burns to the Superintendentcy of the Lynn district for a six-year term. Dr. Knotts is one of the outstanding members of the New England Conference and has been pastor of a number of the largest churches in the area.

On Monday evening the church tendered Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig and his family a reception in the church parlors. The large gathering and the toasts given Dr. and Mrs. Emig showed the deep regard and high esteem in which they are held in the church and the community because of the nearly nine years of his ministry, and the sincere regret at the termination of his pastorate.

In front of the beautiful bank of palms in the receiving line with Dr. and Mrs. Emig were Wm. T. Rich, senior member of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Rich; Mrs. Howard W. Selby, president of the Woman's Association, and Mr. Selby; Louis W. Bruemmer, president of the Clafin Club, and Mrs. Bruemmer; Ralph Thomas, superintendent of the Church School, and Mrs. Thomas; George W. Taylor, president of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Taylor, and George W. Taylor, Jr., president of the young people's group.

Mr. Taylor, serving as master of ceremonies, eulogized the retiring pastor for his untiringly faithful devotion to the spiritual leadership of his congregation and his success in developing a much stronger church than he found upon the beginning of his ministry in Newtonville. He then introduced Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, pastor of the Central Church, who expressed appreciation on behalf of the Protestant ministers of the village for Dr. Emig's qualities as a co-worker in the ministry and as a friend. Mr. Taylor then presented Dr. and Mrs. Emig with a purse of over seven hundred dollars. In acknowledging the gift, Dr. Emig spoke touchingly of his appreciation of the fine qualities of those who have worked with him in the church and of his love for the people of his flock. Rev. Charles S. Otto, district superintendent, welcomed Dr. Emig into the brotherhood of district superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Selby, on behalf of the women of the church, presented Mrs. Emig with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

THE ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

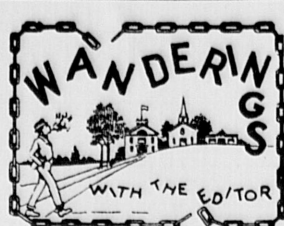

As in the past city elections when there is no mayoralty candidate on the ballot the voters are somewhat apathetic to the election next Tuesday when fourteen aldermen and two members of the school committee will be elected. The effort of the Newton Citizens' Association to create greater interest by issuing several thousands of circulars containing information on all candidates who replied to questionnaires sent out previously should have the support and co-operation of all citizens. No voter can vote intelligently unless he knows for whom he is voting and no voter should be unconcerned as to the results of the city elections as it is at such times that the men who govern the city are elected to positions of responsibility and trust. Every voter should realize that in order to maintain majority government he should cast his ballot. Incidentally we believe that the off-year election should be abolished and that Newton should adopt the biennial system of election. It is our intention to take some step toward this objective in the near future. The fact remains, however, that there is an election next Tuesday and the voters must select sixteen officials from the more than thirty candidates. There are seven aldermen at large to be elected, seven ward aldermen and two members of the school committee.

In Ward 1 the present Alderman at large, John E. Barwise, is being opposed by Waldo S. Wheldon, former defeated candidate in a previous city election. Mr. Barwise has been a conscientious member of the board and we see no reason why he should be replaced. In Ward 4 Alderman Charles B. Floyd has two opponents in Edmund F. Wilson and John Duane. Mr. Floyd has been president of the Board the past year, and has a wide experience in many activities. Like any person in political office he has incurred the displeasure of some individuals. This fact does not disqualify him from further service as an alderman and when his qualifications are weighed against those of his opponents there can be no question that he should be re-elected by a large majority. In Ward 5 Alderman Donald D. McKay has for his opponent John Abrey, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Representative at the election in November and overwhelmingly defeated. Mr. McKay will no doubt be re-elected. His activities and contacts are many and he has served the city well in other ways than as Ward 5 Alderman at large. In Ward 7 the two-way contest between Alderman Clarence C. Colby and the perennial candidate, Paul Harris Drake, is attracting considerable interest. Mr. Drake is a colorful candidate but his views are so different from the majority of Newton citizens that he will doubtless have little success in his efforts to unseat the present Alderman. Mr. Colby has taken his duties seriously, has spent hours of study upon problems of the aldermen, and he has shown the judgment and impartiality which we expect from the city fathers. Mr. Colby should be re-elected and taking into consideration the previous vote-getting abilities of Mr. Drake, it seems quite probable that Mr. Colby will continue to serve.

The Ward Aldermanic contest in Ward 1 is a four-sided affair with the final result depending upon the activities of the three leading candidates, John W. Blakeney, Jr., Edward A. Fahey and Joseph Murphy. In Ward 2 present Alderman at large Albert M. Lyon is a candidate for the Ward Aldermanic seat, a one-year term. Mr. Lyon is outstanding in his services to the city and there is no question of the desirability of his re-election. In Ward 3 Alderman Alfred M. Guzzi will find difficulty in being re-elected despite his reputation in getting out his supporters on election day. Maxwell P. Gaddis and Edmund Greene are opposing Mr. Guzzi who was twice defeated this fall in his desire to represent Newton in the State Legislature. Mr. Guzzi has lost strength by changing his affiliations from one party to another. Despite the fact that the city election is supposedly a non-partisan affair this phase of the situation cannot be disregarded. Mr. Gaddis has many friends and has a working organization which is doing everything possible to put him over. Mr. Gaddis is a particularly able man and should make a fine representative on the board. Mr. Greene, the third candidate, has made considerable inroads into Mr. Guzzi's strength and may make a strong run, particularly in a light vote. In Ward 4 Alderman Brockelsby is being opposed for re-election by George A. Bacon, unsuccessful candidate for alderman at large a year ago. The contest here should be extremely close. We have a high regard for Mr. Bacon and his election would be a continuation of good representation from that section of the city in the past. In Ward 6 Alderman Jamieson has two opponents. Mr. Jamieson has far more experience in community affairs which make his return to the board highly desirable. In Ward 6 Alderman Melcher is being opposed by another perennial candidate, Ellis Sutcliffe. A comparison of the qualifications of the two candidates clearly indicates that Mr. Melcher should be returned for another year of service.

The two present members of the school committee, Harry Bryant and Mrs. Margaret Woods, are both opposed for re-election. There is no reason at all why they should be succeeded by other candidates. Although it will be remembered that we did not support Mr. Bryant three years ago when he was opposed by Mr. Nelson Vanderhoof the situation is different in the coming election.

It will be entirely disappointing if but a few voters cast their ballots on Tuesday. Past years have shown that on some occasions as few as 12 per cent of the voters have participated in a city election. We can only urge all voters to realize the obligation they owe the community to VOTE NEXT TUESDAY.

Four Newton young people at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, have been pledged to various fraternities and sororities there. Edward K. Morse of Waban accepted a bid from Sigma Phi Epsilon and Robert Ness of Newton Highlands one from Delta Upsilon. Barbara Ann Carlick of Newton Highlands will join the Pi Beta Pi Sorority and Norma E. Skelton of Newton Centre will join Kappa Kappa Gamma. At the University of New Hampshire among the freshmen pledged to fraternities was Ernest M. Gould, Jr., of 25 Devonshire rd., Waban who will join Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The ninth annual horse shoe sponsored by the Little Gavarty being held at the Commonwealth Avenue Armory this week closing Sunday has attracted considerable local attention. Colonel Philip L. Brown of Newton, regimental commander, is chairman of the general committee. Allan J. Wilson of Newton Centre has entered Top Sergeant, All American Girl, Blimbo Rex, Hobnob Girl, and Cameo. Mrs. William H. Coburn of Chestnut Hill has entered Rita Rita in the saddle horse classes. Roger W. Higgins has entered the celebrated Checkers in the hunter jumping and other classes. Bill, Jane Callahan, children of William F. Callahan of Waban who has entered Hobnob, will ride in the S. P. C. A. Good Hands and Horse-manship events. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of the Little Gunpowder Riding Club of West Newton have entered Gentleman in the road hack class, Jay Feather and Gay Boy in the pony jumping. A number of juvenile riders of the club have entered various competitions. The group includes Robert Barrow, Robert Furman, Arthur Appleton, Seelye Stetson, Mitzi Ott, Virginia Nodine and Folly Gallup.

William H. Rice of Newton Centre has been appointed Newton chairman of the Metropolitan Division of Greater Boston's 1937 Community Fund campaign. Mr. Rice is now enrolling volunteer workers to assist in obtaining funds shared by 104 hospitals and health and social service agencies who do a great deal for many people living outside of Boston.

On board the S. S. Hiye Maru which sails for Yokohama, Japan from Seattle today is Mrs. Edward S. Cobb of Kyoto, serving under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Mrs. Cobb is the wife of Dr. Edward S. Cobb, the son of the late William H. Cobb of Newton Centre. Mrs. Cobb is the sister of Miss Mary B. Cobb of Elgin st., Newton Centre. Mrs. Cobb is returning to Japan to her duties as a teacher in the Deshisha Girls' School. She came to America a few months ago to bring home a colleague who was ill.

Interesting sidelights are sometimes uncovered in connection with political campaigns. Mr. Albert C. Blunt, Jr., of West Newton, reveals an intimate knowledge of Mr. Maxwell P. Gaddis of West Newton. It was Horace Greeley who years ago advised ambitious young men to "go West" in search of advancement and opportunity for success. But Mr. Gaddis reversed the procedure. Born in Indiana he early chose the shoe business for his start in life, succeeded in various positions in the Middle West and came to Boston some years ago. He is now directing a salesforce that covers almost half the United States and supervises a business whose annual turnover is millions of dollars. His career and advancement in his chosen work reads somewhat along the Horatio Alger theme although perhaps not quite as spectacular nor with as much glamour. Throughout his life, however, Mr. Gaddis has shown an aptitude for business and he has rounded out his activities with participation in community affairs that have shown him to be a man of sterling qualities.

The twenty-seventh annual British Charity Ball will be held tomorrow evening at the Copley Plaza Hotel. The committee in charge of the affair is headed by Herbert C. Gruber of Lexington st. and the National-Art League recently voted overwhelmingly in favor of the New Deal policies of the present national administration and showed in no uncertain terms where lay the popular will. Only in certain wealthy and privileged communities like Newton did reaction register its usual and expected fall to cooperate with the general trend. Inability to comprehend the spirit and temper of the common people has long been a characteristic of Newton, politically speaking. Newton voted even more reactionary in 1935 than it did in 1932, strange as it may seem.

A friendship dinner to Congressman Richard M. Russell will be given at the Hotel Continental, Cambridge, on Monday evening, Dec. 14th. An active committee of seventy-five includes: John M. Walker, Walter Slattery, Hugh Boyd, Arthur M. Russell, Major Peter Borre, James J. Cooney, J. Edward Callahan, Alderman Dennis M. Cronin, Joseph J. Murphy, and John O'Connor of the Newtons.

The Phi Sigma Rho Sorority gave a dinner in honor of the pledges for this year's enrollment, at the Abner Wheeler House on Monday evening, Nov. 30th.

The newcomers are: the Misses Ruth Trowbridge, Gertrude Hawes, Mabel Mitchell, Barbara Bancroft, Barbara Bailey, Nancy Newell, and Barbara Gay, all of Newton. They were presented with corsages of roses and sweet peas.

Miss Ruth Thompson of Newton Centre presided as toastmistress.

Leach will fill bags of hot buttered popcorn for the children. Mrs. Chester L. Churchill and Mrs. N. Boynton, Jr. will raise glasses to the children in the "old oaken bucket" from the depths of the "Wishing Well."

Mrs. Edwin A. Harris and her committee will serve the cafeteria luncheon from twelve to one-thirty. The Festival Supper will be served by Mrs. Frank N. Nathan and her committee.

Mme. Mari, the Royal Palmist, will tell fortunes.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS "NEW DEAL" HERE

To the Editor:

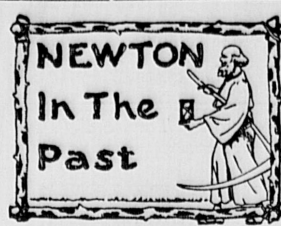

On next Tuesday, December 8th, Newton citizens will go to the polls to cast their ballots for City officials for the coming year. This election determines the policy of our city government to a large extent during one of the most significant and trying periods of our entire history.

The question arises: Are the voters to be told for whom to vote by a certain self-appointed clique or group—as in former years—or are they going to be permitted to exercise their own intelligence at the polls? In other words: Do the electorate of Newton get a "new deal" this year? Max Baucus and the National-Art League recently voted overwhelmingly in favor of the New Deal policies of the present national administration and showed in no uncertain terms where lay the popular will. Only in certain wealthy and privileged communities like Newton did reaction register its usual and expected fall to cooperate with the general trend. Inability to comprehend the spirit and temper of the common people has long been a characteristic of Newton, politically speaking. Newton voted even more reactionary in 1935 than it did in 1932, strange as it may seem.

But "Time marches on" and the voters of Newton will not be content to be "sold down the river" forever. By and large, the people of this state and nation want a "New Deal" and they are determined to get it! The majority clearly want Social Security, which, except for the favored few, has always been mostly a myth. And the people in general desire "the more abundant life," which, because they never were able to obtain it under "free private enterprise," they have now instructed their government to provide.

I believe it is time for a "New Deal" in Newton politics which will break up "class rule" by the Bourbons, bosses, and "Money-changers," and permit the admission of new blood (not blue blood) into the charmed circle at City Hall.

The new building opposite our office is being pushed forward as rapidly as the weather allows. Mr. Aerner will have his stores completed at an early date. Newton Corner is growing and promises to be something of a business centre before many years. If our people can find as good an article at home, they will buy it there.

The Newton Horticultural Society held its first meeting of the winter on Thursday evening at the home of W. P. Tyler, Ward 1. Henry P. Ross advocated the use of lawn mowers and the cultivation of good flowers. Lay out your grounds in the most natural way. Don't make all straight walks; on the other hand, don't make all crooked walks. Mr. Ross advocated public parks in every village. He said a most excellent place for one is at Bullough's Pond, John S. Farlow (later the donor of Farlow Park) thought Bullough's Pond the best place for a large park in the whole city. (Bullough's Pond then included the present site of City Hall.—Ed.)

The Rev. Mr. Peloubet lectured last Monday evening at Auburndale on "Descendants of Monkeys, or Children of God?" While conceding it to be possible that our bodies might be the result of development, he strongly affirmed the creation of the soul of man by God.

Tuesday was an exciting day in some Wards although the total vote of the city was less than had been predicted. The polls were not opened until 12 o'clock noon, and as they were obliged to be closed at 4:20 p. m., many lost the privilege of voting. Had the polls been open earlier in the day, many could have voted before going to business. In Wards 1 and 3 were the most earnest workers. The candidates for Aldermen in these Wards had active men who did their best for their favorites. On the water question, the people showed that they appreciated their position, and voted in favor of the proposed water system by a majority of 505.

The first paper mill at Lower Falls was erected by John Ware of Sherborn about the year 1790. The mill of Thomas Rice & Son, largest of the three paper mills now here, manufactures about 40 tons per month and supplies paper for three Boston daily newspapers.

Hosea N. Hyde came across a map the other day drawn by him in 1850 as it was from his recollection in 1825. It was then known as Angier's Corner and there were then 19 houses standing on what is now Wards 1 and 7 of this city. Washington st. was then called the road to Boston, Centre st. above the corner was the road to Dedham, and below the corner, the road to Watertown. Jackson's Lane is now known as Church st., and Morse's Lane as Waverley ave. Hyde's Brook at Washington st., near the railroad crossing, had to be forded where it crossed the road, and was a favorite place for watering horses.

1203 dogs have been licensed this year and the income therefrom is $2828.

The Boston Herald says that the question of military drill at Newton High School has brought forth a wonderful crop of fairy tales from those who oppose it. One writer says the officers are known as brigadier and major generals, and are insolent and profane to those under them. These statements are untrue. The highest title is that of "major." The battalion officers are neither profane nor insolent. Military drill in schools makes healthy, good-natured boys, and instills a respect for authority, and best of all, retards the growth of that fashionable creature—the genus "dude."

Those who have seen them both say that the resemblance between Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement Waters of West Newton and Queen Victoria of England is quite striking.

Powers' Paragraphs

There will be an election in this city next Tuesday, December 8. Inasmuch as a large part of the citizens of this city take little, or no interest in local politics, particularly in years when there is no mayoralty contest, municipal elections have been held in Newton in the past with 20 per cent or fewer of the voters going to the polls. Newton residents and taxpayers do not seem to realize that each year fourteen of the twenty-one members of the Newton Board of Aldermen are elected, and either two or three of the seven members of the School Committee. Thus, each year a majority of the aldermen is chosen, and probably a controlling influence in the School Committee. Notwithstanding that the financial condition of this city is vitally affected by each election, with the resultant bearing on our tax rate, most of Newton's citizens do not seem to have sufficient interest in their own affairs, to care. Neither does it appear to concern Newton property owners, that a sufficiency of aldermen might be voted in to office at any election to let down the bars on the zoning ordinance in this city, and thus ruin it as an exceptionally high grade residential community. An attempt was made a couple of years ago to eliminate these on-year elections, but it was not successful.

In past years the Newton Republican City Committee endorsed certain candidates for Mayor and Aldermen in this city. As Newton elections are non-partisan, the Republican City Committees were criticised for apparently injecting partisan politics into our local elections. As a result, it was decided last year by the Republican City Committee to cease making endorsements of candidates at city elections. This year the Republicans are endorsing no candidates. An organized effort is being made to stimulate interest in the election and to acquaint Newton voters with the qualifications of those aspiring to offices in our city government. During the past year an organization was formed of Newton men and women to be known as the Newton Citizens Association. This organization is non-partisan and its purpose is to maintain high standards in Newton city government and to furnish civic information to all voters. With this end in view, the Citizens Association prepared a questionnaire which was sent to all the candidates for aldermen and School Committee. Provision was made whereby any candidate might have his picture printed in circulars sent out to the voters if he desired to pay a small sum for the cost of the half-tone cut. The information regarding the candidates as obtained from the questionnaires sent them, has been printed on about 15,000 circulars which are to be mailed to every house in Newton where there are voters.

Most of the candidates co-operated with the Citizens Association by answering some or all of the questions asked them. A few did not. Of the more than 30 candidates invited to send photographs of themselves, only 11 took advantage of the opportunity to let the voters see what sort of looking individuals they are. Perhaps it is modesty that actuated the others in not desiring the pictures printed. As one who consistently criticised Republican City Committees in past years for endorsing candidates at city elections, we believe the efforts and expenses which the Citizens Associations have gone to in endeavoring to stimulate interest in the coming election, and giving information regarding candidates, are to be commended. We also believe these off-year elections should be abolished.

While there is general apathy in the city regarding the election next Tuesday, candidates for Ward Aldermen in several of the Wards are quite active. In Ward 1 four candidates will be voted for. James P. Akins, the present incumbent, is not running for re-election. There should be a close fight between three of the four candidates—all residents of Precinct 1. John W. Blakeney, Jr., has been a candidate for Alderman at previous elections. He has a considerable acquaintance in the Ward and will probably obtain considerable support from Precinct 2. Edward A. Fahey was urged to be a candidate by some of his friends two years ago. He did not run, but, instead, he supported James P. Akins for the office. Now, Akins is reciprocating and supporting Fahey. The latter will get considerable support from Precinct 1. James E. Murphy is new to Ward 1. (Continued on Page 10)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Tips on Getting-out Voters

The size of the vote cast at the coming city election will in no way approach the total of November third. That seems to be accepted even by the most optimistic aldermanic and school board candidates. I do not remember what percentage of the total vote turned-up last month but whatever it was that of next Tuesday will suffer by comparison. This does not reflect on the candidates. Credit as would all patriotic citizens, rejoice in large figures. The problem then is how to attract more voters.

First of all, the cost of maintaining balloting places for a municipal election is as great as for one where in a Presidential contest has everybody by the ears. This being the case it behooves those responsible or those who think they are, to arouse enthusiasm. If we knew that a lot of men in shorts were going to tear through the streets on a cold day might be interested in civic pride, we might be excited over the choice of aldermen from our ward. The idea of a running race is not the only one that occurs to me. For those who prefer the more refined and soothing entertainment there could be an orchestra stationed at each polling place to provide a concert program.

If there were snow on the ground the situation would be ideal. Candidates could provide sleds and double-runners. Who wouldn't forget his age and gladly coast to the polls? Toboggans could be furnished those who live in the "hill sections" of our several villages. In event of plenty of snow, skis would be an irresistible feature. All this, I submit, would make a most impressive occasion of election day. It would bring out the crowds and excite people far more seriously than they now do the matter of a municipal election.

The New "White" Way

There are many who are frequently heard to say, "I like to take a good long walk." How many of them actually get out on the road for a vigorous tramp of several miles is a question. That, however, is not for me to discuss. I'm addressing myself to those who really hike and enjoy it. The point of all this lies in the fact that in order to get the most out of "hoofing it" on country roads one should be wary of automobiles.

The advice of those who have made a study of accidents is to wear something white. This does not mean that red flannels, which lots of people are wearing, according to Government statistics, are ruled out. The white should be conspicuously displayed which means, of course, on one's outer garments. I have been wondering just what best meets this requirement. There are white knitted caps but those are sports togs and the more conservative folk hesitate to be so gayly attired. How about a pair of white mittens? These certainly would be warm. They seem to be just about the best kind of protection for life and limb as well as fingers. But should it be necessary to keep one's hands above one's head all the time? That's the stumbling block in my deliberations.

President Coolidge and Matches

What was once commonly used and greatly depended upon has now become a curio. It was my privilege to receive some of these extraordinary articles as gift. I might as well tell you now that it is a card of matches. There are many who will recall the old brimstone matches which were invented way back in 1836, succeeding flint and tinder as fire-producing implements.

The man who presented me with them said, "It may interest you to know that these, or at least the manufacture and sale of them, was made illegal 27 years ago in the administration of President Taft." Urged for additional information, my friend said, "These cards of matches, which will be a revelation to young people and children, were first dipped in brimstone and then phosphorus. It seems that eventually it became known that the phosphorus affected the mouths of the workers in match factories and that they contracted what was known as 'phossy mouth.' Years of agitation—thirteen to be exact—brought forth Federal legislation which forbade their manufacture. Then came the wooden matches now in use and later the paper matches which have become popular."

I inquired of my friend how he came into possession of those in the box on his desk. He replied that he had a habit of collecting odd things and that when the manufacture of the old matches became illegal, or just before the final date, he bought a large box of them.

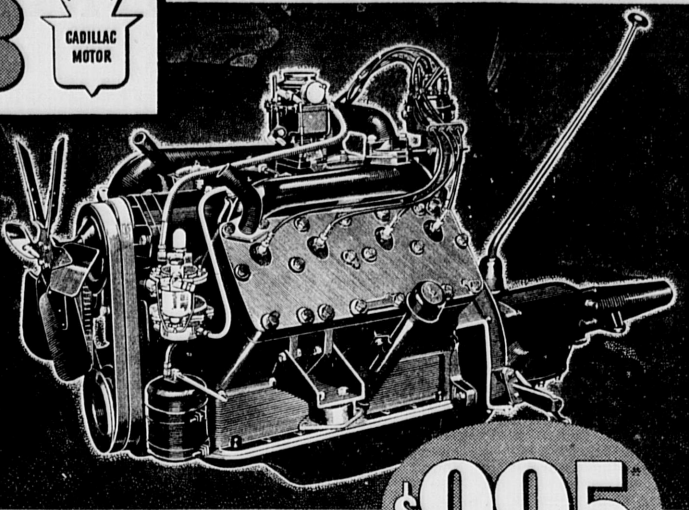

Then came a good story. Said he, "When President Calvin Coolidge was Governor I thought he might be interested and so I handed him a card of the old brimstone matches. At his request I went into the history of manufacturing matches. He said nothing until I had finished. Then he broke one from the card, scratched it on the sole of his shoe, preparatory to lighting a cigar, and said in his characteristic epigrammatic way, 'None better.' So you see what Mr. Coolidge thought of them."

The Don'ts Have It

Americans are a brave people, or at least they are patient. Every Christmas season is preceded by an official "don't" communication from men in high places. I'll admit that they should be headed but sometimes the thought that it takes a little of the old brimstone out of the holiday. The Postoffice Department starts off by telling us what we should not do in preparing packages for mailing and addressing and stamping first class matter. Then come the heads of fire departments to warn us about flimsy decorations and the danger of setting fire to Santa Claus' cotton whippers. The police tell us to watch out in crowds for pickpockets and the automobile authorities advise us how to drive if we happen to be owners and the importance of watching our steps if mere pedestrians. This year the crop of "don'ts" is larger than ever, due to official instructions about filling-out Social Security cards. Just to be in on it I hasten to add my own. "Don't let these things spoil your Christmas."

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF NEWTON

Clarence C. Colby

Candidate for Re-Election
ALDERMAN AT LARGE
WARD 7

My opponent in this election has inserted advertisements in which he has referred the voters of Newton to a long list of prominent citizens including the Mayor of this city, with the hope, in my opinion, that many who are uninformed will believe that these men are supporting his candidacy.

From information at hand I can positively state that the group named are not in the aggregate supporting him, but, on the contrary are enthusiastically supporting me.

My candidacy for re-election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7 is based upon my record. Those men best informed as to my record at City Hall are my twenty associates upon the Board of Aldermen. All of these men, irrespective of political affiliations, are supporting my candidacy.

If the citizens of Newton re-elect me to office I shall continue to direct my efforts to maintain:

1. Economy and efficiency in City Government.
2. Just and impartial application of our ordinances and laws.
3. Painstaking study of, and prompt action upon, all matters.
4. Full co-operation with each executive department.
5. A liberal attitude toward every question irrespective of racial, religious, political or social considerations.

In other words I shall try to meet my responsibilities in a sound, efficient, just, impartial, painstaking, prompt, co-operative and liberal manner.

CLARENCE C. COLBY,
31 Farlow Road, Newton, Mass.

WHY I SHALL VOTE FOR DRAKE

- BECAUSE he is honest, straightforward, sincere—a man of integrity and principle;
- BECAUSE he is independent, fearless, free—wears no man's collar or label;
- BECAUSE he is intelligent—knows politics and history—a man of learning;
- BECAUSE he is progressive—a student of affairs—forward-looking;
- BECAUSE he is clean, high-minded—sensitive, sympathetic, and understanding;
- BECAUSE he is aggressive, a hustler—a man of ideals, action and ability;
- BECAUSE he is human, friendly, democratic—has not lost the common touch;
- BECAUSE he is a gentleman—courteous and considerate of others;
- BECAUSE he is not a "politician" and will not stoop to win public office;
- BECAUSE he is not popular with the "gang", and refuses to play their game;
- BECAUSE he does not seek or require the endorsement of any "machine" or "ring";
- BECAUSE he does not want or need the office, except as a means of greater service;
- BECAUSE he has made no political debts or promises, is guilty of no "entangling alliances";
- BECAUSE he has an exceptionally varied, colorful background, as Minister, Editor and Realtor;
- BECAUSE he is a friend of the poor, the jobless, the Toller—and of Union Labor;

Newton Highlights

Warren Huston of Newtonville, senior at Springfield College, received a wire Wednesday from George "Potsy" Clark of the Detroit Lions of the National Professional football league, offering him a contract with the Lions beginning next fall. Huston captained the football team at Springfield this season, playing his third consecutive year in the Maroon backfield. He is captain-elect of baseball, and has received several offers from professional baseball teams. At Newton High, where he was graduated in 1933, Warren was the last of the school's great four-sport athletes, having starred in football, baseball, basketball and hockey.

Alex Kevorkian, Newton's stalwart tackle in the Harvard line, has been accorded about every football honor possible excepting the captaincy of the Crimson for next year. He was chosen by Princeton players as one of the five best players faced by Princeton this year and was named on the Yale all-opponent team. Fritz Crisler chose him on the all-opponent eleven, and he was named on the second all-Eastern team. With another year under Dick Harlow ahead of him, Alex seems like a very strong bet for Harvard's first candidate for All-American honors since Barry Wood and Ben Ticker.

Electric Cooking School In Newton December 9-11

Next Wednesday and Friday, Dec. 9-Dec. 11) at the Newton Edison office, 289 Washington Street, public classes in electric cooking will be conducted by members of the Edison home service staff. The two local meetings mark the fourth in an extensive program to be given during the winter season in all sections of the Edison Company service area.

Misses Helen Bates and Ruth Poulsen will be in charge of the meetings. Each is a qualified expert in the field of domestic science through prior training and extended affiliation with the Edison Company's kitchen laboratory in Boston. Many added features will make the two-day school particularly attractive to the women of Newton.

JOHNSTON TO LEAD 1937 NEWTON ELEVEN

Coach Sanborn To Have Many Lettermen Back

William "Bill" Johnston of 37 Knoll st., Newton Centre, a triple-threat quarterback, was chosen captain of the Newton High school football team for 1937 in an election at the school Wednesday. The popular junior, who was elected president of his class last year, had a commanding majority on the first ballot. Thirty-eight lettermen, the largest number ever at Newton High, voted in the election. Guido Castoldi, Bob Wheldon and Ernest Colantonio were the other nominees with Johnston polling nearly twice as many votes as the others all together.

Johnston came to Newton High from Mason Grammar and Weeks Junior High Schools. He has been a leader all through his school life. Weighing 142 pounds his sophomore year, Bill played in several games on Ernie Savignano's team of 1935, but was not a regular until this year. After a summer as handy man at Wedgewood, Coach Sanborn's Maine camp, Bill reported for football weighing 172, and his fighting weight is around 162. He stands 5 ft. 10½ in. tall, does most of the kicking and passing, and is a great back-up of the line. Having started the season with a record of four out of five in points-after-touchdown, he is one of the surest place-kickers Newton High has had in years. He was disabled in the Worcester South game, and was unable to play against Waltham or Brookline.

Abundance of Veterans Judging from present indications, Captain Johnston will have an abundance of veterans to lead on the grid-iron next season as no less than seventeen lettermen are due to return to school next fall. Two of these are all-Suburban league stars, Tackle Bob Wheldon, 235-lb. bulwark of the line, and Guido Castoldi, who came to the fore with a rush this season, doing the work of three halfbacks in the Brookline game. Other lettermen expected to return are Paul Robey, Robert Klein, Ernest Colantonio, and James Mukjian, ends; Bernard Duffy and Earl Colvin, guards; Steve Bakus and Gino Castoldi, tackles; and Don Forte, centre. Besides Captain Johnston and Guido Castoldi in the backfield there will be "Bud" Hines, Fred Fisher, John Fitzgerald, Russell Dexter and Bill Pescosolido.

The record book shows that Coach Ralph Sanborn's teams have won 31 games, tied 8 and lost 19 in the last six years.

NEWTON HIGH ATHLETES TURN TO WINTER SPORTS

Hockey, Track and Basketball Teams Start Practice

C. Evan Johnson, assistant coach of football at Newton High, has been appointed head coach of hockey, and is already working with a group of aspirants numbered roughly at 120. With only one letterman returning in the person of Paul Brown, a scoring center, prospects would appear to be definitely negative. However, there are at least a dozen very capable skaters on the large squad who will assure Newton of a worthy showing in the Greater Boston interscholastic whirl.

Phil "Mucker" Greene, well known as a ball player, is a fast wing. John Fitzgerald has more stickhandling talent than any of last year's forwards, although his speed and team play are unknown quantities. George "Bud" Whitehead, a bruising defenseman who was injured early in the 1934-35 season, is eligible again, and another likely point is Brad Thompson of last year's second-string team. Fred Nichols, up from the intermediates, shows promise, and so does Dean Proctor, who is one of several goals to press Herb Buttrick for his job in the nets.

Coach Don Enoch's track team, Ed Boyle and Charles Konsidine assisting, will take the floor in the old drill shed Wednesday. Practice was to have started Monday, but the city election will require the well-worn sled Tuesday. Although they will have to do without the great Warren Wittens, as well as several lesser stars of last year's undefeated team, the team that blond Bob Muther leads this winter will be again a strong one. Veterans besides Captain Muther are state champion sprinter Paul Forte, Frank "Bud" Hines, Mark Corbett, Dave Irwin, Don Hooper, Jerry Allen, Richard Massell, Mark Messier, Elmer Ross and Bill Kelly. And several sophomores are already spotted as prospective yambusters. A record turnout is anticipated, due to the phenomenal sweep of last year's state meet from January to July, breaking records all the way.

Frank M. Simmons has started the basketball team on its way, but isn't making any prophecies. Besides Captain Leonard LeSourd, who has star Gruber, Eugene Leger and Bill Johnston as a nucleus for a team.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The birthday meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., will be held on December 9th, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley, 337 Waverley ave., Newton. Mrs. Emma S. Bradley of Cambridge will entertain the Chapter with her readings.

LETTERS AWARDED AT HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Harlow and Geo. Owea, Jr. Speak to Newton Boys

Football letters were awarded to the athletes on the 1936 varsity, intermediate varsity and junior varsity football squads at an assembly at the high school on Tuesday morning. A record number of 38 varsity letters were awarded of which twenty-one were to members of the senior class and seven to juniors and sophomores. Coach Dick Harlow was the chief speaker. George Owen, Jr., former Newton high star under the late Dr. Oscar Martin and later a Harvard athlete of outstanding ability, spoke briefly of his association with Dr. Martin as the assembly took the form of a memorial to the late Newton faculty manager and hockey coach.

In addition to the football awards the trophies for the annual fall tennis tournament were presented. Albert Everts was awarded a figure of a tennis player on a pedestal as the winner of the tourney and Arthur Pierson was given a silver cup as the runner-up.

Representatives of the various teams since last winter were seated on the platform. They were as follows: Paul Brown, captain-elect of hockey; Leonard LeSourd, captain-elect of basketball and John Fifield of the second team; Paul Forte, captain-elect of outdoor track, and Bob Muther, captain-elect of the indoor track team; Robert Posner of the golf team; Frederick Soule of the Ski team; Bert Marrazzo, Chester Newey, James Deady, and John Gehling of the four baseball teams; and Clayton Mosher, captain of the tennis team.

Captains—No captains on J. V. Team.

Newton Highlights

The fact that only one regular letterman returns for the hockey team, and the captain has been elected, will probably prove a blessing in disguise to Coach C. Evan Johnson before Newton High begins the G. B. I. S. league grind. All positions will be open, and competition will not hurt the calibre of the team at all. Last year the situation was very different, when several stars returned as a nucleus. But the record reveals that a second team was the rule last winter. Doc Martin's last season. A new system of games has been voted in this year, and each team will play each other team once, with three extra games arbitrarily decided by the league officials. It may be better than last year's system, but it is certain to give some teams a much easier time in the three extra games than others.

Coach Ralph Sanborn will make no predictions as to the future of Newton High football next year under Captain Bill Johnston. Although 17 lettermen may return next fall, Sanborn sticks with his rule of making no forecasts on the season "until one o'clock on Thanksgiving Day," or in other words, when the schedule has been completely played. Incidentally Coach Sanborn still thinks the Gus Castoldi's 1934 eleven, with an indiffer-ent record, was fully as strong as this year's team which won six out of nine games.

Paul Forte, Bob Wheldon, Brad Thompson and Guido Castoldi were Newton's contributions to the Boston Evening Transcript's All-Suburban league eleven selected by the coaches of the four teams, Newton, Brookline, Rindge Tech and Cambridge Latin. No coach could name any of his own charges for positions making three votes a unanimous selection. Thompson and Castoldi were named by the three coaches for fullback and centre. Forte at halfback received two votes, those of the coaches of the two Cambridge teams while Wheldon at tackle received the votes of the Cambridge Latin and Brookline coaches. Other Newton players figuring in the voting but with only one vote each were Paul Robey, chosen at end by Coach Metivier of Rindge, Cowell, tackle and Colvin, guard by Coach Brown of Brookline.

The Boston Traveler sports writers gave honorable mention to six of the Newton players, Cowell, Wheldon, the Thompson brothers, Forte and Castoldi and the Boston Globe gave similar honors to only the Newton co-captains and Forte.

Down at Brown Jack Skillings of Newton Centre, captain of the Brown hockey team, may have a couple of other Newton youths with him on the ice this winter. Melvin Swig, a sophomore and Newton High luminary two years ago, won his freshman numerals at Brown last year and is a candidate for a defense position. Bill Dickinson, son of the late Newton coach, Allie Dickinson, has been on the soccer squad this fall and is turning his attention to hockey.

At Northeastern freshman footballs have been awarded to Gerard R. DeNapoli and Howard L. Milner of Newton Centre. DeNapoli started every game at guard and was a standout. Milner was a tackle until injured and on his return varsity Coach Al McCoy requested that he be tried out at full-back. He took up the shift quite naturally as he did at high school and is regarded highly as a prospective varsity back next year.

Mr. Samuel Thurber, head of the English department in Newton High School and visiting lecturer at Harvard University, has been nationally praised for his skillful management of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the National Council of English Teachers. The meetings were held at Hotel Statler, Nov. 26, 27, 28. Mr. Thurber had been working a year in preparation of this meeting, and as chairman of local arrangements provided a smooth running and altogether delightful convention. Nineteen hundred twenty registered, a 500 majority over any other year.

Miss Jessie A. Southard and Mr. B. Floyd Rinker of Newton High School served during the convention on the information and entertainment committees. Miss Helen Nute, Miss Anne Leathers and Miss Helen Lee were at the registration desk during the convention, and Miss Edith M. Rideout, Miss Caroline Doonan and Miss Louise Richardson served as hostesses for the convention.

There was a national exhibit of pupil work in the Abraham Lincoln School, Arlington st., near the Statler. Newton High Schools large exhibit, taken from the English Laboratory in building one, was on the stage and overflowing into the auditorium. It is estimated that 1500 people saw this school exhibit. Copies of the Newton High School Library reading list, the Leisure Activity Bulletins and the Abroad-at-Home Bulletins were given as souvenirs and were much sought after by teachers wanting information on these Newton projects for use in their own schools.

Parents' Evening

Wednesday evening, Dec. 2, Newton High School held a special parents' evening, from 7 to 9:30. This gave parents, especially the fathers, an opportunity to meet and confer with the teachers. Special school exhibits were shown in the English laboratory, in the Art and the clothing departments. At nine o'clock, the mural to the memory of Lt. Stafford Leighton Brown was dedicated. His mother, Mrs. Eugene Stafford Brown, has donated a $50,000 scholarship fund to Newton High School.

The program of dedication was opened by Acting Principal Raymond A. Green. The speakers were: Principal Paul E. Ellicker, Superintendent of School Julius E. Warren, and Mr. George E. Fernald, Chairman of Newton School Committee. Mrs. Brown was the guest of honor. Other guests were the artist, Maurice Comris, who painted the mural, and Margarita W. Ellis, chairman of the Art Committee. Music was furnished by the Newton High School ensemble.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer addressed the members of the Commercial Club of the high school, Thursday, November 19, on the subject of Personality. The Commercial Club is composed of junior and senior business girls, and a few specially invited sophomores who have made high grades in their studies. It is under the faculty sponsorship of Miss Marion B. McGuire. The officers of the club are: President, Mary Sheehan; vice-president, Rita Matthews; secretary, Ellen Black; treasurer, Eleanor Morse, and clerk Jane Eagan.

Festival of Months At Newtonville M. E. Church

Work is nearing completion for the two-day bazaar. The Festival of the Months, which the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church is holding in the Assembly Hall Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Decorations for the twelve booths, which are being done under a special provision, promise a colorful and attractive panorama. Mrs. Howard W. Selby is president of the Association and Mrs. Frank E. Morris is general chairman of the bazaar.

January, in a winter setting, will usher in the year finding Mrs. V. A. Nielson presiding over the Yarn Shop and offering fifty dressed dolls for sale. St. Valentine's Day colors will blend with the jams, jellies and pickles which Mrs. Ralph E. Cort, nage and her committee are hoarding for February. The children will find great fun in March at a well, flanked by pine trees and snow men and filled with carefully selected grabs, with Miss Marion Duff in charge. Spring flowers will be in bloom in the next two months with Mrs. Allan J. MacQuarrie serving daily luncheons in April and Mrs. Arthur Jones and Mrs. Clarence Lodge exhibiting an attractive line of inexpensive jewelry in May.

June roses will decorate the domestic table where Mrs. Morris Goye will sell her wares. July will bring the ever-popular Gypsy fortune tellers. The two-masted schooner, The Good Ship Lollypop, will drop anchor in August laden with home-made candies, favors and novelties, with Mrs. G. W. Bell and Mrs. John H. Newton as pilot and mate. Mrs. Wendell H. Thornton and Mrs. Willard V. Young will open a zoo in September where they will have a pen of White Elephants for sale. October will find Mrs. C. E. Thyring presiding over a collection of books, both new and old, of which the wise old owl in the branches of the autumn foliage will, no doubt, approve. November will bring a well-stocked larder of all kinds of home-cooked foods gathered in by Mrs. W. F. Stevenson and Mrs. Ralph Emerson. A Christmas atmosphere will prevail in December in both the decorations and practical gifts which Mrs. C. W. Cornelison and her committee will have on sale.

Turkey dinners will be served each evening by Mrs. Melvin C. Clay and her committee. There will be movies Tuesday afternoon for the children. Tuesday evening a hand-knitted wool afghan will be sold at a Chinese auction. A group of trained young people from the Lithuanian St. John's M. E. Church of Boston will entertain with folk dancing following the dinner Wednesday evening and Madam Ona Kobilus, wife of the pastor of the church, a concert singer, will render a group of folk songs.

Winter Trips To West Indies and South America

Never before have so many alluring tours to the West Indies, Bermuda, Nassau and South America been offered at such attractive low prices. Steamship companies are vying with each other in conducting these cold weather vacations to climes that will give relief from the rigor of a New England winter.

The Cunard, White Star Line has a long list of cruises ahead. On December 18 the BRITANNIC will leave New York for a 15 days' cruise to St. Thomas, LaGuaira, Curacao, Cartagena, Panama and Havana. The cost is $187.50 and up for this extensive tour. On December 29 the BERENGARIA will leave New York on a 5 days' cruise to Nassau; arriving back on January 4. The cost of the cruise on this magnificent liner starts at as low as $77.50. Starting January 23rd the CARINTHIA will leave New York each Saturday on a 6 days' cruise to Nassau. These cruises will continue until March 27 and their cost is surprisingly low; only $70 and up.

On January 8 the BRITANNIC will make a 6 days' cruise to Nassau; affording two days and a night at that resort. Prices are from $75 up. On January 16 the BRITANNIC will leave New York on an 8 days' cruise to Nassau and Havana. The cost will be $100 and up. On January 9 the GEORGIC sails on an 11 days' cruise to Bermuda, Port au Prince, Havana and Nassau. It will again leave on the 11th cruise on January 23. The cost is as low as $140. On February 6 and 27 the GEORGIC will leave on 18 days' cruises to St. Thomas, Martinique, Trinidad, Grenada, LaGuaira, Curacao, Cartagena, Panama, Kingston and Havana. The price of this long distance cruise starts as low as $220. On January 27 the BRITANNIC will leave on an 18 days' trip which will include St. Thomas, St. John, Barbados, Port of Spain, Grenada, LaGuaira, Curacao, Cartagena, Panama, Kingston, Havana and Nassau. The cost is as low as $220. A similar tour on the same ship will leave New York on February 17. Prices start at $240 and the cruise will last 29 days. The outstanding cruise, however, is that on the AQUATANIA. It leaves New York on February 17 and during the next 40 days will visit Nassau, Colon, LaGuaira, Barbados, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires and Montevideo. The cost, compared with similar South American cruises is very low. Prices start at $495 for this cruise of 13,700 miles. One will have 3 1/2 days in Rio, 3 days in the Argentine and 2 days in Montevideo. Reservations for all these cruises can be obtained from Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton. Phone Newton North 4501.

On December 24 the United States Line will conduct an 11 days' cruise from New York on the MANHATTAN. The cruise includes Nassau, Kingston and Havana. The cost starts at $140. The Swedish American Line has planned a delightful series of cruises on the KUNGSOLM. On December 13 a Christmas cruise of 15 days leaves New York for Porto Rico, Trinidad, Venezuela, Panama and Havana. Prices start at $187.50. On January 6 an 18 days' cruise leaves for Porto Rico, Trinidad, Venezuela, Curacao, Panama, Jamaica and Havana. Prices start at $220. Similar cruises leave on January 27 and February 17. On March 10 a 12 days' cruise leaves New York for St. Thomas, St. Pierre, Fort de France, Trinidad, Venezuela and Curacao. This cruise is a remarkable value at $230 and up. On March 25 a 10 days' cruise goes to Haiti, Jamaica and Curacao. The cost is as low as $127.50.

The Anchor Line offers long and economical cruises on the TRANSYLVANIA. On December 23 a 9 days' cruise to Havana and Nassau at the amazingly low rate of $87.50 and up. On January 2nd a 12 days' tour to Havana, Kingston and Bermuda, prices as low as $120. Similar cruises will leave New York on January 16, January 29, February 13, February 27, March 13 and March 27. On April 10 a 9 days' cruise will go to Nassau and Havana and the cost will be as low as $87.50. Reservations and complete information on all these cruises may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton. Phone Newton North 4501.

Rededication Service At Channing Unitarian Church

Sunday morning at 10:45 the members and friends of Channing Church in Newton bring to a climax the long effort of almost a year. For that length of time preparations, work and completion finally carried through have brought about a great change. The church, auditorium itself has been redecorated, new lighting installed in chancel and throughout the church, a great new heating plant has been put in and other minor changes have been made. As a climax to these many renovations a new central altar and altar screen has been installed as a memorial to one of the beloved past-members of the parish. In addition a new Reading Desk, especially designed and beautifully hand-carved has been given as a memorial and adds its beauty and dignity to an already beautiful Gothic edifice.

The service next Sunday marks the public conclusion of work on the physical plant of the church. At this special Service of Rededication Dr. Louis C. Cornish, President of the American Unitarian Association, will bring to the church members and friends the congratulations of the Association, and of the churches of the denomination. The sermon of rededication will be preached by the minister, Rev. Joseph Barth.

Following the service new members will be admitted to membership of the Channing Religious Society which is the voting membership of the church. Friends of the church are invited to attend.

To Speak On Present Crisis In World Peace

The first in a series of free lectures sponsored by the Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign will be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 8, at 8 o'clock, in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church, Washington st., West Newton, when Dr. John Howland Lathrop, minister of the Church of the Saviour, Brooklyn, N. Y., will speak on the subject "The Present Crisis in World Peace—What Is America Doing about It?"

Dr. Lathrop, who has been pastor of the Brooklyn Church since 1911, is well known in this country for his peace work in connection with the Council of Churches of Christ in America. In the summer of 1927, he was vice-chairman of the commission sent to Roumania by the American Committee on the Rights of Religious Minorities, of which he is a member. In 1928 and 1929, Dr. Lathrop was chairman of the delegation sent by the American Unitarian Association to India to take part in the centenary of the Brahmo Samaj, and he has twice been to Geneva as unofficial member of the group of professors sent by the Carnegie Endowment for World Peace.

The Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign, of which Miss Jeanne Bachrach is chairman, cordially invites all citizens of Newton interested in the vital question of world peace to come to this lecture on Tuesday evening. This series of lectures is a part of the Emergency Peace Campaign planned for Newton, and other speakers will be presented from time to time.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Christmas Exhibits Offer Attraction

The Garden and Conservation committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club offers on December 14th and 15th at 10:30 a. m., at the Club House, to Club members and to the public, a Sale of Christmas Greens, Trees, Wreaths and Decorative materials.

On December 14th, at 10:30 o'clock, an added feature will be Alice Kirk Atwater who will give a free lecture on "Unusual Christmas Decorations," including the story of ancient and modern customs. A variety of table and house decorations will be shown, the process of making, their cost and where to obtain, and a detailed explanation of materials.

Commencing December 7th and extending through the holidays, a collection of Japanese prints from the Shima Art Company, of New York City, will be on exhibition in the Art Gallery of the Club House. These works of outstanding Japanese artists will be shown daily from 2 to 5 o'clock.

An Exhibition of Creches, or nativity groups, will be held in the Art Gallery of the Club House from December 20th until after Christmas. A cordial invitation is extended to those in the community who are interested to visit the Gallery at this time.

Several Lectures Of Interest

Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of the Newton Schools, will speak on "School Administration" at the second of the series of six Talks on "Know your City of Newton," to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, on Thursday morning, December 10th, at 10:15 o'clock. These talks are sponsored by the Civic and Legislative committees, of which Mrs. Walter Hartstone is chairman.

On Monday evening, December 14th, at 6:45 o'clock the International Dinner will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The speaker, Mr. Dwight Bradley will talk on "The International Situation from the English Viewpoint." Mr. Bradley spent the summer travelling in England. Supper reservations may be had for 70 cents from Mrs. Lucius Thayer, telephone W. N. 1415. The lecture will begin at 7:45 when Club members and their friends will be admitted for a small fee.

Members of the Board of the Parent Teachers Association and of the Public Health committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club entertained at tea for Dr. Hortensia Robinson, Friday afternoon, November 20th.

In a delightful introduction, Mrs. Harry Friedman, chairman of the Health committee, told of the new service opened to Club and Association members in the opportunity for consultation and advice on personal adjustment problems of every-day living.

Dr. Robinson, who has had valuable training and clinic work in the field of mental hygiene, spoke of the growing need for this service for normal people. During her inspiring talk, she said there were problems of human relationship in any social group, and often the seemingly insignificant difficulties caused the greatest unhappiness. She felt that happiness should be the birth-right of every human being.

Every one who heard her was impressed by her sympathy and understanding and recognized her value as a consultant in this service.

Unusual Lecture On Balloting With Demonstration

An announcement of a most unusual lecture is made by the Newtonville Woman's Club, which offers opportunity to become informed on a subject that will occupy the attention of the State Legislature.

On December 9th at 2:30 o'clock, the Legislative committee will present a Demonstration of Balloting and Counting for Proportional Representation. This is a particularly timely demonstration in view of the fact that a bill providing for proportional representation will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. New York City has just voted to adopt the system in all of its boroughs.

If Mr. Christian Herter, whose biography in Who's Who takes up as much space as the President's, is unable to attend, the demonstration will be conducted by Mr. H. C. Loeffler, Secretary of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, who has been co-operating with Mr. Herter in the movement. The November 11th issue of the Boston Herald carried an interesting article by Mr. Loeffler on the subject.

At the same meeting Miss Margaret McGill will conduct a half-hour period on "Government," with questions permitted from the floor, an opportunity to learn the answer to many of the questions which may be puzzling. The entire audience will be asked to vote in the demonstration and so may watch the system of counting the ballots.

There will be no charge for members; a nominal fee of 25 cents will be charged for non-members. The Class in Contract will meet with Mrs. Charles H. Geisler on Tuesday, December 8th, at 12:15 p. m., at the Club House. At 10:30 a. m. on Thursday, the 10th, Mrs. Frank M. Taylor will give the second of her series of "Six Thursday Morning Lectures."

Reception To New Members

A Reception for the new members will be held by the Newton Community Club on Thursday, December 10th, at 2 p. m., at the Underwood School. In keeping with the Yuletide season, Mrs. Mabel Pearson, contralto, will sing a group of Christmas songs.

The speaker for the afternoon will be John Nicol Mark, noted lecturer and humorist. Mr. Mark was born in Glasgow, Scotland. He came to America and received his education at Tufts College and Harvard University. He still retains some of the delightful accent characteristic of the Scotch race. He also has the true Scotch wit. "His talks are so rich in humor that it is often difficult in the smooth fabric of his lecture to know where entertainment stops and instruction begins," is the description of his lecture by one hearer. Mrs. Julia A. Latimer will be the speaker on January 18th, at the second lecture in the course arranged by the Conservation and Garden committees of the Newton Community Club and Social Science Club. Her subject will be "A Garden from a Hayfield."

Various Programs Of Interest

Social Science Club

"The Islands of Boston Harbor Through Three Centuries" is the subject of an illustrated lecture which will be given by Miss Margaret H. Aubin on Wednesday morning, December 9th, for the pleasure of the members and guests of the Social Science Club. The meeting will be held in the Unitarian Church Parlors at 10 o'clock.

Miss Maud B. Henry and Mrs. Frederic A. Wetherbee will be the hostesses of the morning.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The only meeting this month of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday afternoon, December 11th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. From 1:30 until 2:30 p. m. a desert-coffee will be served by Mrs. Louis B. Martin and Mrs. Emil A. Haas, co-chairmen of the Hospitality committee, assisted by the members of their group.

The afternoon's entertainment will be in the form of a Musical by the Haydn Harp duo. These two artists, Gladys and Kenneth Cuntance, are members of the Harp Quintet whose recital aroused such enthusiasm at the State Federation meeting at Swampscott, last May.

It should be noted that by vote of the members, the December meeting of the American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be omitted this month.

Nineteen members of the Travel Class of the Educational Club attended the fourth meeting which was held on Monday afternoon, November 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Dayton P. Haigney, 277 Waltham street, West Newton. The assisting hostess was Mrs. Charles E. Gibson.

Mrs. Wilson C. Dort read a very interesting paper on "Chateaux—Orleans, Chinon (in ruins), Joan of Arc, Chamberd, Azay de Rideau Langeais," while Mrs. Haigney read a delightful one entitled "Picardy and its History—Amiens, Arras, and Lille." An added treat, and most timely and appropriate, was the reading of "The

Auburndale Club To Be Host to Twelfth District

The Auburndale Woman's Club will be hostess to the Twelfth District for an American Home Conference on Tuesday, December 8th, in the Congregational Church, Woodland road, corner of Hancock street, Auburndale.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock with greetings from Mrs. Edward B. Gray, president of the Hostess Club; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, District director; and Miss Bess Bartlett, of Lynn, advisor to the division. Mrs. Schuyler Van Ness, State chairman of American Home, will preside.

Daniel Bloomfield, chairman of the Retail Trade Board, Boston Chamber of Commerce, the first speaker, at 10:45, will discuss "What's on the Consumer's Mind?" "The Homes and Gardens of Yesterday" will be described by Grace Pierce Maynard at 11:30. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, in charge of Mrs. John H. Harding, and reservations must be made Saturday, December 5th, with the club chairman of Hospitality, Mrs. Silvanus Smith, 230 Woodland road, Auburndale, Telephone W. N. 2852. Tickets are 60 cents each.

Afternoon speakers include Carlton F. Sturdy, at 1:45 p. m., representing the American Can Company, who will tell "The Story Behind the Label"; Mrs. Florence B. Sloan, Supervisor of Work with Boys and Girls at the Newton Free Library, who will have for her subject "More Books in the Home," being suggestions for Christmas lists; and Mrs. Gladys Beckett Jones, director of the Garland School of Home-making, who will speak on "Modern Trends in Home-making."

The American Home committee, under the direction of Mrs. Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr., will have a display of Christmas Favors and Decorations, and the Art committee, Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, chairman, will sponsor a Handicraft Exhibition, in the Art Corner.

Delightful Program Of Varied Interest Books and Play

On Friday, December 11th, from 11 to 3 o'clock the Current Events Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold a meeting at the Auburndale Club House. The Current Events Group is made up of four committees, namely, Education, International Relations, Legislative, and Literature, and this year is aided by the Drama committee. A varied and interesting program has been planned. The International Relations committee, in charge, will offer as a subject for Round Table discussion "Our Opportunities"; the Literature committee, in charge of Mrs. Edwin V. Lynn, will present Mrs. Woodbridge, of Charles E. Lauriat Company, in a discussion of "New Books"; and the Drama committee headed by Mrs. John H. Harding, will give a Play Reading.

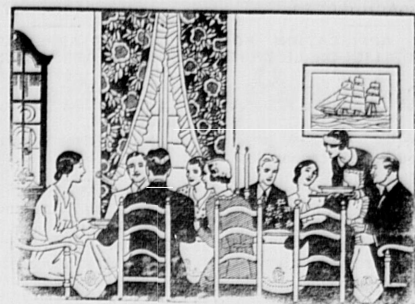

Everyone who attends is asked to bring a box lunch, and hot coffee will be served.

Social Event In Opera Presentation

The Gilbert and Sullivan Comedy Opera, "Patience" will be presented by the Music committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 11th and 12th, at 8:15 o'clock. This tuneful opera will be produced by a cast of thirty-one singers and an orchestra of fifteen pieces, in celebration of the Club's Golden Anniversary, and is under the direction of Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, Mrs. John W. Merrill, and Mr. D. Ralph MacLean.

Among the popular songs in this opera are "Prithee Pretty Maiden," a duet by Patience and Grosvenor; "Long Years Ago," a duet by Angela and Patience; the chorus and theme song "Twenty Lovesick Maidens"; and "The Magnet and the Churn," by Grosvenor and the Maidens.

The patrons and patronesses for this outstanding event include Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Mrs. David S. Beyer, Mrs. Francis A. M. Bird, Madame Appoline Blair, Miss Mal Buell, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Capron, Hon. and Mrs. Edwin O. Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Cummings, Mrs. Willard Dalrymple, Major and Mrs. Mark A. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Duthie, Mr. and Mrs. Montague P. politics. He has been receiving considerable support from the younger voters of the Ward, with whom he is popular. An active campaign is being waged in his behalf.

In Ward 2, according to present indications, Albert N. Lyon will receive a good majority of the votes cast. In Ward 3 a fair percentage of the vote will probably come out as result of the contest being waged between Alfred R. Guzzi, the present incumbent; Maxwell Gaddis and Edmund Greene. A year ago, after Guzzi was re-elected as Ward Alderman, he became ambitious and without delay announced his candidacy for Representative to the State Legislature. Guzzi was fatuous enough to believe he had a chance to obtain the Republican nomination for the office. In addition to the Democratic nomination. So, after clinching the Democratic nomination, he made the mistake of withdrawing his affiliation with that party, and of going to the primary election and asking for a Republican ballot, which again made him a member of the Republican party. A couple of days later, on September 18, he cancelled his Republican affiliation. These political shifts on Guzzi's part resulted in alienating from him the support of some of his former stalwart advocates, including M. Bernard (Bun) McCarthy, who has been active in behalf of the candidacy of Edmund L. Greene, a popular young West Newton man. As a well organized campaign is being conducted for Maxwell Gaddis, Guzzi will have to use all his aggressiveness to assure a victory, despite his record for accomplishments during his two years as a member of the Aldermen. The size of the vote in Precinct 2 will probably determine the result of this election in Ward 3.

In Ward 4 active campaigns are being made for both John Brocklesby, the present incumbent, and George Bacon. Brocklesby points to the fact that he has worked hard for Ward 4 during the past year, and that more improvement have been obtained in the Ward than for years. These improvements include repairs to sidewalks and streets, and the installation of new drains, street lights and traffic lights. He says that having lived in the Ward all his life, and because his work takes him about the City of Newton every day, he knows the needs of the Ward and city, and his record entitles him to re-election.

In the Ward Alderman contest in Ward 6 Joseph B. Jamieson who has served creditably for the past year will probably be re-elected by a substantial majority. He is being opposed by Gilbert C. Burns, a popular Newton Centre business man, and by Arthur T. Wasserman, a young man who has lived in Newton but five years. The fact that Wasserman's platform states that he "favors modifying zoning laws in instances where neighborhood has changed to such an extent as to make zoning burdensome" will not gain many votes for him.

Citizens Club Annual Show Presented Tonight

A large number of amateurs, actors, actresses, singers, and dancers for the last two months have been rehearsing under the direction of Joseph J. Cacciatore for the presentation of "Gypsy Nina," which the Newton Citizens Club will stage at the Newton High School Auditorium on next Friday evening, December 4, at 8:15 p. m.

This will be the second show given by the Newton Citizens Club, a self-supporting non-partisan organization which has been in existence for over six years with permanent offices open throughout the year for its members, and all those that saw the first show "Page The Prince" will remember that it was one of the best amateur shows ever produced in Newton by local talent. Indications now are that this year's production will be still better.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs will be in terlocutor and other leading members of the cast are Pauline Amendola, Joseph Lombardi, Eleanor Mason, Lawrence Mazzola Jr., Salvatore Floridia, Lucy Barisano, Vincent Cassella, and many others. The cast will consist of about sixty local young people.

Additional dancing features will be rendered by the Tocci Sisters, very well known entertainers.

Bushnell To Speak At Meeting of Central Club

The guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting, Monday, Dec. 7, 1936, of the Central Club, the Men's organization of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will be Mr. Robert T. Bushnell, a former District Attorney of Middlesex County, and a resident of Newton. He will speak on "World Trends in Government." Mr. Bushnell is acknowledged to be one of the leading political leaders of our State, and being a keen student of governmental affairs, a forceful and dynamic speaker—a large gathering is fully expected to be present to hear his worthwhile comments.

"The Central Club Meistersingers" under the directorship of Mr. Joseph Ludvigson will make its initial appearance at this meeting and render a group of salty "Sea Chanteys."

NEWTON LOWER FALLS IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

A new organization has been formed in Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association. The object of this association is to promote the neighborly interests of its members; to foster community spirit; and to do such things as may be appropriate or necessary to accomplish civic improvement. Its attitude shall be at all times strictly non-partisan, non-political, and non-sectarian.

Those eligible for membership are—Any person of full age who owns property in the community of Newton Lower Falls, or who is a resident in that district and pays annual dues of $1.00.

Regular meetings are to be held the second Monday of each month at 8:00 P. M. at the Hamilton School. The officers for the year of 1936-1937 are as follows:—President, Mr. Francis Tanner, Grove st.; vice president, Mrs. John McLean, Cornell st.; secretary, Mrs. Norman Paterson, Grove st.; treasurer, Mr. Otto Riesling, Concord st.

Committees

Membership Committee—Chairman, Mr. Russell Harmon, Quinobeguin rd.; Mr. Norman Wade, Walsingham st.; Mr. Frank Kendall, Concord st.; Mr. John Corcoran, Moulton st.

Civic Committee—Chairman, Mr. Henry Corcoran, Moulton st.; Mr. Arthur Cox, St. Mary's st.; Mr. Norman Paterson, Grove st.; Mrs. Laban Jenks, Pine Grove ave.

Social Committee—Chairman, Mrs. Michael Connolly; Miss Alice Calden, Grove st.; Mrs. Norman Wade, Walsingham st.; Mrs. Montague Knott, Asheville rd.

Nominating committee—Chairman, Miss Alice Calden, Grove st.

A very successful meeting was held at the Hamilton School on Monday evening, November 30th, with 66 residents attending. Many civic improvements were discussed, including the extension of the Bus lines from Cleveland Circle and Newton Corner via Waban, which now terminate at Washington and Beacon sts. to the bridge at Newton Lower Falls; and the possibility of a skating rink for the children at the Newton Lower Falls Playground.

Refreshments were served by the Social Committee at the close of the meeting.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Friday and Saturday, December 4th and 5th, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., the Art committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Ralph G. Poyd, chairman, is having a Christmas Gift Sale at the Workshop, 72 Columbus street. This sale, which is open to the public, will have many attractive hand-made articles, ranging in price from 25 cents to $5.00.

On Wednesday, December 9th, at 4 p. m., at the Workshop, the second lecture of the series "Newer Ideas About the Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence" will be given by Dr. Bronson Crothers, of the Children's Hospital. Dr. Bronson's subject will be "The Child's Physical and Mental Health." Tickets are available to the public.

Tuesday, December 1st, in the Congregational Parish House was a gala departure for the Club in entertaining the new members. A dessert-luncheon was served at 1:30 p. m., followed by a Reception to the new members. The short business meeting at 2:30 p. m. closed with a ten-minute address by Miss Harriet Parsons, of the Newton Welfare Bureau. Miss Parsons cited several concrete cases where the Bureau was able to carry on rehabilitation work with funds from the Christmas seals.

The Drama committee, Mrs. Lloyd Yeager, chairman, then took over the afternoon, giving two very entertaining plays. "White Iris," directed by Marion Whitcomb, had for the cast: Jessamy Doone, played by Helen Brown; Marsha Doone, Corinne Riker; Dorcas, Marta Badger; and Lucy Clair, played by Helen Dimock.

The scene was laid in the sitting-room of the Doone home in a small town near Boston in May, 1894. Between the plays, Mabel Duerden Mooney gave several readings. "Maid Service" directed by Helen Brockington, had as the cast: Emmy Preston, played by Doris Harding; Millie Preston, Francis Blake; Isabel Preston, Priscilla Chapple; and Mrs. Carter, played by Doris Kelley. The scene was the living-room of the Prestons in mid-afternoon.

The committee in charge were,

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Auditorium of the Newtonville Woman's Club House was filled to capacity at the Club meeting on Tuesday, December 1st, when "Famous Paintings of Madonnas" was the program given, posed by Club members and their friends. The Fra Angelico angels who drew the curtains were Janet Merrill and Jane Jewett. Mrs. Hortense Crede, Rallsback told the stories of the pictures and incidents in the lives of the artists. The famous paintings of the beloved Madonnas she described as "shadows of mother love fixed on canvas." The glorious nimbus, or aureole, she stated, was of pagan origin, later adopted as a Christian emblem.

The following paintings and those posing in them were: The Annunciation, by Fra Angelico, represented by Mary Betzold and Olive Rice (with Soprano Solo, "O Holy Night," sung by Sylvia Church Pettys); The Nativity, by Corregio, represented by Edith Thomas, Hester Thompson, Margaret Merrill, and Gladys McGill; The Madonna of the Veil, by Carlo Dolce, posed by Norma Clark; La Vergine Col Figlio, by Murillo, posed by Hazel Brimblecom (with Violin Solo "Ave Maria," played by Anna Koritz); Madonna Della Sedia, by Raphael, represented by Rachel Himman, Elizabeth White, and Richard Salinger; Virginia and Child, by Botticelli, subject, Florence Duff; Saint Anne De Beaupre, represented by Anne Shepherd; Madonna Adoring Child, by Corregio, represented by Lola Thyng; Castello Madonna, by Corregio, posed by Viola Kallberg and Marianne Burke (with Piano Solo "Consolation," played by William Ellis Weston); Madonna of Consolation, by Bouteau, represented by Audrey Walters and Adelaide Webber; Madonna Del Granduca, by Raphael, represented by Gladys McGill; Mater Amabilis, by Bodenhausen, posed by Katherine Norris; Madonna and Child, by Mantegna, represented by Marion Wheeler; Sistine Madonna, by Raphael, posed by Helen Green, Marion Kidger, and Olive Rice.

The Glee Club rendered the following: "Hark the Herald Angel Sing," "The Heavens Are Telling," "Sleep Little Dove," "Angels from the Realms of Glory," "The Virgin's Slumber Song," "Old Provencal Noel," "No Candle Was There" (with Contralto solo by Ethel Keach Ferrin); "Angels O'er the Fields," "Cradle Song" by Brahms, "Ave Marie from Loreley" (with solo by Ernestine Kyle); and "Adieu Felids."

Mrs. Robert E. Bruce announced the Legislative meeting to be held December 9th, and Miss Marian Bassett spoke in regard to the Children's Christmas Party, where there will be 50 young guests. A collection was taken for the purpose by Jean Weber, Sylvia Rice, Dorothy Steacie, and Joyce Steacie.

Hostesses at the dessert-coffee were Mrs. George Edmunds, Mrs. George Horton, and Miss M. Clara Smith. Mrs. Joseph H. Wiley and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden poured the coffee.

James Bonnar gave an exhibition of Paintings in the Art Gallery, which was much appreciated, and Creches were shown by Mrs. W. E. Strong, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Dr. Hunt, Judith Andress, and Mr. Fred Blanchard.

Community Forum Hears Expert On Criminals Denounce Parole Systems

Courtney R. Cooper Blames Parents Who Do Not Properly Discipline Children

The Newton Community Forum presented Courtney R. Cooper as its third speaker of the season last Sunday afternoon. According to J. Edgar Hoover, Mr. Cooper is the "best informed man on crime in the United States." He is not only a crime expert but also an author, lecturer and sportsman. He is of the staff of the Training School of the Federal Justice and Treasury Departments. His subject was "The Making and Breaking of Criminals."

Mr. Cooper said that the chief factor in the making of criminals is their belief that they can "get away with it." Behind this rapid trust to chance develops a more material dependence upon "protection" which takes various forms. The criminal call him X—knows someone who is a "pal" to someone else who has drag. That someone will get him out of it or if he won't "anudder guy will." And so it goes. What is more—Mr. Cooper said that the worst mistake mother and dad—especially mother—can make is to forgive little Junior for breaking Mrs. Jones' parlor window—"He's too young to know any better, the poor little dear." So the poor little dear keeps on breaking windows and putting tacks in the road—each prank becoming less of a prank and more of a criminal offense. In this way the embryonic criminal loses what self-respect he might have had, develops a perverted ego and an ever-increasing cowardice.

The speaker told of having run away at an early age to join a circus where he eventually trained animals. He says that there is little difference between the human cub and the lion cub. Their natural instincts are in common to bite and scratch. Unless guided intelligently and with understanding until trained sufficiently to know how "things are done" in polite society, they keep on being animals.

Bring the Kiddies—Avoid Boston Crowds
GREEN'S 386 Centre Street, Newton

Therefore, the speaker continued, our civilization is false and must be so. 3,500,000 people are working against crime in this country today. All over the world some crime is committed every twenty seconds. Does crime pay? It pays the criminal. Mr. Cooper gave $75,000.00 per annum as the average income of the accomplished criminal. What is more it will continue to pay until something is done. Progress is being made, however, for the "racket" has decreased 75 per cent since the Bureau of Investigation got on the job.

It may be of interest if a bit disillusioning to know that 15,000 police officers in the country have records. That does not mean once a criminal always one, but nevertheless the first thing to be done is to clear the police department of men who are willing to keep their eyes closed for a small sum.

Of the prison inmates in the U. S. 52 per cent are in on second terms and upwards. Mr. Cooper does not believe in the loose parole system of many states or too much recreation for prisoners. It has too many loopholes and is an added expense in the end. Neither does he believe in political pressure—a polite way of saying drag—be it bribery, acquaintance or any other means of using influence to free a criminal of his just deserts. Mr. Cooper does believe in capital punishment, however, and says that the fear of the chair keeps a great many on the straight and narrow.

His graphic accounts of some of the big crimes and their perpetrators—from mannerism to speech—left the audience wide-eyed and convulsed by turns.

Fire In House At Newtonville

A fire which started about 8:15 on Wednesday night in the third floor apartment at 731 Washington st., Newtonville, caused considerable damage to the room and contents where it started, and to an adjoining hallway. Smoke caused damage to other parts of the house. The apartment was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hunt who had just installed a quantity of new furniture in the apartment. The building is owned by George Cahill of 74 Manet rd.

Dr. H. H. Powers Dies As Result Of Injuries

Prof. Harry H. Powers of 82 Church st., Newton died at the Newton Hospital on December 8 of injuries received on November 24 when he was struck by an automobile. On the morning of that day as Mr. Powers was walking on the sidewalk at Centre st., near Church st., alongside his property which he had developed into a beautiful garden spot, two automobiles collided at the intersection of Centre and Church sts. One swerved across the sidewalk and pinned Mr. Powers between the car and a heavy wire fence. He received injuries to his spine, but they were not considered fatal and his recovery was expected.

Dr. Powers was born in Hebron, Wisconsin 77 years ago. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1882 and then started to teach French and German at that institution. A few years later he took a postgraduate course at the University of Berlin. Subsequently he taught French and German and political economy at Smith College, and at Oberlin, Stanford and Cornell Universities. While at Cornell Prof. Powers started the Bureau of University Travel, devoted to educational travel. Upon ending his association with Cornell, he came to Newton in 1902 and expanded the activities of the Bureau of University Travel. Soon after Prof. Powers started to publish "University Private" which had wide sale to educational institutions. He was a pioneer in conducting tours to Greece and other parts of the Mediterranean previously not easily accessible to travelers.

Dr. Powers was the author of many books on art, travel and other subjects. During the World War he wrote works on political subjects, including "America Among Nations," and "Things That Men Fight For." One of the last books he wrote was—"Works of Michael Angelo." Last year upon retiring as head of the Bureau of University Travel, to keep himself occupied and to make a civic contribution to Newton, he started to develop the former Utley and Frisbie estates on Centre and Church sts., which he had purchased into a large garden spot modelled after a garden adjoining Salisbury Cathedral, England. He erected a small garden house and conservatory there.

Dr. Powers is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary M. Powers; a son, Joseph H. Powers of Newton; a sister, Mrs. John Chapman of Rochester, New York; and a brother, Joseph Powers, a retired professor of the University of Nebraska. His funeral service will be held from his late home on Friday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Ray Eusden of Eliot Church will officiate. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

Again Turn Down Martin Petition

The current petition of the Martin Manufacturing Company to rezone land bordered by Washington, Felton and Chestnut sts., West Newton from business to manufacturing zone will be reported on adversely by the Claims and Rules committee of the Aldermen at the meeting next Monday night. The committee held a meeting on Dec. 2 and voted 5 to 1 to give the petition leave to withdraw. Similar petitions have been presented to the Board of Aldermen before and have been rejected. The present petition, however, seemed to have better chances, as the Planning Board of Newton had favored it after having imposed conditions, and it had been given serious consideration by the Board of Aldermen. A 15 foot setback on Felton st. had been agreed to.

The Martin Company owns a large factory building which for many years was used for light manufacturing, the making of curtains. The building was operated under the non-conforming clause in the zoning ordinance, and it has been found impossible to sell or lease it for other types of manufacturing.

Aldermen Bowen of Ward 3 opposed the zoning change at the hearing before the Claims and Rules Committee. He argued that the West Newton public library is across Chestnut st. from the proposed manufacturing zone, and that if the change were made, some objectionable type of manufacturing might be started in the area. The West Newton Men's Club registered an objection to the petition.

Third Grade Children To Give Pageant

A Christmas Pageant will be presented by all third grade children, 1000 strong in the Newton Schools. Two programs will be given in the High School Auditorium on Saturday, December 19th: one at 10 a. m., the other at 2 p. m. The pageant is the outgrowth of a study of life in foreign lands made by third grade pupils and shows the co-operative work with physical education, music, art, which class room teachers carry on. "Everywhere—Everywhere—Christmas, Peace and Good Will" is the theme which carries through the pageant as the group of American children take their trip around the world. They go to make friends with their neighbors of other lands. With love in their hearts and friendship in their hands they find good will wherever they go.

Firemen Revive W. Newton Woman

Mrs. Nellie Ryan of 202 River st., West Newton was revived by a crew of firemen from Ladder 1 on Tuesday night after she had become unconscious from a heart attack. Mrs. Ryan had the attack about 10:30 p. m. and Dr. Sherman was called. He summoned assistance from the fire department and the crew under Lieutenant Marchant used an inhalator on the woman for over two hours.

Players Enter Fiftieth Year Of Theatricals

Local Amateur Group Is Oldest In Country

The Players, Newton's oldest amateur dramatic organization and among the earliest permanent private theatrical clubs in the country, has entered upon its fiftieth year. The directors have sent to associate members notice of the plans for fitting commemoration of the anniversary. It is pointed out that The Players has been a part of Newton for the past half-century and has had the uninterrupted support of residents of all villages.

The custom of three series of performances will be followed during the 1936-37 season as in the past. All performances will be held in the High School Auditorium, Newtonville. The directors have during the past few months studied with care the many plays given since the club's inception in May, 1887 for the purpose of selecting appropriate revivals. Two have been decided upon. For the mid-year play the club will give a modern comedy which was one of the distinct hits of last season in New York.

The first series will be marked by a revival of a delightful farce, "The Private Secretary," which The Players presented in 1902 and again in 1908. The date for the coming production are Monday and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 14 and 15.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, Feb. 8 and 9, 1937, will be given "Personal Appearance," a satirical comedy that has been an outstanding success of the professional stage.

For the third series, which will be produced Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 12 and 13, 1937, the club will give "She Stoops To Conquer." The cast will include a large number of active members some of whom took part in plays of many seasons ago. The Players first produced "She Stoops To Conquer" in 1893.

The third series next May will be marked by appropriate recognition of the anniversary in addition to the stage presentation. The details will be made known later.

The directors are: Waldo Glidden, Charles E. Hatfield, T. E. Stutsen, William V. M. Fawcett, Alice L. Frost, J. de Vere Simmons, Kendrick Kerns and Leverett D. G. Bentley.

Woman Fined $50 Drove Recklessly

Adele Laliberte, 53, of 15 Riverside st., Needham, was fined $50 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. On November 11 a car driven by her collided at Beacon and Walnut sts., Newton Centre, with a car driven by Kathleen Sullivan of Arlington. The Sullivan car was tipped over and an occupant, Margaret Narducci, 62, of Arlington was injured. The intersection where the collision occurred affords a wide open view from all approaches, but many collisions have occurred there due to reckless driving on the part of operators of some of the cars involved.

One Third Of Voters Go To Polls At City Election On Tuesday

Aldermen Guzzi and Brocklesby Defeated For Re-election—Fahey Wins In Close Fight In Ward 1

While the usual lack of interest was manifested in the city election on Tuesday, the percentage of voters who displayed enough interest in Newton affairs to do their civic duty was larger than in other years when there was no mayoralty contest. The total number of ballots cast was 12,734, about one-third of the total registration. A large number of blanks characterized the election. The results were about as had been expected. Most of the Aldermen who were candidates for reelection were successful. Two were not. In Ward 3 Alfred Guzzi, who had served two years as Ward Alderman, was defeated by Max Gaddis. Gaddis obtained a small majority of the votes cast in this office. His total of 1290 exceeded the votes cast for both Guzzi and Greene by 39. Guzzi received 714 and Greene 537. Guzzi, apparently sceptical of his chances, did not make an aggressive campaign, such as he did the preceding two years.

In Ward 4 Bacon defeated Ward Alderman Brocklesby in a fairly close fight—1087 to 849. In Ward 6 and in Ward 7 the present incumbents, Joseph Jamieson and James Melcher, won easily. In Wards 1 and 2 the contests were closer. No candidate had a majority of first choice votes, so the preferential system, necessitating the counting of the second and third choice votes, was resorted to. In Ward 1 Fahey received a total of 500 first choice votes and Murphy 476. Fahey's total, counting first, second and third choice votes, was 647; Murphy's 612. A recount will be asked by Murphy's supporters. In Ward 2 Whitehead received enough 1st. choice votes to prevent Lyon from getting a majority over Dunleavy and Vergato. The total of all votes cast for Lyon was 1033; Dunleavy received 754. Whitehead 486, and Vergato 240.

Three candidates for Aldermen-at-Large had no opposition. Carl Schippen, present Ward Alderman from Ward 2, running for Aldermen-at-Large had no opposition.

Dempsey Editor Of New G.O.P. Paper

James Dempsey, secretary to Sinclair Weeks when the latter was Mayor of Newton, and associated with Mr. Weeks in other capacities during the past year, is to be editor of a new monthly publication, the Republican State Journal, which will present its first issue on January 1. The purpose of the magazine is to rebuild the Republican party in Massachusetts. George D. Hall will be general manager of the new journal which will have correspondents at the State House and at Washington. Its headquarters will be at 11 Beacon st., Boston.

Large from that Ward, received a total of 8525 votes throughout the city. Maynard Hutchinson, Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3, received a total of 8797. Henderson Inches, Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, received a total of 8204. Clifford Walker, running for reelection as Ward Alderman from Ward 5, without an opponent, received 1344 votes.

The two members of the School Committee, who were candidates for reelection, scored easy victories. Harry Bryant, member from Ward 2, received a total of 7108 votes. His opponent, John McGrath, polled 3797. Mrs. Margaret Woods, member from Ward 5, received 7162 votes. Her opponent, Francis McOwen, received 3763 votes.

Local Retail Sales Near Peak of 1929

The Bureau of the Census have just released the figures covering Retail Sales in Newton for the year 1935. This is the third census of Retail business; the first was taken in 1930 covering the year 1929, the second was taken in 1934 covering the year 1933, and the third taken this year covering 1935.

The report covers 521 retail outlets which did a business of $17,391,000, employed 1999 people not including proprietors who received $2,071,000 in salaries. The year's business showed an increase of 34 per cent over the year 1933 against an average for the State of 24 per cent. Assuming that the increase for this year will be 10 per cent (estimated average increase for the State) would mean sales of $19,130,100 or only 8 per cent below the peak year of 1929.

The number of Stores in 1929 was 512, in 1933 the number was 464, and last year 1935 the number was 521, an increase of 57 in the two years, and an increase of 9 over 1929.

While the increase in Total Sales in 1935 was 34 per cent over 1933, the increase varied greatly in the different lines of business. The food group comprising 177 stores increased their business 31 per cent. The automotive group which includes Automobiles, Filling Stations and Garages increased 40 per cent. The Lumber, Hardware, and Heating & Plumbing group increased 90 per cent, restaurants 98 per cent, drug stores 22 per cent.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce states that as the total net population of the city has changed but little in the past two years it would seem from the fact that local retail sales have increased a greater percentage than the average for the State, that more people are buying at home than formerly.

THE DEPRESSION IS OVER?

"The depression is definitely over" were the words of Ralph B. Wilson, official of the Babson organization of Wellesley, at a joint meeting of the Newton Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs on Tuesday. This fact is proved by the recent surveys of retail business throughout the country. Locally it is shown to be true by the census of retail sales in the Newtons during the year 1935 which shows a total of only 8% less than the peak year of 1929. This does not mean, however, that every local concern is as prosperous as it might be. The eternal tide of competition together with the acumen of our merchants will continue to make a material difference in the future of local business.

ANOTHER ELECTION IS PAST

The 1936 city election is over. It is the third election in which Newton voters have balloted within less than four months. This is one of the factors which result in but a small percentage of the voters going to the polls in an "off-year." With but one-third of the qualified voters performing the duty of good citizens it is gratifying to know that our city government will continue to be administered by a great majority of officials whose service is of the quality which has helped to make Newton the best city in the State.

USE CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEALS

Send out our Christmas cards and packages decorated with a modern Santa, described by Leigh Mitchell Hodges as "radiating joy for the millions of lives saved since 1907, the lighted candles showing the way to further lower the tuberculosis rate, and the double barred cross of the National Association, which with the money secured through seal sales, literally is double crossing this one deadliest of diseases." The money realized from one sheet of seals will buy a good many glasses of milk for someone who needs them. The movement needs and deserves everyone's support and co-operation.

DANGER—SKATERS BEWARE!

Another skating season is near at hand. Newspapers are again reporting the tragic drowning of careless children and adults who venture upon ice which is unsafe. There are only two ways to prevent these winter-time tragedies. The first is to educate all persons and particularly children of immature judgment to go skating only when conditions are safe. Included in this education is the instruction as to how to take care of one's self when danger is experienced. The other way is through the parental influence of knowing where children are and of making certain that they are not taking the chances that so many are wont to do. Children—beware of the dangers. Parents—beware of your responsibility.

A CITIZEN OF STERLING CHARACTER

The death of Dr. H. H. Powers as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident deprives Newton of a citizen of sterling character. Community benefit and improvement were continually in his thoughts as the beautiful English garden which he himself planned and had begun to carry out mutely testifies. His many friends and fellow citizens share the sorrow of his passing.

A GOOD CHRISTMAS GIFT

A fitting Christmas or New Year's gift is "The Story of Newton" by John R. Prescott, a book of 68 pages with 47 illustrations. Its purpose is to portray Newton as exemplifying suburban living at its best. It contains no advertising and treats of the attractions and advantages of the city as a whole. The history is used as a basis to lead up to the development of the city as a residential community. The industrial side of the story is not neglected but is in proper proportion to the real purpose of the book.

Of the edition of 10,000 copies 9,000 have been subscribed for. All the profits from its sale the author will donate to the Newtonville Branch Library fund. The price is 25 cents per copy or 50 cents by mail. It is on sale at all the Branch Libraries and at Edmunds' and other drug stores. Mail orders will be filled by the Newtonville Branch Library Association, Inc. It is desired to have all copies taken before January 1st. Adv.

Young Republicans

Meet December 14

The Young Republican Club of the Newtons announces that at its next meeting the guest speaker will be a member of the Social Securities Board. This meeting will be held on December 14th, Monday evening at 8:15 at the Clafin School in Newtonville. At this meeting the nominating committee will be elected. The election of officers will take place at the January meeting as previously announced.

BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB OF NEWTON

The Boston College Club of Newton held a regular monthly meeting at Boston College, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29th. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Bernard Farrell, vice-president. Plans were discussed for various contemplated affairs for the coming year.

Service Clubs Told of Return Of Prosperity

The members of the Newton Rotary Club were the guests of the Newton Kiwanis Club at a joint meeting of the two local service organizations at the Charles River Country Club on Tuesday noon. Mr. Ralph B. Wilson, vice-president of the Babson Statistical Organization, was the speaker. He was introduced by Ernest J. Gibson, president of the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Wilson stated that the depression which began in 1929 was definitely over and that the total volume of retail business was not a great way from the peak of 1929. For the first time since 1922 normal was reached this past summer on a rising market. Mr. Wilson also cited the vast potential market which exists in various lines and as an instance stated that 90 per cent of the railroad locomotives now in use were more than 10 years old. He drew an interesting parallel between the automotive industry and the building trades. In the former industry the price of automobiles is one third of what it was thirty years ago while it costs about three times as much to build a home today as it did at that time. He further told how great a demand for homes should exist in the near future.

In closing the speaker predicted that unless unforeseen conditions arise that the coming era of prosperity might well make the 1929 peak look like a depression.

Annual Citizens' Appeal By Salvation Army

The Annual Citizens' Appeal in Newton for $5000 to help the Salvation Army carry on its humanitarian work in the metropolitan area was launched by a Sponsoring Committee under the chairmanship of Mayor Edwin O. Childs, with William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, as cashiers. The appeal is a cash contribution, or checks made out to Treasurer Cahill, may be paid to him or to the official canvassers, who will be dressed in regulation Salvation Army uniform, and present as credentials a letter of introduction signed by Mayor Childs, and a pass signed by the commanding officer of the Salvation Army in New England. Prospective contributors will be interested in the fact that these canvassers, in common with all other Salvation Army workers, do not receive any commission or percentage on the gifts that pass through their hands.

Salvation Army Soldiers designated to carry on the appeal in Newton are A. M. Bassett, Reuben Bursey, H. A. Clarke, J. H. Roberts, Bernard Stone, and Ernest Stowe. They began a house-to-house canvass on Monday dressed in the regulation uniform and carrying credentials consisting of a letter of introduction signed by Mayor Childs and an official pass issued by the Salvation Army.

Participating with Mayor Childs and Treasurer Cahill in the Appeal are the following members of the Sponsoring Committee: Auburndale: Edward J. Frost, 379 Central st., vice-president, Wm. F. Fine's Sons; Dr. Guy M. Winslow, president, Lasell Junior College; Mrs. Edward H. Woods, 141 Moffat rd., director, Auburndale Women's Club.

Newton: Charles H. Clark, 45 Nonantum st., treasurer, Newton Savings Bank; James P. Gallagher, 35 Rossmore st., Clerk of Court; J. Ernest Gibson, 342 Watertown st., president, Kiwanis; Joseph Goodman, 199 Ward st.; Rev. William M. Gunter, Newton M. E. Church; Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, 105 Oakleigh rd., president, Newton Community Club; James B. Melcher, cashier, Newton National Bank; William N. Ormsby, coach, Boston College; William T. Rich, 20 Sargent st.; M. Dorothy M. Wilson, 67 Church st.

Newton Centre: Hon. J. Weston Allen, 219 Lake ave.; Rev. M. R. Boynton, D.D., First Church in Newton; Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D.D., president, Andover-Newton Academy; Mrs. Arthur B. Jones, president, Newton Trust Co.; William H. Rice, president, Newton Centre Savings Bank; Andrew S. Seiler, 23 Burr rd., president, H. J. Sella Co.; Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., Trinity Church.

Newton Highlands: Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren. Newtonville: Rev. Lawrence W. C. Emis, Newtonville M. E. Church; City Clerk, Frank M. Grant; Walter H. Gregg, president, Rotary; Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, Central Congregational Church; Rupert C. Thompson, secretary, Chamber of Commerce.

West Newton: Joseph W. Bartlett, Esq., 45 Ridge rd.; Francis J. Burrage, secretary, Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co.; Maxwell P. Gaddis, 24 Eliot ave., sales manager, H. H. Winslow-Winch Co.; Roland F. Gammons, president, West Newton Savings Bank; Rev. Herbert Hitchen, Unitarian Church; Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, 53 Warwick rd., president, Newtonville Women's Club; Hon. Sinclair Weeks.

Miss Bertha W. Allen, Newton Lower Falls, superintendent Newton Hospital; Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, 210 Chestnut Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, Speaker of the House.

Musical At New Jerusalem Church

On December 13 at 5 p. m. an informal musical will be given at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville. The program will include violin solos by Anton Kovar; piano selections by Elizabeth Home; organ solos by R. Lawrence Capon, and duets and trios on the three instruments.

Christmas Seal Sale

Small amounts multiplied by a large number will equal a splendid total. The many small amounts which have come to the ten chairmen of the Christmas Seal sale committee in Newton are building up to the total which should surpass the totals of recent years.

Realization of the enormous amount of benefit accomplished by the sales of these seals in forty different countries is expected to make everyone anxious to add his co-operation and help in this fine humanitarian work.

The treasurer, Mr. Frank L. Richardson, gives the following statement, as of December 8th.

Newton	$335.80
Newtonville	495.25
Newton Centre	513.00
Newton Highlands	174.90
Waban	294.00
Auburndale	174.70
West Newton	370.15
Chestnut Hill	212.90
Upper Falls	16.25
Lower Falls	8.25
	$2567.60

Collectors have for some time been saving Health Seal and the following data may be of interest to local collectors. The four corner seals are of different design from the others in the sheet, and in the lower right hand corner on the fifty-sixth seal of each sheet will be found the mark of the lithographer. The seals in Massachusetts are marked E or U for Eureka or United States, respectively; seals distributed mostly in the southern states bear the initial S for Stockbridge, while many supplied to the western states are marked D, indicating Edwards and Deutsch.

This week, the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League is honoring Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Del., founder of the Christmas Seal in America, first issued to fight tuberculosis in December, 1907. The original idea was conceived in Denmark in 1904 by Ethar Holboell who certainly could not have foreseen that his idea would be used by so many countries and raise millions of dollars.

NEWELL CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newell Club of Newton and Wellesley was held at the home of Miss Barbara Esterbrook, 37 Beachcroft rd., Newton, on Tuesday, December 8th.

A most interesting demonstration and lecture on "Holiday Suppers" was given by Mrs. Imogene B. Wolcott, Director of Homemakers' Service Department of the First National Stores. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Ellison G. Day, J. S. Donald L. Gibbs, Mrs. Edward Leonard, Jr., and Mrs. Seth D. Tucker.

BRIDGE PARTY

A bridge party is to be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, 212 Chestnut st., West Newton, on Monday afternoon, December 14th, for members of the Newton Circle, Inc. Those planning to attend are requested to bring canned goods to be used in the Christmas baskets which will be supplied as usual to some of the needy families of Newton.

Letters To The Editor

NEWTON—THERE SHE STANDS

To the Editor: NEWTON—there she stands!—safe (as usual) for the Republicans! It was a great fight, however, especially in an "off year." And I want to sincerely thank the 2,229 citizens of Newton who thought that I was a better man for Aldermanic service at City Hall than my doughty opponent. The Republicans did a fine job on Yours Truly.

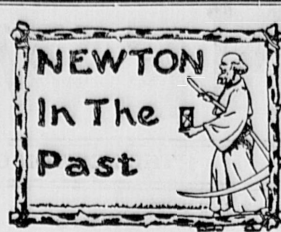

There is no news in the fact that the Dutch have taken Holland, for that is exactly what happened in Tuesday's election in this good old, glorious Garden City. I consider it a great compliment, however, that, in the face of open opposition and hostility from both the Republican Ward and City Committees of Newton, I polled such a handsome and encouraging vote. Not even the ambidextrous and shifty W. C. could quite nullify my chances for election by his scurrilous and sarcastic political diatribes in the local prints. More power to this minion of Economic Royalty—this cowering Cassandra of Newton politics!

Suffice it to say that I "got the goat" of my opponents. I had them worried for a while. As one high city official stated, "They just couldn't take it." They even so far forgot their policy of "dignified silence" as to rush into print to defend themselves from the sly thrusts of "the colorful Drake." I had a lot of fun with them, and it was well worth the few dollars which it cost me.

A Bourbon "never learns anything" and never forgets anything," according to History, so none of us "outsiders" were surprised that the various Ward Republican groups again resorted to malling around a "slate" of approved candidates for re-election—in open and flagrant disregard of the published statement that there would be no "slates" carrying the endorsement of leading Republican politicians in this supposedly "non-partisan" election.

So I hereby serve notice that one year hence, I propose to defeat for re-election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7, the redoubtable George E. Rawson, who signed the Republican slate-card mailed to all voters in my district.

Time marches on!
PAUL HARRIS DRAKE.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Dec. 12, 1874

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening a complaint was received that the ladies' room at the Boston & Albany station in Newtonville is a nuisance which should be abated. The air is so foul that persons cannot occupy the same without injury to their health, and they request that the Aldermen view the same and take such measures as in their judgment may seem best for a remedy.

It was ordered that His Honor, the Mayor, nominate, for confirmation by the City Council, three suitable citizens of Newton who shall be called Water Commissioners. They shall be charged with the duty of examining the various sources from which Newton can be supplied with water for fire and domestic purposes, and reporting with as little delay as possible the best method of obtaining the same and the cost. They shall be authorized to employ such professional services as may be necessary, and they shall receive such compensation as the City Council may decide.

The old well opposite Hyde's Block at Newton Corner is being deepened, and when the pump there is put in order again there is little probability of the water failing.

These welcome rains fell us, but they have not, as yet, filled up wells in our villages.

As an evidence of growth we notice the announcement that a new grocery store will open at Newton Highlands on Saturday. What stores are now there are having a fair trade and with the increase in population, the stores now vacant should be filled with prosperous business men.

The excellent conveniences of the new city hall at West Newton come in striking contrast to what officials of the city have been accustomed. It is only about four years ago that the Selectmen and Assessors held all their meetings at the town almshouse. Two or three years before that the meetings were held at the houses of the Selectmen.

Two children of Edward Hinckley at West Newton died of diphtheria and were buried on Tuesday afternoon. Two others are sick from the same disease.

Special Officer Ardrie has opened a fish market at Lower Falls. We wish him success.

Last Saturday evening as one of Ballard's Express teams was on the way to the stable, at Lower Falls, a collision with a light team occurred, demolishing one of the front wheels. The name of the owner of the injured carriage is not known.

Gaylord Field, the 5 year old son of Dr. H. M. Field, died in Newton on Tuesday of scarlet fever after an illness of four days.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 11, 1886

This is hardly the time for bicycle news of any kind as the machines have been stored for the winter.

The advent of the sleighing season has brought out some very handsome turnouts, and the Newton streets are unrivalled for pleasure driving.

The snowstorm of this week is said by Boston street railroadmen to have been the heaviest and most expensive storm that they have seen for the first of the season in 26 years of railroad life.

The sad news comes from New York that the crease in men's attire is a thing of the past, and accordingly the tailors have been rushed with orders the past few days smoothing out garments.

A sight that amused people about Newton Corner on Wednesday was that of three men rolling about in a snowdrift. A pugacious individual had been removed from a B. & A. train for intoxication, and Patrolman Henthorn and Constable Laffie were taking him to the police station. When he reached the square, he refused to proceed, and in the subsequent struggle all three men went into the snowdrift. The drunk was finally persuaded to go on.

Mr. Samuel Newell is lying very low at the residence of his nephew, Benjamin Newell, and is liable to drop away at anytime.

The sleigh bells were the wedding bells on Wednesday evening. They rang merrily over the virgin snow under the brilliant moonlight as friends gathered at Ervin Ireland's new house near Ward st., Newton Centre, to celebrate his marriage with Miss Olive Knowles. Rev. T. J. Holmes performed the ceremony.

The young ladies of the Lower Falls Methodist Church are preparing for a "Fan drill" to be given during the holiday season.

The movement to annex that part of Watertown lying South of the Charles River to Newton is again being revived; the preliminary steps having been taken by the publishing of a notice signed by Messrs. Tuttle, Emery, Dunne and other residents of that district.

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

We have been asked to comment on the growing practice of using the streets of this city for advertising purposes. The city ordinances of Newton forbid signs or showboards being placed on public streets or sidewalks. In recent years corporations and individuals who had placed advertising signs along some of our streets, or on trees or poles bordering sidewalks, were compelled to remove them. This was proper; because if some were accorded this privilege, others have an equal right, and if our streets were littered with advertising signs, what a spectacle this city would present. There are numerous signs throughout this city advertising new houses. It is up to the Street Commissioner and the police to have these signs removed.

Another phase of this use of public streets for advertising, which has been called to our attention, is the placing on street sign posts of directional signs to physicians' residences. This is also a new practice in Newton. If a few physicians are given this privilege, all physicians are entitled to it. So are dentists, lawyers, morticians, and other professional and business men. The way to prevent this increasing misuse of public streets is to grant special privileges to none.

Last September, less than three months ago, we spent a pleasant half hour with Professor Harry H. Powers at the large garden he was developing at Centre and Church sts., Newton. He showed us the garden house and conservatory which had just been completed on the property and told us of his plans for further beautifying the place. Mr. Powers was 77 years of age last August, but his faculties were undimmed and he was more active than most men a score of years younger. He had in his younger years achieved prestige as a teacher in leading American universities, and for the past 33 years had won international recognition as a pioneer and leader in the field of educational travel. He retired about a year ago as president of the Bureau of University Travel, and "to keep himself from rusting," as he expressed it, conceived the idea of creating a beautiful garden spot, which for years to come would be an asset to the city he chose as his home in 1902. He expected to spend some happy years working at his garden, and enjoying the pleasure it would give to his friends and the people of Newton. But, destiny decreed otherwise. On the morning of November 24th, as Mr. Powers was on his way to his garden house, and had nearly reached it, two automobiles collided on the icy intersection at Centre and Church sts., and one of the cars hurtled across the sidewalk, crushing the aged man against a strongly built wire fence with sufficient force to wreck that section of the fence. He received injuries which resulted in his death at the Newton Hospital on Tuesday of this week. There will be an inquest to determine, which, if either, of the drivers of the two automobiles involved, was guilty of reckless driving. It is to be hoped that the deplorable death of a man who intended to be a public benefactor will serve as another agency in measures being taken to make Newton's streets safer.

Some persons have asked us about the large number of sticks which have been placed along the borders of sidewalks and at Farlow Park and other public grounds. These sticks are painted at the top red, yellow or other colors. Their purpose is to show the location of catch basins, and curbs along at crosswalks so that employees of the Street Department will know where to plow and dig after snowstorms.

The romance (or tragedy) between his Royal Highness, King Edward of England, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson has been gradually crowding domestic news off the front pages of newspapers in this country. So much interest is being manifested by a large percentage of citizens of the U. S. A. in this contemplated marriage (or misalliance), that one would think its outcome will be of extreme importance to them. It does not concern us whether, or not, the King abdicates, or marries his charmer from Baltimore. But the opinion we previously had of his Royal Highness is further strengthened. From most of the photographs we saw of him as Prince of Wales, we thought he looked as though he was far from being a genius. Since he has succeeded to the throne, he certainly is acting like a sap. One of the very good royal jobs which has survived since the World War is that of the King of England. It is so far ahead of the other royal jobs that it is in a class by itself. Almost everyone knows that the King of England has been a political figurehead for several generations—and then some. He is merely a symbol, a sort of a focal personage to hold the British Empire together. He and his family receive royal incomes from the British peoples. He also receives much adulation and admiration as the result of centuries old loyalty and modern propaganda. In return, the King is supposed to conduct himself in a reasonably dignified manner so that the prestige of Great Britain will be maintained. No people in the civilized world have been more loyal to their King than the English, notwithstanding that for the past couple of centuries the Kings of England (including the present King) have not been of the English race. They have been 100% German by ancestry and during the World War changed their family name from Guelph to Windsor because it was fashionable to be of German extraction in England during that period. King Edward was not what might be termed an ascetic while Prince of Wales. He could have continued to enjoy life to the same extent as have many royal rulers; and yet conformed to the conventionalities expected of British rulers. But, he apparently has made a mess of things. It is interesting to recall at this time those lines written by Alfred Tennyson in

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Letter To Santa Claus

The delight of penning an appeal to Santa Claus need not be restricted to the very young. Older people may not see the fun of it, or perhaps I should say satisfaction. Newton gentlemen as follows:

"Dear Santa Claus—If I happen to be on your 1936 list—and I know you won't disappoint me—may I ask that you consider, in whatever gifts are put in my stocking, these few suggestions. Please do not think me impertinent but it will be a much merrier Christmas for me if arrangements can be made that I receive shoes with laces that will not become loose at an inopportune moment, for I don't like to bend over, especially in public.

"Could you also see that any socks that come my way are such that if I forget my garters the socks will stay in place and not become wrinkled? I hardly dare ask for a new watch but if you want to please me you can exchange the present timepiece for one that I will not forget to wind. Or if I should fail to wind it up it will automatically wind itself?"

"Supposing that my gifts include a pair of gloves. That being the case may they be the kind that cannot be lost or mislaid. Or such a make that if I lose one the other will automatically drop out of my pocket, too. Thus I would be saved the embarrassment of carrying one glove. Furthermore, the finder would have a pair instead of one useless mitt. Not to ask too much, may my Christmas necktie be one that will not require pressing?"

"You see I haven't run up much of a bill in these requests and furthermore they may be all obtained at one place. Thanking you in advance, etc."

The Thing To Do

The polls are closed, The unit's been noted, "The Day" has passed, For Newton's voted.

We heard much talk Then made selections, The way we do In all elections.

The air is cleared, There's no more cavi, So let us plan Some Southern travel.

She Knows Him

The office phone was answered after a loud ringing. There was a woman's voice which was recognized at once as that of the wife of one of the executives. His associate decided to take the message. In answer to the wife's query as to whether her husband were there he said, "He's out now but I expect him back at any moment."

"Did he happen to say where he was going?" "No, but I have my suspicion he is buying Christmas presents," came the explanation. "I don't agree with you," the wife laughed, "he always leaves that until the afternoon before Christmas."

Worries of Wrapping Bundles

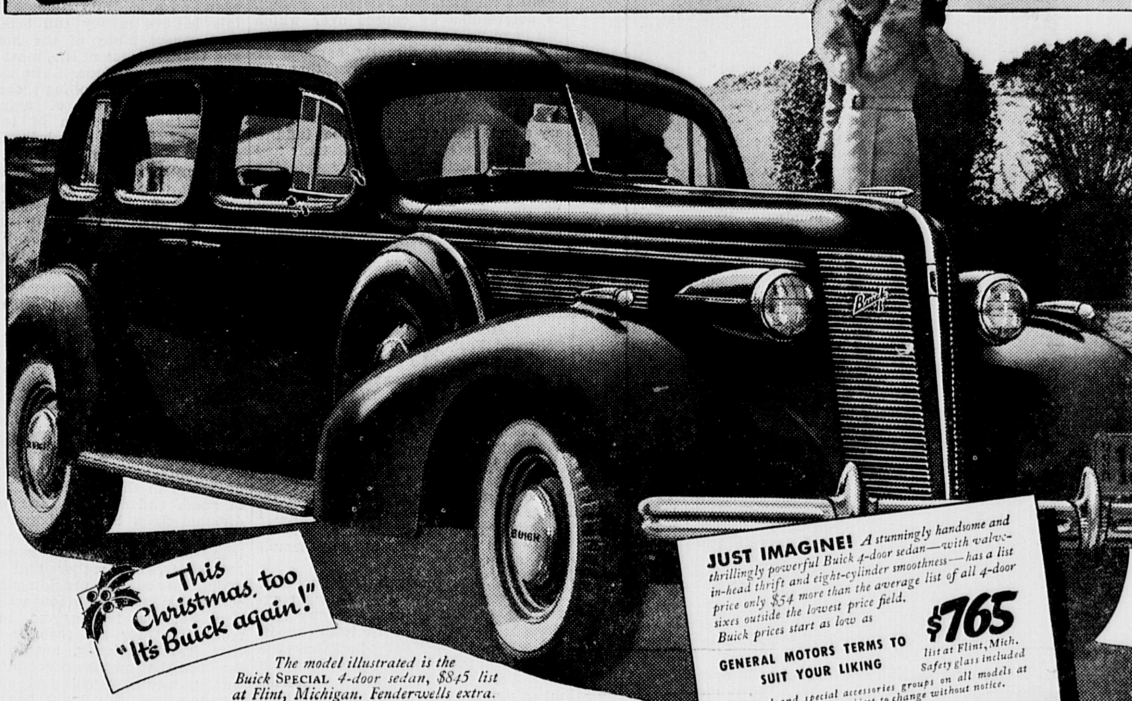

Faced with the task of tying up Christmas bundles, I am wondering if there are people so completely lacking in skill as myself in preparing such parcels. When I watch a store clerk neatly and deftly wrap up a bundle I think of the old adage, "It seems to me that I require about all the space available in one room. As for performing such a feat in the area of an ordinary store counter I am completely lost. Suppose I decide to go into my study. The top of the desk is far inadequate. Wrapping paper is here, string is there, labels and stickers somewhere around the corner and the articles themselves on the floor or the bed or on chairs. The roll of ribbon, which is supposed to provide the Yuletide touch, is sure to unroll and scot across the floor, often winding itself about my feet.

Then I must make all knots secure. Fingers become thumbs and thumbs become elbows. Securing a knot by placing the tip of the forefinger in the center of the bow may be a clever device for some but for me it is only an obstruction. If my finger does not become tied into the bow then the knot is too hard to untie.

Pasting is another gummy operation as far as my talents lie. The modern device of rubbing the bottle stopper against the paper is not so bad if one doesn't bear down too hard. In that case there is a flood of muckage. These are only some of the problems. If only there was a school of bundling I believe I would attend. At that I am not certain I should obtain mark of 100 even after a full course of training.

JUST ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR WHY

"It's Buick again!"

The model illustrated is the Buick Special 4-door sedan, $845 list at Flint, Michigan. Fenders extra.

JUST IMAGINE! A stunningly handsome and thrillingly powerful Buick 4-door sedan—with valve-in-head thrust and eight-cylinder smoothness—has a list price only $84 more than the average list of all 4-door Buicks outside the lowest price field. Buick prices start as low as $765 Literas Flint, Mich. Safety glass included. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. Prices subject to change without notice.

YOU don't have to go far afield for first-hand testimony on the marvelous goodness of the new 1937 Buicks.

Right here at home—among your friends and neighbors—are folks who can tell you plenty about this handsome traveler—and what makes it great!

Want a frank appraisal of Buick's flash-action oil-hushed valve-in-head straight-eight engine? Ask any Buick owner.

Want to know what Buick's Aerobac carburetor means—about Buick's double-end stabilization—about the soft straight-line certainty of Buick's tiptoe hydraulic brakes, with their easy-but-sure action?

Just listen to the voice of happy experience!

You'll run into a brand of enthusiasm among Buick owners that makes a salesman's talk sound lukewarm, but don't let that sweep you off your feet.

Just drop in and we'll show you the cold facts behind the warm fervor—how, in spite of extra bigness, extra power, extra beauty, extra performance, this year's Buicks—listing at $765 and up at Flint—are the easiest to buy in all Buick history.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Its Healing Message to a World in Need

RICHARD J. DAVIS, C. S., of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Mr. Richard J. Davis, C.S., of Chicago, Illinois, lectured on Christian Science Tuesday evening at eight o'clock under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist in the church edifice, Walnut and Otis Sts., Newtonville.

Mrs. Esther S. Davis, Second Reader of the Church introduced the lecturer with these words:

Friends:—We are happy to welcome you tonight as the guests of First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton. Since you have gathered here to learn more about the teachings of Christian Science, may we extend our greetings to you in a line from its textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, in which the author, Mary Baker Eddy, says "stranger, thou art the guest of God." (Science and Health 254:32).

Centuries ago at a feast in the house of Simon the Pharisee, Christ Jesus gave his approval to the ancient custom of washing and anointing the guest's feet, as a courteous preparation for profitable entertainment. The humble service might signify that the expression of divine Love at any spiritual feast, such as a Christian Science lecture, relieves the guest of his worries and refreshes him with new ideas. This is just what happens to people when they come to Christian Science for healing.

Many years ago I took up the study of this Science because I thought I needed physical cure, but I received my healing through spiritual regeneration. Many false traits of human nature, such as pride, fear, and selfishness had to be washed away in order that the anointing of divine intelligence and Love could take place.

You will now have the privilege of listening to our lecturer, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. He has chosen for his subject: "Christian Science: Its healing message to a world in need." I take great pleasure in presenting to you Mr. Richard J. Davis, of Chicago, Illinois.

It is probable that every man or woman in this audience, if questioned, would admit that the last few years have brought great changes in his way of thinking, his manner of living, and his attitude on many subjects. He could tell you of deep and difficult experiences, of adjustments, and situations which he never dreamed would be his. In practically all civilized countries, people have been called upon to face unusual problems and are still confronted with great difficulties.

To the thoughtful observer what appears at first glance as an economic, industrial, and social revolution is basically not that at all. Consciously or unconsciously, the fact is being driven home to all of us that we are taking part in and witnessing the greatest moral and spiritual revolution of all times. This does not mean that humanity is abandoning or forsaking morals, or a moral position, although if judged merely by surface evidence, this might appear to be the case. As a matter of fact, what is really taking place is a quickened sense of moral and social responsibility. This great change means the forsaking of traditions of thought and conduct which are bad. It means the discarding of dishonest and ignoble ideas of business and government. It means the abandonment of false class and social distinctions. It means, in short, the abolition of selfishness in human thinking. The immediate manifestation may appear to be a great mental disturbance, but the ultimate result is far beyond our present ability to foresee and comprehend.

Religion and Morals

Morals are defined in the dictionary as that which pertains to right or wrong conduct and the ability to distinguish right from wrong. Morals and moral conduct have in the minds of most people usually been associated with religion, although an effort is being made today to divorce or separate the two. It is clear that this would be impossible, for standards of right and wrong conduct are and should be the very foundation of true religion. It is not dogma and creed which are the basis of religious faith, but an active moral sense, an ability to know what is right and good and a willingness to live by it. True religion stands upon the upright moral and ethical conduct of its followers and upon its spiritual benefits to them, and its efficacy should be so judged.

Standards of right and wrong, of moral and ethical conduct, are not confined, of course, wholly within the borders of religion or church organization. Indeed, the ability to perceive and distinguish between right and wrong, good and evil, can be the very foundation of a happily ordered human society. Therefore, in these days of mental upheaval, Christian Science declares that we should not be disturbed nor alarmed, but, on the contrary, grateful that a spiritual awakening is taking place in human consciousness, that there is a quickened perception of right and a desire to do it and—what is most important—the ability to see evil for what it is, and to get rid of it.

The Christian Science Textbook

In their search for spiritual light, thousands of people today have found the consciousness of good, the kingdom of heaven, through their study of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, undoubtedly, next to the Bible, the most widely circulated and discussed book in the world. Nearly all these individuals were led to take up the study of Christian Science in times of dire physical, financial, or moral need. The very fact that Science and Health has provoked such widespread discussion and argument is evidence that there is something in the book that is stirring human thought. Christian Scientists do not feel that it is necessary to defend their textbook. It stands on its own fruitage and accomplishment, the honest and grateful testimony of intelligent men and women, the world over, who have been lifted out of disease, sin, and countless other difficulties, through the power and operation of spiritual law, as revealed in that book.

The Discoverer and Discovery of Christian Science

Human nature, curiously enough, often leads people to base their estimate of Christian Science and its Discoverer on what they have gleaned from sermons or books which are unfriendly and incorrect in statement. And yet, if you wished to really know about the teachings of the Methodist or Baptist church, would you not attend the services of those churches and accept an honest statement from those competent to give it? Christian Science asks no fairer treatment than this.

Since Mrs. Eddy discovered Christian Science there has been an increasing multitude of people, in all parts of the earth, who gratefully acknowledge that they owe their health, happiness, supply, and regenerated lives to the consecration and devotion of that great woman. Today the world is beginning to accord to her the place she deserves as the greatest spiritual leader of the age. And many people not Christian Scientists recognize the influence and evidence of her spiritual teaching on human consciousness. A tree is known by its fruit, and the fruitage of Mrs. Eddy's life is already seen in what is comparatively a short time, in the great humanitarian movement of which she is the sole Founder and Leader. Her teachings lead this movement today, and will continue to lead it, through the centuries, because her character, ideals, and her teachings are expressed in her writings, and to these writings every devoted Christian Scientist turns for the inspiration and guidance which will carry him forward toward greater spiritual achievement.

In 1866, Mary Baker Eddy proclaimed to an almost wholly unbelieving world that there was a Science or demonstrable understanding of Mind, a Science of thinking. She asserted that there was a law of divine Spirit back of this Science. She declared also that if men would study that law and understand it, they would find that it could be successfully applied throughout the entire range of human experience, and she based these statements on her own successes in healing many cases of disease and other difficulties. Through reason, logic, and spiritual revelation she arrived at the conclusion that Mind, self-existent and eternal Mind, was the primary cause of all true being or existence. She perceived also that if the cause or Principle of all being was Mind, so, logically, the effect of Mind would be mental. In other words, infinite Mind or divine cause would express or reveal itself only in a universe of ideas, a thought universe. Hence, she enunciated that tremendous statement of pure metaphysics (Science and Health, p. 468), "All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation, for God is All-in-all." Realizing that a basic spiritual cause could produce or reveal only a spiritual effect or creation, she saw that the whole world or universe of sense or matter, with all its discords, sin, and death, was not the reality of existence, but a false illusive state of consciousness, which the light of Truth would dissipate.

Mrs. Eddy took no halfway position. She perceived clearly the allness of Spirit, Mind, and the consequent nothingness or unreality of evil or matter, and there she stood. And there Christian Science stands today, challenging the honest investigation of any thoughtful person.

The Real Man

Christian Science, starting on the premise that all is Mind and its manifestation, declares that man exists spiritually and eternally as idea in the infinite Mind. It clears up the mystery and confusion surrounding the origin of man, and satisfactorily explains the two conflicting accounts of creation in the Bible. Spiritually interpreted, and at the same time coinciding with reason, it states that the only real creation must be the spiritual, the one described in the first chapter of Genesis, where man is declared to be the exact and perfect image of God. God being Spirit, man is spiritual, the likeness of infinite Spirit. God being Mind, man is the image or reflection of infinite Mind. God being Life, man is forever conscious of Life. God being Truth, man is the expression or embodiment of all true being.

We all of us admit that we can think. We know that we are in possession of that wonderful and divine faculty, the power of thought. This should be and is the indication to us of man's divinely mental origin and identity as idea. Divine consciousness is primal. Without consciousness and the power to think we have no proof whatever of existence.

Since man, then, is fundamentally mental, does it not seem strange that scholars and material scientists should have devoted so much time and energy in the endeavor to trace the origin of man and life always in matter? Why do they not look and search for a spiritual and mental cause?

One needs only to read a few books and articles by physicists and other thinkers of the day to see the confused wanderings of these worthy men in a matter maze. They never seem to find the way out. Like a will-o'-the-wisp, it is always just a little ahead of them, and it always will be as long as they continue to base their search on a matter-premise.

One man, a great physicist, conceives of the universe as a great machine. But he thinks of it as a material machine, which will eventually be spontaneously. God's man is not a slave to false mental manipulation, but possesses divine power to think and act rightly. The understanding of Christian Science gives us inherent power to think things through, and determines the origin, source, and acceptance of every thought. In so doing we perceive how, through divine Mind, we can gain the only true victory over sin, disease, and death, and how, through the action and operation of spiritual thinking, what appears as healing takes place. We all know that sin has to be thought before it can express itself in sinful action. So, too, disease, fear, and every evil and afflictive condition is traceable to a wrong mental state entertained. This wrong mental state Christian Science ment some of these destructive emotions and their effects, and let us see how they may be eliminated by Christian Science. Fear, of course, is the most basic erroneous mental state common to men. And why are men afraid? Primarily because, instead of understanding and believing in the oneness and allness of God or good, they are believing in the existence of an evil power. They believe that evil exists as an entity, and of course suffer the result of their accepted delusion. If fear expresses itself in rigidity or tension in the human body, if it can quicken or impede the circulation, or produce other physical effects, think, my friends, what can happen to your body this instant as the consciousness of Love's

God's creating, is always hopeful, joyous, and buoyant. The godless man, on the other hand, is hopeless, discouraged, and afraid. He carries with him an atmosphere of pessimism. There are many people in that state of mind today, but the very hopelessness of materialism is carrying them toward light, if they but knew it.

The agnostics or skeptics of the mind not only produce pessimism and discouragement but it also begets fatalism, a belief that all things are decided for us in advance, are predetermined. What is the use, they say, of trying to do anything of ourselves? Fatalism, with its unhappy outlook on existence has recently reappeared under the name of determinism. We find that everything, our human lives, our health, all material existence in fact, is determined by causes over which we have no control or volition. Christian Science is directly opposed to such thinking and declares that the only determining law is the divine Principle of the universe. It asserts that all causation being spiritual, every effect, emanating from that infinite and self-existent cause, is divinely and spiritually determined. It asserts the forever rightness of all things—causation being right and perfect, so must be the effect. Christian Science enables us to face this false materialistic philosophy with the understanding that the loving law of God has predetermined for us every right and good thing, success, capability, happiness, health, and peace. All of this and more is our eternal heritage. In her book "No and Yes" (p. 46) Mrs. Eddy has written, "Man has a noble desire, and the full-orbed significance of this destiny has dawned on the sick-bound and sin-enraptured."

It is possible that someone may be thinking: This lecturer says that the determining, governing Principle of all things is good, and therefore capable of producing only a beneficent result. If that is the case, why am I in such difficulties? Indeed, why is the whole world today in such turmoil and distress?

This is a perfectly logical question, but in reply let me ask, To what extent have most of us given any real thought or attention to basic spiritual thought? What effort has the average human being made to grasp or understand the spiritual cause of all things and apply the law thereof? Very little. How can it be expected, then, that spiritual law and its operation will be apparent to us while we spend our entire time in the ignorance and darkness of materiality? Who will deny that the need of today is a realness, a willingness, and most of all, a sincere desire for Spirit? Sincere desire for good is the key that will unlock the door and reveal the laws and universe of God's creation. Mrs. Eddy has written in her textbook (p. 492), "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence," and again in the same book (p. 170) she states, "Spiritual causation is the only question to be considered. More than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress."

To lift ourselves and the entire world out of its troubles, it would take us far in the right direction if each one of us would daily declare: From now on, there is just one thing important to me—a right understanding of God and the spiritual cause of all existence. I am not going to let one doubt, one fear, one skeptical suggestion deter me or hold me back in my search for God.

The man without God, without a real understanding of what God is, and of man's eternal relationship to his creator, is like a forlorn ship sailing an uncharted sea—a ship without a compass, a guide, or a destination. In order to be rightly directed, the sailor must box his compass, and chart his movements by the sun. Without it, he is never certain of his direction. So today, without an active moral sense, without some slight perception of fundamental Truth and faith in the law, men and nations find themselves adrift, engulfed in a dark and hopeless sea of discouragement and despair.

Christ Jesus

Instead of trying to substantiate the facts in the life of Jesus of Nazareth, we find critics today endeavoring to explain them away. They have tried to prove, quite unsuccessfully, that he never lived, and they have particularly tried to disprove his so-called miracles. The effort is understandable, since the whole life of Christ Jesus, all that he said and accomplished, is at variance with ordinary materialistic reasoning, and can only be explained spiritually and metaphysically. People thinking solely in terms of matter and acknowledging only a material sense of existence would inevitably be perplexed, confused, and even alarmed at the human evidence of a spiritual law, something for which material reasoning could not account. Christian Science reveals that Jesus possessed exact and correct understanding of God and man. Exact knowledge is of course scientific knowledge—knowledge that has back of it divine power and law. This exact knowledge was also true knowledge or complete understanding of the truth. It was what he knew, the truth or divine understanding that made him the Saviour or Christ, and he declared that knowledge of that same Truth would give every man freedom. Christian Science declares that in a knowledge of the Christ, the race has right at hand that which will free us morally, physically, economically, and financially, and bring the kingdom or consciousness of heaven within reach of every man.

Money

Paul, in his letters to Timothy, touched on what is probably the most disturbing belief in modern civilization, when he wrote, "The love of money is the root of all evil: while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows." What a multitude of people could rise and tell us today of experiences where the difficulties arising from the love of money, its presence, or its absence, have pierced them through with many sorrows! But it is to be noted that it is not money in itself, but the love of it and the materiality attached to it that bring our trouble. When properly understood, Christian Science greatly alters our ideas about money, its value, its purpose, and its use. In fact, the more we know of true spiritual substance the less emphasis we place on the false concept of it. The continuing crises over money in the last few years should teach humanity that there is something basically wrong in the world's attitude about it, and that something must occur that will lift thought above dollars, pounds, or francs, into an appreciation of true values.

It is the longing and desire for an easy and a pleasant time, which mortals believe money can bring them, that causes many of the heartaches and the tragedies of life, most of them not on the surface. In the background of many families there will be found the shadow of unhappiness which the possession of too much money or the lack of it brings, as well as the quarrels, the disputes, and in-harmony arising from a false sense of what constitutes true substance.

I was once told by a banker who had much to do with the handling of wills and the trust of that work in every bank lay hundreds of cases of discords, feuds, and hatreds between families, relatives and former friends, and he, knowing the effect of wrong thinking on people's lives and their bodies, commented on the sad physical results and disease which spring from these inharmonies—all emanating from the love of money.

One of the very first things that the study of Christian Science does, is to stimulate a hunger and thirst after spirituality. It makes men industrious in the search for the ideas of good, and of course when an individual finds himself happily industrious he also discovers that indolence or ease in matter is not what he wants, but rather that activity which means the unfoldment or accomplishment of righteousness. Christian Science teaches us to value money, not for the ease or luxuries that it might bring, but rather for the good that may be accomplished by putting it into circulation. Properly translated, it can truly become the currency of Love.

The mesmerism of material accumulation in worldly riches and the false gratification in their possession fade away when we perceive that the only things that bring abiding peace and satisfaction are the substantial ideas of Spirit. Matter in all its manifestations perishes and slips away from us, but God's ideas are permanent. They abide with us forever. Indeed, they constitute our true being. There is nothing in the teaching of Christian Science that makes a virtue of poverty. It is just as incorrect to be materially poor as to be materially rich. Both states of mind—and they are states of mind—are wrong, and both must be changed. An intense belief in the lack of material things is just as mortally poisonous as the intense belief in the possession of large quantities of them. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that so-called rich people are not necessarily material and worldly because they have financial means. On the other hand, it is evident that a so-called poor person may be extremely worldly if he is holding in thought an ungratified desire for material possessions, a longing for a life of ease in material things, and a jealousy that accompanies such a mental state.

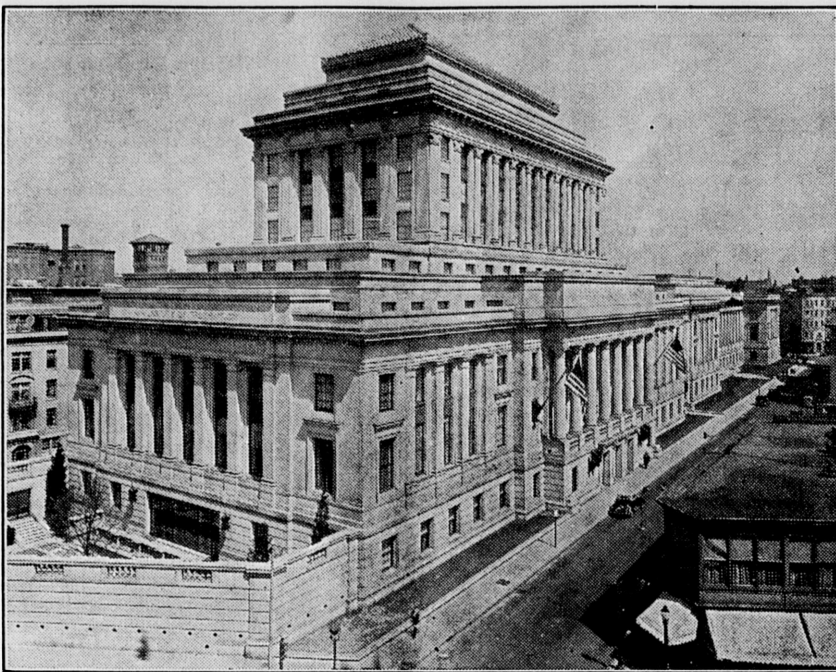

True Values

In the light of Christian Science, the world's values as to what constitutes happiness, success, and prosperity are incorrect. We are beginning to see that a million right thoughts in consciousness are a far more substantial, tangible, and happy fortune than a million dollars in a bank. No stock market crash nor bank failure can take away this fortune from a man nor reduce his perpetual income of good. We see that the most valuable bonds are the bonds of peace and perfectness, and that the real bank is the treasury of divine consciousness. There the spiritual resources of Mind constitute a permanent reserve that will never be exhausted.

There are not many of us but have experienced loss of money or property in some form or other and possibly it has seemed like a hard and bitter experience. But as Mrs. Eddy so beautifully reminds us in Science and Health (p. 574), "The very circumstance, which your suffering sense deems wrathful and afflictive, Love can make an angel entertained unaware." This angel, or divine blessing, is expressing itself today in an increased appreciation of real spiritual values and in a change of ideals. We, as individuals, cannot and should not want to escape this purifying process which is leading us to see mankind's great need. Speaking to his disciples, Jesus said, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" So, are we not gaining a great blessing when we perceive that personal losses have been exchanged for spiritual gains? We are learning the futility of leaning on bank accounts, incomes and salaries, and learning rather to lean on the sustaining love of good which never fails.

Spiritual understanding shows us how we may live from the standpoint of infinity, how to think from the standpoint of infinity. Lifting thought to that spiritual altitude, is there such a thing as panic or fear in the infinite universe of good? Infinite Love is certainly not going into bankruptcy, nor is infinite Spirit having a depression or in economic turmoil. If we great our thinking the love of money is the root of all evil: while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows." What a multitude of people could rise and tell us today of experiences where the difficulties arising destroyed. What is there to inspire one in that? If he revealed the wonders of infinite Mind and its lawful government of the universe, then he would be setting forth a concept that would uplift and encourage the race. And this is exactly what Christian Science offers to a needy world.

Material scientists will tell you that all there is to man is electrical energy, that you and I and the rest of the world are nothing but a lot of electric sparks. Do you like that? Do you like to think of yourself as nothing more than a group of electrons? Where does the nobility of man, his character and accomplishment, show forth in such a concept of the universe? Do you not see how absurd and futile such reasoning is? And it is futile because God, or Mind, is wholly ignored as the basic factor in existence. How ridiculous to reason that the genius of Shakespeare, the music of Beethoven, or the art of Raphael derived their source, or sprang from electrical energy! Truly, the wisdom of this world is found to be foolishness with God. There is some encouragement, however, in the fact that recently a few able men, physicists and electrical inventors, have, in some measure, reasoned themselves out of false theories and begun to recognize that beyond and above all their material delving and investigation, one fact remains—untouched and undisturbed—namely, that Mind is, that Mind exists as the primary and, to them, unexplained basic cause of creation.

There has always seemed to be resistance to our teaching that matter is unreal. Well, my friends, an eminent scholar, not a Christian Scientist, describes matter as "holes in the ether." If this be true, the man who insists so positively that he has and wants a matter body and a material existence is virtually contending for a body made up of "holes in the ether." Now, how substantial is that? Personally, I prefer to think of man as Mrs. Eddy so wonderfully describes him in Science and Health (p. 258) as "the infinite idea forever developing itself, broadening and rising higher and higher from a boundless basis. Such a concept is certainly more inspiring, yes, and more actually tangible, than a man made up of holes in the ether, or of electrons.

Throughout the ages mankind has persistently ignored the spiritual and mental factors in man's true being. Much attention has been directed to a matter body, keeping it well, making it comfortable, feeding and dressing it, and, especially, giving it a good time. Therefore, when Christian Science explains man's true entity as mental—that is, as idea in Mind—it may seem at first hard to dissociate ourselves from matter. For so long we have thought of man as material and in a body, a soul in a body, a mind in matter or in a brain, and yet the only correct way to think of man is as idea, as mental, not material, as God's spiritual idea. Do not be afraid to assert and claim your spiritual identity. Man is spiritual, not material. In line with this Mrs. Eddy has written in her textbook (p. 369), "In proportion as matter loses to human sense all identity as man, in that proportion does man become its master."

The fact that you can think is deduced from the fact that you think. Because the divine Mind is enabling you to think. When this truth is once grasped, it opens up the infinite resources of Mind that lie at hand for man as God's image or reflection. If man is, as Christian Science declares, "the compound idea of God, including all right ideas" (Science and Health, p. 475), there is no limit or restriction placed upon his reflection of divine intelligence. His unity with Mind endows him with the ability to reflect divine originality and perpetual terms false belief. The divine Mind, therefore, expressed as right thinking always operates to dispel darkness or the error of false belief. This is what is taking place today. The operation and potency of Mind is making itself felt in every activity of human belief. Before the pure light of divine intelligence, the darkness of error is fleeing away.

True Basis of Healing

Sixty years ago Mrs. Eddy stood alone, proclaiming that divine Mind was primary cause and the sole factor in spiritual healing, the basis on which Christ Jesus healed the sick and raised the dead. Today the best physicians are awakening to the mental elements in sickness, although by putting everything on a material basis they are by no means able to cope with it, since disease can only be permanently healed by spiritually removing the mental cause.

Some of the reputable doctors in the world today are studying constantly the part that fear and destructive emotions play in producing disease, and several have openly and honestly commended Christian Science for its teaching on this subject. Not long ago Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, speaking before the American College of Surgeons, said: "The emotions, worry, fear, hate, and jealousy, affect every cell in the body; some organs are stimulated, all are disturbed, waste products are increased, foundations of certain characteristic diseases are laid."

Now, Paul, centuries ago in his Epistle to the Romans, recognized the effect of evil thought on the body, and, what is more important, gave the remedy when he said, "To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace." In other words, he indicated that material-mindedness is the foundation of all sickness, while spiritual-mindedness is the cure, and not only the cure but an ever-operative preventive. For years Christian Science has declared that every diseased condition is the result of incorrect thinking, that is, thoughts of fear, doubt, anxiety, irritation, and so on, and that what appears as a specific disease is not really a material state but the externalization of wrong thinking, perhaps unconsciously cherished or held to by the individual. How clear it is, then, that the cause of disease being mental, its cure also must and can be found only in the mental or spiritual realm. Christian Science shows us therefore that we are not dealing with a material physical manifestation at all, but wholly with certain mental states calling themselves material. As has been said, shortsighted doctors have begun to see the destructive nature of evil thoughts or emotions on the body, but they do not understand how to bring about a cure, because evil thoughts seem as real to them as good ones. In view of the fact that disease and every inharmonious condition appear because human beings are cherishing or holding on to some incorrect thought or emotion, how imperative it becomes for every one of us to turn the searchlight into our mental homes!

An Answer to Atheism

Have you ever noticed that one of the characteristics of the so-called atheist or agnostic is a kind of futility? The man without God almost inevitably looks at the world with a depressing hopelessness, a kind of what's-the-use attitude. Christian Science revealing, as it does, man's indissoluble and infrangible relationship to God, gives him an anchor for his faith and a reason for the hope within him. The Godlike man, or man of

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Holiday Dance And Dinner Parties

Invitations have gone out to the young people of the Newtons for a holiday reunion dance at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Monday evening, December 28th. Many dinner parties will precede this dance, which will be one of the gayest parties of the Christmas season.

The patrons and patronesses include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Melville D. Liming, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Crosbie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Harry Hulse, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, and Mrs. Hazel Sands Welch.

Among the numerous dinners and suppers to be given before the Friday and Saturday performances, December 11th and 12th, of the opera "Patience" will be those of Mrs. George H. Crosbie, of Lake Street, Newton Centre, and Mrs. Donald E. Welch at the Engineers' Club on Commonwealth avenue.

Opportunity To Hear Former Pastor

Miss Louise Walworth, chairman of the International Relations Study Group will meet on Wednesday, December 16th, at 10 o'clock at the home of Miss Louise Walworth, on Thursday morning, December 17th, at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give her second monthly lecture on Current Events at the Club House. The Newton Centre Woman's Club is sponsoring a free lecture on "Christmas Customs" at the Club House Monday morning, the 14th, at 10:30 o'clock. Christmas greens, wreaths, and trees will be on sale. Mrs. John M. Sweeney, chairman, and Mrs. J. M. Sweeney first vice-chairman, of the Garden and Conservation committee, are in charge. The Sale will be continued on Tuesday, December 15th.

The Club held its regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon, December 4th, at the Club House. Cornelia Stratton Parker talked on "Fitting into the 1930's", in a most instructive and also entertaining manner, drawing on her wealth of experiences from California to Switzerland.

During the social hour in the dining-room which followed the business meeting, Mrs. G. Horace Williams and Mrs. Eleanor B. Widger presided at the tea table, which was artistically decorated with silver tapers and Christmas foliage. Also miniature Christmas trees adorned the individual tables around the room.

A Yankee In Africa Striking Lecture Illustrated

The Community Service Club of West Newton will hold its monthly meeting in the Parish House of the Second Church at 2 o'clock on Wednesday, December 16th. The president, Mrs. George S. Fuller, will preside.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Ira H. Morse, whose Museum of African trophies at Warren, New Hampshire, many members of the Club have seen. Mr. Morse, accompanied by Mrs. Morse and their young son Philip, made a safari through Africa, the culmination of a boyhood dream, and the moving pictures with which his lecture, "Yankee in Africa," is illustrated, give a vivid picture of their experiences.

The Exchange Table will be in operation at this meeting. Tea will be served by Mrs. Morgan G. Hurley and her committee.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's next two lectures on Current Events will be given in the Parish House of the Second Church at 10:30 o'clock on Friday mornings, December 18th and January 8th.

"Palestine" Lecture Topic of Christmas Meeting

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold its December meeting in the club rooms at the Ralph Waldo Emerson School on Monday, December 14th, at 7:30 p. m. A meeting of deep Christmas interest is arranged, not only in the significance of the lecture, but in the spirit of true Christmas giving to those who need thoughtful remembrance, and in the reverent custom of carol singing.

Mr. Anton Lomania will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Palestine." A collection for the Disabled War Veterans will be donated at this meeting, and Christmas Solos and Carols will be rendered by a group of the Club members, in honor of the holiday season.

Children's Party With Santa Claus And Marionettes

Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, chairman of the Christmas Party, and her committee have been working for months to provide useful gifts for the children who will attend the Party to be given by the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, December 15th. Dresses, pajamas, mittens, and other acceptable articles will be included. Through the courtesy of the firm, who have reconditioned toys most skillfully, there will be ample provision in these to satisfy the children's tastes.

In the selection of guests, Miss Marion D. Bassett has received assistance from Miss Helen Sandstrom, of the Stearns School Center; Miss Gertrude MacCallum, of the West Newton Community Club; Miss McNeilly, of the Newton Welfare Bureau; and from Mrs. Pearl Darroet.

The Social Committee, Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan, chairman, will serve refreshments, and Mrs. Horace W. Orr, chairman of the Flower committee, will deck the tree.

Curtis Beach will provide the entertainment with his Marionettes. Best of all Santa Claus is expected, in the person of the same beloved character who formerly has favored the youngsters. The adult members of the Club will be welcome to attend, and are promised a rare treat in seeing the joy of their guests.

"Let's Have Some Pie" is the challenging subject Miss Charlotte Raymond, Community Nutritionist of Newton, has chosen for her talk at the monthly meeting of the American Home committee of the Club on Wednesday, December 16th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. Ernest Gibson. There will be a discussion of "Nutrition as Related to the Family." Mrs. George W. Hinman, the chairman who is arranging these meetings, is doing so with the thought that they will be of value to the Club members in solving home problems, and by learning ways to add to the charm and wholesomeness of the home.

Magician To Entertain Christmas Party

The Christmas Party, which is given annually for the less fortunate girls and boys in Newton, will be held on Thursday afternoon, December 17, at 3 p. m. at the Underwood School, sponsored by the Newton Community Club. Fifty children have been selected by the school nurse, Miss McLean, at the Underwood School, and by Miss Sandstrom, director at the Stearns School, to attend this Party.

"Val" Evans, Magician, will entertain the children with his colorful magic tricks.

Dolls are being dressed by the members of the Club for the girls, and each boy is to receive a shiny red automobile.

Clever Comedy To Be Given Two Evenings

On Friday and Saturday, December 18th and 19th, at 8:15 p. m., the Auburndale Woman's Club and the Auburndale Club, jointly, will present a comedy entitled "Broken Dishes" written by Martin Flavin. This play is produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, of New York. Newton and Boston residents are familiar with both the directing and acting ability of Mrs. Herman Krueger, who has coached this play. The cast of players includes prominent amateur actors and actresses. The leading role will be played by Lowell D. MacNutt, who is well-known in amateur circles. Miss Charlotte Appel, who has the role of the leading female juvenile, last year took part in the Newton High School Drama Club production. The leading male juvenile, Frederick Burton, participated actively in Bowdoin College dramatic productions, while matriculating. Helen Brown and Ernest Braithwaite also are well-known, for the amateur theatricals in which they have appeared in the Newtons are many. Also prominent in the cast are: Mrs. John H. Harding, Drama chairman of the Auburndale Woman's Club; Peggy Wyman, Vincent Wentworth, Winthrop Clapp, and Clinton Elwell.

"Broken Dishes" is a wholesome and fast-moving comedy, which will not only entertain, but also will show how patience and kindness reap their reward of happiness.

The Auburndale Club House will open the doors at 7:30 p. m., and the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15. For the information of clubwomen it is stated that tickets are priced at 55 cents.

Open Invitation To Christmas Creche Exhibit

The Art committee, Mrs. J. Ralph Boyd, chairman, is in charge of the Annual Creche Exhibit arranged for Sunday, December 20th, from 3 to 9 the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. Tea will be served in the afternoon, and in the evening the Club Chorus will sing Christmas Carols. Decorations will be arranged by the Garden Club.

This Exhibit is open to the public, and anyone desiring to enter a creche should call Mrs. Boyd, telephone Cen. New. 2503.

Garden Club To Show Sample Decorations

The Auburndale Garden Club will meet on Monday, December 14th, at the Auburndale Club House, to make Christmas Wreaths and Decorations. Sample wreaths, table center-pieces, and other Christmas decorations will be on display. Members and guests are invited to come at 10:30 a. m. to enjoy this timely exhibit, which may give ideas, and to stay until 4 o'clock, and to bring a box lunch. Hot coffee will be served.

Entertaining Opera This Evening And Tomorrow

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

SKI TEAM CANDIDATES HAVE FIRST MEETING

Forty boys have reported as candidates for the Newton High School ski team. Captain Frederick Soule was introduced. It was carefully explained to the boys attending the first meeting of the group that the school assumes no financial responsibility either for injuries or for the support of the team. All equipment, provision for skiing, and meets with other schools are the responsibility of those immediately connected with the sport. Skiing has been recognized as a minor sport, and members successful in competition will be recommended to the Athletic Committee for any action they may desire to take in awarding an "N" for skiing. It is expected that practice and one meet a month will be held at Braeburn. The schedule will be in charge of Manager Walworth Williams. Practice is planned for Mondays and Wednesdays, meets on Saturdays.

Day Jr. High School

On Tuesday, November 24th, the annual election of the officers of the Ninth Grade was held. On the previous Friday during the assembly period, each candidate, after an introduction by his campaign manager, had an opportunity to speak to the members of the school and especially to the voters. The results of the voting were announced over the school radio as the returns came in, and at twelve forty-five the final tabulation gave the victory to the following candidates: Stuart Wilson, president; Jacqueline Wilcox, vice-president; James Gallagher, secretary, and John Furfey, treasurer.

Newton Highlights

C. Evan Johnson, Newton High hockey coach, put his large squad of candidates through their second workout of the year at Ware's Cove, Auburndale on Tuesday. Although a rink had not been set up, the boards were all there, and Coach Johnson expected to hold practice this week under normal playing conditions. The promising forward line combination of Phil Greene, John Fitzgerald and Littlefield was crossed off the list when Fitzgerald and Littlefield were declared ineligible.

Newton will enter the G. B. L. S. league competition against the Flying French of Cambridge Latin a week from tomorrow rated the dark horse of the league. They are inexperienced in the strict sense of the word, but there are some very good skaters on the squad. Johnson had Paul Brown teamed with Bradford and Turner on one line. Tuesday, with Bud Whitehead and Brad Thompson on defense and Herb Buttrick in goal. Another team had a forward line of Sonny Everts, Phil Greene and Pitts, a defense of Bill Kinney and Fred Nichols, and Frank Smith in the nets. Another combination had Jack Lane, Don Manchester and Jack Barry on the line, Ed Romilly and Seth Fitchet on defense, and Deane Proctor in goal.

Bill Johnston has been declared ineligible, which leaves another spot open on Coach Simmons' basketball team. Only Captain Jennie LeSourd is sure of making the grade, and the rest of the boys will have to scramble for places. Stan Gruber and Eugene Leger are almost sure of making the grade. The odd angle to Bill Johnston's sudden drop from scholastic grace is the fact that the captain-elect of football had four Bs' at the last report, and barely missed the honor roll.

Don Enoch, Newton High's very popular track coach, was besieged by 135 boys at the first call for track candidates Wednesday at the drill shed oval. This number was an actual count, and did not include several veterans who were not scheduled to report Wednesday. Enoch has a fine crop of sprint talent in Paul Forte, Bud Hines, Elmer Ross, Don Hooper and Bud Muther. He will be blessed with strength in the 1000 yard run, a weak event last year, and a smattering of veteran material in the other events. With the army of candidates trying out now, Don is confident that all events will be up to strength by the time the first meet rolls around. Last year Newton's only close call all year came in the Lowell meet, which resulted in a tie. Lowell will be very strong again this year, and may set Newton back, since their ace Mazur is a sure point-winner in four events.

Fior Soloist At Highland Glee Club Concert

The first seasonal concert of Highland Glee Club of Newton will be given at Newton High School auditorium, Walnut st., Newtonville, next Thursday evening December 17th at 8 o'clock.

The guest artist at the concert will be George Fior, pianist. This distinguished artist of whom Philip Hale wrote "already in a class apart" gained such comment as "an amazing mastery" and "crystalline fluency" in London and Holland, while Berlin's praise was commanding knowledge—polished and impressive.

The many admirers of Mr. Fior, who have followed with enthusiasm his rise to prominence as a great artist, will be pleased to greet him at this concert.

The program to be given under the direction of Ralph MacLean, is replete with the inspired creations of Handel, Bach, Dvorak and Sibelius, but diversified, the rollicking, "collegiate" ensemble of "A Musical Trust" should awaken many gladsome memories. It is full of fun and frolic.

New Supervisor Of Music In Newton Schools

The Newton School Committee announced the election of Mr. Haydn M. Morgan, supervisor of music, Grand Rapids, Michigan, as successor to Mr. Edward N. Griffin, who retires at the end of the current month. Mr. Morgan is in his eighth year as supervisor of music at Grand Rapids, a city which is nationally known for its outstanding program in music. He has also served as supervisor of music in communities in Wisconsin, West Virginia and Ohio. He has been active for the past eighteen years as a director of church choirs and as a leader in civic musical organizations. He is vice-president of North Central Music Educators' Conference. He has served as guest conductor at music festivals in communities in different parts of the country. Mr. Morgan is a graduate of New York University and has received from that institution the Bachelor of Science degree and the Master's degree. He is 38 years old, married, and has one daughter. Mr. Morgan will assume his duties in Newton as of January 4, 1937. He comes to the position of director of music in the Newton schools with an unusual record of success as a teacher and director of vocal and instrumental music.

Debating Club to Meet Norwood
 On Thursday, Dec. 10, the Boys' Debating Club engaged in the first of this season's four interscholastic debates. The contest was against the Norwood High School Debating Society on the subject, Resolved: That all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated.

Four of the school's best debaters, Eddie Wallace, Sid Guberman, Thomas O'Toole and Leon Lipson, represented the Newton club.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, six of the members will debate on the teachers' oath question before a meeting of the First Church of Newton. Opponents for future debates include the debating clubs of Malden, Brookline and B. C. High.

More than 800 parents attended Newton High School's Parents' Evening, December 2, when teachers and parents conferred. Said Acting Principal Raymond A. Green, "The large number of parents, especially fathers, who came to the school last evening in spite of the inclement weather is a genuine indication of the interest citizens have in work of the school. Through the effort, the willingness, the loyalty, and the splendid spirit of the staff, and all who participated in any way, the school placed itself most favorably before the community."

Professor Leo D. O'Neil of Boston University College of Business Administration recently gave a splendid talk on "Money before the social studies group taught by Mr. Forrest Paige. Telling the history of money since paper money was introduced by the Puritans, he explained changes made during the Revolutionary War under Robert Morris, in 1880 when borrowing became merely a bank transaction, and in present day changes of policy.

Tuesday afternoon, December 8, Miss Caroline M. Doonan was guest speaker at an informal tea in T. Z. E. House, Wellesley College. On the suggestion of the college personnel department, Miss Doonan spoke on "The Teacher of English" setting forth some of the difficulties and many of the joys of the profession. "A world of service," she assured her audience, "is open to the young teacher who comes to her work equipped in knowledge and full of enthusiasm for this challenge to make a path for happy youth to follow."

Aviation Club Hears Marine Corps Pilot
 Lieut. Warren Sweetser, U. S. Marine Corps pilot, stationed at the Naval Base, Squantum was the principal speaker at the December 3 meeting.

In discussing the requirements for marine and naval aviation he informed the club that graduation from college was necessary. At Squantum 470 candidates for pilot training were examined; 144 passed for training, and of these 30 graduated at Pensacola.

Lieutenant Sweetser described a group flight of 50 ships from Quantico, Va., via Key West and Cuba to Puerto Rico. All ships arrived safely at Puerto Rico, trained six weeks; and then in February all safely returned to Quantico.

Speaks On Peace At W. Newton Meeting

Dr. John Howland Lathrop of Brooklyn, New York, spoke to a large group interested in Peace Work on Tuesday evening in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. This was the first of a series of lectures sponsored by the Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign.

The Newton Adult Section will hold an organizational meeting at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville at 7:30 p. m. on Dec. 16th. Mr. Kenneth A. Bernard, head of this section, and Mr. Lester G. Hanks, New England Regional Director of the Emergency Peace Campaign, will preside.

The Youth Group will have a business meeting on Monday evening, Dec. 21st, at which time book reports will be given by members of the Book Committee; a play will be read by the Drama Committee, and there will be reports by the various Committee Chairmen.

The next public lecture will be on Tuesday, January 12th, 8 p. m., at the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. Mr. Howard P. Davis, late of the magazine "News-Week," will give his version of the Outlook of Peace.

Average American Uses

Lots of Milk and Butter

Mr. Average American uses a little over a pint of milk a day in one form or another. To be more specific, according to statistics the average American uses 55.3 gallons of milk a year. In addition to the milk, he eats 17.3 pounds of butter, 4.3 pounds of cheese, and 2.77 gallons of ice cream in the course of a year. There are other nations which have a higher consumption when it comes to ice cream. Other nations don't even report on their ice cream consumption, while in this country it is quite an item.

The great dairying countries of Europe use more milk and cheese per person than the United States, although there is little difference in butter consumption. Sweden heads the list in milk consumption, with 69.7 gallons per person for the year; Denmark, with 68.5; Switzerland, 67; and Germany with a consumption of 61 gallons per person are all ahead of the United States.

When it comes to cheese consumption, the American just isn't in it with his four pounds, for the average Swiss eats over 23 pounds, the average Frenchman or Dane 13 pounds; the German eats more than nine pounds, and the Englishman about the same.

Many Giants Mentioned

Through Ancient History

Stories are common among the lower civilized peoples, as well as among savage tribes, to the effect that men have lived who have measured 15 feet in height. Og, king of Bashan, is said in Deuteronomy (3:11) to have been the last of the giants. His bedstead of iron was nine cubits, or between 11 and 13½ feet in length. Plying mentions the name of an Arabian giant who measured 9½ feet, and also speaks of two others who were 10 feet in stature. The following list of men whose real height is well known shows that it is possible for individuals to go far beyond the average height of the human species, which is 65 inches.

Magrath, bishop Berkeley's giant, ninety-two inches; Patrick Cotter (1761-1804), or O'Brien, 99 inches; Charles Byrne, Irish giant, 100 inches; Topinard's Kalmuck, 100 inches; Winkelmaier, Austrian (died 1887) 103 inches; Topinard's Finlander, 112 inches.

Columbus Cathedral

The Columbus cathedral, Havana, is situated in Cathedral square at the foot of Empedrado street. Columbus cathedral was the center of religious ceremonies held under the Spanish domination. It maintains as its most valuable tradition the fact that it held within its walls the remains of Christopher Columbus—removed to Seville when Spanish rule ended in Cuba. There is a contention, of course, that the real Columbus lies buried in Santo Domingo and that those that were once interred here were the relics of Diego Columbus, brother of the great navigator.

Socrates' Poison

The poison which Socrates drank was an infusion of the leaves and stems of the hemlock which is a deadly poison even in small doses. According to his biography, he conversed with his followers almost up to the time of his death, his vital powers gradually being shown by the torpor and coldness which, commencing in his feet and limbs, spread to his entire body, the brain being affected last.

Just Enough for One

A famous wit once excused himself from walking with an elderly lady on account of the bad weather. A little later, however, she met him walking alone. "So," she said, "it cleared up pretty quickly for you. It seems!" "Just a little," he quickly replied, "just enough for one, but not quite enough for two!"

Redwood Termite-Proof

California redwood timber makes an ideal surface to paint, stain or enamel, while beautiful durable, fire-resistant roofs of shingles have been used by home owners for generations. Shrinkage is unusually low in this wood. And it is said that termites will not eat it, as they dislike the taste.

Bucharest a Gay City

Bucharest is notable as an eastern replica of Paris, elegant and gay. It is an outpost of a Latin civilization which extended far into the East, and it dates from the early Christian era, when Roman legions established a Dacian fortress there.

Delightful Program At Conference

Daniel Bloomfield, chairman of the Retail Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, was the first of five prominent speakers to address the representatives of the various clubs, at the Twelfth District American Home Conference, held at the Congregational Church, Auburndale, on last Tuesday morning. In his subject "What's on the Consumer's Mind," which was a vital one, he not only acquainted his listeners with many facts important to every consumer, but held interest by interspersing clever witticisms, among which were "A woman doesn't know what she wants but insists upon it," and "A woman's free is a man's fortune." He admonished his audience, in closing to keep well-informed on the current legislation, in regard to the proposed Tax Limitation and the Sales Tax. This was followed by a brief question period.

Mrs. Edward B. Gray, the Hostess president, had opened the Conference, then introduced Mrs. Schuyler Van Ness, State American Home chairman, who was in charge of the program. After words of greeting Mrs. Van Ness in turn presented Miss Bess Bartlett, Advisor; and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director.

Mrs. Grace Pierce Maynard, clad in a quaint old-fashioned blue satin and lace gown, came to the platform, and in a most entertaining manner and aided by stereoscopic views, managed by Mr. Maynard, she took her audience on an imaginary tour of "New England Homes and Gardens of Yesterday." Mrs. Maynard piloted her audience up beautiful old stairways, through stately doorways, and old-fashioned gardens, and into lovely colonial mansions. Prominent among the homes shown were the Bradford and Alden Houses of Plymouth, Governor Winslow's House in Marshfield, and the home of two American presidents in Quincy, namely, John Adams and John Quincy Adams; the Old Blake House in Dorchester, Fairbank's Home in Dedham, the Wayside Inn and Wright Tavern of Concord, and then up to the north shore with the House of the Seven Gables, and the Jeremiah Lee homestead in Marblehead, and many others. The slides were superb, and although the lecture was over, the audience still sat enthralled under the spell of the pictures of yesterday while Mrs. Theodore Fowler, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Perkins, sang "Long, Long Ago."

The session over for the morning, members and guests were invited to view the exhibits of the American Home and Art committees in an adjoining room. Mrs. Lycom Bruce, Jr., the American Home chairman, and Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, the Art chairman, had done splendid work in making the exhibit a beautiful and fitting one for the Christmas season. Many different homecraft subjects which included paintings, needlepoint, and similar crafts, were included in the art exhibit, and also many original ideas for table and wall decoration for the Yuletide season were displayed.

A delightful luncheon followed, which was arranged by Mrs. John H. Harding, Drama chairman, and members of the Hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Silvanus Smith, served. The table decorations, the work of Mrs. John Brown, were multi-colored balloons, clustered here and there on long sprays of evergreens, giving a most unusual and beautiful effect.

Mrs. E. Graham Bates had made the platform resplendent with huge yellow chrysanthemums and large sprays of evergreen.

Following a pleasant social hour, the afternoon session began at 2 o'clock.

Carlton F. Sturdy, representing the American Can Company, gave an educational and picturesque talk on "The Story Behind the Label." He related the wonders of modern canning machinery, and traced the canning of fish, peas, and pineapple from their various sources until they were sent to the retailer. Mr. Sturdy acquainted his listeners with the fact that whereas the canners formerly packed for the eye, today they pack for the palate. After his conclusion, every homemaker present at the Conference felt that she was indeed fortunate in being able to secure such high standard food products, packed with such a high degree of cleanliness, at moderate prices.

Mrs. Van Ness next presented Mrs. Florence B. Sloan, Supervisor of Work for Boys and Girls of the Newton Free Library, who had chosen as her topic "More Books in the Home." Mrs. Sloan captured attention at once, and in an informal and pleasant manner told her audience many wise things. "The right book at the right time will do wonders," she advised. "Don't let your child go book hungry." "Don't be afraid to buy good books for your children, for there is a difference in book values, as in other articles." Starting with the preschool child, she suggested many books which would instruct and entertain. At least one filled book-shelf of good, wisely chosen books for every child in the home, was her keynote. Mrs. Sloan invited everyone to visit the Boys' and Girls' Library, which is housed in a lovely old home at Newton Corner, and to become better acquainted with the wonderful facilities available to Newton residents.

The final speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Gladys Beckett Jones, well-known Director of the Garland School of Homemaking, who gave an excellent treatise on "Modern Trends on Homemaking." Mrs. Jones stressed that, although the home and its members were constantly requiring newer and modern machinery and standards, still the home must provide certain things, namely, emotional stability, and personality development.

Other Interesting Programs

Waban Woman's Club

For Monday, December 14th, the Music committee of the Waban Woman's Club, of which Mrs. William Stevenson is chairman, will present the Embassy Club Male Quartet. These artists are Eugene Conley, tenor; George Wheeler, second tenor; John Metcalf, baritone; Hudson Carmody, bass; and Reginald Boardman, soloist and pianist accompanist.

Following the musical program, tea will be served by the Social committee under the direction of Mrs. Jerome J. Shuman and Mrs. Robert Ashley.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Amos R. Wells of 40 Williston rd., will be hostess to the Review Club on Tuesday, December 15th, at 10 a. m. Under the general topic, "Spain," which is the program for the day, the papers to be read will be "Travels in Spain" by Miss Cora MacKenzie; "Her Changing Government," Mrs. Susan Tuttle; and "Gypsies," by Mrs. Harold Knowlton.

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in the Channing Church Parlors on Wednesday, December 16th, at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Sidney Peterson will give a paper on "Fundamental Symbolism in Life and Thought."

The hostesses will be Mrs. Chester A. Drummond and Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs.

Neighborhood Club

On December 7th, at 7:45 p. m., the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club presented as program speaker for its members and their guests, Miss Dorena Thompson, of the Fanny Farmer School of Cookery, who discussed "Food for the Christmas Season." Miss Virginia Gray of 184 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, opened her home for this event. She was assisted by Miss Edith Duthie, Miss Virginia Falas, and Miss Marion Wheeler.

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Margaret Haskell, president, opened her home, 5 Vista avenue, for the meeting of the Christian Era Study Club last Monday afternoon the 7th of December, at 3 o'clock. For the program Mrs. Edward Kelly gave a paper in a recent book on "The Life of Dickens."

On account of the holiday season, the next Club meeting will not be held until January 4th.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Alfred Thayer, president of the Garden Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, calls it to attention that the December meeting of the Group will be omitted.

The Travel Class of the Club will meet on Monday, December 14th, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. John S. Franklin, 45 Islington road, Auburndale. Mrs. Frederick E. Waring will be the assisting hostess.

Mrs. G. Howard Frost will read an original paper on "The City of Paris: The Right Bank of the Seine; The Louvre and The Tuilleries; Artists in the Gallery; Richelieu; and History of Henry IV." Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones will read her paper on "The Opera; Madeline Church; Important Avenues. Leading Fashion Houses and Theatres; and a sketch of Sarah Bernhardt."

Dessert-coffee will be served during the social hour which will precede the meeting.

Schubert's Serenade

Whatever his inspiration, Schubert wrote the "Serenade" to suit the words of a poem by Ludwig Rellstab. A number of Rellstab's poems were originally sent by their author to Beethoven, who declined to do anything with them because of the state of his health, but who recommended that they be turned over to Schubert. This was done after Beethoven's death. In 1828 Schubert wrote a number of fine songs, which were brought out after his death under the title of "Swan Songs." "Serenade" is No. 4 of the Swan Songs, which include six others written to Rellstab's words. Schubert was born January 31, 1797, and died November 19, 1828.

How Blackbird Got Its Color Is Ancient Myth

The blackbird, that shy handsome fellow with his glossy black coat and golden beak, was once upon a time, so the French fable tells us, pure white. One day in the woods he came upon a magpie, busily engaged in hiding his stolen treasure of jewels.

"Where can I get such a store?" asked the white bird. The magpie, being nervous of betrayal, told him to go to the palace of the King of Riches in the bowels of the earth, but warned him to touch nothing until he had received permission from the prince. He set out on his quest and flew through cavern after cavern, until he came to one formed entirely of gold, and gold dust lay thick on the floor. The adventurer could restrain himself no longer, but plunged his greedy bill into the gold dust, whereupon a horrible demon sprang out of the ground, spewing forth soot and smoke. Although the bird escaped with his life, he had now a jet-black plumage and a gold-stained bill. And since then, every time the blackbird hears a sudden noise in the wood, he rushes out of the bushes with cries of alarm, for who knows what terrible demon may pursue him again?

Frankincense Used in Ancient Burial Rites

A toy-size bronze bucket, hung as a necklace ornament, yielded evidence that the inhabitants of Germany in that remote time used frankincense in their funeral rites. The little bucket, complete with handle and miniature stirring rod, was found in a grave at Stargard castle near Bargensdorf.

Its hardened contents, mixed with debris that had got into the grave during its long burial, were sent to a Berlin microscopist. His examination and analysis showed that the matrix material consisted of partly burned frankincense. Apparently the little bucket, which was less than an inch high, was filled with the incense at some point during the funeral ceremonies, and after this use as a censer was hung around the neck of the departed with a fine-linked chain.

Use of Nature's Gifts

There are no indications that in remote time either oil or gas was put to much practical use as modern people understand that term, but there is little doubt that priests of the fire-worshipping cult which flourished in old Persia made "good things" out of the phenomena. Not far from Eku are the ruins of a temple of the cult which is believed to have been in existence for more than 2,500 years. Tower beacons and altars are provided with channels concealed in the masonry, which demonstrate that gasfiting is not a craft of modern birth. These channels led from fissures in the earth which once furnished natural gas. To this temple came pilgrims from all parts of the East as late as the eighties of the last century. Besides the walls of the temple today stands a modern refinery, furnishing an emphatic contrast in the old and new uses of Nature's gift of oil and gas.

Mother Goose Theory Applied

The old Mother Goose method of handling stray sheep applies to stray mules, also. It would seem from an occurrence in Scranton, Pa., "Leave them alone and they'll come home, dragging their tails behind them," quoted an official of a coal company, when notified by an amateur "Buffalo Bill" that he was organizing a crowd to round up the 12 mules who had wandered from the company's yard. Sure enough, the mules came home after reaching territory unfamiliar to them, dragging their tails behind them—as predicted, and expected.

Rare Luther Bible

A Bible illustrated by pictures painted by Martin Luther, the great German reformer, and bearing many notes in his handwriting, was discovered by a Danish bookseller. He purchased a collection of books from a German family. Among them was the precious Bible. Besides notes in Luther's writing, the Bible bears notes written by other leading figures in the German Reformation movement. These include Melancthon, the reformer who was acknowledged to be the movement's leading scholar.

Mail Deliveries on Stamps

Mexico printed a curious set of stamps in 1895 which gave a series of tableaux depicting the various ways of handling mail. The one cent, for instance, showed a postman delivering mail on foot; the four cent, a postman mounted on a mule; the ten cent revealed a mail coach, while the one-peso had a picture of a mail train.

Sparrows' Eggs, But Why?

In the account rolls of Bicester priory of the time of Henry VI is a curious item for 12 pounds of sparrows' eggs for 13 pence, says F. H. Crossley in the English Abbey. Just what the eggs were used for or how extensively they were sold is unknown.

Women on Stamps

Martha Washington is the only American woman on United States stamps. Pocahontas and Queen Isabella are the only other women on American stamps.

Gen. Sherman Was Author of Numerous Epigrams

"War is hell," isn't the only blunt thing Sherman said. Lloyd Lewis reveals the Civil War general as an indefatigable epigram-maker in his biography, "Sherman: Fighting Prophet."

Some Shermanisms:

"Military fame is to be killed on the field of battle and have your name wrong in the newspapers."
"Of all lives on earth a banker's is the worst, and no wonder they are specially debarred all chances of heaven."

"Never give reasons for what you do until you must. Maybe after a while a better reason will pop into your head."

"Like in a race the end of a war is all that is remembered by the great world."

"The great theory of self-government began with Old Adam and has made precious little progress since."

"In human nature there is so much of the mule left that suppression of a newspaper only increases its circulation."

"I am not eligible for political life because I have not graduated from the penitentiary. If forced to choose between the penitentiary and the White House I would say the penitentiary, thank you."

"War correspondents print their limited and talented observations as the history of events they neither see nor comprehend."

Effect of Real Love Is Revealed in Old Letter

"Dear Mame: What you asked me about did I love Charlie, well, dear, it's this way. I'm afraid if I don't take him I'll be sorry, and if I do I'll regret it, because I can't live without him any more than I expect I'll be able to live with him. It's just so exciting being miserable until I'm happy, that if I ain't in love with him I might as well find it out one way as another, and so we're going to get married if I don't change my mind, and if I do, the Lord have mercy on my soul, Mame, because he's an awful lemon if he has got a job! So that's how it is, dearie, and they tell me it's just perfectly natural, like the measles."

"I'll send you an invitation, and when you see me walking down the aisle with him, for the love of Mike, Mame, don't giggle. This is too darned serious for you to act like you feel like."

Riches in Old Stockings

"To my sister-in-law, I bequeath four old stockings which are under my bed to the right." So reads an item in the will of the famous old miser, Tolam. "To my nephew, Tarles, two more old stockings; to Lieut. John Stone, a blue stocking and my red sock; to my cousin, an old boot, and a red flannel pocket; to Hamrick, my jug without a handle." According to this anybody can write a will, for the poorest of us have old stockings. In the story of Tolam, however, Hamrick kicked over the jug and found it to be filled with gold pieces. The old stockings were crammed in a similar way. There is the famous clause in Shakespeare's will reading: "I give unto my wife my second best bed, with the furniture, and nothing else."

Our National Tree

The national tree of the United States is the sequoia. The only place in the world in which it grows is California, and there only in certain restricted regions. It was selected as the national tree in a popular contest held in 1935 in which 3,000,000 women and children voted. Second choice in the contest was the elm and the third choice fell to the pine. The sequoia is not only the national tree, but the largest, and probably the oldest tree in the world of its species. This is the General Sherman thought to be between four and five thousand years old. It is 275 feet high and 36 feet in diameter at the thickest point. It stands in Sequoia National park.

Kept Macaroni a Secret

Naples was the center of macaroni manufacture for so many years that the Pompeian road leading into it was broken to bits by the continuous procession of wagons and trucks hauling in hard wheat and flour, says the European Cookbook for American Homes. The process for making macaroni was kept secret until the fourteenth century, when a Frenchman got hold of it and took it back to France with him.

Perce Rocher

The huge rock, Perce Rocher, is formed like a giant battleship moored in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and looms up fearfully from the angry waters off the coast of Gaspe peninsula, with romantic Bonaventure Island in the distance. This island was once the haunt of a privateer captain and is now a bird sanctuary, where many thousands of gulls, white gannets and cormorants find a refuge.

Success in Life

The success of life—the only success in the true sense—lies in its quality of living day by day, and not exclusively in its achievements, and still less in its acquisitions of possessions. We can live in aspirations, in good will, in generosity, in love, and not the most limited, narrow, and trying circumstances.—Lillian Whiting.

infinite of divine substance which never fails nor falls short.

A Right Thinker's Responsibility

Spiritual understanding makes those who have it cities set on hills; and with it comes a responsibility to think from that elevated and illumined standpoint that will operate as light for the whole world. One should ask himself: Am I thinking from that grander outlook of infinity? Is my thought of such a character, so big and expansive as to include and benefit the whole race? Is my thinking taking cognizance of the important and far-reaching changes taking place, and helping to adjust the confusion? Or is it revolving around just a human sense of my body, or perhaps my home, my family, or the narrow confines of my own community? These are things to be thought on. An individual is only as big and as great as his thinking. And all that constitutes true selfhood is thought. The real man is the embodiment of all right ideas. If he includes the universe in his thought, what kind of universe is it? Surely only a right universe, a universe operating harmoniously and according to the mandate of divine Mind, a universe that has never heard of conflict, discord, or turmoil; a universe in which there could not be a single element of strife, competition, or struggle; a universe that is declaring and evidencing the order and dominion of God's law.

Today, through Christian Science, we have that demonstrable knowledge which, if used, can save, redeem, and steady a world in chaos and great fear. The realization of Love's omnipotence and omnipresence enables us to think with such steadiness and poise, to so clarify our consciousness of fear and alarm, to lift our thought so beyond the disturbed world-picture, as to forestall and offset every threat of error or evil thinking.

These are very much the days of prophets, but it is to be observed that not many are prophets of good. All through the Bible runs the injunction to beware of false prophets, of those who prophesy lies, who foretell evil instead of good. It is clear that from the standpoint of an infinitely good creator, there can be but one thing to prophesy, and this is the forever unfolding purpose of divine Mind and its inevitably good intention for all its ideas. Astrological prognostications and horoscopes can never be accepted by Christian Science, because they have no basis in Truth. The universe of Mind and its ideas is rotating forever according to the mandate of Mind, is forever governed by the beneficent law of Mind, and therefore does not come within the realm of astrological belief, and is untouched and unaffected by any superstitious thought.

As we survey the world today, the view we get is so complex, so confused, and so changeable, that the tendency might be, if we look at things as they seem to be, to judge by appearances, and not righteous judgment, to look for cause where cause does not exist, and sometimes to ignore completely and fail to observe some wonderful and fine thing that is taking place in the midst of what seems to be turmoil. Metaphysics, rising above the testimony of the senses, knows what is really taking place. Right where disorder, despotism, and autocracy appear to be, the scientific thinker is establishing the consciousness of peace and freedom. A right idea is always the law, the presence of omnipotence and Truth to the whole of false belief, just as, metaphorically speaking, the small smooth stone of David was the law of destruction to Goliath, the huge mass of matter or evil. Thinking rightly, Christian Scientists are able to see good, see progress, see right government, where disturbed thought sees only disaster and calamity. The Bible says, "Be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them."

The price of freedom in any country, however, is eternal alertness on the part of its individual citizens. Right thinking will never permit anyone to believe that any form of dictatorship, benevolence, or otherwise, is right, or nearer right, than a democracy that springs from the ability of man to speak and act for himself. Every man should and must learn to think for himself, even if he has not yet done so, and the only true government must be self-government. Human beings, individually and collectively, who are not thinking for themselves, wish to be told what to

Waban Improvement Soc. Directors and Officers Meet

Friday evening, Nov. 27th, the directors and officers of the Waban Improvement Society met in the Waban library and discussed several matters of importance to the village. Mr. Philip Lawrence Allen, president, Mr. Philip Planch was commended for his valuable work as chairman of the bus committee, whose activities aided in the establishment of the new bus line to Cleveland Circle. E. S. Whitten, vice-president; Lewis E. Day, secretary-treasurer, and the following directors were present: John Underhill, Mrs. Wellington Rindge, R. J. M. Fyfe, Philip Ver Planch and Mrs. Vernon Durbin.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The Dartmouth Women's Club will present Mr. Curtis Beach in a marionette show on Wednesday, December 16th, at 2 p. m., in the Empire Room of the Hotel Vendome.

Members are urged to bring their children to see such well known characters as: The Three Bears, Mickey Mouse and Felix the Clown, Teddy Bear Polka and The Three Billy Goats Gruff.

do. History shows that the tendency to follow blindly human relationship instead of Principle almost invariably leads people astray. Mrs. Eddy in her great wisdom taught the members of her church to follow her only so far as she followed Christ. In other words, she humbly wanted the spirit of Christ to lead us, and she constantly turned the thought of Christian Scientists away from person to Principle.

Healing of the Nations

The most outstanding expression of government today is the general swing of thought to intense nationalism. It cannot, however, be the intention of divine Love, the Father of all being, to produce separation or to forestall unity of thought and action among the peoples of earth at a time when such action is so essential. There is no spiritual or scientific basis for the division of God's children into hundreds of races, nations, and languages, and in the United States, made up as it is of representatives of all countries, we are demonstrating what may be demonstrated everywhere: that the people of many nations and tongues can dwell together in peace and unity as one great human family or nation. Because we have one God, have we not all one common parentage? As Paul declared to the Athenians, "God that made the world and all things therein, . . . hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth." While respecting all that is good and fine in every nation, it must be seen that nationalism as we see it today is a glorification of a false and material origin of man, a glorification, and even a worship, of racial, national, and class distinctions. Nationalism is a kind of pride, just as it appears sometimes in individuals, who exalt themselves in pride of family, and invariably are looking at others with contempt and scorn.

Like individuals, all nations must become aware of their faults and shortcomings. Only in this way can we grow and develop that spiritual and moral strength essential to national progress. All countries have had unpleasant experiences in relations with others, but this does not mean that they should isolate themselves and withdraw right and proper cooperation with other nations. Understanding is all that is necessary to a right sense of unity, and lack of understanding is all that can prevent it.

No two people would hate or dislike each other if somewhere in thought there was not an element of fear. Fear is the archenemy back of all repulsions and misunderstandings. It is fear that makes nations compete, contend, strive, hate, and envy one another, always fear. But it may well be asked: Has Mind in its infinite wisdom and love provided for a cruel and frightful contest and struggle among its ideas? Does infinity know anything about national divisions, racial discriminations, or class distinctions? Does the harmony of infinite being know any of these things? To all of these, Truth declares: "I never knew you; depart from me, ye [false beliefs] that work iniquity."

We cannot establish a better type of government in America or elsewhere, if its basis be material. Real government exists and is to be found only in an understanding of the All-God. Mrs. Eddy has written in her textbook (Science and Health, p. 425), "Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered." It may also be said that consciousness constructs a better government when faith in matter has been conquered; constructs a better industrial, economic, and financial plan; all of this, when faith in matter has been conquered. The basis of healing is not an anxious contemplation of a struggling fearful world, but a looking away from matter, matter body, matter government, matter possessions. It is the establishment of that divine consciousness, the kingdom of heaven. In that kingdom or consciousness of God, we find perfect and peaceful government, freedom, and joyfulness of action—all right relationships and cooperation of God's ideas, infinite abundance, contentment, and self-completeness.

Fumes Kill Newton
Centre Man

Charles I. Fortner, 37, of 282 Homer st., Newton Centre, was found asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes in the garage at his home last Saturday afternoon. His wife, Mrs. Muriel Fortner, supposed he had gone to work on Saturday morning, but when she found that he had not slept in his bed, made a search and discovered him in the garage. Dr. Baxter was summoned and found the man to be dead. The police and fire departments were notified at 1:25, but Fortner had been dead too long to attempt resuscitation. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported the death an accident. Mr. Fortner was a native of London, Ontario, and had been a textiles salesman.

SEVENTY TWO YEARS SINCE TRANSFER OF TITLE

In spite of the popular demand for modern conveniences, Alvord Bros. report a continued interest in the older homes. An interesting sale reported by this office is that of the property at 131-133-135 Vernon st., Newton. Purchased by the late Doctor Stone in 1864, there has been no transfer of title for seventy-two years. There are three large frame dwellings situated on a lot of land of 9550 square feet abutting on the property of Vernon court, a Newton landmark. Extensive renovation is being accomplished by the new title holder, of record, Mrs. Mamie E. Gibson, of Newton, who now occupies the premises. The Merchants National Bank and Mr. Ingersoll Bowditch, both of Boston, and Mrs. Charles F. Batchelder, of Peterborough New Hampshire, gave title for the Estate of James S. Stone. The whole parcel is assessed at $12,400.

Gay, Happy Hours at Home With a PIANO

Young people are returning to the wholesome joys of the home. Father, mother, son and daughter are being drawn into a comradeship more satisfying than they have ever enjoyed. The piano has played a leading rôle in making families more home-loving. We have prepared for the largest volume of piano sales the business has known for years. Never have we had a more complete stock of pianos in every type, design and finish. Our prices range from $25 to $2500. Now is the time to make your selection for Christmas delivery. Located one block from Broadway at 872-876 Washington St., Boston. Open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Yours very truly, Chas. D. Blake & Co. Advt.

STUDEBAKER SALES BY YEARS
In the first 10 months of 1936 sales totaled 84,451. It is estimated that 7,500 cars and trucks will be sold in December.

WHAT is behind Studebaker's Sensational Climbs? Studebaker knew that only one thing could focus on The Dictator and The President the attention and patronage of motorists. That one thing was—and is —better value—more for the money.
• Comfort, safety and performance have been characteristic of Studebaker cars. But in this year's models the public has found these two outstanding bonus features: 1. Smart, modern, styling—charming interiors designed by Helen Dryden. 2.
Amazing gasoline economy. And all this has been offered at prices so low that smart money has sensed the bargain.

Revive Superstition as to Magnetism of Body

The number of psychiatrists doing a thriving business may owe their good fortune to the carelessness of modern housewives, for less than 100 years ago the following thought was in vogue:

"The earth is a magnet with magnetic currents constantly playing around it. The human body is also a magnet, and when the body is placed in certain relations to the earth these currents harmonize, when in any other position they conflict. When one position is to be maintained for some time a position should be chosen in which the magnet currents of the earth and the body will not conflict. This position, as indicated by theory, and known by experiment, is to lie with the head toward the North pole.

"Persons who sleep with their heads in the opposite direction, or lying crosswise, are liable to fall into various disorders. When they go back to the right position, these disorders, if not too deeply impressed upon the constitution, soon vanish. Sensitive persons are always more refreshed by sleep when their heads point due north."

The Deadly Black Widow

Spider an Enemy of All
The female black widow, which is so much more deadly than the male that little attention is given the latter, is characterized chiefly by the glossy blackness of her shoe-button-like body which is about half an inch long; her long legs that sprawl over approximately two inches of space; and, of course, the distinguishing marking on the underside of her body. Though this is generally confined to the red hourglass figure, it sometimes varies both in color and shape. If not red the marking is yellow.

Since she has decidedly cannibalistic tendencies this spider is generally seen alone, for she early devours her mate along with the other insects upon which she feeds and her young, which burst from the egg-sac in early summer 50 to 100 strong, soon scatter to avoid being eaten by their mother. Her natural habitat is out of doors on the under side of rocks; but her coarse, sticky web is also to be found in dark corners of attics, basements and barns.

Origin of Azusa

An amusing, if not romantic, story is told by some of the origin of Azusa, at the gates of the San Gabriel canyon in Los Angeles county, writes Dorothy Marie Davis in the Los Angeles Times. It has all the appearance and lift of a Spanish-Indian name, and many hold it to be such. But the legend surrounding its beginning has a delightful ingenuity, which it would be a pity to discard. The time had come for the naming of the settlement and the citizens disputed which of their own surnames should be held thus for posterity. Each was unwilling to yield the honor to another and that plan was abandoned. Geographical position was considered as a background for a fine name. Natural features were urged. None was found satisfactory. At last a solution was presented which met with complete approval. They took the first and last letter of the alphabet and added the three letters by which their country was known. They had A-Z-U-S-A, or Azusa.

"Beware the Tick"

Ticks are of particular interest to the United States bureau of entomology because they attack both men and animals, particularly farm stock. In "Beware the Tick" in Hygeia, the Health Magazine, Walter E. Burton points out that the most deadly of tick-carried diseases is Rocky mountain spotted fever. In the Bitterroot valley in western Montana about 75 die of every 100 persons who contract the fever. Tularemia, or rabbit fever, about which every hunter has heard, can be contracted by persons who handle rabbits. It can also be carried from wild animals to human beings, by several kinds of ticks, much as spotted fever is transmitted. Ticks also cause what is known as relapsing fever and a peculiar form of paralysis.

Charity Overdone

The Jains, a religious sect numbering, in all India, about one and a quarter million, had their origin in the Fifth century B. C. The great distinction between its members and the Hindus seems to lie in regard for animals, says Katherine Mayo in "The Face of Mother India." A poor Jain with infested clothes will carefully transfer his tenants from the cloth to better pasture on his bare flesh, she declares.

Flies Skate on Surface

Some flies, especially certain sea-shore midges, have the power of skating on the surface of water without breaking the surface film. The hairy foot pads probably assisting them in the performance. So far as is known, only one fly possesses the power of swimming actively under water, a small marine midge found in the coral lagoons in Samoa.

Post and Postal Cards

The cards which are bought from a post office and which have stamps printed on them are properly called postal cards. The unstamped cards which are bought from private firms and which usually have a picture on one side are properly called postcards. This distinction is made by the Post Office department.

Check That Dangerous Bronchitis Cough--Tonight

Sleep Sound All Night Long

All coughs look alike to BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE (Triple acting)—one sip of this grand medicine usually stops an ordinary cough—the tough old deep seated cough and the persistent bronchial cough are usually checked and under control after just a few doses—no more tormenting, sleepless nights.
BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE is different—it's supreme—it acts like a flash—proves it with one small bottle—guaranteed.

his Dedication to the "Idylls of the King", as a tribute to Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, and great-grandfather of the present King.

"Not making his high place the lawless perch of winged ambitions, nor a vantage ground for pleasure; but thro all this tract of years wearing the white flower of a blameless life, before a thousand peering littlenesses, in that fierce light which beats upon a throne."

New Regulation Regarding Milk

The Newton Board of Health at its meeting on Monday night amended the regulation regarding the sale of milk in this city. The change in the regulation will compel individuals or companies selling milk in this city to keep the Newton Health Department constantly informed as to the location of pasteurization plants from which the milk is obtained. The caps on the milk bottles must have printed on them the name of the plant where the milk has been pasteurized.

Alexander Robertson recently appointed temporary agent of the department, and milk inspector, reported that he has been having difficulty in locating the sources of supply of some of the milk dealers.

The Board of Health received a request from the Newton Hospital to have $7000 appropriated for alterations and improvements at the hospital building which is used for communicable disease patients. The proposed appropriation has been approved by Mayor Childs. A long conference was held between the Board, Dr. Hopkins, State Director of dental health, and Dr. Pomeroy, director of the dental clinic in Newton, regarding the public dental clinic which is held at Newton City Hall.

A permit was granted to Frank Dalo to keep 50 fowl at 43 Faxon st., Nonantum, a thickly settled residential neighborhood.

Business Increase At Newton Glass Co.

Mr. L. L. Frederick, President and treasurer of the Newton Glass Company is very optimistic regarding holiday sales this year.

The Newton Glass Co. has been established in Newton Corner for the past 12 years and is one of the leading firms in the city. It is well worth a visit to the store to see their tables and shelves loaded with glassware of all kinds. Many comments are heard around Newton about the completeness of their stock and the manner in which it is displayed.

Mr. Frederick said to our reporter, "We specialize in Table Glassware and offer the products of three outstanding manufacturers. 'Hei sey' comes in the complete Ridgely pattern sparkling, almost alive crystal, 'Fostoria' in the new 'Early American' pattern. This rugged crystal typifies the Colonial period, and there are many other patterns in Fostoria glassware. I hardly know where to begin when talking about Cambridge glass. There are so many beautiful items in this line, the gold encrusted ware—etched, colored and the complete line of 'Caprice Moonlight Blue.' The Cambridge Ruby is especially appropriate for Christmas."

SALE IN OAK HILL VILLAGE

John H. Nichols, Jr., of Wellesley, Mass., has purchased from The Village Builders, Inc., the Pennsylvania stone and clapboard house at 108 Arnold rd., Oak Hill Village, Newton Centre, Mass. This house was recently completed from the plans of the well known architect, Henry P. Richmond of Boston, Mass. It consists of ten rooms — three bathrooms, first floor lavatory and two-car garage. This house is air conditioned. The interesting architectural motive is the elliptical shaped dining room and the formal step-down living room, both opening out to a loggia overlooking the garden. The lot consists of 16,920 square feet of land.

Mr. Nichols has also purchased from The Oak Hill Trust, Arnold Hartmann, Trustee, the adjoining lot No. 19, with a frontage of 135 feet on Greenwood st., comprising 16,670 square feet of land. The Village Builders, Inc., are developing the two lots into a formal garden from plans of Herbert J. Kellaway, landscape architect of Boston, Mass. Contracts have been let for the excavation and grading to The Otto A. Theurer Contracting Co., Inc., and planting to Frank M. Schenck, landscape gardener.

After a few minor changes are made in the house, Mr. John H. Nichols, Jr., will occupy it as his permanent home.

NEWTON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Newton League of Women Voters held its regular monthly meeting at the house of Mrs. Albert Everts, 114 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville. Social Security was the subject of the meeting. The speaker was Dr. Clarence A. Berger of the Department of Sociology of Harvard University.

Dr. Berger gave a careful analysis of the Act distinguishing between those provisions which he considers adequate and those which must hereafter be modified. The Townsend movement is not dead. As its adherents are now organized they will exert increasing pressure. They will demand larger "pensions"; they will insist upon a lower age at which pensions shall become attainable. The audience was warned that for the next one or two decades presidential elections are likely to turn upon questions of social security.

Origin of the Phrase "Perfidious Albion"

The phrase in its French form, "Albion Perfidie," is attributed to Napoleon, particularly when he found that the British intended to treat him as a prisoner rather than a guest on the Bellerophon. The expression was very old at that time, however, and is a relic of the centuries of war and rivalry between France and Britain. Thus a French writer in 1558, giving a description of Great Britain, stated: "One may say of the English that in war they are not strong and in peace they are not faithful."

Another French writer, Misson, in his "Travels," published in 1718, says: "I cannot imagine what could occasion the notion I have frequently observed in France that the English were treacherous. It is certainly great injustice to reckon treachery among the vices familiar to the English."

There is another reference to alleged English perfidy in a Latin couplet said to have been composed by Philip of Valois on the occasion of Edward III's invasion of France in the fourteenth century. The name "Albion," of course, is the ancient name of Great Britain.

Believe Death Valley Was Once a Lake Bed

In support of the view that Death Valley in California was formerly the bed of a lake, is the discovery of traces of an ancient water-line running along the flanks of the enclosing mountains at a height of 600 feet. The bottom of the valley is 200 feet below sea-level. The winds from the Pacific cross four ranges of mountains before reaching the valley, and by that time they have been drained of their last drop of moisture.

It is said that no spot on earth surpasses Death valley in aridity or Tophet-like heat. The lake that once filled it is believed to have been fed by a river which has now also vanished. The borax deposits of Death valley are commercially important, but labor is all but impossible in a place where to be without water for a single hour in summer means death.

The Home Medicine Chest

A medicine chest in the home is indispensable. It should contain the following: Boracic lint, medicated cotton-wool, bandages of various sizes, needle and cotton, sterilized dressings for burns, antiseptic gauze, oiled silk, adhesive tape or plaster in two sizes, medicine measure and medicine glass, an eye-bath, glass syringe, clinical thermometer, pair of scissors, pair of forceps or tweezers, bottle of iodine, bottle of sal-volatile, smelling-salts, a small supply of the usual aperients, ipecacuanha wine, sulphur, zinc and boracic ointments. If poisons are to be kept, they should be locked in a separate compartment and should be suitably labelled. The medicine chest should be well away from children's reach.

First American Play in 1787

The first play written by an American to be presented professionally, "The Contrast," a comedy by Col. Royall C. Tyler, was produced by a company of English players at the John Street theater, New York, in 1787. Within three weeks after Tyler, an aide on George Washington's staff, saw his first play he wrote, rehearsed and witnessed the opening of one of his own! It could not be produced in his native Boston because there (to use his words) the theater was "the vestibule of hell."

Prague, Gay City

Prague, the capital city of the Czechoslovakian republic, has rapidly grown into a big world center. It looks back on a long history, for it was already an important township in the Middle Ages and seat of a famous university since 1348. Magnificent architecture combined with all achievements of a modern city make it most attractive for foreign travelers.

Poppies Make Samarkand Golden

When Walter Duranty visited Samarkand, Russia, all the roofs of the adobe houses were a mass of yellow poppies, and that, he surmised, was the reason the city is called Golden Samarkand. The Soviet government has carefully maintained and, where possible, restored the city's treasures of the past, he reports.

Never the Same

The collections in the Ski museum near Oslo, Norway, show that skis vary not only from one locality to another, but also from one winter to another, points out Charles M. Dudley in "99 Centuries of Skiing." The museum contains a ski about 2,500 years old, believed to be the oldest in the world.

Push-Button Gives Answers

An automatic machine is used at Charing Cross post office, England, to give information to the public. By pressing a button, inquirers may find a solution of problems concerning mails and other postal services. It is known as the "mechanical Informant."

Medal—or Death

There used to exist in the Austrian army a medal given only to officers who, for some good reason, disobeyed a higher command on the field of battle—and succeeded. But if he failed instead of a medal, he was shot.

College Classmate Pays Tribute to Late U. G. Wheeler, Former Newton School Supt.

Ulysses Grant Wheeler Bates '87, died at his home in Paris, Maine, October 7, 1936. He leaves a widow and two daughters; Esther, a teacher in the High School at Stamford, Conn., and Marion, librarian for the Levi Warren Junior High School in Newton, Mass. Death has taken a skilled educator, a dutiful son, a devoted husband, a loving father, a faithful friend, a loyal alumnus.

U. G., as we loved to call him, was born in Mason, Maine, May 26, 1862 but later moved with his parents to Paris. He taught his first school at the age of fifteen and continued to teach at intervals throughout his college course. Like many another country lad he received his impetus to go to college and some of his early preparation from a Bates student in the local school. He was graduated from Bridgton Academy in 1883 and "worked his way" through Bates, winning honors in science and mathematics.

For five years he was in high school work at Brewer and Lewiston, and then sought an opening in the then new field of school supervision in Massachusetts. He did pioneer work for two years in the district of Agawam, Southwick and Granville. From this position he was promoted to the neighboring town of West Springfield, thence to Wakefield and to Everett in 1902. Here for eight years he formulated and put in force the educational policy of a rapidly growing suburban city whose reputation for excellent schools had been firmly established by Randall J. Condon. This period was rich in experience and accomplishment. He secured intelligent support for his policies by fostering social and professional organizations among the teachers with Home and School Associations to include parents and taxpayers. For a phonic system in teaching reading he substituted a modern multiple plan such as is now in general use. The Devens School when it was tried out became a Mecca for progressive superintendents and teachers.

Ambition still spurred him and in 1910 he transferred to Passaic, N. J., where he remained for four years and shared in the promotion of a building program that brought to pass a wider and more economical use of school buildings. Under the more rigid system prevalent in New Jersey schools he missed the freedom of New England and when an opportunity occurred in Newton, Mass., to return he gladly came home.

There for eighteen years he enjoyed a professional and financial backing that enabled him to keep Newton in the forefront of modern school procedure. In 1932 he retired having reached the age limit for school service in the State. With a vast building program, outlined by experts, largely accomplished, with junior high schools, a health program, physical education, special classes and special opportunities to meet every apparent need in actual operation it was possible for him modestly and truthfully to say in his final report, that for each child, "Every possible effort is made to insure his success on his own level of achievement."

Among the characteristics that contributed to his marked success was the power and will to lead. He mapped out his course and was always ready to assert his opinions and defend his views. His special interest was in the new and novel. His face was set toward the future. Yet with this went a sagacity that told him when to insist and when to yield so that he met the numberless critical situations that arose in a lifetime of school experience without a single serious setback. He loved his fellow-men and wished to contribute to their welfare. He was alive to the need of doing so in his chosen field. He did special work at summer schools, was an active member of local and State organizations for teachers, a past president of his county association and of the Massachusetts School Superintendents' Association, a member who frequently attended the national associations and a life member of the N. E. A.

Those who merely knew his public work and noted his deeds will say that a distinct leader in education, a Christian gentleman, a public benefactor has in fullness of years gone to his reward. But to his family and intimate friends who knew the man, his gallant fight for more than thirty years against the painful and insidious approach of arthritis and who realized his thoughtful kindness, expressed to each by word and deed, the loss is irreplaceable.

FAIRFIELD WHITNEY BATES '87.

Limes Traced to India

The lime is indigenous to India and was probably introduced into the Western hemisphere by Columbus on his second voyage. Some time later they were found growing wild in the Florida keys. In "The Log of the Mayflower," Azel Ames states that they were brought to Plymouth by the Pilgrims. Another record states that George Washington ordered a sloop captain bound for the West Indies in 1776 to bring back a barrel of limes, "if you find them good and cheap."

Beetle Uses "Smoke Screen"

Beetles of all kinds have many strange ways of defeating their enemies, one of the most effective being that of the bombardier beetle. As it retreats, it discharges a "smoke screen" which baffles the most persistent foe.

Room 216: president, Phyllis Carleton; vice president, Walter Howe; secretary, Barbara Bellott; treasurer, Edward Merrill.

The basketball season for boys is in full swing. In the grade 9 tournament, room 125 defeated a fast-playing team from room 205 with a score of 21-15. In an 8th grade contest room 107 emerged the winner over room 213 with a score of 23 to 19. A good number of boys reported for the grade 7 basketball practice on Friday afternoon December 4.

Well-formulated plans and rehearsals are underway for the first Evening's Entertainment of the school year on Friday evening, December 11. The three main features will be a play by the Grade 8 Dramatic Club, coached by Miss Anna L. Larabee, singing by the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Erna van der Groen, and dancing and tumbling by girls from the physical education classes prepared by Miss Helen Breivogel. Participating in this part of the program are the following girls: "Dobbin," Katherine Hogan, Annetta Wallace; Farmers, Margaret Reed, Rita Sanguinetti, Phyllis Carleton.

Eleanor Luchini, Florence Luchini, Betsey Atwood and Eleanor Leahy; clowns: Corinne Boyd, Jean Goodale, Eleanor Leahy, Lisa Cedrone. The following people will be featured by the Glee Club: Corinne Boyd, Kathleen Edwards, Moira Sullivan, Gertrude Foley, Grace Fisher and the following boys: Kenneth Bryant, Joseph Regan, William Powers, and James McCarthy. All parents and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend.

—William B. McKenna, young son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. McKenna of 693 Centre st., will play the part of the Chancellor in the Curry Junior Theatre Workshop production of "The Knave of Hearts" to be presented at the Curry School of Expression, 251 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, on Saturday afternoon, December 12, at 2:00 p. m.

Aldermen Again Refuse Martin Zoning Petition

Following a long discussion in closed session and an open debate characterized by bitter arguments, the Board of Aldermen on Monday night again refused a petition of George J.
Martin and others to have the property of the Martin Manufacturing Company at Washington and Felton sts., Newton Highlands, changed from business to manufacturing zone. The report of the Claims and Rules Committee on this matter was four for leave to withdraw and one for acceptance. Those of the committee against the petition were—Aldermen Rawson, Inches, Lyon and Walker. Alderman
Cronin favored it. Aldermen Hutchinson and McCabe were absent when the committee took action.

Reporting for the committee at the meeting on Monday night, Alderman Rawson stated that the petition had been under consideration for three months, and it was a difficult matter to decide. He said the committee had sympathy for the owner of the property involved, but in a representative democracy the government is one of laws and not of men. He said,
"We have to call things as we see them." He argued that the committee cannot grant a petition for the benefit of an individual. If this were done for one, it would have to be done for others. He believes that the owner of the Martin property has sufficient protection for the use and disposition of the property under the non-conforming use provision of the zoning ordinance. Rawson said that if the area in question were changed to manufacturing zone, the present buildings might be razed and other manufacturing structures erected, and quite different types of manufacturing established. He said that West Newton people object to a manufacturing zone so near the centre of their community and that it would be quite close to the West Newton library.

Alderman Hutchinson asked that action on the petition be deferred until after the Board had discussed it during a recess. His request was granted.

Following the long recess, Alderman Cronin argued at length in favor of the granting of the petition. He said that the Planning Board approved the granting and that the Claims and Rules Committee had also favored the petition. Cronin said that later one of the Ward 3 Aldermen had appeared before the committee and opposed the petition, stating that the West Newton Men's Club objected to the zoning change. According to Cronin, this was the only opposition.

He said that although it had been stated that the Library trustees objected, that they had never voted told the Board that Martin was born done all he could to make Newton a better place in which to live. He told of the high plane on which Martin had conducted his factory for about 30 years and of the many Newton residents who had steady employment there. Cronin said it was vicious and unfair to deny Martin the zoning change so that he can dispose of his property. He called attention to the Aldermen Favor Many Salary Raises For City Employees

The special committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen appointed to consider salaries paid to employees of various city departments made its report to the Board on Monday night.
The committee was composed of Aldermen Melcher, Inches and Lyon.
The report was referred to the Finance Committee. The purpose of the committee's survey, was to standardize salaries of employees and clerks in certain departments who perform work of a like nature, but whose salaries have been unequal. The committee also submitted a "civil service salary range," which gives a scale of proposed minimum and maximum salaries; the maximum figures in most cases being considerably above the salaries now received by the Newton city employees who would be affected.

If the recommendations made by the special committee will be adopted, five inspectors in the Buildings Department will receive increase of $100 the coming year, and step rate increase each year which will raise their salaries from $2650 and $2750 to $3000 each. Nine assistant engineers in the City Engineer's force will receive increases of $100, and step rate increases which will raise their salaries eventually from $3500 to $6000 over what they now receive. Two would go from $2800 to $3200; four from $2400 to $2700; one from $2300 to $2400, and two from $1800 to $2400.

In the Street Department two foremen, six inspectors and three other employees would receive $100 increases. The two foremen's salaries would be increased from $2700 to max-imums of $2850; the six inspectors would receive step-rate increases from $1900 to $2200, the incinerator foreman from $1800 to $2200; and two clerks from $1200 to $1500.
In the Water Department four employees would receive $100 increases and three would receive $75 increases.
By step-rate raises these employees salaries would be raised as follows—
$2700 to $2850; $2225 to $2600; $2125
to $2200; $1565 to $1900.

Driver of Car In Fatal Accident Fined $10

Robert L. Quigley, 21, of 39 Hillside ave., West Newton, driver of the car which on the night of Nov. 15 struck and fatally injured Lillian Smith, 64, as the woman was crossing Waltham st. West Newton, near the postoffice, was tried in the Newton court last Thursday on charges of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and with driving when he was not licensed to operate an automobile. His brother, William Quigley, was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to operate a car registered in his name.

Young Quigley testified that as he drove along Waltham st. the red light in the traffic signal at Washington st. was on, that he had slowed down, and that the car was proceeding at a slow rate of speed. He said the woman walked into the side of the car. Marks on the car showed that the victim had been hit by the side of the vehicle and not by the front.

Several young West Newton boys, who had seen the accident, and who had testified at an inquest before Judge Weston, were called as witnesses by the prosecution. Some of these witnesses testified that the Smith woman had raised the collar of her coat as she started to cross Waltham st., but was looking in the direction of the approaching car. These young witnesses, Kenneth Myers, 13, of 46 Curve st.; Herbert Mack, 12, of 179 Hicks st.; James Turner, 14, of Prospect st., and Edward Toland, 14, of 514 Waltham st., had testified at the inquest that the car driven by young Quigley was proceeding at a high rate of speed before it hit the Smith woman. Judge Allen would not permit the testimony of these boys as to the speed of the car. He ruled that they were not competent witnesses because of their ages.

Judge Allen found Robert Quigley not guilty of driving to endanger, on the charge of driving without a license, he fined Quigley $10. William Quigley was found not guilty of allowing an unauthorized person to drive his car, after he had testified that he had given his brother permission to operate the automobile only on condition that a licensed operator accompany him.

Saltonstall Gains 43 In Newton

The recount of the votes cast in Newton for Francis Kelly and Lev-erett Saltonstall, candidates for Lieutenant Governor, was held last Friday at City Hall. The recount was conducted under the direction of City Clerk Grant and the Registrars of Voters. A large force of counters engaged in the task, and observers were present in the interest of the two candidates. The recount commenced at 9
a. m., and concluded about 9:15 p. m.
The result was—that Kelly was found to have received 23 votes less than credited to him on the official election returns, and Saltonstall gained 20. The original figures were—Kelly,
9,327; Saltonstall, 24,155. The recounted returns, according to the recount, were—Kelly, 9,304; Saltonstall, 24,175. Results from the State-wide recounts indicate that Kelly will remain the victor.

Aldermen Favor Two Platoons For Firemen

The special committee of Newton Aldermen appointed to study May or Childs' inaugural address recommendations regarding the Newton Fire Department made its report to the Board on Monday night. The committee was composed of Aldermen
Walker, chairman, and Aldermen Akins and Melcher. The report was quite comprehensive, filling 21 type written pages, in addition to several pages of data relative to proposed new fire stations, received from the Public Buildings Department. The report covered two main subjects—the establishment of a two-platoon system, and the erection of two modern fire stations. One of these at the North side of the city would provide for a consolidation of the stations now at Newtonville and West Newton. The other building at the South side would house the apparatus and firemen now in the stations at Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls.

The committee points out that neither of the changes is urgent in point of time, but that at least one of the measures should be adopted as early a date as the city's finances will make practicable. The committee states in its report that Chief Rand
solidations ahead of the adoption of a two-platoon system. The committee reported—"In this conclusion, we differ from the Chief." The committee contends that the existing stations give reasonably adequate service, and while in some respects they do not comply with the law, or provide proper comforts for the firemen, temporary alleviation of conditions may be made at slight expense.

To properly remodel and modernize Station 4 at Newtonville, $9000 would be required. To make changes at Station 2 in West Newton, which would make it conform to legal requirements and furnish needed accommodations for the firemen quartered there, $16,500 would be the cost. A new station and site to consolidate these two stations is estimated will cost about $140,000. The report estimates it would cost $6,800 to properly remodel the fire stations at Upper Falls, and $9650 for alterations on the station at Newton Highlands. A new station to consolidate these two would cost about $100,000. It would be built on land now owned by the city at Newton Highlands, and on a location which would provide facilities for better protection of the new residential section at Oak Hill. While the committee does not believe immediate action is needed on these new stations, they should be built in the near future, with preference to be given to the house for Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder
1.

The committee recommends that the

Litigation On Oak Hill Gravel Pit

A hearing was started at City Hall on Tuesday before Bennett Sanderson, sitting as master on cross suits brought by George Wilbur, owner of the Highland Sand & Gravel Company, and the City of Newton. For the past 8 years Wilbur has been operating a sand and gravel business at Oak Hill under temporary permits, the first of which was issued by Cecil Chadwick, former Public Buildings Commissioner of Newton, and the other renewals granted from year to year by the Board of Aldermen.
There have been protests all through these years from Oak Hill residents because of the large amount of heavy trucking resulting from the gravel pit operations. Some months ago the present Board of Aldermen refused to renew the permit and Wilbur obtained a temporary injunction from the Supreme Court prohibiting the city from stopping his continued operation of the gravel plant.

When Wilbur obtained his first renewal from the Board of Aldermen, he told the Aldermen that there were about 1,000,000 tons of sand and gravel on the large area he owned, and that it would take about 5 years to excavate and remove this material.
Subsequently Wilbur extended his gravel excavations onto large areas of adjoining land owned by other persons. City Solicitor Bartlett is representing the city in the controversy.

Recount In Vote In Ward 1 Contest

A recount was held Sunday at City Hall by the Registrars of Voters of the vote cast in Ward 1 for Ward
Alderman at the recent city election.
A request for the recount had been made in behalf of James Murphy who was defeated by Edward Fahey by 35 votes. The official figures were—
Fahey, 647; Murphy, 612; Blakeney, 404; Antonellis, 162. As a result of the recount Fahey was found to have received the same number of votes.
Murphy gained 4 as a result of votes being credited to him which had been disallowed by precinct officials.

Two New Jobs In Building Dept.

Because of the large number of new residences being constructed in the Newtons it has been decided to add two permanent inspectors to the staff of the Newton Public Buildings Department; one a building inspector and the other a plumbing inspector. Temporary employees have been filling these positions. Applications will be received from persons wishing to take the examination anytime up to January 9. The examination will be held on January 23.

SALARY INCREASES

The recommendation of the special committee of the Aldermen which has been considering the equalization of salaries and automatic increase for city employees will unquestionably provoke divided opinion on the part of the citizens. We have always believed that the many persons in positions of public trust should receive adequate remuneration for their services based upon their ability and length of service. Similar procedure is usually followed in private industry. This is one of the many factors that have made the United States the leading nation of the world and that has brought to it the highest wage scales, best working conditions, and the highest standard of living of our present civilization. We would not deny any city employee his just and equitable salary but with the welfare costs mounting steadily to a new high total of over $400,000 for the present year the Aldermen who are concerned with the financial status of Newton and its citizens should give the proposal serious consideration before final action is taken to provide general increases for many of our better paid city employees.

BIENNIAL ELECTIONS IN NEWTON?

We print in another column a letter from a reader who refers to the recent city election and also editorial response the letter drew from one of the outstanding metropolitan dailies. Both the letter and the editorial deal with the subject of a small percentage of the voters casting their ballots at local elections. Almost daily we become more and more firm in our conviction that the city of Newton would do well to provide for biennial election of its city officials. We invite all interested citizens to offer their comments upon such a proposal and to urge them to extend their support of a forthcoming effort to place the question of the adoption of biennial elections before the voters of the city.

Peace Pageant By Children Of 3rd Grades

Children of the third grades of the Newton schools have been busy for some time in preparation of a pageant of peace and good will, exemplifying the spirit of Christmas time. The pageant will be presented in the high school auditorium on Saturday morning and afternoon. The pageant is the outgrowth of the study of life in foreign lands made during the school year. Through songs, simple scenery, costumes and dialogue they portray the life of people in other parts of the world as they have come to understand it. Teachers of the third grades, assisted by special teachers of art, music and physical education, direct the affair.

MacDowell Concert By WPA Orchestras Monday

A concert commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Edward Alexander MacDowell, will be performed by the Newton and Somerville WPA Symphony Orchestras, at the Newton High School Auditorium, Monday evening, December 21st at 8:15 p. m. The program will consist entirely of music by MacDowell, and will present Maud Wesson as soloist. Dr. MacDowell was one of the most prolific of American composers. He established a reputation as one of the foremost modern creative musicians. He was likewise among the most gifted virtuosi and a highly successful teacher.

Stanley Hassell, conductor of the Somerville Symphony Orchestra the guest conductor, has chosen to open the program with "Two Poems for Orchestra" Op. 22—"Hamlet and Ophelia."

Miss Wesson, noted New England concert pianist will be heard in MacDowell's Concerto in D minor for piano and Orchestra Op. 23.

For the concluding number Mr. Hassell has selected the Indian suite Op. 48 in five movements: (1) Legend, (2) Love Song, (3) In War Time, (4) Dirge, and (5) Village Festival.

This concert is part of the Works Progress Administration Program, and is made possible through the efforts of Mr. Albert Webber, Supervisor of the Newton WPA Orchestra, with the full cooperation of Mr. Julius E. Warren, Supt. of Newton Schools, and Mr. Kellar, Sec. of the School Board.

The combined orchestras, a Symphony Orchestra of one hundred musicians will be a musical treat worth attending, and is open to the public free, no admission charge, or collection of any kind.

Young Republican Club Elects New Officers

Archibald M. Knowles, a Boston attorney, was unanimously elected President of the Young Men's Republican League of Boston at its annual meeting this week at the Hotel Fritz Carlton. The other officers chosen were: Malcolm L. Weymouth, Vice President; Karl E. Kumberger, Secretary; Harry Gulesian, Treasurer, and John J. McCarthy, Jr., Sergeant-at-Arms.

The meeting marked the completion of eight years of regular monthly meetings, political and social activities to the organization.

Roger A. Lutz of Newton, retiring President, presided at the annual meeting, assisted by the Vice President, George C. Schofield.

Edgar T. White, Jr., of Auburndale, President of the Young Men's Republican Club of Newton, and Roger A. Lutz, of Newton Centre, were elected to the executive committee of the Boston League.

Fred Winslow Rust, president of Rust Craft Publishers and popular author of many of that company's famous greeting card verses, is the author of a new book of poetry, "Unto the Hills," published by Bruce Humphries, Inc., Boston.

He was born in Belfast, Me., where his grandfather was editor of the "Progressive Age." At the age of five he moved to Kansas City, where his father was manager of the Kansas City Stock Yards. After graduation from Williams College, Mr. Rust taught history in Illinois for two years and then took the position of school and college agent for Ginn and Company in that state. In 1906, he opened a bookshop called Fred Rust's Shop—Books and Things—since becoming the largest greeting card establishment in the country. The plant was moved to Boston in 1913.

Mr. Rust is a prominent Boston clubman as well as business man, belonging to the Rotary Club, University Club and the St. Botolph Club. He is also active in his community activities, having been chairman of the Newtonville Community Chest for a number of years. He lives in Cohasset during the summer.

In this volume, Mr. Rust writes on a variety of fascinating subjects—of Nantucket, of Cohasset with her proud sea-faring history, of a gay holiday trip to Nassau. Occasionally there is an anecdote or a romantic tale reaped from the history of these places. Then there are more personal themes, poems about human sentiments and buoyant spirits, for which the author is famous.

He has published one previous book of poetry—"Songs of Nassau," published in 1933, and for many years, his poetry has appeared in metropolitan newspapers, including the Boston Herald, the Boston Transcript and the Philadelphia Daily News.

Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren has been appointed to the advisory committee of the New England Regional Planning Commission which organization is co-operating with state planning boards and Federal agencies to promote the development of the resources of New England. He will serve as an intermediary between the commission and the citizens of Newton and vicinity. The purpose of the plan, according to Victor M. Cutter of Newton, chairman of the commission, is to guide the development in an economical and orderly manner with a consequent elimination of unnecessary expense and waste.

Newton was represented by a large group of probation officers at the New England crime prevention conference under the auspices of the Massachusetts board of probation and Department of Correction, this week, at the Hotel Statler, Boston. The local delegation included Oswald J. McCourt of 32 Rossmer street, Newtonville; Miss Mary L. Brinn of 83 Elm rd., Newtonville; Miss Mary A. Hall of 10 Boylston rd., Newton Highlands; Henry M. Baker, 6060 Centre st., Newton; John J. Barter of 173 Tremont st., Newton; M. John Eneess of 942 Watertown st., West Newton; Miss Emily Hickey of Newton and William P. McKenna of 14 Adams ave., West Newton.

Letters To The Editor

(Editor's Note—Although it is not our policy to print letters from anonymous readers, we have been requested to reprint the following letter which appeared in the Boston Transcript recently. The subject is of general interest and the following editorial so effectively written, that we believe it to be of sufficient importance to reprint both articles for our readers.)

NON-VOTING VOTERS

To the Editor:

The lack of interest in their own affairs by the citizens of Newton, as evidenced in a 34 per cent of the electorate on Dec. 8, prompts this suggestion:

That an ordinance be adopted which will provide perfect city administration by means of truly representative government.

1—The mayor, the Board of Aldermen and the School Board shall perform only 34 per cent of their regular duties in 1937, and in succeeding years the percentage of performance shall be that of the vote cast in the preceding city election.

2—That only 34 per cent of the estimated needs for 1937 be provided for in the budget and tax levy, and that the remaining 66 per cent be saved through the following economies:

- (a) Non-collection of garbage and ashes at homes of those who fail to vote.
 - (b) Non-removal of snow from sidewalks and streets in front of homes of those who fail to vote.
 - (c) Exclusion from the public schools of children, whose parents fail to vote.
 - (d) Shutting off of water supply from homes of those who fail to vote.
 - (e) Denial of library privileges to those who fail to vote.
 - (f) Denial of police protection to those who fail to vote.
 - (g) Denial of fire protection to those who fail to vote.
 - (h) Denial of park, playground, swimming and skating privileges to those who fail to vote, and to their children and grandchildren.
- 3—That abundant welfare and relief funds be provided through double assessment of all property of those who fail to vote.

4—That automatically all names of those who fail to vote be removed from the registered lists, but that above penalties be forever exacted until reinstatement.

5—That reinstatement be granted only when applicants humbly request it from a platform in a public square in the presence of fifty or more citizens, and after a solemn declaration that hereafter they will faithfully perform their duties.

The foregoing is a hasty draft. Intensive study will reveal other necessary penalties, such as prohibiting those who fail to vote from keeping cats, dogs, canaries, parrots or guinea pigs, etc., etc. Exceptions will have to be provided for invalids, and for those who are so busy complaining about government that they haven't time to vote.

Finally, the mayor, aldermen and school committee should be granted the privilege (without penalty or prejudice) of soundly booting any non-voter who makes any request or complaint. In fact, there should be a substantial reward—and no closed season.

ONE WHO VOTED.

Newton, Dec. 9.

No Vote, No Service

Where only thirty-four per cent of a city's registered voters go to the polls on election day, why should the elected officials do more? If only a third of the citizens consider it important to express their choice of head-servants for the municipality, why should the chosen men feel bound to perform more than a third of their official duties?

These questions are raised in a letter published tonight. The queries are offered in a manner essentially whimsical, but at the same time full of challenge. If anyone cares so little for the conduct of his city's affairs that he cannot bother to vote in an alderman election, it seems quite logical to assume that he cares equally little about the services administered by the city for himself and his family. Since he cannot take the trouble to vote, why should he be troubled by the non-removal of garbage and ashes from his home, or of snow from his sidewalks, or by the suspension of any other standard public service such as the provision of a good water supply, schools for his children, police and fire protection, and numerous other conveniences?

When a citizen does not vote, it would seem that he cares not at all for his city government, whether it be one of good quality or distinctly deficient. If he is content to be absent from the polls of his city or town on the voting day duly appointed, he might well expect that his community would abstain from supplying him any needed help on the other days of the year.

Our correspondent's argument has a sharp point. Perhaps it cannot be widely accepted but its irony drives deep home.—Honesty sharpens its barb.—Boston Transcript.

UNRESTRAINED DOGS

To the Editor:

May I add a word to the rising protest against the increasing number of unrestrained large dogs which are becoming a nuisance in the City of Newton.

Nearly every one is fond of pets, whether dogs, cats or other animals, and so long as they do not damage property, there is little objection to their roaming at large. When, however, they injure or kill other pets they have no right to be at liberty. Recently in West Newton several valuable pets have been killed by dogs. While the evidence may point to certain dogs, usually of the hunting type which have a killing instinct, it is difficult to obtain definite proof as to which one is responsible.

Is there no recourse which citizens have to protect their own pet animals?

Red Cross Brings Xmas Pleasure To Veterans

In response to the recent appeal for books and magazines, the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross sent to the Charlestown Navy Yard, for distribution at Christmas time, to the sailors and soldiers in Veterans' Hospitals, 456 magazines, 165 books, 65 puzzles and 10 packs of cards.

In addition, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., Chairman of the Gray Ladies for the Newton Chapter, took personally to the Bedford Hospital for Christmas 10 cartons of cigarettes, 100 magazines, 2 sleeveless sweaters and 6 Bannies. In October she took there 12 sweaters with sleeves, 4 sleeveless sweaters and 12 cartons of cigarettes.

Last September, for the men in service in foreign parts, the Chapter sent its usual contribution of 108 Christmas Bags. These useful bags of bright colored calico contained such gifts—sewing kit, stationery and pencils, playing cards, diaries, knives, tooth brush and paste, greeting cards and return postcards.

The Girl Scouts of Camp Mary Day wrapped each article in red tissue and fastened it with Christmas seals. After Christmas, each year, a large number of men send back the postcard saying how much they appreciated the remembrance—and often state "it was their only gift from home."

The Junior Red Cross is doing a large amount of Christmas cheer work: 250 menu covers for Chelsea Hospital and 250 packages (10 to package of greeting cards—all stamped and ready for the men to send out.

We have received the fifth annual report of the Newton Free Library. The managers say that the usefulness and increased success of the library and reading rooms have been further developed by the year now closed, to an extent which insures to the institution the confidence and support of the community. The increase in the circulation of books has been 15 1/2 per cent more than in 1873, and an average attendance of 94 a day has been recorded at the reading room. Hon. J. Wiley Edmonds has made his fifth and final payment on his gift of $5000 for the purchase of books. The receipts for the year, including balance from last year, have been $9164. The year's expenses have been $4634.

Thursday was the coldest day so far this winter—3 degrees below zero. The cold wind checked outdoor operations.

The pump near the bank at Newton Corner is again in operation and gives forth an abundant supply of water to every corner.

The sleeping quarters under city hall at West Newton have been occupied the past week by a wandering multitude of unemployed men.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 18, 1886

The Board of Aldermen has voted to change the name of School street, Newton, to Thornton street.

A wealthy lady of Cambridge recently left $20,000 to the Cambridge Hospital. Newton people who think of leaving money to the Cottage Hospital here, need not wait to bequeath it in their wills. It is needed now.

The Wesleyan Home on Wesley street, Newton, was opened on Thursday afternoon at 2 with religious services at which a large number of Methodist ministers were present. The house has been nicely fitted up and a worthy charity has been auspiciously started. The home is to be supported by donations, and either money, groceries or provisions will be thankfully received.

A nice present for your wife or sister is a skirt form for draping skirts. For sale at Newton Bazaar.

One of J. Edward Hills' valuable English pointers was struck by a train Thursday and so badly injured that it had to be killed.

W. W. Stall of Faneuil left for the South on Wednesday and expects to dispose of a large number of photographs which he and A. A. Glines of Newton have made of the bicycle celebrities of this city, including Edward Burnham, Horace Crocker and William Huntley.

The need of sewerage in Newton becomes more urgent every year, and action cannot be delayed much longer, if Newton is to retain its reputation as one of Boston's healthiest suburbs. Towns up the valley are taking hold of this matter in a way that looks like business. Newton should take warning in time and adopt some system of sewerage before any widespread epidemic appears. This is the most important question before the city today. Some plan ought to be definitely decided upon this winter.

It should be a matter of pride to our citizens to see what an honorable position our High School is taking. Its "Review" is conducted with such marked ability that it already outranks many similar publications. Its Lyceum has debates which would not be discredit to much older disputants. Its graduates enter colleges with ease and some with honors.

The possibility that free mail delivery may be established in Newton, may not prove such a blessing, if it should apply to the whole city. There would be one central postoffice, of course, but whether the government would maintain an office in every village is doubtful. Allston has no post-office within its limits, and many of the villages in this city are no larger, and could not expect to be treated differently. If the bill now before Congress should pass, it would affect a radical change in Newton and there would be many remonstrances.

An article by Nathaniel Allen of West Newton will be found in this issue, showing the injurious effects of the use of tobacco by the young. The position this experienced teacher takes will be endorsed by every intelligent reader.

The poles for the electric lights are beginning to be set in place. Which impresses us with the fact that the days of enlightenment are near at hand.

In the removal of the old hearse house from the Winchester street burial ground at Newton Highlands, to the gravel pit on Eliot street, the old hearse was taken from its quarters and burned.

Obedience to proper authority, respect for age and official station, and consideration for the weaker sex, were old time virtues. Judging from recent exhibitions made by Newton boys the times have changed. Whose fault is it that any boy can grow up in such a community as this with such notions?

Powers' Paragraphs

Christmas is but one week away. This holiday season brings happiness to old and young who are fortunate enough to enjoy prosperity, and who can express affection and friendship through the medium of gifts. Many are not prosperous and lack even the necessities of life. If persons who are fortunate want to manifest the real Christmas spirit, why not give some useful article of clothing to some poor child instead of lavishing toys and non-essentials on children who have plenty?

For some years merchants in this city have been accorded the privilege of using the streets in front of their business places for the display and sale of Christmas trees and greenery. Most of the store keepers who have taken advantage of this privilege have been reasonable. But some of them abuse the privilege. They store hundreds of Christmas trees in the streets, monopolize parking spaces for a couple of weeks before the holiday, and even create traffic hazards.

Recently in a court in this State a man was found guilty of driving an automobile so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. As a result of his reckless driving he had killed two men and the punishment meted out to this offender was a $100 fine. Do you wonder that the number of fatal automobile accidents is constantly increasing?

In the comprehensive report prepared by the special committee of the Board of Aldermen on the two-platoon system and the consolidation of certain fire stations in this city, suggestions are made as to the location of the new station which will house Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1. Nothing is said about using the lot of land which the city has owned for many years on Washington st., east of Felton st. This lot has been frequently mentioned as a practical site for the proposed new fire station. This lot contains about 35,000 square feet and extends over 500 feet along Washington st. Although it is triangular in shape and tapers to a point at its easterly end, it has a depth of about 125 feet at the Felton st. end and faces the wide expanse of Washington st. It ought to be large enough for a fire station.

In the same report the committee suggests that the present site of the Newtonville fire station can be sold when Ladder 1 and Engine 4 will be transferred to a new house. It would be a big mistake for the city to sell this small parcel of land for any business purpose. It is the only site which has been occupied on the south side of Washington st. between Newtonville and West Newton since the Boston & Albany tracks were depressed over 40 years ago. It adjoins

Mount Vernon st., which crosses the B. & A. tracks over a blind bridge and at a steep grade. Washington st. at this point now is dangerous from a traffic viewpoint. To permit a business block or other building at this location would greatly increase the traffic hazard.

The approach to the Newton Hospital is a circular drive, wide enough for two automobiles to pass in safety. Along this drive are several signs stating that parking is absolutely forbidden there. So many selfish and inconsiderate motorists ignore these signs in past years, that it became difficult at times for cars to reach the entrance to the hospital. So, a special policeman had to be employed to enforce the parking regulation at the hospital and compel the onerous type of motorists to park their cars on the ample parking space provided nearby. Some months ago the service of this policeman was dispensed with as a matter of economy. Since then the parking of cars on the hospital driveway has again become noticeable. Some folks won't even co-operate with a hospital.

For many in this country there has been no depression. These include those fortunate ones who retained public or private jobs, with no lack of employment, whose wages or salaries were not reduced, or reduced but little, and in many cases restored again. For millions of others the depression has been a bitter reality, and it still continues. Local proof of this is the fact that the cost of financing the Newton Public Welfare Department is increasing. Instead of $5000 each week being expended to support the poor in Newton, $6000 a week is now necessary. During the past six weeks 75 families have been added to the list of those receiving aid from the Newton Welfare Department. The principal reason for this is the curtailment of WPA projects in Newton, as elsewhere. The number of WPA workers dropped from the payrolls of this type of Federal relief in Newton during recent weeks is 120. It is estimated that it will cost the taxpayers of Newton $400,000 this year for welfare purposes. Director Reynolds of the Public Welfare Department, who has the arduous task of attempting to be reasonably humane to the many applicants for relief, and of keeping the expenditures of his department as low as possible, states that there are about 200 men on the relief rolls who are able to work, who are willing to work, and who cannot obtain employment. For most of these and their dependents, this Christmas will not be merry. And for those who have been fortunate enough to enjoy continued prosperity, through no special merit of their own, we bespeak charitable consideration for the victims of our imperfect civilization.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Still With Us
Dear old Mother Goose was a writer of verse,
O, how she could make the words jingle;
And some of her people were old married folks,
While others preferred to be single.
They did things amusing, eccentric and gay.
It took a whole volume to note 'em.
Though years have rolled by we never forget,
And frequently, too, do we quote 'em.
Today we will find as we travel about,
Keeping watch on humanity's striving,
That throughout the world the Goose family exists,
With many descendants still thriving.

Well Worth Repeating
Reference in this column to boys seeking amusement in dilapidated barns and other structures has caused a reader to remind me of the splendid work of the Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A. in providing desirable opportunities for the youngsters and exhaust superfluous energy. It is with satisfaction that I recall the demonstrations by these agencies at the exposition given prior to the Community Chest campaign. While the Community Chest is founded primarily to supply funds for these organizations it also provides the public with convincing proof of their importance to the youth of Newton. It is a subject that cannot be discussed too often and fully deserves mention as the reader suggests.

Last Minute Shopping
I cannot help envy those who announce, not without a trace of smugness, "Well, I've got all my Christmas shopping done." I know they feel superior and are looking down upon the rest of us, but, nevertheless, I say, "More power to them." Try as I may to be forehanded, prudent, etc., I invariably find myself rushing about during the last shopping days, intent on some important errand. It means that I am one of the great surging crowd. Really, there is fun in it if you know how to surge. First of all you must be prepared to "take it." Better still you must look at the humorous side. Although there may seem to be no merriment in being shoved about, having an elevator door slammed in your face, waiting ages to be served, risking your neck in a revolving door, milling with throngs on sidewalks, stations, subways, trains and trolleys, the joke is there if you can find it. And it is far better than letting your patience slip away from you. Go through the ordeal as if it were a game, be considerate of others, forgive those who are rude and put up with any and all vexations and you'll return home with a smile—the true Christmas spirit.

Oddments

A year ago this column made bold to suggest that legislation would not be necessary to prohibit the display of liquor advertisements bearing the picture of Santa Claus and implying that the jolly old fellow was partial to this or that brand of drink. The guess was hazarded that public opinion would have the desired effect. For once at least I was right. The State authorities who have direct supervision of such matters put their foot down: "No tying-up Santa Claus with booze," they said. Good judgment.

We have had a lot of rain that might just as well have been snow which means that the total precipitation of the fleecy flakes is not going to total for this winter an amount as high as it might. If you can't figure that philosophy just put it down as optimism. But beat about clearing the sidewalks of Newton. Wasn't there talk of having the city do it? Now what happened to that suggestion?

Picking-up Exercise

Don't laugh until you've tried this. What is it? O, just a new way to obtain some good exercise, or, as the athletically inclined might put it, "a satisfactory work-out." It was recommended to me and I've tried it with results that seemed to me highly desirable.

First of all you take several sheets of paper and cut them into squares of about one inch. Scatter these pieces all over the floor. Then place a bowl on a shelf that is higher than your head. I mean, in a position you will have to reach up if you want to put anything in the bowl. And that's precisely what you proceed to do. You pick up each piece of paper (one at a time, now and no cheating) and place it in the bowl. First you pick up a half-dozen with your right hand and then a half-dozen with your left. And don't stop until you've picked up every piece. No dawdling or counting. Keep right at it. When you have picked up 150 or 200 pieces of paper you will have had a lot of desirable exercise. It is not going to develop any muscles but it is going to start circulation and make you feel much more lively.

This is by no means a man's privilege. It belongs to both women and men. Helps those who like to keep fit and trim without violent effort. I dare say that some may think this a flagrant of a would-be humorous imagination, but, honestly, it's the goods.

Thompson Is Renamed Head Of Plumbing Board

Among the reappointments made by Governor James M. Curley and confirmed by the Council last week was that of G. Wilbur Thompson, chairman of the Board of Examiners of Plumbers, for a fourth term.

Mr. Thompson was appointed to this State position by Gov. Fuller nine years ago, by Gov. Allen for a second term, and by Gov. Ely as Chairman for the third term.

Mr. Thompson had the endorsement of the State Master Plumbers Association, of which he has been president, the Journeymen's State Union, and other organizations of which he is a member.

He has been located in Newton Centre for the past forty years, as a plumbing and heating contractor, has been president of the Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the local masonic bodies, the Rotary Club, and also a member of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

Among the appointments announced by Governor James M. Curley recently was the appointment of V. C. Stanley, president of the Gamewell Company of Newton, as Commissioner of the State Firemen's Relief.

Mr. Stanley has spent thirty-four years of his life in the field of Fire Protection and has worked very closely with Fire Departments throughout the entire company.

Christmas Seal Sale

Christmas is the "Giving Season" and whether it be gifts to family and friends or gifts such as contributions or baskets for those less fortunate, everyone tries to give at Christmas. The Christmas Seal Committee hopes that no one will consider his Christmas plans complete until he has purchased all the Christmas Health Seals that his budget will allow.

Increase your previous purchase if possible, that the total receipts may more nearly equal those of a few years ago; the work accomplished by the seal sales needs no endorsement and is bound to reflect credit upon the community. Included in this relief movement, through the winter months, careful supervision is being given those children who were sent to the summer health camps that their resistance may be strengthened, and most of them realize their personal responsibility to aid themselves by their co-operation. This is but one item of the winter program.

Continued effort in combatting tuberculosis has checked its spread and done much to promote the physical well-being of our citizens.

Following is the report of the receipts from the chairman up to Dec. 15th:

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Frank Cascio, 20, of 29 Davenport rd., Needham, was arrested early Tuesday morning at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Roxbury, by Serg. Sullivan and Patrolmen J. P. Murphy and Brosnahan of the Newton police on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. A young South Boston woman who had been riding with him was also arrested on a drunkenness charge. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday. Cascio's trial was continued until December 22. The girl was found guilty and her case was placed on file.

About 1 a. m. Tuesday a car driven by Cascio hit a pole near the corner of the turnpike and Parker st., and then crashed into a fence. He and his companion received slight injuries and were taken to the hospital by a passing autoist. The Newton police traced the couple to the hospital and placed them under arrest.

Rob Street Sweeper Driver in Waban

Frank Finelli of 35 Melbourne ave., Newtonville, who nightly drives the huge rotating brush that cleans Newton streets, was robbed on Chestnut st., Waban about 1 a. m. Monday morning of $2 in money, and a package of cigarettes. Finelli was operating the big sweeper along Chestnut st. when a car drew alongside the vehicle and its two occupants asked the location of Collins rd. As Finelli was giving them the direction, one of the pair brandished a revolver and ordered Finelli to hand over his wealth. The small time bandits then drove away.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. A. R.

On Wednesday, December 9th, Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, held the fortieth anniversary of the forming of the chapter. They met at the home of Mrs. F. O. Stanley, 337 Waverley ave., Newton, who was one of the early members. Mrs. Edson J. Gould, one of the charter members, read a paper telling of the numerous activities of the chapter in all these years.

Three of the charter members are still with us, Mrs. Edson J. Gould, Mrs. John G. Godding and Miss Kate Fox.

After a short business meeting Mrs. Emma S. Bradley of Cambridge, reader, delighted the members of the club with her rendering of the following selections: A one act play entitled "A Pipe of Peace," by Margaret Cameron, two poems, one "The Maiden and the Weather-vane," by Longfellow, and "Mamma's Lullaby," by Dunbar, a chapter from a patriotic novel entitled "Neither Let It Be Afraid" and a monologue "Self Control."

A social hour followed. Tea was served with a special birthday ice cream cake. Mrs. Maudis E. Gleason and Mrs. Charles E. Morrow poured and the Executive Board were hostesses. Guests were Miss Mabel Beers, the state regent, Miss Jennie Willis, the state secretary, and Miss Grace S. Gay of the National Society.

OUR LADY'S ALUMNI

The first presentation of a minstrel show in the parish of Our Lady Help of Christian's Church, Newton, has begun its rehearsals. Under the direction of Mr. Leon Mayer, Newton Post American Legion Commander, and sponsored by the dramatic club of the Alumni Association, a large and talented group turned out for the initial rehearsal on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13th. The cast as yet has not been selected but will shortly be announced. Rehearsals are being held in the High School Auditorium on Sunday afternoons at 2 p. m. and on Tuesday evenings at 8 p. m. All interested in this project in the parish are invited to volunteer their services for the show.

Stearns School Centre Prepares for Christmas

The Directors of the Stearns School Centre held their meeting and tea for the Workers of the Centre at Mrs. Cecil Clark's home on Monday afternoon, December 14th. The business was carried on in the usual manner with reports of the secretary and treasurer and Miss Sandstrom's work at the Stearns School. A great many preparations are being made for the Christmas festivities for the children and mothers at the Centre and a merry time should be had by all. After giving her report Miss Sandstrom introduced each worker, and told something about her work. The directors also volunteered information about their clubs and classes at the Stearns School and Mrs. Auryansen, who has been offering her services at the Stearns School Centre since 1909, gave a most interesting as well as enlightening history of the development of the Centre, after which followed a social period when Director and Worker became better acquainted over her tea or coffee.

Our Lady's Church Sodality Banquet

The second annual banquet and social of the Ladies' Sodality of Our Lady's Church, Newton, will take place on Thursday evening, Dec. 17th, at 7 p. m. in the auditorium of the high school. With the banquet, there will be musical selections followed by a one-act play portrayed by members of the Sodality. The play is being coached by Miss S. Theresa McCarthy and the general chairlady of the evening's program is Mrs. Charles Quinn. Assisting committees are as follows: Banquet, Mrs. Chas. Quinn; Mrs. Wm. Fanning, Mrs. Mary Murphy, Miss Mae Mulligan, Miss Lillian Shea, Mrs. T. Concannon, Tickets: Miss Helen Hart, Miss Katherine McNeil, Miss Katherine Deviney, Miss Eleanor Murphy, Miss Mary Bruen. The Rev. John H. Sheridan and his assistants are the invited guests for the evening. The Sodality is conducted by its chaplain, Rev. Thomas Fallon.

D. A. V. Want Vets On State Police

Chaplain Farrell Chapter, D. A. V. of Newton has gone on record as protesting because the Veterans Preference Act was not put in operation in the appointment of 25 detectives to the State Police Department. It is contended that if the Civil Service system had been followed in the matter of these appointments, twenty-five veterans would have received the positions.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. William O. B. Little, Chairman of Peace and International Relations of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking on the subject "What Women Can Do for Peace" at the December meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union said: "Ten million young men between 18 and 35 laid down their lives in the World War for nothing, a futile sacrifice, to end War. If you and the youth of your community are to be spared the agony of another war and the destruction of material and moral values it will bring, you must arouse public opinion for Peace. You must act!"

Our government can lead us into war or keep us out of war, depending on the policies it pursues. Decisions made by the next Congress will point the direction we are to go. Final decisions on these vital issues are made in Washington by the representatives you elect.

Write to your representatives. Question them regarding peace legislation. Write again and ask for further information on any point that is not clear. Work in your community to create positive peace opinion.

You must make your demands for peace known to those who represent you — to those who control your destiny by their votes!"

Mrs. Malcolm Green, Chairman of the Department for Peace of the Newton W. C. T. U., introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Birdsell, the President, recalled the fact that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union many years ago, under the leadership of Frances Willard, was the first woman's organization to work for world peace.

Recent Engagements

The engagement of Miss Ellen D. Carvelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Carvelli of Auburndale ave., West Newton, to Mr. Henry T. Fust of Gambler st., Auburndale, was announced recently at a tea given at Longwood Towers, Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt C. Webb of 7 Sydney st., Watertown, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emma Althea Webb, to James Alford Mouser, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mouser of 15 Highland Park, Newtonville. Miss Webb is a graduate of the Watertown High School, class of 1931, and has studied at the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Mouser is studying electrical engineering at Northeastern University.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon B. Rogers of 28 Lenox st., West Newton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Celia Marion Rogers, to Francis B. Turner, son of Mrs. Edith M. Turner of 910 Main st., Waltham. Miss Rogers attended Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield and Skidmore College. Mr. Turner is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ryall of Newton Centre announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Luella F. Ryall to Mr. Jesse G. Willis, Jr., son of Mrs. D. W. Hill of Waltham. Miss Ryall graduated from the Wesley School of Cambridge and is teaching in Princeton. Mr. Willis attended Northeastern University and is associated with Dickson and Eddy of Boston.

Recent Weddings

RIPLEY—BERGESON

Miss Ruth Bergeson, daughter of Mrs. John Bergeson, of 855 Beacon st., Newton Centre, was married to George Ripley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Ripley of Andover, Mass., at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 12, at Trinity Church, Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, assisted by Rev. Charles Cutler. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums and lighted candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John True Bergeson, of Charlestown, South Carolina, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin which had also been the wedding gown of the groom's mother. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Lennox of Newton Centre, the maid of honor, wore a gown of turquoise blue satin with puffed sleeves, and a halo of the same shade, and carried a bouquet of Tadmor roses. Miss Helen and Miss Susan Ripley, sisters of the groom, wore peacock blue satin with full skirts and puffed sleeves and a halo of matching shade. They carried Johanna Hill roses.

Howard M. Cutler of Andover was the best man. The ushers were Dr. Thomas L. Spilman of Clifton, Lloyd Bergeson, brother of the groom, of Newton Centre; William Swett of Boston and Andrew Howe of Brookline.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Following a wedding trip to Jamaica and the West Indies, Mr. and Mrs. Ripley will reside at 77 Martin st., Cambridge, where they will be at home after Jan. 20.

The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College, 1934, and the groom of Phillips Academy, 1929. He is now associated with a Boston bank.

WHITCOMBE—CARRICK

Miss Catherine Meyer Carrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Krickel K. Carrick of Newton Highlands, was married to Francis Henry Whitcombe, of Marshfield, Ohio, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 8. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, 68 Chester st., and was performed by Rev. Ben Roberts. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Skelton of Ulica, New York, and Newton Highlands, as maid of honor, and by Miss Ann Atwood and Miss Judith Reddy, both of Newton Highlands, as ribbon bearers. John Morrison of New York was the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Middlebury College, class of 1932, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi. The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris Whitcombe of Amesbury, Mass., received his degree from Iowa State College in 1931 and in 1932 attended the Harvard Engineering School.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Noted Monologist And Dancers Entertain

The Auburndale Woman's Club will meet to celebrate the Yuletide season on Tuesday, December 22nd. The Program committee, through Mrs. Grace H. Fiske, Day chairman, will present Mrs. Roseth Knapp Breed, Dramatic Impersonator, who will interpret many different types of characters. Mrs. Breed, whose programs are nationally known, will give short talks on the art of make-up, while making her costume changes in full view of the audience.

As an additional entertainment feature, "The Yees," Hilda, Helen and George, Chinese children, from the studio of Lucille Perry Hall, will dance. Preceding the entertainment, there will be the usual half-hour business session, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Public Invited to Sunday Afternoon Concert

The Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus, directed by Madame Apolline Blair, will conduct a Community Sing on Sunday afternoon, December 20th, at 3:30 o'clock. The singing will be accompanied by Mrs. G. W. Ulmer as Trumpeter, with Mrs. Mary Baar Snyder at the piano. Mrs. Moses Gulesian will be the solo Pianist. All are cordially invited to attend this holiday season event.

The similar Community Singing afternoons that have been in vogue during the past few weeks, under the auspices of the Newton Centre Club, have been most greatly enjoyed, and those who attended them will welcome this opportunity to hear the always appealing Christmas music. There is probably no more thrilling accompaniment to such music than the herald notes of a trumpet; it is so preeminently appropriate in its compelling call to attention and consideration of the season's meaning.

On Friday and Saturday evenings, December 11th and 12th, the two performances of the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera "Patience" were given at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. The tuneful melodies and witty lines brought forth much applause from the large and enthusiastic audiences which filled the Auditorium each evening. A cast of thirty-one players, accompanied by a fifteen-piece orchestra, artistically produced this romantic light-opera with professional verve. Those who played the leading parts, and had charge of this delightful presentation, have already been announced in this Column.

Beloved Character Of Childhood Gives Pleasure

The fifty children who attended the Christmas Party of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, December 15th, were a happy and responsive group. Mrs. Frank L. Rogers and Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea called for them and took them back to their homes.

For their entertainment, Mrs. Paul E. Elieker introduced Curtis Beach, who made the afternoon a jolly affair with his Marionettes. There was the old friend "Mickey Mouse," who said "Hello," and the children said "Hello," too. Mickey acted as announcer, always taking the audience into his secrets and getting great co-operation from his admiring spectators. There were "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," all so graceful and true to form. There was the Clown who insisted on having music before he would perform, and the marvelous "Three Billy Goats and a Crow," who were very dramatic, with a bridge and a road to adventure and peril beckoning the innocent goats. The Crow was a most frightful creature who would terrify even grown-ups, quite equal to devouring Billy goats, except the Big Brother who made an end of his audacity and threats. These characters deferred to the audience to such an extent that they almost became a part of the show.

Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth played "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" as the little people marched into the Auditorium, with Miss Marion D. Bassett leading. Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, the president, greeted the guests and Club members. After the Marionette entertainment there was another march, this time to the dining-room, which was attractively arranged, and which supplied the children with real party goodies. Among the favors were lollypops, made and given by Miss Louise Johnson.

Then came the return to the Auditorium, and after some jingling and mysterious signs, two Santa Claus aides, in the persons of Sylvia Rice and Joyce Steacie, heralded the beloved character. Everyone was remembered with a gift drawn from the pack, or the alluring basket of doll beauties. There were boxes to be opened after the return home, the contents of which would please mother, as well as youngsters, for these were useful presents, a number of them contributed by the Needlework Guild.

Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, chairman of the Party; Mrs. Horace W. Orr, and Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan and their committees were the sponsors. The children were from the different sections of Newton. Miss Marion D. Bassett was Santa Claus.

The Club House was gay with the Christmas tree and wreaths, and it was an occasion not soon to be forgotten.

Lecture and Music Of Harp Delightful Program

On Friday afternoon, December 11th the West Newton Women's Educational Club held its regular meeting in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. A dessert-coffee was served from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. Louis B. Martin and Mrs. Emil A. Haas, assisted by the other members of the Hospitality committee. The pourers were Mrs. Edgar P. Hay and Mrs. John Bianchi. The musical portion of the afternoon's program was opened by Master Richard Haas, who sang "Away in a Manger," his sister, Miss Georgia Haas, being accompanist. A colorful feature, that was most pleasing, followed, when the members of the Community Service Glee Club of West Newton, dressed all in white, and carrying red folios for their music, marched in singing "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing." A group of three old French Carols, "Here a Torch, Jeanette, Isabelle," "Sleep Little Dove," and "Cold December Wint'ry Blast," concluded this program.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Kenneth Gustafson, gave a description of the "Use and Development of the Harp" throughout the ages. He explained that the Harp occupies a position unique in the history of music, as it is the oldest known musical instrument, having existed in every land and in every age. The present-day use of the harp is more varied than ever, he continued, and it is agreed by critics that it is one of the prominent instruments of the day, and that it will be more appreciated in the immediate future. Mr. Gustafson told of the harp's progress and evolution from the days in ancient Egypt, Babylon, and Ireland, and in all the countries during the middle ages, up to the present time. Charming bits of romance connected with the harp in ancient Ireland were told, and Mrs. Gustafson played selections on the quaint Irish Harp. These numbers were very old and of traditional interest in that country. High points in the mechanical improvements and inventions of the harp itself were described, and at the close of the lecture Mr. Gustafson demonstrated on the golden harp different tone qualities produced on each string, and various typical effects, also the method of pedal-action and arrangement. Next, Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson played a group of three numbers, "Gavotte in B Flat" by Handel, "Largo" by Haydn, and the "Rainbow Music" from the "Opera Rheingold" by Wagner.

The lecture concluded, the Community Service Glee Club returned to sing three Christmas Carols and an old slumber song, "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," "The First Noel," and "Sleep, Little Jesus," with the Club members joining in the chorus. With the playing of the "Prelude to Tournier," the old Russian air, "The Volga Boatman," and "Arabian Gypsy Fantasy," by Gebhardt, the Haydn Harp Duo brought this delightful program to a close.

At the request of the Club members, Master Haas was persuaded to repeat his solo, "Away in the Manger."

The members of the Community Service Glee Club who sang, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, were Mrs. Gertrude E. Brewer, Mrs. Ethel P. Coty, Mrs. Marjorie Crain, Miss Theresa L. Cram, Mrs. William W. Edwards, Mrs. Margaret Galloway, Miss Virginia Newhall, Mrs. Mildred Peck, Mrs. Edith Plump, Mrs. Ernest Reed, Mrs. William C. Worth, Mrs. F. E. Wyatt, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, Miss M. Elizabeth Kilburn, Mrs. Gerald Barnes, Miss Loretta Aldrich, and Mrs. Robert Eames. The accompanist was Mrs. Linda Liffler.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc. report that final papers have been passed in the conveyance for Edward Scott, Trustee, of his new Cape Cod Colonial home located at No. 50 Oldfield rd., Newton. Children's Program Welcome Holiday Event

The Ways and Means committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Howard O. Winslow is chairman, has been sponsoring a delightful series of Saturday afternoon entertainments, especially for children. They make the following wise and helpful suggestion for the day after Christmas which is always a difficult one. The children feel the let-down from the excitement and thrill of Christmas Day, and the mothers would enjoy a little quiet! The committee asks if mothers want to know the cure for this state of affairs, and then answers: "Send them all, big and little, to the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, on Saturday, December 26th, at 1:30 p. m., to see the 'Domino Marionettes.' This is the finest show of the series of Children's Entertainments, the committee feels. They further advise patrons to go early, as the tickets are selling fast. Tickets at 25 cents each will be on sale at the door.

Other Programs Of Interest

Newton Community Club

Despite the inclement weather the Newton Community Club held its December meeting on Thursday afternoon, December 10th, at 2 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall, with the spirit of Christmas prevailing.

A warm welcome was extended to the new members by Mrs. Alfred Handley, the Club president. Each new member was presented with a rose by the Hospitality committee.

Following the business meeting, reports of the various Club activities were given by chairmen. The Rummage Sale receipts were $228.00, with much praise due Mrs. Daniel Goodridge, chairman of the Sale, and to her assistants. The money will be used for Philanthropic purposes.

Miss Harriet Parsons spoke briefly on the benefits the children receive from the Christmas Seal Fund. Mrs. David Black, vice-chairman of the Community Service committee, told of the making and assembling of the Christmas Bags sent each year to the disabled Newton War Veterans, and how generously the Social Science Club members had contributed. There were thirty-seven bags ready to be sent. Miss Pottle, of the Underwood School, expressed her appreciation for the Milk Fund, this money being obtained by penny collections taken at each Club meeting.

The speaker of the afternoon, John Nicol Mark, enthused the audience with his "Scotch Wit and New England Philosophy."

Mrs. Mahol Pearson, Contralto, accompanied by Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, added to their pleasure in singing a group of Christmas Songs.

The dolls, which have been dressed by the Club members, were on exhibition. One of the Veterans' Christmas Bags was also on display.

An informal Reception was held for the new members during the social hour. The table was very effectively decorated in a Christmas manner by Mrs. Samuel Nash. The pourers were Mrs. Franklin Hancock, Mrs. C. F. Gluek, Mrs. B. C. Vannah, and Mrs. Frank Perkins.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Margaret McGill and Mr. H. C. Loeffler, secretary of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, spoke at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Wednesday, December 9th. The Legislative committee, Miss Lisette F. Henderson, chairman, sponsored the event. Mr. Loeffler gave an explanation of the bill providing for proportional representation, which will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. This method, it is claimed, would give minorities more representation. He said "wiping out minorities tends to defeat democracy." This larger recognition of the choices of voters, he believes, would tend to do away with the spirit of indifference expressed by those who feel that their votes are "thrown away." He thought this system would eliminate much of the "mud slinging" which prevents many men who have high qualifications for leadership from going in to public life. The tendency would be to have the candidates stand for certain issues in the life of the community, representing progress.

A demonstration of balloting and counting was given in which the audience participated.

Miss McGill spoke of the ways of selecting candidates for office; the former caucus, the primaries, and nomination papers. "To find the right men, go to the organizations to which they belong, and see who are pulling the oars," she said. She referred to the work of the Newton Civic Association as a means of knowing something about candidates, as in most instances the life history of each is given, and voters can judge of their qualifications.

She called attention to the fact that at the recent city election only thirty-four per cent of the voters cast ballots.

Our Lady H. S.

Winner of Oratorical Contest
 Edward R. Callahan, a member of the senior class of Our Lady's, was awarded second prize for excellence in oratory at the fifth annual oratorical contest sponsored by the Diocesan Oratorical and Debating League on Sunday afternoon at Boston College. He was the winner of two volumes of Archbishop Goddard's "Life of Christ."

Eight Greater Boston Catholic High Schools were represented in the contest, and the Rev. Richard J. Quinlan, diocesan supervisor of schools, acted as chairman. Judges of the contest were the Rev. John J. Lynch, a member of the Emmanuel College faculty; Robert B. Masterson, headmaster of the Roxbury Memorial High School, and George F. Oleses, member of the Boston College Junior College faculty.

Each contestant spoke of a topic relating to the stand of the Catholic Church during turning points in the history of the world.

Walter J. Clear of St. Clement's High School, Somerville, winner of first prize, spoke on "Charlemagne and the Holy Roman Empire."

Edward Callahan's topic was "The Church and the Discovery of America." Edward Callahan is an outstanding student of Our Lady's High School, an officer of the senior class, and he has recently been elected president of the Laurence W. Slattery Debating Team.

Debating Election

Election of officers for the Lawrence W. Slattery Debating Team of Our Lady's was held Friday during the regular debating period in the auditorium. The results are as follows: President, Edward Callahan, '37; Vice-President, John Kenna, '38; Secretary, Edmund Rodgers, '37.

French Visitor

On Wednesday afternoon, several classes of the High School were honored by a visit from a French professor who has been visiting the United States for the past few weeks. Interesting accounts of the prevailing customs and practices in the schools of Lyons were found most entertaining. Many questions, asked by the pupils, proved their interest in the work of the French schools.

Some of the French students were given an opportunity to converse with their visitor in her native language. She is to return to Lyons this coming week and has promised to correspond with these students who requested to do so. The practice in carrying on such a correspondence will prove beneficial to the students of French.

Boys' Assembly

Father Haley, the moderator of the Holy Name Society called all the boys of the High School together relative to their joining his society en masse. He pointed out the facts that the meetings were held once a month, and that they lasted approximately forty-five minutes. There are at the most six meetings a year. The entire personnel of the society, in company with the other societies in Newton, go to a central Church the first Sunday of the year for a reunion service. The purpose of the Society is to make reparation for the number of times the Holy Name is taken irreverently. Father Haley when he asked the members of the High School to join expressed his belief that a boy who has reached High School age, should assume the duties of manhood. At the first meeting, Sunday evening, a large percentage of the high school was present.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

About 600 parents and friends of the Bigelow Junior High School enjoyed the first of the Evening Entertainments on Friday evening, December 11. The main features of the program were dancing by members of the girls' physical education department, singing by the Girls' Glee Club, and a play entitled "Red" performed by members of the Grade 8 Dramatic Club. The proceeds from the entertainment will be used to purchase athletic equipment, books for the library, musical material, and other school needs.

Members of Grade 9 had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Pak from Korea recount many interesting anecdotes about her country which she calls "Chosen" at a special assembly on Wednesday, December 9. Mrs. Pak, who is principal of a private school in "Chosen," is in this country on furlough. She gave an interesting autobiographical note when she remarked that she had been disguised as a boy for two years in order that she as a young girl might attend school in "Chosen." During the program she spoke in Japanese, gave the alphabet, and sang a folk song.

Ski enthusiasts from the Girls' Sport Club had the opportunity of viewing "The Ski Chase" at the Fine Arts Theatre on Tuesday, December 8. The picture starred Hanne Schuler. The following boys were the winners of the boxing tournament last week: lightweight, George Tibbert; middleweight, Harry Romsey; heavyweight, Charles Collins.

The recently elected homeroom officers for grades 8 and 9 are: Room 128—President, Sarah Britt; vice-president, Patricia Collins; secretary, Robert Keene; treasurer, Barbara Keller. Room 122—President, John Doherty; vice-president, Parker Datta; secretary, Ida Burnes; treasurer, Douglas MacNeil. Room 125—President, Irving Koffman; vice-president, Herbert Callahan; secretary, Allen Tucker; treasurer, George Tibbert. Room 118—President, Herbert Pingree; vice-president, Jean MacNeil; secretary, Constance Colby; treasurer, Charles Gorsey. Room 213—President, Loretta Sanderson; vice-president, Jean Lovett; secretary, Anne Buckman; treasurer, George Sargent. Room 217—President, Margery MacNeil; vice-president, Gordon Kee; secretary, Patricia Turcheon; treasurer, Jean Stevenson. Room 116—President, Vincent Kirby; vice-president, Eleanor Skauten; secretary, Samuel Cutler; treasurer, Sally West. Room 107—President, Victoria Thomas; vice-president, Eleanor Tashjian; secretary, Rebecca Connolly; treasurer, Sylvia Dennison.

The Whole Family Will Enjoy a Piano

For this Christmas many will decide to buy gifts which add beauty and joy to the home. Nothing will fill the house with gladness as well and for so many happy hours as a piano. Today you will find new ideas in pianos—up-to-date in design, size and finish. We have kept in step with the times and you can be certain that nowhere in New England will you find a more complete stock from which to make a wise selection. We offer only true tone pianos ranging in price from $25 to $2500. All we ask is an opportunity to help you decide which piano best answers the requirements of your budget. Located one block from Broadway at 872-876 Washington St., Boston. Open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Yours very truly, Chas. D. Blake & Co. Adv.

Free Delivery of Mail

Was First Tried in 1851

During the first half of the Nineteenth century the United States post office was simply a depot for incoming and outgoing mail. In 1851 an act of congress provided for free delivery of mail by carriers in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and New Orleans. Later, street letter boxes were set up, making it unnecessary to go to the post office either to post letters or to inquire for mail.

Prior to the inauguration of these conveniences, relates a writer in the Chicago Tribune, their need had been recognized in many cities and districts, and private dispatch and express companies had been organized to pick up and deliver letters and parcels. Mail destined within the range of the express company's service was delivered to the addressee, while that consigned elsewhere was delivered to the post office.

In 1860 congress made it illegal to operate a private express service between points served by the United States mail, except for the carrying of newspapers and periodicals. Eventually all of the highways and byways were declared to be post roads and the private carriers were legislated out of existence.

Harvard, Oldest College, Was Established in 1636

Harvard, founded in 1636, is regarded as the oldest college in continental United States. William and Mary was founded second, in 1693. Grants of land had already been obtained in 1619 for the establishment of a collegiate institution near Richmond, and a collegiate school was established at Charles City in 1621, states a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. But the plan was frustrated by the Indian massacres of 1622. In 1660 the plan was renewed and in 1693 a charter was secured from King William and Queen Mary by Rev. James Blair, who became the first president of the college. Yale, founded in 1701, is third.

In the order of age, the other early universities or colleges are: University of Pennsylvania, 1740; Moravian Seminary and College for Women, Bethlehem, Pa., founded 1742; Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., 1746; Brown University, Providence, R. I., 1764; Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., 1769, and Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., 1776.

The Bill of Rights

The Bill of Rights is the name given to the first 10 amendments to the United States Constitution, probably because the English constitution in 1689 contained such a document. The 10 original amendments went into effect in 1791, having been adopted by congress at its first session. They include provisions upholding the free exercise of religion, freedom of speech and of the press, the right to assemble peaceably and petition the government to redress grievances, to keep and bear arms; prohibiting the quartering of soldiers in private homes in time of peace, the illegal search and seizure of homes and persons, the illegal holding of accused persons without trial, imposing excessive bail or fines and cruel and unusual punishments; giving accused persons the right to speedy trial with defense counsel and the right to trial by jury; also two amendments concerning other rights retained by the people and by the various states under the Constitution.

Tribe of Honey Hunters

There is a tribe of honey hunters in Africa. The Wagindo men follow the call of the honey bird because it always knows where the bees' hound may be found. When the native hears the bird's note he drops his spade, leaves his crops and with only his spear and a firestick sets out to find the treasure of wild honey. He uses his firestick to light a smoldering fire to smoke out the bees, and then cuts down the tree and gathers the hoard. He always leaves grubs of the bees for the bird guide. The Wagindo men have their own hives, which they set in the forest far from beaten tracks, and so hidden that only the owner himself can find them.

The "Sam Brown" Belt

The "Sam Brown" belt is named after its originator, Gen. Sir Samuel Joseph Browne, a most gallant English officer prominent in the early Indian campaign and the Indian mutiny. General Browne served in India throughout the great Indian mutiny and Sepoy war and lost an arm at the battle of Seeporah, which really cost him his life. It was the loss of the arm which caused him to devise a new sort of saber belt later generally adopted by the British army and also by other military forces.

Peasants' Courts

Surrounding Valencia, Spain, are innumerable miles of orchards owned by the peasants and the disputes among them for the past 500 years have been settled every Thursday by an elected court of the peasantry itself, seven judges, each one representing a different irrigation canal and district. The decisions of the judges are final and any peasant found guilty may be deprived of water for his fields.

 —At midnight last Friday fire was discovered in the apartment occupied by Allan McVean on the third floor of the Charlton Block at 239 Washington st. Box 15 was pulled which brought four fire engines and two ladder trucks to the place. The fire was confined to the room in which it started. The blaze started in a chair in the living room. A cigarette is supposed to have been the cause.

—An unusually fine program of Christmas music has been arranged for the Christmas Service at Immanuel Baptist Church on Sunday, December 20, at 10:30. The minister will preach on the theme: "Wise Men All!" On Tuesday evening a beautiful Christmas pageant will be presented in connection with the regular Christmas giving program. Thursday evening the I-Y (Young People) will sing carols for the shut-ins of the parish and have their Christmas party.

Fined $5, Drove With Poor Brakes

Charles Cimino of Worcester st., Wellesley, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car with defective brakes. Cimino's car was involved in an accident recently and an inspection of the car by Serg. Cullen of the Newton police revealed that the brakes were defective. Cimino asserted that the collision was out of control. Cullen's testimony was to the contrary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, December 20.

The Golden Text is: "Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands" (Hebrews 1:10).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world" (Psalms 19:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The universe of Spirit reflects the creative power of the divine Principle, or Life, which reproduces the multitudinous forms of Mind and governs the multiplication of the compound idea man. The tree and herb do not yield fruit because of any propagating power of their own, but because they reflect the Mind which includes all" (p. 507).

What is the oldest toy?

THE oldest known toy is the doll. One estimated to be over 4,000 years old, was found in an Egyptian tomb.

How much do you spend for dolls, trains, games — all those toys that gladden the hearts of little boys and girls at Christmas time?

Divide the amount by 52. Then deposit that much each week in the Newton Centre Savings Bank. By next Christmas you will have a tidy "toy fund" ready for you. Start this week.

Day Jr. High School

On December 11th the elections of the eighth grade were held. Francis Leone was elected president, but the races for the other offices were so hotly contested that no candidate compiled a majority vote; consequently a special election was held on Dec. 15, resulting in the election of Michael Farina, vice-president; William Thompson, secretary, and John Spardelli, treasurer.

The basketball games between the homeboys are in full swing, some very closely contested games having been played. As a preliminary to the game between the Bigelow and Day faculty teams, Home Room 14 won from Home Room 21 by 14 to 12 score on Friday. In the faculty game the Day teachers managed to hold a lead compiled in the third quarter, although the Bigelow faculty cut the lead to one point just before the final whistle.

During the club period last Thursday several of the clubs had special programs connected with varied interests. The Automobile Club had a moving picture on "The Automobile." The members saw how a car is built and assembled and learned much about the industries closely allied to the automobile manufacturing, such as the steel, glass, and rubber industries. The Boys' Hobby Club, always eager to learn more of any hobby and especially such a useful one as photography, visited the Photographic and saw how enlargements may be made perfectly, even on a home-made enlarger.

Home Room 18 had an entertaining moving picture, "Ride 'em, Cowboy," during homeroom period last week. The comments of the spectators prove that the experiment was well worth while.

RECENT DEATHS

EDWARD W. POPE

Edward W. Pope of 134 Hunnewell ave., Newton died on December 14. He was born on Pinckney st., Boston on November 26, 1845 and spent his boyhood in Brookline. As a young man he engaged in the dry goods commission business and later became associated with his brother, Col. Albert A. Pope in the Pope Manufacturing Company, leading manufacturers of bicycles. He served as treasurer of that company for more than 20 years, retiring in 1898.

In 1875 Mr. Pope married Florence Lemon of Watertown. They made their home on Hunnewell ave., Newton until Mr. Pope retired from business in 1898. Then they moved to Lincoln where Mr. Pope conducted a farm and raised pedigreed cattle. Shortly before Mr. Pope died in 1915, they returned to Newton where Mr. Pope had since made his home with his daughter, who is the wife of Rev. Frederick A. Reeve. Besides Mrs. Reeve, he is survived by two granddaughters, Mary F. and Margaret E. Reeve.

Mr. Pope was for many years interested in the Boston Floating Hospital. He was appointed a trustee of the hospital in 1905, served as chairman of the board from 1912 to 1931, and as manager from 1927 until 1931. He gave freely of his time and means to this outstanding charity. His funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at Elliot Church chapel; Rev. Ray Eusden officiated. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

F. H. CHAMBERLAIN

Frank H. Chamberlain of 43 Hobart rd., Newton Centre, died on December 10. He was born in Boston 76 years ago, and in 1877 entered the retail hat business conducted in Boston by his father, Charles A. Chamberlain. Ten years later Mr. Chamberlain assumed charge of the business and developed it until it became one of the leaders in its line. In 1911 the business was incorporated with Mr. Chamberlain's son, Roy F. Chamberlain and John Taylor becoming partners. He was a member of Union Lodge of Masons of Dorchester, of DeMolay Commandery, Knights Templar, and of the Newton Centre Unitarian Church.

On November 9th of this year Mr. Chamberlain and his wife, who was Helen L. Flint, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Chamberlain is survived by his widow; a son, Roy F. Chamberlain; and two grandchildren. His funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon at Newton Centre Unitarian Church; Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach officiated. Interment was at Forest Hills Cemetery.

Lucy Jackson Chapter Observes 40th Birthday

Happy birthday was the slogan for the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., on Monday, December 14, as forty years ago on that date, the chapter was founded by Miss Fannie Allen with eighteen members.

The name Lucy Jackson was chosen because the Jackson family is one of the oldest and most distinguished families of Newton and gave forty-four men to the Revolution.

The room in which the meetings are held was beautifully decorated with Swedish posters and Christmas greens as this was the annual sale. During the forenoon there was brisk buying at the various tables. One of the most attractive was a collection of Chinese brass, antiques and jewelry in charge of Mrs. Geo. L. Davis. A most satisfactory sum was realized from the Fair and at noon Mrs. Edgar W. Allen served a delicious lunch.

At the afternoon meeting after the regular opening exercises, during which Mrs. Amos Wells read an appropriate Christmas poem there were reminiscences by five Ex-Regents, Miss Fannie Allen, the founder and Mrs. Frederick Fessenden have passed away and Mrs. Charles D. Meserve was unable to be present.

Miss Lucy Allen, sister of the founder, and her successor in office, told of the early days of the chapter, when the few loyal members met at the homes of the members. Many distinguished speakers were heard at these meetings, various historical spots suitably marked and a firm foundation laid for the progressive chapter it has now become.

Mrs. Arthur P. Friend read a most entertaining paper, dealing with the activities during her term of office, showing how the chapter was not only taking care of itself but doing much along charitable and patriotic lines. Two of the outstanding features were a contribution to Memorial Hall at Washington and a marker for Roger Sherman.

During the five year regency of Mrs. John Eaton, the present Chapter house was remodeled, the Constitution of the Chapter rewritten and the Chapter Bible, so called was started. It contains valuable rules, hints and suggestions which are constantly consulted by officers of the Chapter. Mrs. Liverus Howe saw the membership increase fifteen per cent, gifts made to various charities, an endowment fund started and a garden planted around the Chapter house. During the regency of Mrs. Edward B. Parker, a young elm tree, an off shoot of the Washington elm at Cambridge, was planted with a patriotic ceremony, many improvements made in the Chapter house, various gifts made and membership increased.

The Chapter house was formerly the old manse of St. Mary's Church at Newton Lower Falls. It has been restored and repainted inside and outside and has a large collection of antiques, including early American furniture, pictures, Colonial costumes, antique china and glass, and household utensils.

At this meeting a large contribution was made to the Crossman School and to disabled veterans.

Skaters Are Urged To Get 1937 Permits

The Playground Department urges all those who wish to skate on the various skating ponds maintained by the City of Newton to get their 1936 and 1937 permit. They are now being issued at the Playground Office at City Hall on the second floor. The permit for Newton citizens is 25 cents and for non-residents the cost is $1.00.

Newton Highlights

Donald Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney of Albemarle rd., Newtonville, has been awarded a varsity football letter at Nichols Junior College where he is a freshman.

Miss Barbara Kimball of Newtonville has received varsity and class hockey letters at Pembroke College where she is a sophomore.

Jackson Skillings of Newton Centre, has been chosen for further participation in the athletic affairs of Brown University. In addition to being captain of the varsity hockey team, the tennis team, and numerous other duties in other college activities he has been appointed to the Undergraduate Athletic Council by the members of the Graduate Council. At the first meeting he was elected secretary. Members of the council include managers of various teams and others by virtue of various positions and two outstanding seniors elected by the Graduate body. Skillings was one of those two thus chosen. Despite his many activities he is also on the Dean's list and holds a number of other scholastic honors.

John Blodgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott W. Blodgett of 156 Melrose st., was awarded his letter for football at the Fall Sports Dinner held at Vermont Academy. Lloyd P. Jordan, Director of Athletics at Amherst College was the guest speaker.

Edward Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson of Monadnock rd., a freshman at Tufts College, has received his numerals as an award for his performances in freshman soccer this fall.

Piano Sales Highest For Past Several Years

With piano sales exceeding any year for the last decade, the most musical Christmas in 10 years was predicted for this community, by William B. Ladd, Jr., Assistant General Manager of the Charles D. Blake & Company, 872 Washington st., Boston.

"The demand for pianos for Christmas delivery is unprecedented, and our big problem now is getting pianos to fill the demand," he said. "Not only are people spending more freely, but with the return of good times, they are more interested in music. More anxious to produce music themselves, and more desirous of having their children take piano lessons."

"We have sold more pianos this year than in many years," he added, "but I'm not referring entirely to that when I say this will be a more musical Christmas. Perhaps it is a feeling of relief from the uncertainties of recent years, or the feeling of optimism over better business, higher wages, and improved prospects for next year. All I know is that our business is definitely reflecting a spirit like that of the old-fashioned Yule time."

The musical spirit is not confined to this community, it was pointed out. National sales of pianos are breaking records daily. Some factories are 4 months behind in filling orders. Shipments of pianos will increase more than one-third during the calendar year and unfilled orders have mounted to the highest total in the industry's history.

Coolidge Corner Theatre To Observe 3rd Anniversary Wk.

The seven-day period beginning Friday, Dec. 25th, will be Third Anniversary Week at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, and in appreciation of the support given this civic enterprise by film devotees, the management has assembled an outstanding program for the occasion. This comprises two of the best pictures of the year, "Pigskin Parade" with Stuart Erwin, Johnny Downs, Arline Judge, Betty Grable, Patry Kelly, Jack Haley, Yacht Club Boys, Dixie Dunbar, Tony Martin and Judy Garland, also "Nine Days a Queen," with Nova Pilbeam and Cedric Hardwicke; also surprise features that will round out an excellent entertainment and provide an enjoyable community birthday party as well as a fitting anniversary observance. Be sure to attend, for "It's our birthday, but it's your party."

Associated with Mr. Fredrick is John J. Gerraughty, who has been with the company for the past 10 years. He is in charge of all outside sales and service. Mr. Fred Weale has been with the company since it started in 1925 and is in charge of the shop, and all auto glass work.

Before organizing the Newton Glass Company, Mr. Fredrick had been connected with the Standard Plate Glass Co. for 16 years, and brought the experience of these years to his firm. Mr. Fredrick credits the success of his business to fair dealing with his customers, selling high grade reputable merchandise, properly displayed, and consistent and effective advertising.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Francis O'Hara of 210 Weston st., Waltham, was fined $50 in Newton court last Thursday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was also given a suspended sentence of 30 days in Middlesex County Prison. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file. O'Hara was arrested on the night of Nov. 27 by Patrolmen McHugh and Elliott after the car he was driving had hit a car driven by Barnet Sipolsky. The latter obtained a complaint on the drunken operating charge.

SCHOOL HOCKEY SIX OPENS AGAINST CANTABS

Coach Johnson Developing 3 Full Teams

Newton High hockey followers will swarm to the Boston Garden tomorrow afternoon for their first glimpse of the 1936-37 team. With one letter man left over from last year, and without a captain, Newton is really the dark horse of the eight Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League. What Coach C. Evan Johnson has been able to assemble in the way of a team is almost as much a mystery to Newton High students as to outsiders.

With the exception of several outdoor workouts, in which no rink was available, Newton has been on the ice only once, in a practice game with Melrose Monday night at the Garden. On the basis of these rather inadequate trial scrimmages, Coach Johnson has evolved three complete teams to take the ice tomorrow against the Flying French of Cambridge Latin, a team with four veterans from last year.

Against Melrose, a forward line of Jack Lane, Don Manchester and John Barry was the fastest and most aggressive Newton combination in that informal game. But Johnson will probably put Barry at center on the third line, replacing him with Phil Greene. The probable starting set against Cambridge Latin will have Harry Bradford at left wing, Paul Brown at center and Allan Turner at right wing. On defense will be George "Bud" Whitehead and Brad Thompson, while Herbert "Junior" Buttrick will be in the nets. And that defense trio is not inexperienced. Thompson, energetic six-foot center and co-captain of the football team last fall, played hockey with Ralph Sanborn's intermediates last winter. Whitehead started the hockey season two years back as Gus Castoldi's mate on defense, but he was injured early in the season. He is a rugged checker and a good skater. Buttrick has played some varsity hockey for two seasons, and has often defended the Ernie Burr C. C. nets in other years.

Assistant Coach T. Jerome Cutting, whose particular share of the coaching lies with the goalies, has Deane Proctor and Frank Smith of last year's intermediates as understudies for Junior Buttrick. Coach Johnson's second forward line, which is practically on a par with the first trio, has Jack Lane at left wing, Don Manchester at center and Phil "Mucker" Greene at right wing. Fred Nichols and Ben Mason, former intermediate varsity players, form the second defense. A third line has John Barry at center, Albert Everts at left wing and Carl Cole at right wing. Jack Carver, one of the brightest sophomore prospects on the squad, may see action in this line also. The third defense combination is that of Bill Kinney and Tom Lahey. Dick McLellan, a goalie, and Paul Hagerty, a defenseman, complete the varsity squad.

The games tomorrow begin at 1 p. m. promptly. Newton and Latin will play second, beginning probably at about 1:20. Student tickets are selling for 25 cents at the High School, 35 cents at the Garden.

Another comment in the report is—"Even more serious is the entire abnormality of their (the firemen's) family life; absence from home for two days and two nights, followed by one full day and night at home, are upsetting to normal family regime. The husband is either away too long, or underfoot too long at one time. Oftentimes a man does not know what to do with himself with his one day off in three. His off time is as boring as his time on duty, and he gets into a habit of frittering his time away and living a more or less aimless existence."

Under the two-platoon system, each man works either one full day or one full night at a time, not leaving the station for meals, but getting his meals in the station or bringing them. Every sixth day the day force shifts to night work; on the day of the shift the day force staying on through the night, then taking the following day off. This means one continuous 24-hour tour in every 6 days, instead of during every 2 out of 3 days.

The report explains that the present force of the Newton fire department is 98, including officers and men. The two-platoon system will require 10 additional officers and 36 firemen, at an additional expense to taxpayers of $89,290 for the first year, the expense increasing about $5000 each year because of step-rate salary increases. The committee believes that only the extraordinary efficiency of the Newton fire department, under the able direction of Chief Randlett, has avoided serious fire losses on occasions when the department has been underequipped, and that the proposed change is proper to put Newton firemen on conditions enjoyed by firemen in other cities. It calls attention to the fact that Newton policemen are on three 8-hour shifts, but comments that the police are on more continuously active duty.

Aldermen Favor Two Platoons

two-platoon system should be adopted in Newton as soon as the finances of the city will bear the additional burden, without sacrifice of more pressing needs or unreasonable increase of the tax rate. The committee states that with regard to the protection of the city against fire, the welfare and morale of the firemen, the situation of other municipalities, and the management of other departments of our own city, a two-platoon system is greatly preferable to the present system. The report says that a two-platoon system will give the firemen a more normal family life, avoid occasional shortages of crews, relieve the monotony of long stretches of service, with existing bad affects on morale, character and temperament, and conform to systems in force in practically all cities in Massachusetts. Under the present system, Newton firemen get one day off in three.

The report states that under the present system, the companies are frequently underequipped and the two-platoon will correct this. The report makes this comment—"Another ill effect of the present system is the tedious of long hours of duty, during which the men must be either in, or within a few feet of the station, ready to respond instantly to an alarm. This prevents them from engaging in any very worthwhile study, avocation, recreation or physical activity. The sudden interruption of alarms are upsetting to serious work, and it is hard to resume again where they left off, with the result that their turn on duty is largely spent in idleness, desultory reading, games or unimportant exercise, recreation or employment."

Another comment in the report is—"Even more serious is the entire abnormality of their (the firemen's) family life; absence from home for two days and two nights, followed by one full day and night at home, are upsetting to normal family regime. Aldermen Meet

A regular meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen started at 8:12 Monday night and concluded at 12:50 a. m. Tuesday. A recess of more than three hours intervened—from 8:30 to 11:48, during which about forty citizens who had come to listen to the proceedings of the meeting, gradually departed for their homes. The only spectators to remain were George J. Martin and a few friends, determined to await the action of the Board on Mr. Martin's petition for a change of zone on the property he owns at West Newton.

During the recess a caucus was held by the members of the 1937 Board to nominate candidates for President and Vice President. The only absentee was Alderman Elect Fahey of Ward 1. President Charles B. Floyd of Ward 4, and Vice President Donald Hill of Ward 2 were renominated.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of Edison Electric Company for a permit to construct an underground conduit on Bridge st., Nonantum to Linwood ave., a distance of 1135 feet. A representative of the company explained that it is for the purpose of supplying power to the Raytheon Company, manufacturers of radio tubes, and will entail no expense to other customers. This petition was granted.

During the long recess the Aldermen argued over the Martin petition and discussed reports which were submitted by special committees. These reports were on a two-platoon system for the fire department, and new fire stations; and on the equalization of salaries for employees in various city departments.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board granted a permit to William White to store and sell gasoline in connection with a garage at 32 Dunstan st., West Newton; 500 gallons the quantity to be stored. The petition of Alice deMontigny for a permit to erect a one-car garage at 96 Eastside Parkway was given leave to withdraw, because of land restrictions. There is already a two-car garage on the property. Leave to withdraw was given a petition asking for pedestrian control of the traffic signals at Centre st. and Commonwealth ave. An order was passed prohibiting parking of automobiles on the East side of St. James st. between the B. & A. bridge and Charlesbank rd.

Alderman Rawson told the Board that Mayor Child in his inaugural address recommended that steps be taken to have the big billboards near the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st. removed. Located opposite the city hall grounds, they detract from the appearance of this beauty spot. Rawson stated that City Solicitor Bartlett, instead of taking court action to compel the removal of the billboards, had engaged in amicable conferences with the P. H. Burch Company, owners of the billboards, and the latter have agreed to remove the structures by December 31st of this year.

Alderman Temperley called attention to the fact that about a year ago a special committee was appointed to study the question of the removal of snow from sidewalks. He said that he thought this committee might have made a report by July 4th of this year, and he wondered if it

Oil Dealers Must Obtain Licenses

Andrew Prior, sealer of weights and measures of this city, has issued a notice that all persons delivering fuel oil or range oil in Newton must procure a State license to peddle, unless they have contracts with their customers, or obtain their orders by mail or telephone. He issued the ruling after he had a conference with a State official. It was based on a recent decision by a Supreme court judge. Oral contracts will not suffice. A State license costs $27, of which $25 is remitted to the city or town where the peddler does business. A license which permits the peddler to do business in any city or town in the State costs $51.

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club will meet on Monday evening at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman at 256 Mt. Vernon st., West Newton. Dinner will be served at 6:30 after which there will be the usual Christmas Party. Miss Mabel Bragg will entertain the members with Christmas stories.

At the last regular meeting about 30 Christmas baskets were trimmed ready for use by the District Nursing Association, under the direction of Miss Hilga Nelson. These baskets when filled will be delivered to needy Newton families.

Rotary Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday, December 14, a very interesting talk was given by Dr. Donald Wyman of the Arnold Arboretum who showed pictures in colors of flowers, fruits, foliage and plants in their autumn colors. Most of these pictures were taken at the Arnold Arboretum. Dr. Wyman told the Rotarians there were over 5,500 woody trees in this great collection with over 300 varieties of lilacs. He also recommended it as one of the show places which should be visited by all who are interested in flowers and shrubs.

Heroic Little Patient At Newton Hospital Improving

Catherine Guarneri, Cheerful Little Patient

Catherine Guarneri, a little patient at the Newton Hospital since July 26th caused much happiness in the Children's Department there on Thanksgiving morning, when she was lifted into a wheel chair, soft with pillows to enjoy a real dinner. It was the first time in four months that Catherine had laid on her back. On July 26th while celebrating her 6th birthday, the little girl received serious burns which covered the entire surface of her back and shoulders. During the 124 following days Catherine had to lie on her stomach, ill with severe pain and high temperature, and unable to move except to wriggle her hands and feet. During that time she was given a general anesthetic four times while skin was grafted from her own body to injured tissues. Three transfusions aided in conserving her strength during this long and painful recovery. Those who have been associated with this little girl will not soon forget her patience during the long days and nights of helplessness, but will probably remember longer her keen sense of humor and gleeful spirit during her days of recovery, and her solicitude for those who cared for her, and for the other children about her.

Newton Centre Girl
In Debut Recital

Miss Helen Dane, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Dane of 15 Hancock ave., Newton Centre, was presented in a debut recital at Stainer Hall on Sunday evening at eight. Miss Dane was graduated from the Mary A. Burnham School at Northampton in the class of 1935 and has been pursuing an intensive musical training under the guidance of Dai Buell, concert pianist.

Her invited guests heard a wide choice of music ranging from Bach and Brahms through four études by Chopin to Debussy—Prokofiev, Mompou, Liszt and Mendelssohn. Her sister, Miss Harriet Dane, Smith '34, headed the ushers, who were: Miss Anne Barrows, New York; Miss Nina Penno Keppeler, Newtonville; Miss Alma Williams, classmate of Miss Dane at Burnham; Mrs. Lewis Foster Curtis, Jr. (Jacquelin Chamberlain), a recent bride, at whose wedding Miss Dane was a bridesmaid; Miss Marjorie Thompson, of Newton Centre, and Miss Rozelle Hudson of Newton Centre.

Miss Dane is a member of the Chromatic Club and the MacDowell Auxiliary.

DAMON HALL

One of the most interesting lectures given so far this year was given by Miss Jane Garfield, granddaughter of the martyred president. Her subject was "Braille Printing for the Blind." It was graphically illustrated by demonstration in printing the Braille characters and reading selections from the magazine for the blind by Miss Josephine Doucette, a young woman totally deprived of her sight. Among her other accomplishments was faultless playing of several selections on the piano.

Mr. Frank Hardy Damon, president of the school, was the guest speaker at the Saugus High School last Monday. His subject covered world events, and particularly Europe. Miss Marjorie Thomas was a guest at the school this past week. She spoke to the student body on a common subject in an interesting manner. "English as She Is Spoken and Rightfully So."

A group of students from the hall entertained their hostesses, a Chapter of the D. A. R. at the Hotel Kenmore, Friday afternoon. The meeting was the occasion of their annual Christmas party. Previous to the party and the bestowing of gifts, a scene from "School for Scandal" was presented. At the beginning of the festivities a series of chronological, biblical tableaux were presented with the organization members singing appropriate Christmas carols as each scene was portrayed. The tableaux ended with the manger scene affecting the colors of the old masters.

Thursday evening the annual Christmas party of the school will be held. Two plays, directed by Dean Perry: "Will O' The Wisp," and "Joint Owners in Spain," will be presented. After the plays gifts will be exchanged among the students gathered around the Christmas tree. Guests will be invited to the activity after the custom of the school.

The wind-up Term Dance at Christmas time will be held this year in the Sherman Room of the Copley Hotel on Friday night.

Man Injured At Lower Falls Mill

William Hyson, 34, of 62 Walnut st., Wellesley Hills, was severely injured last Thursday afternoon when he was caught by a belt at the Crehore paper mill, 2276 Washington st., Newton Lower Falls, and drawn onto shafting. He received injuries to his arms and legs and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Girl Scouts

Troop 32 had a festive Christmas meeting Tuesday, December 8th at 7:00 o'clock at the Perkins Institute for the Blind. They took Hoodsies and cookies and had a happy good time with the children their age who are at the Institute. Mrs. Sterling Lowland is captain of this group.

Troop 29, captained by Mrs. Cutler and Mrs. Russell are to have a Christmas party December 22nd when Mrs. Nash will come to tell them stories accompanied by music. Troop 12 under the leadership of Mrs. Merrill are helping with the annual Christmas party given by the Newton Community Club to deserving boys and girls of Newton. The scouts have made bags of candy, decorated the tree and wrapped the presents. They will act as hostesses for the day—December 17th.

SISTERHOOD TEMPLE EMANUEL

Sisterhood Temple Emanuel of Newton will hold its first membership tea of the season at the home of Mrs. Jacob Wassermann, 126 Manet rd., Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday, December 22, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Nellie Cohen, soloist on the Mason and Hamlin Radio hour, will be the guest artist of the afternoon and will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Jeannette C. Grund of Newton Centre. Mrs. Simon Kugell will give several readings.

Mrs. Herbert Copelman of Newton Centre is chairman of the affair and will be assisted by the following: Mesdames Benjamin Waterman, Eli Brilliant, Edward E. Cohen, Simon S. Turin, Abraham Kaye, Arthur Rosenberg, Irving Albertson, Harry Levinson, David Sherer, Irving Schwartz, Samuel Rottenberg, Mark M. Leibman, Simon Freedman, I. J. Silverman, Leslie A. Pike, Herman L. Shaw and Mrs. Ira L. Nelson, president of the Sisterhood.

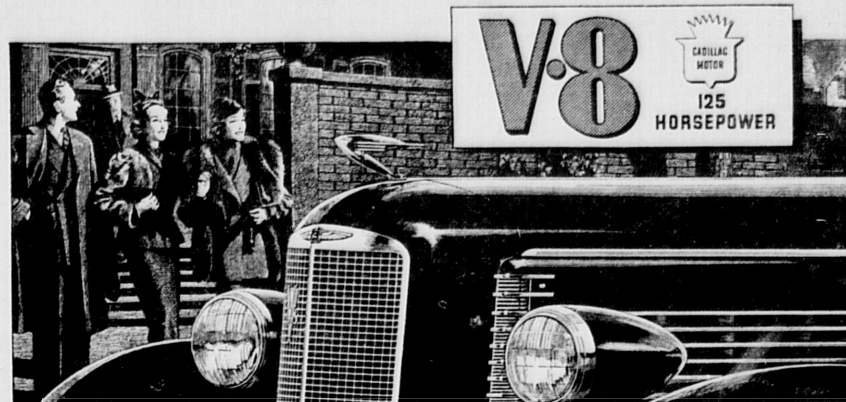

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Sarah Hovenen, 60 Austin st., Newtonville, on Monday evening, December 21, at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Ella Hall will be the assisting hostess. A Christmas party will follow the meeting. Members are requested not to forget the 25 cent gift exchange and also to bring articles for Christmas dinner for a needy family.

American Legion

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion Band will follow their annual custom of touring the city on Christmas Eve (weather permitting) and playing appropriate Christmas carols. The starting point will be at Newton Corner at 7 o'clock.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club held one of the most interesting sessions of its career Tuesday, December 15, 1936, at the Charles River Country Club. The guest speaker, Dr. Joseph Stanton, well-known physician, surgeon, and lecturer, devoted the early part of his talk to the progress of food as it enters the human system. With the use of an illustrative chart and a profound knowledge of the subject matter, the doctor fascinated those in attendance. Through the medium of moving pictures there was shown the removal of a gall bladder and the correction of an up-side-down stomach, and as the doctor concluded, the veritable volley of questions revealed and confirmed the real interest the average person takes in the workings of the human machine.

The large attendance showed how keenly the talk had been anticipated. A number of guests were present among them Frank L. Richardson of the Newton Trust Company, William J. Gibson and Frank Murphy of the Highland Oil Company, John T. Burns, Sr., dean of Massachusetts realtors, and Leo J. Miller of the Metropolitan Coal Company.

Newton Boy 2nd in Oratory Contest

Edward Callahan of 41 Cabot st., Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Callahan, won second prize in the oratorical contest held on Sunday afternoon at Boston College. The competitors were pupils in the parochial high schools of the Boston archdiocese. Young Callahan represented Our Lady's High School of Newton.

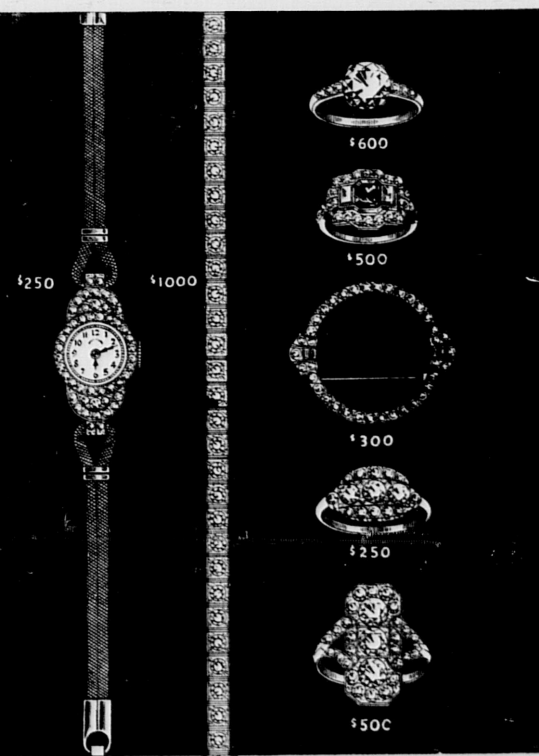

LASSELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Junior Class officers have been elected as follows: President, Lois Wadhams, Hartford, Conn.; vice-president, Florence Kent, Hartford, Conn.; secretary, Elda Yaple, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; treasurer, Virginia Amesbury, Auburndale, Mass.; and song leader, Rosetta Case, Flemington, N. J.

Christmas gifts including many useful articles, toys, candy and fruit were brought to the chapel on Tuesday morning by the students for various homes and individuals. The speaker for the Tuesday assembly was Mr. Fathollah Mostofi of Persia on "The Changing Iran." At a formal Christmas dinner on Tuesday night faculty and students appeared in medieval costume. Dining room decorations were appropriate to the time and some medieval customs were observed, under the direction of Kay R. Peterson of the Art Department. Following after-dinner coffee in the assembly room, June Rogers of Newtonville gave an interpretation of the medieval spirit in the dance, after which all joined in a court dance of the period.

On Wednesday evening there was a recital by the students of music. Those appearing on the program included Elizabeth English, Norwood; Adele de L'Etoile, Medford; and Barbara Hersey of Hingham. Miss Rae Salisbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony of 22 Bernard Lane, Waban, was a member of the cast in the play, "Inside the Lines," by Earl Derr Biggers, presented by the Dramatic Club on Dec. 11th and 12th. Miss Salisbury is one of the editors of the college paper, "Lasell News."

Miss Virginia Amesbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury of 19 Berkeley place, Auburndale, a Lasell junior, was one of the same cast. She is leader of the college glee club and was also recently elected treasurer of her class.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court
To Gilbert C. Wood of Cape Cottage in the State of New York City, in the State of New York; Estelle Wright Field of Framingham in the County of Norfolk; Charles E. LeBarbier of said New York City, as he is executor of the will of Beulah Wood Stevens, late of New York City and to the estate of Arthur Dwight Field.

A petition has been presented to said Court by The New England Trust Company as it is trustee under the will of William E. Field late of Newton, in said County of Middlesex, deceased, representing that said petitioner is in doubt as to whether it shall distribute that part of the trust property remaining in its hands, as trustee of one-half of the residuary estate of said William E. Field, in equal shares to the estates of his three children or in equal shares to said Beulah Wood Stevens and Gilbert C. Wood, his two grandchildren; and praying for the instructions of this court as to whether said trust property in its hands is distributable in equal shares to the estates of said three children or is distributable in equal shares to said grandchildren; and for such further relief as may seem necessary and proper.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the eighth day of January, 1937, the return day of this citation and also file an answer or other legal pleading within twenty-one days thereafter.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this ninth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

BY VIRTUE of and in pursuance of a warrant dated December 3, 1936, issued to me the undersigned, by the Probate Court for the County of Middlesex in the matter of CHRISTO P. CACHAUNI, et al., Petitioners, Case No. 16795, I am hereby given that the premises herein described will be sold at public auction to be held on said premises at eleven o'clock in the forenoon on Wednesday the twentieth day of January, A.D. 1937. The said premises consist of a parcel of land together with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts called Newton Highlands, being numbered 43-53 Lincoln Street, corner of Columbus Street, bounded and described as follows: Southwesterly by Lincoln Street 100 feet; westerly by Columbus Street 70 feet; northerly by land now owned by Edward J. Swenson, 190 feet; and easterly by land now owned by John Weber et al. 70 feet. All of said land is determined by the Land Court to be located as shown on a plan as modified and approved by the Court filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed in Middlesex (So. Dist.) Deeds, book 104, page 473, and to the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank, dated January 16, 1935, being Document No. 134045, noted on Certificate of Title No. 2044, Middlesex South Registry District of the Land Court on which mortgage there is now due the principal sum of $20.00. Also subject to existing leases and any and all unpaid taxes or other municipal liens or assessments if any, $200 in cash to be paid at the time and place of sale. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

Guatemala's Banana Crop

Is Always Picked Green

In Guatemala there are thousands of acres of banana plantations, so many of them that banana raising is one of the major industries of Central America, writes Martha M. Wendt in the Chicago American.

Each banana plant in cultivation has a "child plant" beside it to take up the work where the "mother" left off. Eight months' time is required for a "stem" or bunch of bananas to mature, and each plant bears but one stem. The plants are cut down by the natives with a machete, and the bunch of bananas cut off.

Bananas are always picked green. The "stems" are placed standing in the refrigerated compartments of the ship, instead of being laid one on top of the other. Some ships carry more than 50,000 bunches of bananas, which are distributed to all parts of the world.

After they arrive at their destination, they are carefully handled by trucks or refrigerator trains, until they finally reach the market or the corner grocery store, where they are allowed to ripen fully.

One of Muddiest Rivers

The Colorado river has its headwaters in Colorado and Utah, and in the winding Green river of Wyoming. It flows through Utah and Arizona, forms part of the boundary between Arizona and Nevada, the entire boundary between Arizona and California. Seventeen hundred miles long, it drains a thirtieth of the area of the United States, passes eighty miles through Mexico and empties into the Gulf of California. The gulf once extended considerably farther north, into California, and in prehistoric days the Colorado river emptied into its eastern side. The river is one of the muddiest in the world; its burdens of silt built a huge delta through the middle of the slender gulf, separating its upper end from the ocean.—Literary Digest.

"Lake of Seven Cities"

The Island of St. Michael termed "Lake of Seven Cities," comprises 297 square miles and is 830 miles west of Portugal. Once famous as the first stopping place for Spanish galleons on their return from the West Indies, the harbor city of Ponta Delgada of nearly 250,000 population presents a mixture of descendants from Phoenician and Carthaginian traders to an aristocracy descendant from Portuguese navigators.

Pronghorn Not Antelope;

Mixture of Three Others

The pronghorn is not a true antelope; rather a cross between a deer, a goat and a giraffe, with a few characteristics of each. Zoologists say the Rocky Mountain goat is more nearly a true antelope.

The pronghorn is one of the swiftest animals on foot, declares a writer in the Washington Star. He clears prodigious lengths at a bound, but is a better broad jumper than high jumper. It is said that a 4-foot fence will retain him.

On their native plains pronghorns rely upon fleetness and alertness to protect them from enemies. The warning signal for a pronghorn stampede is the flash of some wary leader's white tail.

The pronghorn shares this warning signal with the cotton-tail rabbit.

Curiosity has cost the lives of many a pronghorn. The timid beasts will pause in full flight to examine an unexplained object.

Hunters often lure them within range by waving a rag on a stick while lying concealed in the grass.

Hungarian Dances

Hungarian popular dances faithfully reflect the typical features of the national character. The way in which quick and solemn rhythms change in the course of a dance shows how seriousness is mingled with gaiety in the Hungarian soul. The erect bearing, graceful floating gestures and quick, staccato jumps suggest a light, equestrian race of the plains such as the Hungarians have always been. In the Magyar dance the man has the leading role, showing that it was at first a distinctly heroic dance. It was only much later that women were allowed to join in, and even then they had to obey their partners' commands fully, says the Hungarian Quarterly.

Taming Mothers-in-Law

Part of the ritual through which every young Australian aboriginal must go when he is initiated to manhood is to have one of his front teeth smashed out with a stone. The tooth is kept until he marries. Then, with due ceremony, it is pounded into a powder which his mother-in-law must swallow. Thereafter, she is forbidden by tribal law to speak to her son-in-law. She must, in fact, avoid him utterly. If she happens to be upon a trail along which he is traveling, she must hide so that he will not see her.

John Adams Fashionable Man

Like all persons of rank in those days, John Adams wore an embroidered coat, silk stockings, silver buckles on his shoes, and might be called a very fashionable man for that time. He is described with "his round, ruddy face, framed by a powdered wig, wearing a black velvet suit, knee breeches, yellow gloves, silk stockings." He was almost fanatic on the subject of titles.

Dignity and Laziness

"I admire dignity," said Uncle Eben, "but I does hate de kind dat is simply an excuse foh laziness."

A GOOD CHRISTMAS GIFT

A fitting Christmas or New Year's gift is "The Story of Newton" by John R. Prescott, a book of 68 pages with 47 illustrations. Its purpose is to portray Newton as exemplifying suburban living at its best. It contains no advertising and treats of the attractions and advantages of the city as a whole. The history is used as a basis to lead up to the development of the city as a residential community. The industrial side of the story is not neglected but is in proper proportion to the real purpose of the book.

Of the edition of 10,000 copies 2,000 have been subscribed for. All the profits from its sale the author will donate to the Newtonville Branch Library fund. The price is 25 cents per copy or 30 cents by mail. It is on sale at all the Branch Libraries, and at Edmunds' and other drug stores. Mail orders will be filled by the Newtonville Library Association, Inc. It is desired to have all copies taken before January 1st. Adv.

Comr. Hageman Resigns Position

Harry A. Hageman of Allerton rd., Newton Highlands, Public Buildings Commissioner of Newton since December 27, 1931 has tendered his resignation to Mayor Childs. He will end his duties in this city on December 31. He has accepted the position of chief hydraulic engineer of the Tennessee Valley Authority with headquarters at Knoxville, Tennessee. Mr. Hageman graduated from Cornell in 1899 and for 18 years was associated with Stone & Webster, Inc., much of that time as their chief hydraulic engineer. He states that he regrets to leave Newton, where he has resided nearly 25 years, and the position he has acceptably filled the past five years. Arthur Campbell, chief inspector in the Buildings Department, has been appointed acting Commissioner of Public Buildings by Mayor Childs.

Arrest Newton Ctr. Men For Assault

Frank DiCarlo, 20, of 34 Beecher place, Newton Centre, and Nunzio D'Innocenzo, 20, of 116 Florence st., Newton Centre, were arrested last Friday night by Serg. Sheridan and Patrolman L. Murphy of the Newton police for assaulting James Donovan of Arlington. Donovan appeared at police headquarters Friday night with evidence of having been severely beaten. He had a black eye, his cheek was cut, and his nose bashed. He told the police that while he was seated in his car in front of a house on Beecher place, waiting for a young woman who resides there, the two Thompsonville youths climbed into the car and while D'Innocenzo held him, DiCarlo assaulted him. The pair were arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday and their cases continued until December 21.

Accuse Upper Falls Boys of Vandalism

Several Upper Falls boys were in the Newton court the past week charged with breaking many windows in one of the large buildings formerly occupied by the Saco-Lowell Company at Upper Falls. Three, under 16, were arraigned in the Newton court last Friday and their cases continued for a week. Three others, over 16 will be arraigned in the Newton court on December 18. Patrolman Kilmain was the complainant.

Panel Discussion At Community Forum On Citizen And State

Interesting Comments On Economic And Industrial Growth and Future

The Newton Community Forum differed last Sunday from its usual procedure in having a panel discussion instead of an individual speaker. The panel was composed of five of Newton's most outstanding citizens: Dr. Kirtley Mather, who acted in his customary role of introducing the speakers and as chairman; Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, James R. Bancroft, Henry I. Harriman and William Trufant Foster.

The subject of discussion was "The Citizen and the State." Mr. Harriman began the major part of the discourse by saying that Jefferson's theory of least government being the best was the fundamental of any successful administration. That a government that was for the people should be "by and of" the people. The purpose of the panel was to determine the proper balance between individual freedom and governmental regulation. Mr. Harriman gave a short resume of the building up of this country both economically and industrially. He said that it had developed by its own resources through the early years of pioneering and expansion, that it gradually raised its standards of living by evolving newer and more efficient means of production. Because of this solid industrial foundation it had become the greatest industrial center of the world. Industry found its culmination in the NRA and AAA.

Dr. Mather then asked if the progress of the nation was only economic and industrial and whether the NRA was the spontaneous result of this progress and demanded by the people.

Mr. Harriman answered that it was not spontaneous but the farmer wanted and needed relief from the tremendous pressure under which he was working. It was the industrial realists who demanded the NRA. Is it likely that the NRA will be reorganized? Decidedly—in one way or another. Which will mean that industry will carry on, on the minimum maximum hour basis.

Mr. Bancroft blamed the depression on industrial interference. He said that if business had been allowed to go on as it had been in the past, the depression, if it had occurred, would have been much less serious. What are conditions like in other parts of the world?

Dr. Eddy, traveler and authority on foreign affairs, gave us a glimpse of enterprising Russia. He maintains that with the present Soviet Russia's lack of culture and background, it has an amazing program for the individual liberty of the people, and moreover, he believes that it will be carried out as soon as the people are capable of thinking and doing for themselves.

Newton Milk Supply Continues Safe

Dr. Harold D. Chope, Director of Public Health in Newton has requested the GRAPHIC to publish the information that the milk supply of this city has not been jeopardized because of the present difficulties between organizations of milk producers and some of the large distributors of milk. Dr. Chope says that some Newton residents have become disturbed because of reports which have been circulated to the effect that the milk supply has been seriously curtailed, and that the quality of the milk now being delivered by some companies is not in conformity with legal standards. He states that the Newton Health Department has been constantly testing during the past week samples of milk delivered in the city by the companies allegedly affected in the milk war, and that the quality has been found to meet all requirements.

Four Injured In Auto At Oak Hill

An automobile driven by Richard Wein, 16, of Williams st., Brookline, hit an electric light pole opposite 332 Brookline st., Oak Hill on Saturday night. The pole was broken and the car badly damaged. Wein and three other occupants of the car received cuts and bruises and were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. The others were—Irving Altman, 16, Bradford ter., Brookline; Evelyn Broderick, 16, Minden st., Jamaica Plain; Margaret Quinn, 21, Ulmer st., Jamaica Plain.

Object To Liquor License at L. Falls

As a result of a protest made by the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association against the renewal of a license to the C. & G. Cafe to dispense wine and beer at 2297 Washington st., Lower Falls as a common victualler, the Newton License Commission held a hearing at City Hall last night.

To Conduct Xmas Clearing House Again

Following the program inaugurated in 1935, the Social Service Index of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., is again conducting a Christmas clearing house, to serve organizations, individuals and agencies which are planning to give Christmas dinners and gifts. This service is given in order to prevent duplication, of which experience with the clearing-house in the past two years indicates there used to be a great deal. It also helps insure dinners and gifts to many needy families who might otherwise be left out.

The following are using this service: Newton Welfare Bureau, Department of Public Welfare, Newton Circle, Newton Welcoming Committee, the Churches of Newton, the St. Vincent De Paul Conference, the American Legion, the Elks, the Knights of Columbus, American Disabled Veteran No. 44, the Salvation Army, the Newton Hospital and numerous individuals.

Truck Gets Afire At West Newton

A truck owned by Donald Magaw of Bridges ave., Newtonville and driven by Duncan Bartley of Edinboro st., caught afire in West Newton square last Thursday morning. Police headquarters was called on for assistance, but as no extinguishers were available there, a call was sent to fire alarm headquarters from Box 31 and several pieces of apparatus responded. An overheated exhaust pipe is supposed to have caused the blaze.

Take Refrigerator From Building

An electric refrigerator valued at $150 was stolen from a basement storeroom at the Hunnewell Apartments, 169 Washington st., Newton, sometime during the past two weeks. The owner of the refrigerator, Mrs. James Baxter, discovered the theft last Saturday. Because of the weight of the ice box more than one person must have been involved in the theft, and they did not carry it away in their arms.

Taxi Kills West Newton Girl in N. Y.

Miss Barbara Hallett, 29, of 156 Highland st., West Newton, was killed on Tuesday at New York City by a taxi. She was crossing Park avenue at 57th street when she was struck by the automobile driven by Herman Rosenberg. He was held in $1500 bail for trial on January 10.

Miss Hallett was born in Newtonville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert K. Hallett. Her father is an official of the Atlantic National Bank of Boston and the Waltham National Bank. She graduated from the House in the Pines School at Norton and later studied in Italy, specializing in languages and literature. For the past several weeks she had been working in New York City. She is survived by her parents; and by one sister, Mrs. Luman Howe of Montpelier, Vermont. Her funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at the parish house of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton; Rev. Herbert Hitchen officiated.

Nonantum Drain To Be Covered

On Monday work was started on covering the drain known as Derby Brook for a distance of 300 feet from Allison street toward the Watertown line. The drain will be enclosed in 54 inch pipes which will be covered with concrete. The Board of Aldermen recently appropriated $6000 for this project. For several years Rev. Joseph Robichaud, pastor of St. Jean Evangeliste Church at Nonantum, has been endeavoring to have the drain covered. It runs behind the parochial school of the church and Father Robichaud considered it a menace to the health of the children attending the school.

Claim Police Use Too Much Gasoline

Because the mileage on the cruising cars used by Newton policemen fell off considerably since the cold weather set in, compared with the quantity of gasoline used, Chief Hughes warned the patrolmen last Thursday that the heaters in the cars might be taken out unless the mileage per gallon of gasoline climbs again. The assumption is—that the motors in the cruising cars have been kept running while the cars were parked, so that the heaters would operate and keep the automobiles heated.

Governor Seeks To Force Retirement Of District Court Judge

Would Name James P. Gallagher If Successful In Effort to Pension Judge Bacon

Judge William F. Bacon of Hyde ave., Newton, for the past nineteen years and a half presiding justice of the Newton District Court has been asked to retire by Governor Curley because he is allegedly unable to perform the duties of his office and has not been doing so since the first of this year. Last Friday Boston newspapers carried news items which stated that the Governor had requested Judge Bacon to appear at the State House on Monday for the purpose of being examined as to his physical fitness to continue as presiding justice. These news items also stated that Governor Curley intends to appoint James P. Gallagher as presiding justice to succeed Mr. Bacon, and Robert W. Gallagher as Clerk of the Newton Court to succeed James P. Gallagher who now holds the latter office.

Governor Curley stated last week that he had been informed that Judge Bacon is unable to perform the duties of his office, hence he requested the judge to appear before him. The judge did not go to the State House on Monday. His physicians gave the information that Mr. Bacon has had a gripe attack and would not be able to go to the State House for a couple of weeks. On Wednesday Governor Curley announced that because of a mix-up in his office in notifying Judge Bacon, the appearance of the judge scheduled for last Monday, has been postponed until next Tuesday. The Governor stated that he had communicated with counsel for Judge Bacon and had told them that the judge should be advised of his rights. The Governor stated that a judge who has served twenty years and has reached the age of 70 is entitled to be retired on a pension equaling three-quarters of his salary. Curley said that if Judge Bacon voluntarily asks for retirement now, he will be eligible for the pension, even though he has served only nineteen years and six months, but that if the judge resists retirement, and is removed, he will not receive a pension.

Judge Bacon was born in Newton 73 years ago, the son of Joseph N. and Sarah (Woodward) Bacon. His ancestors were among the early settlers of Newton. He graduated from Newton High School, from Harvard College in 1888, and Harvard Law School in 1889. For many years he has been president of the Newton Savings Bank, and president of the Newton Cemetery Corporation. James P. Gallagher, mentioned as Judge Bacon's successor, was born in Watertown 54 years ago, the son of Owen and Anne (Ryan) Gallagher. He moved to Newton when a young boy and graduated from Our Lady's School. He worked for many years as a postoffice clerk at Boston and after studying law nights at Suffolk Law School was admitted to the bar in 1920. He was appointed Clerk of Court in 1932. Robert W. Gallagher was born in Abington 26 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher. About 10 years ago he came to Newton to reside with his uncle Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher of Channing st. Through Leverett Saltonstall he was appointed a page in the House of Representatives and after serving in that position for several years he became associated with Dick Grant in the Yankee Network News Service at Station WNAC. Two years ago he was appointed assistant messenger on the Executive staff by Governor Curley. Mr. Gallagher was married about a month ago to Miss Mona Lockney of West Roxbury.

The salary of presiding justice of the Newton District Court is $3900 per annum. The salary of the clerk of Court is three-quarters that of the presiding justice, but this salary is considerably augmented by fees received by the clerk as bail commissioner. At the last session of the Legislature a law was enacted giving Clerks of Court in Massachusetts a life tenure of office. Governor Curley is alleged to have stated that Judge Bacon has been drawing his salary during the many months he has not been sitting on the bench, and that the associate justices who have been taking his place have been receiving compensation at the rate of $25 per day. According to the records of Middlesex County, Judge Bacon has not been drawing any salary since he ceased to serve at the Newton court, and the per diem of the judges who substituted for him has been $12.50 and not $25. It is reported that the Massachusetts Bar Association is prepared to combat the effort of Governor Curley to remove Judge Bacon.

Bumps Head, Asks Payment From City

Eleanor Fleing of Bow st., Wellesley has presented a claim to the City of Newton for injuries allegedly received when she struck her head against the roof of an automobile on Cherry st., West Newton. She states that on the night of November 15 as she was riding along Cherry st., the car hit some boards which had been placed over an excavation near Arlington rd. The jounce hurled her against the roof of the car.

Christmas, 1936

Peace on earth—goodwill to men
Each one today should spread
As did He in that land afar—
Can we forget His glorious birth
Emblazoned by a star?

And Christmas Day is here again
New songs of gladness sing—
Down through the years—the bells will ring!

God trust the spirit of Noel
O'er land and sea shall raise
Our hopes and aims to better things
Devoted to His praise.

With cheer and joy we share once more
In holiday array
Tasting gifts of friendship rare—
Yet everyone be gay.

THE SPIRIT OF YOUTH

The other day we sat among the more than one thousand parents and friends of children of the third grades in the Newton schools at one of the most interesting pageants that it has been our pleasure to witness. The "Peace and Goodwill" pageant exemplified by a group of children touring the countries about which they are studying brought many a thrill of delight. It was not the fact that the scenery and costuming was accomplished by the efforts of many willing hands nor the assistance rendered by teachers and parents of those taking part but it was the spirit of the several hundreds of youngsters of about eight years of age that was predominant. With shining faces, twinkling eyes and enthusiasm they were an inspiration to behold. Truly it was the goodwill spirit of youth.

A GOOD RESOLUTION TO MAKE

On New Year's afternoon the incoming Board of Aldermen and School Committee will be inaugurated at city hall. In years past a surprisingly small handful of citizens have interested themselves in this event enough to attend the scheduled ceremony. This year will probably be little different than in the past. It would not be amiss for all to make a resolution to take more interest in this city of ours.

Low Telephone Rates For Holiday Calls

Just in time for planning holiday telephone calls, Mr. Campbell, local manager of the Telephone Company, announced today that on Christmas and New Year's Days there will be special reductions on long distance rates.

"In general the Christmas and New Year's rates will be the same as the night and Sunday reduced rates," Manager Campbell explained.

"The rates will apply not only on calls within New England and the United States, but also on calls to Canada, Central and South America (excluding Mexico), Cuba and the islands in the Caribbean area, Hawaii, Java and the Philippines. On New Year's Day the low rates will also include the British Isles and most of continental Europe."

As examples of the effect of the reduction on certain specific rates, Manager Campbell pointed out that from Newton North and Middlesex exchange to New York the rate for a three-minute call by number will drop from $95, the regular day rate, to $55.

	Day	Night
Newton to	Station-Station	Station-Station
Burlington, Vt.	$1.05	$55
Portland, Me.	.75	.40
Springfield, Mass.	.60	.30

Manager Campbell announced also that a special Christmas Eve radio broadcast entitled "Salute to Service" will be given under the auspices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company over the Columbia Network from 10 p. m. until 10:30 p. m. The program will pay tribute to all those men and women who make Christmas cheer possible, as letter carriers and telephone operators. It will include a concert by Leopold Stokowski and his Symphony Orchestra. Edwin C. Hill will be the announcer.

REAL ESTATE

Alvord Bros. report that they anticipate a greater interest in the attractive community in the vicinity of Oak Hill Village, as the new school nears completion. The City Planning Board has been extremely careful in the laying out of new streets approaching the area around the new school, in order that development will progress in a satisfactory manner.

Alvord Bros. report the sale of an attractive frame New England Colonial home at 83 Greenwood st., overlooking a beautiful vista of rolling countryside. This is situated at the corner of Burdett rd., one of the new streets. There are seven rooms and bath, and an attractive two-car garage. The lot of land consists of something over one-third of an acre, attractively shrubbed. Mr. and Mrs. W. Dean Norris gave title to the premises valued at $9500.

Norumbega Council Court of Honor

On December 18th Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America held the mid-winter court of honor which has been eagerly awaited for many months by Scouts of Newton and Wellesley. Approximately three hundred and fifty Scouts and parents assembled in the auditorium of the Mason School in Newton Centre for the ceremony.

Awards and achievement in every Scout rank were recognized at the court which was the largest in point of awards presented in recent years. Following the ceremonies Dr. Frederick Rand Rogers of Boston University gave a most interesting address on methods of strength testing which are in use in many of the school systems throughout the country. Scouts and parents were particularly interested in the demonstrations of the instruments which accompanied his talk and many boys stayed behind after the close of the court to determine their "grip strength," their lung capacity, and their ability to lift with back or leg muscles.

John M. Bierer of Waban, past president of Norumbega Council, presided at the court and was assisted by council officers and Scout and Cub commissioners.

The following awards were made at the court of honor:

Second Class rank—Scouts Robert Bell, John Wright, Edward Teschner, Louis Wright, Ernest Johnson, James Brickett, Dick Wright, Richard Moller, David Hunting and David Breed of Troop 1 Newtonville; Donald Bruster, Troop 2, Wellesley; George Haigh, David Miller, Chester Sims, Roland Duffy, Robert Buchannin of Troop 4A, Newton Highlands; Robert Doran, Arthur Swanson, Daniel Campbell, Lawrence Dolph, Troop 5 of Wellesley; Herbert Lewis, John Egan, John Williams, Paul Campbell, Gordon Hunt of Troop 7A, West Newton; Melvin Sidebotham, Ernest Searle, Arthur Bruemmer, Whitney Brown, Robert McGrath, Frederick Potter, Eldred Neagle, William Courtange, Troop 7C, West Newton; Carl Clark, John Weir, Leonard Ricketson, Paul Dunn, Stanley Woodward of Troop 15, Auburndale; Sherman Crough of Troop 19 of Newton Centre; Richard Buswell, Edward Rawson, David Stinson, Robert Whiteacre, Richard Bolin, John Corley, Sanford Clark, John MacLellan, Wilbur Hughes, and Norman Donnelly of Troop 22 of Newton.

First Class awards: Scouts John Wright, Lewis Wright of Troop 1 Newtonville; Lincoln Nutting, Robert Neilson, William Nutting of Troop 2, Wellesley; Robert Womboldt, Troop 3, Nonantum; John Webb, Troop 5, Wellesley; Frank Dowcett of Troop 7A, West Newton; Warren Young, Troop 7C, West Newton; Gardner Creamer, Warren Baldwin, Troop 10, Waban; Robert Meredith, Troop 11, Newton; Clinton Brown, Robert Dyer, and David Greer of Troop 22 of Newton.

Newtonville Woman Breaks Leg In Fall

Mrs. Lillian Duprez, 32, of 469 Watertown st., Newtonville, received a fracture of her right leg early last Friday morning at her home. She was awakened by the crying of her small child, and fell while going to care for the child. She was taken to the Newton Hospital at 3:30 in the police ambulance.

Kiwanis Club

The weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, held at Charles River Country Club, Tuesday, December 22, 1936, was addressed by its past president, James Forbes, principal of the Newton Vocational School. In addition to his Vocational School duties, Mr. Forbes has charge of all evening school work in the city, and being well-versed in his subject, and through the use of various charts, Mr. Forbes told in interesting fashion of this all important work.

The well organized talk revealed to the membership many statistics and present day trends. The multiplicity of classes held offer opportunity to people from all walks in life to further their knowledge. Classes in Americanization, the Practical Arts, Mechanical Training, and other courses, are well attended and appreciated by the students.

Christmas Seal Sale

In trying to give the purchasers and prospective purchasers of Christmas Health Seals impressive reasons why they should participate as fully as possible in the organized movement to combat tuberculosis, there seems no better means than to quote (with permission) from an article by Leigh Mitchell Hodges in the December number of Readers Digest.

"If newspapers of December 10, 1907, had said that small bits of paper sold in Delaware the day before at a penny apiece would in 30 years lead to saving $2,500,000 lives, no one could have believed it. By January, the first sale had netted $3,000; the second sale brought in $135,000, and last year's campaign brought a total of nearly $83,000,000."

"Just how has the Seal helped in reducing our annual tuberculosis death rate from 179 per 100,000 in 1907 to 54 today? First, because of its power to spread the good news, which is still news to many people, that this terrible malady is preventable, and if taken in time, curable. Second, it has proved an ideal means for enlisting a group effort." (When Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Del., first launched the sticker sale in this country there were 20-odd tuberculosis clinics.) Today there are nearly 1,000 which through the aid of the Seal funds, sponsor medical and social research and demonstrate methods of control. The total number of public health nurses then interested in tuberculosis could have been counted on two hands. Now more than half our 20,000 such nurses give full or part time to tuberculosis patients.

"In 1907 there were no open-air schools or preventorium for children. Now the number of such defenses exceeds 1200, and child interest in the Christmas Seal has made every school in the land a sort of information booth for knowledge which keeps children from having to go to such places. Five per cent of the proceeds from your purchase of Christmas Seals is turned over to the National Tuberculosis Association; a small percent (ten in Massachusetts) goes to state associations. The rest goes to work in your own community."

"Tuberculosis still takes some 70,000 lives in the United States each year. It still is our leading killer of those between 15 and 40. It is essential, then, that the National Tuberculosis Association continue to study methods of early detection and keep up its relentless search for a positive cure. There are today 21 separate scientific bodies working with its committees on medical research to find an effective serum. Grants from the Association of funds obtained by the sale of Seals have made this inquiry possible. Already the committee has improved a way to find out whether or not tuberculosis is silently at work in the body. With the perfected Tuberculin Test, anyone can know for sure within 48 hours."

"Nearly a million tuberculin tests were made in the United States last year and they are rapidly coming into use throughout the world. If the Christmas Seal had done nothing more than make possible a world census of tuberculosis, it would deserve a place on every piece of mail matter throughout the whole year. For the first time in a fight to locate the foe."

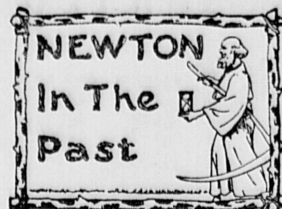

Literature on Tuberculosis is distributed by our Newton Health Department to parents and adults through the libraries, and to the pupils of the 7th, 9th, and 11th grades in the public schools.

For the past two or three years in Newton the returns from the Seal sale have advanced over the receipts for the years just previous, but have not nearly reached the receipts of the pre-depression period. The assurance that the money is devoted to a work so commendable and so necessary should awaken in all the desire to join the crusade against Tuberculosis, and purchase as many as possible of the stamps which stand for physical salvation for so many people.

Following is the statement of Mr. Frank L. Richardson, Treasurer of the Fund, for the period ending December 22nd.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Dec. 26, 1874.

The public is waking up to some measure of dealing with the army of tramps who are roving about the country, depending upon the hospitality of the cities and towns through which they pass, for lodgings. The evil is one of magnitude, but easily corrected. Let everyone earn his lodging and breakfast, and we think the world soon give any place making him do to a wide berth. Newton was the first to try this method last year, and with success. There was at once a marked decrease in the number of applicants for lodgings.

The report of the Overseers of the Poor, presented this week to the City Council, closes with these words—"This year's experience has confirmed our opinion that the greatest charity that can be bestowed upon deserving poor is to give them work. So, we respectfully recommend that you request your Committee on Highways to furnish work to this class so far as possible."

"In the order of Providence we shall always have the poor with us, made so by sickness and misfortune, by the helplessness of infancy and infirmities of old age. For these classes no argument is needed to awaken sympathy, and no resources placed at our disposal will be withheld to promote their welfare and comfort."

The Boston & Albany R. R. Company is waking up. They have aroused themselves to the necessity of ventilation to such an extent as to put Eureka ventilators in the waiting rooms at the West Newton depot. Does this radical improvement mean the indefinite postponement of a new station?

J. H. Harwood of Waverley avenue, one of the pupils at the High School, was run over by a rapidly moving pump which paid no attention to the boys who were drilling in front of the school building on Wednesday. He received severe bruises and had to be carried home.

Wednesday evening a large number of friends of Deacon and Mrs. H. N. Hyde surprised them by coming to spend the evening. It was the 50th anniversary of their wedding, and during the evening Mr. Stephen Moore presented Deacon Hyde with a gold-headed cane, and Mrs. Hyde with a pair of gold-bowed spectacles and a gold thimble, handsomely marked.

Four members of the city government of Newport, R. I., with the chief of their fire department came to Newton this week to look over our fire department. Theirs is antiquated and behind the times. They had visited several cities, but after looking over our fire appliances, they decided to look no further as they were satisfied they could do no better than imitate ours.

Newton Graphic, Dec. 22, 1911.

The action of the Board of Aldermen in requiring daily reports of the use of city automobiles and requesting the Mayor to prohibit their use on Sundays, and outside the city without special permission, calls attention to a matter about which there is considerable loose talk, and not much real cause for complaint. There can be no question about the value of a report system. It will make a record by which the use of automobiles will be fully justified. The report of the use of Newton's automobiles for joy-riding is considerably exaggerated. One would believe from current gossip that Newton officers are constantly looking for opportunities to ride in an automobile, whereas, as a matter of fact, the average city official is surfeited with automobile riding. It is now the practice of department heads to notify the Mayor when they intend to take an automobile out of the city. The new system, therefore, is more to systematize the use of the cars than to curtail their use.

The home of Alderman Arthur Blakemore, 19 Bennington st., Newton, was entered by burglars shortly before 7 o'clock on Sunday night. As Mr. Blakemore entered the house by the front door, the burglars left by a rear window. They did not have time to gather much loot, but they made off with a gold watch of Mrs. Blakemore's, which was on a table.

Powers' Paragraphs

It is amusing, incongruous, ridiculous, or what you will, to observe the current crusade against gambling in Boston while it is legal to gamble at horse racing and dog racing tracks. Here in Massachusetts are huge plants with the latest equipment and machinery for gambling on a gigantic scale. At these gambling centres day after day during most of the year many thousands of dupes go to be fleeced of their own money and money which does not belong to them. We read of men holding public positions of trust having been arrested for embezzlement of money which was lost in gambling at these race tracks. It is legal to go to an authorized gambling place where one can lose a minimum of $2 on each of eight or more races daily or nightly, but it is criminal to bet a nickel or a dime on a number pool, or to gamble on the horse races away from the tracks. Consistent, isn't it?

The two Cambridge young men who occupy important places in the affairs of Massachusetts, Governor-Elect Hurley, and Attorney General Dever, will continue to win the approval of the people of this State if they persist in their present attitude toward good government. Mr. Hurley by his acts and statements shows that he will give this Commonwealth a welcome change from the kind of administration it has had the past two years. He will find it difficult at times to hew to the line, but we believe his inclinations are right, and that he will be well advised. He is not of the arrogant, show-off type, and his comment that the State has seen enough of gold-braid, and that during his administration business will be carried on "without fanfare," should enhance his popularity.

Attorney General Dever's ruling on the Quabbin racket curbed the pernicious activity of the Executive Council and probably saved the taxpayers of Massachusetts a large sum of money.

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen the welcome information was given that the large billboards which have been an eyesore for years near the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st., opposite City Hall, would be removed before the end of this month. At the same meeting a petition was received from Israel Nesson of Boston asking that the site of the billboards and other land bounded by Commonwealth ave., Walnut st. and Lakeview ave. be changed from single residence to business zone. It is more than a safe bet that the Board of Aldermen will not grant the petition.

We saw a picture in a newspaper the other day. It showed twenty men who are prisoners in jails at and near Pittsburgh grouped around the grave of a victim of a drunken driver. These men had been brought from the jails and compelled to stand near the grave while a judge chided them. Drunken drivers are much more severely punished in Pittsburgh than they are in Massachusetts. In this State a few of them are sent to prison and many are not even fined. While not minimizing the danger to lives and safety of the public caused by drunk drivers, in our opinion many more automobile accidents are caused by speeders and reckless drivers who are not drunk. These potential murderers are not, to a large degree, even summoned into court. Their cases are fixed. And if they are brought into court, their cases are frequently placed in the docket, or they are given suspended sentences or some other equally severe punishment.

It is proposed to spend about $8,000,000 in Boston for by-passes and other traffic aids to relieve traffic congestion in that city. Most of the proposed improvements to facilitate traffic are planned for the outskirts of Boston. Most of the traffic congestion is at downtown Boston. Millions of dollars can be spent on the planned projects, and the congestion will continue in Boston while trucks and cars are permitted to park double, and to park in prohibited areas. Another cause of traffic congestion in Boston is the loading and unloading of huge trucks and trailer units. These extend the width of an ordinary street and effectively block traffic.

In 1929 and 1930 civic and fraternal organizations, uplift and Polyanna associations, Main Streeters and Babbitts joined in attempting to delude themselves and the American people that there was no depression, that "prosperity was just around the corner." During the ensuing years most persons in this country gradually became aware that there was a depression. For the past year the slogan has been—"the depression is over." Since the election last month with wage and salary increases having been granted to hundreds of thousands, and with many other thousands receiving large bonuses, it would appear that the depression actually is over.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Postponed for One Year

About this time come thoughts of those we failed to remember with a Christmas greeting. So many demands on one's time and all that sort of thing upset our very best intentions. Too late to do anything about it, of course, and yet I have written down suggestions I may be able to carry out next year if I don't lose my notes.

Those who may hear from me next year include people who for years napkins for use in tea-rooms and other eating places, election officials who have to go all over their work again because a recount of votes is demanded, house owners who are trying to grow grass which children insist upon tramping over, doormen at movie theatres who have to parade on the front sidewalk dressed up like Swiss alps, shoe repairers who are expected to make ancient footwear look as good as new, people who collect names for city directories, those who paint paper signs of food prices to be pasted on store windows, owners of fur coats who worry for fear somebody may steal them if they leave them in a public coat-room, train and trolley passengers who dislike to have others read newspapers over their shoulders, thoughtful women who prepare food for church suppers and never get credit for their efforts, "ghost" writers for motion pictures, stars who must turn out quantities of blab-blah every week, radio announcers with throat trouble or false teeth, people who feel that when the telephone rings everything should stop until the call is answered, householders who dislike to turn-away alms peddlers and beggars who come at their front door, men and women who worry for fear their Christmas parcels may get lost in the mail, recipients of plants who groan because they must keep them watered and fresh-looking until the donor sees them again, people who dislike putting-on and taking-off overshoes, patient souls who are obliged to hear what others received for Christmas and dancers suffering from "flat foot."

The screen test that reveals something on the credit side of him or her who may be the subject of the camera's operations has been for a long time a matter of perplexity to me. How is it that some people "take a fine photograph" while others fail to even approximate such a desirable state of pictorial perfection. What do those whose photographs are so impressive possess that the rest of us are without? Will someone kindly explain.

If the thought occurs to the reader that this is written by one whose vanity is overcoming his better judgment, let it be said that I neither court a photographer's attention nor fee from it. When it is given me, however, something appears to go wrong. If beauty were the test I would not think of bringing up the subject because that is far from my good fortune. I never expect to get more than a reasonably fair counterfeited presentment. But that seems to be beyond my reach or the scope of the camera's lens.

Let somebody else, who like myself makes no claim whatever to masculine attractiveness, sit before a photographer and presto he becomes a "fine figure of a man." How is it done and is there a photographer who would explain the secret, providing I could afford to meet his fee?

Sartorial Sarcasm

The wearer of a "good serviceable" overcoat which has stood the ravages of several winters may be thankful that he made such a wise and profitable investment. There is this, however, which confronts him and possibly causes embarrassment. When he takes it out for another year, thinking proudly, "Well, this is the sixth year I have worn it," some sour soul is more than likely to say, "Here comes Blank with his old coat. Now we know it's winter."

Half a Loaf

It is not my intention to decline further to offer suggestions that I believe may, if adopted, prove of benefit to my fellow men. That would be highly improper or at least not in keeping with the spirit of a true citizen.

Nevertheless, I must say that I am discouraged in view of my efforts to bring greater health and happiness into the world. It will be remembered that last week I described an elaborate system of physical exercise which consisted of picking up of small pieces of paper from the floor and placing them in a bowl on a shelf or somewhere above one's head. When one of my closest friends was acquainted with this novel and to me thoroughly splendid idea, he communicated with me at once. Said he, "I like your idea of scattering pieces of paper on the floor but instead of picking them up myself I am using a vacuum cleaner."

Saving Property

Let some boys and men get possession of a pocket knife and they cannot resist carving their initials in wood wherever opportunity offers. Trees, fences, barn doors and telegraph poles provide them with a much-sought chance if they happen to be in the rural sections. In the city their "art" is restricted and unable to control themselves, they pounce upon furniture, doors, panels, etc. It did not surprise me to find a resourceful manager of a business office had taken steps to thwart these knife experts. He purchased a stand for coats and hats of employees—one of those things that is sometimes called a clothes-tree or hat-rack. On it he tacked a sign which read, "Don't carve your initials on this stand. Use a pen."

State President Offers Prizes

From the moment that Mrs. John H. Kimball stepped into the presidency of the State Federation of Women's Clubs she has been known as The Peace President, for it has been apparent that if she has one outstanding aim and desire above the many for the welfare of the organization she leads, it is for the progress and accomplishment of world peace.

It does not come as a surprise, therefore, that she is offering personal prizes for compositions upon this subject. For the best POEM on PEACE she announces that she will award a prize of five dollars; and a similar sum for the best ESSAY on the subject.

This Contest is open to all members of any Federated Woman's Club. It closes March 31st next.

There are no restrictions as to the POEM. The ESSAY is not to exceed 2,000 words.

Manuscripts must bear a Pen Name, the true name of the author to be enclosed in a sealed envelope accompanying the manuscript, on the outside of which envelope is to be the Pen Name, only, and title of Poem or Essay.

All manuscripts should be sent to the committee chairman, Mrs. C. W. Tudbury, 39 Bowdoin street, Newton Highlands. Those who wish to have the manuscript returned should enclose sufficient postage therefor.

Awards will be made at the Annual Meeting at Swampscott.

To think enough about a subject to be able to write upon it with understanding and inspiration, stimulates interest and arouses active support, and that Mrs. Kimball's hope in this regard may be realized is the hope, also, of all clubwomen.

Program of Magic for Sons and Daughters

On Wednesday, December 30th, at 2:30 o'clock, Bertram Adams will entertain the Sons and Daughters of the Club members at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Mr. Adams, like Houdini and Thurston, has been National president of the Society of American Magicians. He is so skilled in the creating of new magic that he supplies equipment to magicians all over the country. A graduate of M. I. T., he has used his scientific knowledge to devise a detector that has been used in Boston Police Courts. This device he will demonstrate for skeptical colleagues along with the "Super Magic" which is planned for a balanced program appealing to adults and children.

Attractive Cooking Course Planned

The American Home committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club is sponsoring three Cooking Lessons to be held at 10 o'clock on the first three Wednesday mornings in January at the Club House.

These classes arranged by the Edison Friendly Cooking School of Boston, will have for subjects:

January 6th, "Modern Electric Range Cookery," featuring electric ovens, broiling, baking, and vegetable cooking.

January 13th, "Sunday Night Supper Suggestions," prepared with many attractive electrical appliances.

January 20th, "Home Modernization with the Aid of Certified Lighting." Also demonstration of an electric ironer.

Provided there is an average attendance of seventy-five each morning, the Edison Friendly Cooking School will give at the last meeting, as an attendance prize, an attractive electrical appliance.

Classes are open to members and friends. Tickets for the Course of three are 50 cents; single tickets are 25 cents. These may be obtained from Mrs. Fred D. Bond, Telephone Centre Newton 0150-J, or from Mrs. Wendell R. K. Mick, Telephone Centre Newton 4039.

Mrs. Donald E. Welch, chairman of the Children's Entertainments, reminds of the Domino Marionettes program on Saturday, December 26th, at 1:30 o'clock at the Club House.

Highlights of Board Meeting At Washington

Of interest to State and Newton Clubwomen who may plan to attend is the following announcement from News Headquarters at Washington, D. C. A visit to the White House on Friday, January 15, at 4 o'clock, will be one of the high points of interest at the Annual Mid-Winter Meeting of the Board of Directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held in Washington, D. C. from January 13th to 17th.

This gathering, which brings to the Capital city leaders from every State in the Union, will be presided over by the president, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson.

Captain Willis S. Bryant, U. S. A., nationally-known lecturer and author of the much-discussed book "And It Shall Come to Pass," will address the Board on "The Blindness of Man." Mr. Burton Marsh, director of the Safety and Traffic Engineering department of the Automobile Association, will be presented as a special speaker by Mrs. Edward Hammett, chairman of the Federation's committee on Safety.

Coming Events

Mrs. Phyllis Fergus Hoyt, president of the National League of American Pen Women, will present a musical novelty; and Mrs. Harriet Ware Krumpholtz, one of America's foremost composers, will speak on "Spiritual Values in Music."

Mrs. Richmond, recently returned from Puerto Rico, will discuss welfare work on the islands.

Miss Alva Long, chairman, International Relations department, will tell of her visit to the International Peace Congress in Brussels.

Highlights of the Federation's official cruise to the West Indies and Panama will be given by Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight, Mrs. William Dick Sporborg, and Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, past president of the Federation, will tell of the trip she and a party of club leaders, including Mrs. E. W. Shaw, of California, and Mrs. J. O. Smith, of New Mexico, took to the South Seas, New Zealand, and Australia.

The formal Reception preceding these programs will mark the opening of the Board Meeting, bringing together the Board members of Congress with their wives, and other leaders in the official and social life of the nation's Capital.

A dinner at The Admiral will close the Subscription Contest of States for The CLUBWOMAN official publication of the General Federation, at which time the directors of the losing States will entertain the directors of the winning States.

Recent Weddings

WOODMAN-SHERMAN

Miss Rebecca F. Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Sherman of 264 Mill st., Newtonville, was married to Hayward Ewart Woodman of 21 Washington ave., Cambridge, Mass., on Monday evening, Dec. 21st, in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

Rev. Randolph S. Merrill performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock. The church was decorated with Christmas trees and white chrysanthemums.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin on princess lines and her tulle veil was trimmed with orange blossoms.

Miss Carolyn Blake, cousin of the bride, of Portland, Me., was the maid of honor. Her gown was of accordeon pleated white chiffon with gold leaves at the neck and waistline and she wore a gold lame twist on her hair.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard K. Pratt and Miss Mary MacKay of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Robert K. Hersey of Wellesley Hills, Miss Olive Hevermann of Somerville, Miss Virginia Shaw of Pawtucket, R. I., and Mrs. William Mowl of Cambridge.

They wore gowns of white moire on empire lines with gold clips at the neck and gold wreaths on their hair.

Robert E. Woodman of Cambridge, a brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Lorin E. Woodman and Byron E. Woodman, brothers of the groom, both of Cambridge; Robert K. Hersey of Wellesley Hills, Richard K. Pratt of Newton Highlands, Philip A. Lawrence of Belmont, William Mowl and David Rogers of Cambridge and Harold Dow of Somerville.

A reception was held at the Commonwealth Country Club at which the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents.

On their return from a wedding trip to Bermuda, Jamaica and Havana, Mr. and Mrs. Woodman will reside at 1616 Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, where they will be at home after February 1st.

The bride is a graduate of Bradford Academy and the Katharine Gibbs School, 1934. The groom attended Exeter Academy and is a graduate of Worcester Academy. He also studied at the Boston University School of Business Administration.

CARDINAL-COOK

The marriage of Miss Chellie Rogers Cook, daughter of Mrs. Florence M. Cook of Newtonville and South Wellfleet and the late Herbert H. Cook, to Laurence E. Cardinal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Cardinal of Worcester, has been announced.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Wm. H. Rogers, of 69 Dexter road, Newtonville, on December 5th, Rev. Randolph Merrill officiating.

Recent Weddings

WOODMAN-SHERMAN

Miss Rebecca F. Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Sherman of 264 Mill st., Newtonville, was married to Hayward Ewart Woodman of 21 Washington ave., Cambridge, Mass., on Monday evening, Dec. 21st, in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

Rev. Randolph S. Merrill performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock. The church was decorated with Christmas trees and white chrysanthemums.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin on princess lines and her tulle veil was trimmed with orange blossoms.

Miss Carolyn Blake, cousin of the bride, of Portland, Me., was the maid of honor. Her gown was of accordeon pleated white chiffon with gold leaves at the neck and waistline and she wore a gold lame twist on her hair.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard K. Pratt and Miss Mary MacKay of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Robert K. Hersey of Wellesley Hills, Miss Olive Hevermann of Somerville, Miss Virginia Shaw of Pawtucket, R. I., and Mrs. William Mowl of Cambridge.

They wore gowns of white moire on empire lines with gold clips at the neck and gold wreaths on their hair.

Robert E. Woodman of Cambridge, a brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Lorin E. Woodman and Byron E. Woodman, brothers of the groom, both of Cambridge; Robert K. Hersey of Wellesley Hills, Richard K. Pratt of Newton Highlands, Philip A. Lawrence of Belmont, William Mowl and David Rogers of Cambridge and Harold Dow of Somerville.

A reception was held at the Commonwealth Country Club at which the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents.

On their return from a wedding trip to Bermuda, Jamaica and Havana, Mr. and Mrs. Woodman will reside at 1616 Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, where they will be at home after February 1st.

The bride is a graduate of Bradford Academy and the Katharine Gibbs School, 1934. The groom attended Exeter Academy and is a graduate of Worcester Academy. He also studied at the Boston University School of Business Administration.

School closed Wednesday at 2:30 for the Christmas recess. Classes will begin on Monday, Jan. 4, at 8:30.

There were assemblies on Wednesday morning for the Junior and Sophomore classes. After the Christmas singing by the High School Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Harrington, the Verse Speaking Choir presented the Christmas story from St. Luke. They spoke Christmas poems, as well, and assisted in a Christmas Masque of the Nativity. Costumes, masks, and setting for the Masque were made by pupils in Mrs. Cornell's art classes. Mrs. Cornell directed the Masque, which was presented in the old English fashion. Then the assembly sang carols and a Christmas round, with music accompaniment of the Hammond organ. This was the first public appearance of Newton High's Verse Speaking Choir. It was under the direction of Miss Jessie A. Southard.

Following the annual custom of the high school, pupils from the Glee Club sang Christmas carols in the building corridors during the last half-hour of the school day on Wednesday, Dec. 23th.

The final high school faculty meeting of the year took place on Tuesday afternoon. It was followed with a social hour of music, refreshments, and a tribute to Mr. Edward Griffin, who is retiring at this time. The teachers presented him with a volume about opera and a cheque, an expression of their high regard and affection for Mr. Griffin, music supervisor of the Newton public schools, conductor of the high school chorus, brilliant actor of amateur theatricals, and friend of all the teachers and pupils in the Newton schools.

Christmas Trees Erected

The Christmas trees in the buildings were put up by the Civics Board co-operating with Miss Ethel Ham, chairman of the faculty Christmas committee. The trees were donated by Mr. Arthur G. Hildreth of the faculty. The custom was started last year by the Civics Board and faculty committee. Decorations were bought by the Associates.

Among the many helping to erect and decorate the trees were Marcella Renard, Constance Williams, Margery McNaught, Richard Whitney, Miss Ham, and Mr. Kenneth Bernard in building 1; Jerry Wisbach, Edward Wallace, Mrs. Edith B. Newcomb, and Mr. Andrew W. Steinhope in building 2; Chet Newey, Arthur Kenny, Robert Brown, Nancy Bates, Peggy Burkhard, Mr. Charles W. Peterson, and Mr. Horace Kidger in building 3. A very beautiful tree, gay in silver decoration, was placed in the Assembly Hall.

An innovation at Newton High School is the Verse Speaking Choir organized this autumn and directed by Miss Jessie A. Southard. The choir, which meets during the noon period on Wednesday, has proved popular and there is a waiting list of pupils who want to join. On Dec. 9, fifteen members of the group and Miss Southard were the guests of the Verse Speaking Choir of Wellesley College at their Christmas Vespers in the College Chapel.

The All-Club Christmas Party on Thursday, Dec. 17th, featured a play, "Dust of the Road," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman. It was produced by the Drama Club under the direction of Miss Louise Wetherbee, and was coached by Louise Mann, class of '37. Those in the cast were Jane Charlton, Robert Hill, Stuart Stearn and Richard Van Gundy.

Under the guidance of Mr. Horace Kidger, the Civics Board in Newton High School is making its annual Christmas Drive for dinners for needy families. Contributions are voluntary, and pupils place in the boxes, found in their home rooms, whatever they want to give to help bring Christmas cheer to others. Serving as daily collectors of the contributions in the Christmas boxes are Herbert Bernard, Thomas Burkhardt, Phyllis Petrie, Ellis Dierdorf, Gerry Harvey, Beverly Booth, Robert Nolan, Chester Newey and Barclay Peacher.

Illustrated Lecture

An illustrated lecture was given in the auditorium last Friday morning to the members of the grammar and high school classes.

Fr. Thompson, S. J., from Boston College, delivered a most enlightening and enjoyable exposition on the activities of the North American martyrs and on the life and extraordinary sanctity of one of their converts, Kateri Tekakwitha, a little Indian maiden, known as the "Lily of the Mohawks," whose cause for canonization is at present being petitioned.

Kateri Tekakwitha, whose grave became an object of veneration for every race, was one of the most notable Indian converts. She was a model of faith, prayer, modesty, industry, love of the Blessed Sacrament and of the Mother of God. She died April 17, 1680. Her grave above the St. Lawrence, at Auriesville, surmounted by a large cross, is a place of pilgrimage. Proceedings for her beatification now before the Sacred Congregation of Rites have reached an advanced stage. It is said in Vatican circles that she may be declared "Blessed" some time in 1937 and may achieve her canonization as a saint in 1939.

The Flying Missionary

On Sunday evening a group of Our Lady's pupils attended a motion picture entitled "A Missionary's Last Testament," which was screened at Symphony Hall.

The Rev. Paul Schulte, an Oblate of Mary Immaculate, well known as "The Flying Missionary," appeared in person and explained the origin, nature and progress of Miva, a Missionary Communications Association which he founded in 1927. This "Missionary Communications Association," which he calls Miva for short, has for its motto: Obviam Christo terra marique et in aera. ("Toward Christ on land, sea and in the air.")

Bigelow Junior H. S.

A program of classical and Christmas music was played by the Commonwealth Women's Symphony Orchestra of Boston under the direction of Prof. S. G. Braslavsky for the enjoyment of pupils and members of the faculty of the Bigelow Junior High School at the regular school assembly on Friday, Dec. 18.

Group 3CD defeated Group 2AB in the final contest for the volleyball championship. The winning team, captained by Lillian Nardone, included: Beatrice Mandelstam, Shirley Bernstein, Nancy Smith, Jean MacNeil, Claire Glassman, Annette Yanco, Patsy Casey, Katherine McMurray, Eleanor Luchini, and Sarah Britt. After the holiday girls' basketball tournament will be in progress. A skating party is in the offing for members of the Girls' Sports Club when weather permits.

At a special assembly on Tuesday, Dec. 22, pupils and faculty of the Bigelow Junior High School heard an enjoyable program of vocal selections by the Boston Civic Chorus with Mr. G. Roberts conducting.

A performance of a one-act play, "Christmas at Skeeter-Corner Schoolhouse," by the Bigelow Funsters, one of the Grade 7 Dramatic Clubs, entertained the school during the last period on Wednesday, Dec. 23. Many of the players had the privilege of writing their own parts for this play. The play centered around the rehearsal of a Christmas celebration in a rural school of 50 years ago. The cast included: Phyllis Carlton, Ray Eusden, Florence Luchini, Joanne Reiman, William Powers, Frederick Pearson, Moira Sullivan, Helen Manter, Walter Howe, Marjorie MacNeil, Karoline Rubin, Thomas Connolly, Arthur Nash, Sherman Gleason, Glory Cotting.

Day Jr. High School

In the last assembly for the year 1936 the pupils of the F. A. Day were treated to a varied program with the central theme of Christmas. "The Christmas Guest," a short play by Constance D'Arcy Mackay, was first presented, under the direction of Miss Wright, with Jack Davis as assistant director. The cast included: Alice Birmingham, Charles Paige, John Langlois, Virginia Kyle, Carolyn Peterson, Ruth Oliver, Paul Elicker and Claire Silva. Upon the conclusion of the play, a program of Christmas carols, under the guiding hand of Miss Richards, was presented. Harold McKusick announced the carols, and the chorus was made up of members from each of the seventh grade divisions.

Charles Thomas sang the part of the king, Robert Stackhouse, the part of the page, and Robert Huke played the part of the wood-gatherer in acting out the carol "Good King Wenceslas" while the chorus joined in the refrain. A chorus made up of the pupils from 11 H and 1 G sang "Slumber My Dove" while Louise Egglestone took the part of the Virgin. The program ended with the school orchestra playing a medley of well known carols, directed by Mr. F. Tanner.

On Thursday, December 17th, Mr. E. Tanner escorted the members of IX D to the courthouse where they witnessed the workings of the court as an integral part of their Social Studies course. The arrangements for the visit were made by Mr. James Gallagher, Clerk of Court. The group first visited the Criminal Court where the presiding judge, Judge Allen, paused in his official duties to welcome the pupils and took the time to explain to them the distinction between the criminal and civil courts. After listening to a traffic case, which proved to be a striking object lesson, the pupils were escorted to the Civil Court by a bailiff. Here Judge Quinn was hearing a real estate case which was interesting not only from the point of view of Social Studies, but could easily be correlated with Junior Business Practice.

On Friday, December 18th, a motion picture on the subject "Drinking Health" was shown during the home room period. It illustrated the ease with which germs multiply and spread from the use of a common drinking cup. It also emphasized the importance of drinking plenty of water and the beneficial effect that this practice has on the proper function of the human organs.

Newton District Nursing Assn.

The regular meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held on December 14, 1936, at the headquarters.

Mrs. Arnold, the president, announced the following Chairmen for committees for the current year: Finance Committee, Mrs. Cecil Clark; Nursing committee, Mrs. Harold A. Marvin; child welfare, Mrs. William T. Glidden, Jr.; publicity, Mrs. John E. Brown; supply committee, Mrs. Fred Loveland; education, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall.

Mrs. Marshall reported the completion of the Board Member's Manual and copies were given to each member of the Board.

Miss Nelson, Executive Director, gave the statistical report for October and November. In October there were 688 patients with a total of 1801 visits and in November 599 patients with a total of 1764 visits. For the benefit of new members she then outlined the Infant and Preschool Hygiene program as given in the Manual of Public Health Nursing, followed by a comparative statistical time study by Miss Thomson. The study showed the number of child hygiene home visits necessary for an ideal child health program based on the number of children now under supervision and the actual time spent by the Association nurses in this very important work. It was readily seen that the ideal has not been reached and cannot be with the number of nurses now on the staff.

Miss Parsons, Director of the Newton Welfare Bureau, gave a very interesting and colorful talk on Family Case work.

According to an old custom the Directors make their Donations to the Comfort Fund at this meeting. Part of this fund is used to bring cheer to patients at Christmas.

Mrs. Hoover Sends New Year's Message To Girl Scouts

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, national president of the Girl Scouts, has sent the following New Year's message to the organization's 400,000 members throughout the United States:

"Girl Scouts, young and old! We are busy wishing one another 'A Happy New Year' at the beginning of 1937!"

"A gay New Year's greeting, because we are gay and young, many of us."

"A somewhat serious New Year's greeting, because we are quite grown up, we Girl Scouts as a whole, being twenty-five years old this year."

"May our fun together be happier, jollier than ever!"

"May we have pleasant success in learning those new things we want to learn with our minds—things we do not find in the school classes or the home duties!"

"May we acquire much skill in doing those new things we want to do ourselves with our hands!"

"May we have great satisfaction in doing the things we find to do for other people!"

"Those are the things the Girl Scouts have been trying to do for a quarter of a century. To be of service to others, in whatever ways they find possible. To use their hands in making things for themselves and others. To learn many new things in various fields, particularly secrets of Nature in the out of doors. And to do it all together, with very much fun!"

"Good Scouting, all! And a very Happy New Year to each and every one of you!"

Red Cross Warns Against Holiday Accidents

In an effort to prevent the tragedies which inevitably strike a certain number of homes during the holiday season, the American Red Cross lists the following precautions—asking that they be followed:

1. Anchor the Christmas tree to a firm base away from the fireplace or heating unit.
2. If possible, use only fire resistant decorations, and while hanging them use a sturdy step-ladder. Be sure the braces are firmly locked before you go up.

3. Inspect all light sets carefully for bad insulation and other causes of short circuit before placing them on the tree.

4. If candles are used to light the tree, an adult should be in the room while they are burning.

5. Don't let Santa Claus smoke, and don't allow him too near the fireplace. His suit is generally highly inflammable.

6. Where fireworks are used to celebrate the holidays an adult should supervise.

7. Insist on safe film for motion picture machines, and carefully explain the use of mechanical and electrical toys.

8. See that "safe" hills are provided for coasting, and caution the children about hitching their sleds to automobiles.

Health Report For November

The report of the Newton Health Department for November states that 47 deaths occurred in the city during the month: 23 males and 24 females. Among the causes of deaths were—pulmonary tuberculosis, 2; cancer, 2; leukemia, 1; alcoholism, 1; cerebral hemorrhage, 7; Parkinson's disease, 1; heart diseases, 14; arteriosclerosis, 4; bronchopneumonia, 5; lobar pneumonia, 1; automobile accidents, 2.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included—scarlet fever, 5; measles, 1; mumps, 31; whooping cough, 6; chicken pox, 10; pulmonary T. B., 4.

The Health Department announced recently that it will distribute free to Newton physicians a scarlet fever preventive known as placental extract.

This extract is received from the State Health Department and its efficacy has been proved by many tests. Less than 9% of persons exposed to scarlet fever have contracted the disease after having taken the new extract, which was discovered by Dr. Charles McCann of the Children's Hospital.

Skaters Are Urged To Get 1937 Permits

The Playground Department urges all those who wish to skate on the various skating ponds maintained by the City of Newton to get their 1937 and 1937 permits. They are now being issued at the Playground Office at City Hall on the second floor. The permit for Newton citizens is 25 cents and for non-residents the cost is $1.00.

HUSTON FORMS ICE TEAM AT SPRINGFIELD

Former Newton Star Athlete Still Active

Warren Huston, Newtonville athlete in his last year at Springfield College, has been instrumental in organizing the Maroons' first hockey team since 1928. An all-scholastic forward at Newton High in 1933, the only year he played at Newton, Warren was making preparations for a team at Springfield as early as last summer. After securing a grant from the faculty committee on athletics, Warren was able to arrange games with Brown, Northeastern, Bowdoin, St. Anselm, Worcester Polytech and Connecticut State. Although he is not too optimistic over the chances of this particular team, Warren is confident that a beginning has been made, and is happy to be playing hockey again this winter.

"Husty" was Newton High's last four-sports athlete, and his winter of jumping from basketball floor to hockey rink was the occasion of the rule at Newton which now prevents a versatile boy from doubling in two sports during the same season. He used to lead the 1933 basketball team through a strenuous game on Friday, get a good rubdown from "Doc" Frank Simmons, then appear on the Boston Garden ice the next afternoon to harry the opposition. Warren played basketball as a freshman at Springfield, but found the three-sports idea too much for him, and has taken things easy the last two winters between his red-letter college activities in football and baseball. Incidentally, Warren has no intention of accepting the offer made him by the Detroit Lions to play pro football. He is certain to try a career in baseball, however, and will talk business with the Philadelphia Athletics in June.

Jack Skillings of Newton Centre, all-scholastic goalie four years ago at Newton High, is captain of a good hockey team at Brown. With Skillings kicking them out, Brown upset Yale at New Haven last week 3-2, taking the lead in the intercollegiate hockey standing. Only two goals have been scored on Skillings in three games at this writing. Dick Muther of Newton Centre is George Owen's best skater on the M. I. T. club, which appears headed for a poor season. Boston University has another strong team, and Warren McPhee of Newton is a reserve wing. Harvard, a contender for the first title in the new international loop, has a former Newton High player in Charlie Houghton, reserve defenseman. Frank "Junie" Stubbs and Frank Spain, who graduated from the late "Doc" Martin's high school hockey teams to intercollegiate fame and played with the United States Olympic team in Germany last winter, are now with the Boston Olympics, the leading amateur hockey unit in New England. A third Newton member of that Olympic games' pilgrimage, Johnny Garrison, has not joined the Boston club and probably will play again with Brae Burn.

There was no scoring in the second period. Newton used three lines and even a third defense pair, Tom Leahy and Bill Kinney. Bud Whitehead threw one fine body check to stop Walter Boudreau, and Fred Nichols sandwiched a Cantab against the boards with professional gusto, but on the whole, the defense combinations gave Buttrick many uneasy moments in the goal. Al Turner and Paul Brown threatened late in the period, and Turner got another break with Brad Thompson just as the period ended.

Early in the third period, Cambridge got a break when Phil Greene was banished for slashing. Frank Briand, Cambridge wing, then got his second goal of the game, sinking a pot shot from outside the defense that slithered past Buttrick into the goal. The time was 2:07. Paul Brown came back with a potential rush a moment later, skating through the whole Cambridge team, but he was thrown off balance at the defense and his shot was weak. As Greene returned, Newton pressed momentarily, but without effect. Brown set up Turner with a good pass, but Turner missed the goal. Buttrick made a good save on the return rush, spearing a high drive with a baseball catch.

Cambridge made it 4-1 at 6:54 in the third period. With Newton's third line on the ice, the Cambridge defense of Mort Buckley and Walter Boudreau teamed on a passout to beat Buttrick. The Newton goalie got poor protection on the play. From this point to the end of the game, Newton forced the play into Cambridge ice most of the time, but never with sufficient punch to score.

LETTERS AWARDED TO GIRLS AT ASSEMBLY

Outstanding Event at High School Last Week

On Wednesday morning, December 16, the All-Girls' Assembly furnished a program that was different and inspiring. Alice Drury, chairman of the Girl's Athletic Board, was introduced by Gerry Wisbach, vice-president of the senior class and presiding officer of the assembly. Miss Drury outlined the sports of the year's program, which was well demonstrated on the stage by girls from three classes. This departure from former years when the girls listened to coach talks was popularly received.

Pauline Chellis and her Dance Group appeared in the second half of the program. Miss Chellis, who is a graduate of Newton High School and now instructor of Modern Dance in the Sargent and the Bouve Schools of Physical Education, and her Dance Group are well known in this state.

Mr. Raymond A. Green presented the awards.

Winners of First Team Varsity "N's" and Chevrans were: Betty Cunningham, Edna Currier, Helen Goodale, Mildred Hanlon, captain, Barbara Patey, Lorraine Stickney, Virginia Wilder, Eleanor Baxter, manager, Mary Doyle, Locardia Hartwich, Margaret Lopes, Nancy MacNeill.

Winners of Second Team Varsity "N's" and Chevrans were: Inez Cardinal, Sally Cushing, Ann DeSaulnier, Margaret Doucette, Ruth Eddy, Jean Hurley, Flora Mariotti, Margaret Martin, Nancy Marvin, Theresa Mingace, Eleanor Pullman, Mary Reidy, Charlotte Steltz, Emma Bjornson, captain.

Winners of Inter-Class Tournament Numerals were: Emma Bjornson, captain, Edna Currier, Ann DeSaulnier, Margaret Doucette, Mary Doyle, Helen Goodale, Mildred Hanlon, Locardia Hartwich, Margaret Lopes, Nancy

CANTABS TRIM GREEN NEWTON SEXTET 4 TO 1

In Opening Game of League Hockey Season

Newton High's new hockey team, short of skating and team practice, took a 4-1 setback from Cambridge Latin to start off the season last Saturday at the Boston Garden. The Latin players all but literally skated circles around the Newton boys, who took their hockey lesson gracefully but without much enthusiasm. Specifically, the Newton team was at a loss in every attempt to get started down the ice.

To say that Newton's showing exceeded the most pessimistic of prophecies made for it would be saying too much. There were some bright spots in the defeat, Paul Brown did an excellent job as first-line center. Phil Greene was Newton's most capable wing, and occasionally flashed some good hockey, besides scoring the only Newton goal of the season to date. Bud Whitehead and Fred Nichols dealt a few jarring body checks on defense. These boys caught the eye in Newton's first game, although almost the whole team skated unceremoniously.

Early Goals Win for Latin

Latin's Flying Frenchmen, many of whom are not French, started flying at the opening whistle, with the result that Walter Boudreau scored in the second minute of play. Boudreau left defense for the Cantabs, intercepted a Newton pass at his own blue line, and snapped the rubber into the nets as Buttrick flopped to the ice. The score came at 1:12.

Buttrick hit the ice again a minute later with more success, making a save on a rush by Frank Briand and the same Boudreau. Another minute, however, and Briand rushed in under Buttrick for the second goal. Although the area was infested with orange-shirts, Briand shouldered his way close enough to shove the puck through at 3:47. Buckley was credited with an assist. At this point Newton's second defense and third line took to the ice. Jack Carder, small but efficient sophomore center, set up a score for his wing, Carl Cole, but Cole's shot was wide of the net. Buttrick made two good saves on Cambridge rushes, after his forwards had left him unprotected. On the second of these plays, Paul Brown on a return rush forced a good save by goalie Carey at the other end.

Newton came back into the game at 7:43 of the same period, albeit unexpectedly, when Phil "Mucker" Greene, taking a pass from Don Manchester at the blue line, outskated the defense and burned a high shot into the near top corner of the goal, picking the single small gap the Cambridge goalie left open. Walter Boudreau took a penalty, but Newton's attack had hardly fire enough to press the going, let alone tie the score. Allan Turner got a shot at Carey, and Boudreau returned to find a perfect scoring set-up, but fired wide of the Newton goal just as the period ended.

There was no scoring in the second period. Newton used three lines and even a third defense pair, Tom Leahy and Bill Kinney. Bud Whitehead threw one fine body check to stop Walter Boudreau, and Fred Nichols sandwiched a Cantab against the boards with professional gusto, but on the whole, the defense combinations gave Buttrick many uneasy moments in the goal. Al Turner and Paul Brown threatened late in the period, and Turner got another break with Brad Thompson just as the period ended.

Early in the third period, Cambridge got a break when Phil Greene was banished for slashing. Frank Briand, Cambridge wing, then got his second goal of the game, sinking a pot shot from outside the defense that slithered past Buttrick into the goal. The time was 2:07. Paul Brown came back with a potential rush a moment later, skating through the whole Cambridge team, but he was thrown off balance at the defense and his shot was weak. As Greene returned, Newton pressed momentarily, but without effect. Brown set up Turner with a good pass, but Turner missed the goal. Buttrick made a good save on the return rush, spearing a high drive with a baseball catch.

The Newton goalie got poor protection on the play. From this point to the end of the game, Newton forced the play into Cambridge ice most of the time, but never with sufficient punch to score.

Panel Discussion At Forum

Mr. Foster questioned very strongly or what to say under a government that calls itself democratic. Two-thirds of the world has no freedom of speech and ours is the only large the ability of any person to be a "Rugged Individual" in the literal sense of the word. He said that each of us is too close to those around us and too dependent upon the common requirements to be absolutely free, but we have minds of our own and no one has the right to tell us what to think country that has it. It must be maintained.

Dr. Mather was called upon to express himself on the subject of the teachers' oath bill. He feels that if we wish to remain a democracy we must see to it that individuals who have ideas like that behind the teachers' oath are prevented from making such laws hard and fast. That bill was not the desire or the idea of the masses. Finally the subject of honest advertising was brought up by Mr. Foster. He believes that undoubtedly the best way to improve the quality of products and eliminate graft is to revolutionize the advertising industry and put it on a Consumers Research basis, where the truth and nothing but the truth is told about any product placed before the consumer. It will be hard on some corporations if this enforcement goes through as well as on the advertising business, but it is for the interests of the consumer.

ABBIE LAURIE

Mrs. Abbie Laurie of 276 Highland st., West Newton, widow of Charles Laurie, died on Dec. 20. She was born in Hartford 96 years ago and had resided in this city for about 50 years. She had been interested in philanthropies and was one of the first members of the Mothers' Rest Association. She is survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Courtney Bird, with whom she resided. Mrs. Laurie's funeral service was held at her late home on Tuesday, Rev. Charles Arbuckle officiated. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

Discuss World Peace At West Newton Meeting

A small but enthusiastic group attended the meeting of the Newton Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign, held Monday night in the parlors of the West Newton Unitarian Church, under the direction of the chairman, Miss Jeanne Bachrach of West Newton.

The possibility of conducting a poll of Newton citizens on world peace provoked considerable discussion. Mr. Roland Jones, a junior from Dartmouth College, spoke briefly of his experiences in conducting a peace poll in and around Pretty Prairie, Kansas, where he spent the summer as one of a team of four college boys, who were working for the Emergency Peace Campaign.

The last part of the evening was devoted to the reading of the short play, "X=O," by John Drinkwater, an inside view of the tragedy of the Trojan War, and the futility of young men fighting for something that had long ago lost its meaning. The following members of the Drama committee took part: Margaret Jennings of Newton Centre; Ralph Bixby of Newton Centre; John Harris of Boston; Harry Whelan of Newton; and Austin Berkeley of Newton Centre.

The next meeting of the Newton Youth Section will be either Sunday or Monday evening, January 24 or 25, at 8 o'clock, in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church. It will take the form of a debate on the various sub-heads of the questionnaire, mentioned above, and will be led by Roland Jones. On Monday evening, January 11, at 8 o'clock, in the Parish House of the West Newton Unitarian Church, the second in the series of free lectures will be presented by this group. The speaker will be Howard P. Davis, late of the magazine "News-Week," who has given up his work to head the Speaker's Bureau in Boston of the Emergency Peace Campaign. The subject of Mr. Davis' talk will be "The Outlook for Peace in Europe" and all interested Newton residents are cordially invited to attend.

Assault Policeman After Autos Crash

Last Thursday night a car driven by George Smith, 26, of 213 Adams ave., West Newton collided at Newtonville and 22d st., Newtonville, with a car driven by Gertrude McCrudden of 106 Harvard st., Newtonville. Riding with Smith was Bresci Pentabene, 19, of 86 Underwood ave., West Newton. Patrolman Timothy Riley who was off duty and in civilian clothing, came along and started to investigate the accident. While doing so he was assaulted by the two West Newton young men and received an injured eye. Sergeant Sullivan with Patrolmen Lovelace and McHugh came to Riley's assistance, and arrested Smith and Pentabene. The two were arraigned in the Newton court last Friday. Both were charged with assault and battery on Riley. Smith was also charged with drunkenness, driving while under the influence of liquor, and driving so as to endanger. Their cases were continued until December 23.

Assaulted Youth Withdraws Charges

Nunzio D'Innocenzo, 20, of 116 Florence st., Newton Centre, and Frank DiCarlo, 20, of 34 Beecher place, Newton Centre, escaped going on trial in the Newton court on Monday for assaulting James Donovan of Arlington when the latter filed a statement that he had received satisfaction for the assault, and Judge Weston dismissed the complaints against the two Thompsonville youths. On the night of December 11th, Donovan came to police headquarters at West Newton bearing evidence of having been viciously assaulted. He told the police that while he was seated in his car on Beecher Place waiting for a girl friend who resides on that street, D'Innocenzo and DiCarlo climbed into the machine and gave him a severe beating. Jealousy apparently was the cause of the attack.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Frank Cascio of Davenport rd., Needham was fined $50 in the Newton court on Tuesday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on December 15 by Patrolmen Brosnahan and Murphy and Serg. Sheridan after his car had hit a pole on Parker st., Newton Centre. Cascio claimed he had been side-swiped by another car. He also claimed the liquor had been forced on him against his will.

Salvatore Mitrano of 17 Williams st., Newton was arrested on December 20 at 2:29 a. m. by Patrolmen Brayton and Keating at Newton Corner for drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until December 31.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club at its meeting Monday, December 21, 1936, was entertained interestingly by Mr. John J. Cronan, official story teller of the Boston and Newton Public Libraries. He told the stories of the Spanish Folk Tale and Master Sky Lark in the same manner as he tells the boys at the libraries and the Rotarians present enjoyed them as well as any of the youngsters.

Bill Helms' singing was much appreciated by the club.

Leighton Guilty Of Speeding

Walter L. Leighton of Montvale rd., Newton Centre, a master at Boston English High School, was found guilty of speeding by a jury at the Middlesex Superior Court, Cambridge on Tuesday. Judge Dowd, after reprimanding Leighton, placed the case on file.

Motor Cycle Officer Hamill of the Newton police testified that on May 13 he followed a car driven by Leighton from College rd. at Chestnut Hill along Commonwealth ave. to Chestnut ter., Newton Centre and that Leighton was driving at a speed of 46 miles an hour. Hamill obtained a complaint against Leighton and the latter was found guilty in the Newton court and fined $5. He took an appeal.

In the Superior Court Leighton asserted that at no time while Hamill was following him had he driven more than 30 miles, and that he had slowed down at intersections. Acting as his own lawyer, Leighton made many statements and asked many questions which were ruled out by Judge Dowd. During a recess, Leighton engaged the services of Leo Matthews, a lawyer who was in the court engaged in another case. The jury was out less than a half hour when it brought the verdict against Leighton. Judge Dowd, in closing the case told Leighton that he should realize the law is made for all people and no man should try to set himself above others.

Stone Institute Enjoys Varied Christmas Program

The ladies of the Stone Institute of Newton Upper Falls enjoyed a program by the children of the Eliot Congregational Church on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The children sang a group of Christmas carols and presented each lady with a Santa Claus apple which they had made.

The girls of the Carrol Private School of 147 Prince st., West Newton, gave an entertainment, consisting of musical selections, readings and dances, at 8 p. m. Tuesday and presented each lady of a group of home-made candy enclosed in beautiful gift boxes which were both made by the young ladies.

Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock the third grade of the R. W. Emerson School sang a group of Christmas carols and at 6:30 p. m. the girls of the Senior Girl Scout Troop of Upper Falls sang carols also.

Thursday at 7 p. m. a Christmas tree with party and refreshments was held by the matron and ladies of the home, and at 9 p. m. the young people of the First M. E. Church sang Christmas carols.

The refreshments for the party and the dinner on Christmas Day are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Riley of Newton.

Letters To The Editor

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

December 22, 1936.

To the Editor,

Here, in our office we have a distinct feeling that people who come here like us and have a great deal of confidence in our methods of dealing with them.

We have tried intelligently and without prejudice to discover the real reasons for this attitude. Naturally we have hit on many, but out of them our policy and persistence in advertising apparently overshadow all other things we can think of.

Whilst we have many mediums by which we advertise our wares, newspapers receive the bulk of our advertising appropriation. It may interest you to know some of our reactions and experience with this form of publicity.

We have realized that broadcasting statements in the form of advertising in newspapers is tantamount of a pledge to its readers that the truth is being told one hundred per cent. and under no consideration should this pledge be deviated from.

This policy of truth in advertising we are certain has made for Basley's Good Lumber hosts of new friends as well as buyers.

We have also through several years of advertising experience found out in no uncertain way that spasmodic or now and then newspaper advertising without careful beforehand planning brings little if any results. It must be regular and consistent in order to pay dividends in the form of returns by increased purchases.

The most regretful drawback to good results from newspaper advertising we have found, has been what appeared to be pitiful efforts on the part of some individuals unequipped by financial backing and experience to revive papers long since forgotten and without even a small fraction of the circulation claimed for them. One has to be quite experienced and watchful in order not to succumb to the high pressure salesmanship used in the attempt to sell advertising for these practically useless mediums of publicity.

As 1936 draws to a close and the harvest of the past business year is about to be disclosed, we wish to express our appreciation to the NEWTON GRAPHIC and other newspapers in which we advertise for their part in the scheme of things which is gradually but surely bringing Basley's to the forefront as a business of which we of the company are very proud.

The results of our experience with your paper justify us continuing with you during 1937 and will find us occupying at least our customary space in your paper with consistent and truthful messages to do with lumber. May we wish for you and your paper a prosperous 1937 and close by frankly and honestly stating that in our opinion it Pays To Advertise "when you know your papers."

Sincerely yours,
R. S. EDWARDS,
President, Basley Lumber Co.

Newton Murderer Given Pardon

add NEWTON MURDERER given pardon Among the group of murderers given pardons by Governor Curley and a majority of the Governor's Council on Wednesday was Wilfred Dart, who six years ago last summer murdered Charles J. Bernard in this city. Dart, a former resident of Bacon st., Newton, shot Charles J. Bernard of Boston as the latter was seated in his automobile on Pearl st., near Jackson rd., Newton. The two men had allegedly been engaged in a gambling racket and had been in some disagreement. Dart pulled a revolver from his pocket, shot Bernard, then calmly walked to a small store nearby, from where he telephoned to some friend. He then continued on towards Watertown and made a getaway. Bernard drove his car to Newton Corner, where he met Patrolman Jenkins near the corner of Washington and Bacon sts. He informed the officer that he had been shot and then collapsed. He was taken to the Newton Hospital, where he soon died of his wound.

Months after the murder had been committed Newton police captured Dart at a camp in an isolated section of Hingham. Dart was convicted of murder in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Nov. 13, 1931, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

It is announced that Governor Curley will again be a candidate for Mayor of Boston. You can't keep a good man down.

Many residents of Newton have been receiving Christmas cards postmarked at Cambridge, said cards having been mailed by friends who live in this city. The explanation is that much of the mail deposited in postoffices and mail boxes in this city the past week was taken to Cambridge, where hundreds of temporary postal employees were put to work in a large, temporary postoffice. In previous years a number of men were assigned to each postoffice in the Newtons to assist the regular employees in the dispatch of mails. Nearly all of the men hired for the Christmas rush in those years for the postoffices in this city were Newton residents. Last year a temporary office was located at Newton Corner and most of the men put to work there were not Newton residents. Many Newton men and youths were given employment this year. In the Newton postoffices assisting the regular letter carriers, but they have not been obtaining the same amount of hours of employment as have many of the temporary employees who were assigned to clerical duties in past years. Times have changed.

Some of the pardons granted yesterday to murderers and others were about as little deserved as other pardons which have been given to murderers and criminals in Massachusetts during the past six years. Such pardons only offer additional evidence that capital punishment should not be abolished.

To all our readers we wish a "Happy New Year." It should be happy for those who have enjoyed increased prosperity the past year. And for those who have not, keep on being courageous. Hope for some sunshine behind the clouds.
